

carrborocitizen.com

AUGUST 27, 2009 ◆ LOCALLY OWNED AND OPERATED ◆ VOLUME III NO. XXIV

FREE

PHOTO BY KEN MOORE Quarter size flowers of weedy horse-nettle are as beautiful as any 'garden' flower.

Beautiful, spiny horse nettle

'm always nervous about reading in Flora that I have yanked out another one of those wild weeds for which you have such high regard."

That was the response from gardening friend Diana following my expressed enthusiasm in spying a horse nettle in her curbside garden along Mason Farm Road. She timidly admitted that it was one that had escaped her weeding earlier in the day.

Diana's curbside, and the rest of her yard, is one of my favorite gardens because it is carefully managed so that it appears not to be managed.

Knowing that her garden is frequently being discovered and enjoyed by young children, l offered an understanding nod, because the very poisonous berries of horse nettle mimic the appearance of those tasty yellow-gold cherry tomatoes. Diana is wise to keep those low-to-the-ground tomato-looking fruit away from the natural curiosity of children, who likely have learned that anything looking like a cherry tomato must be a cherry tomato. Where young ones are not likely to get their hands on the poisonous fruit, however, l'encourage you to allow horse nettle, Solanum carolinense, a bit of freedom in your garden. Each time I see it in flower, I stoop down to admire those white and purplish-blue flowers, looking so much like tomato flowers on steroids. Occasionally, you will stumble upon one that looks like a garden plant. That happened last week while I was walking along the fields of the Botanical Garden's Mason Farm Biological Reserve. One such garden-plant specimen visually jumped out from the field edge. The oversized flowers were a real visual treat.

Alderman seat to remain vacant until Nov. election

BY BETH MECHUM Staff Writer

The Carrboro Board of Aldermen has decided to leave John Herrera's vacant aldermen seat open until the November election. The decision was made Tuesday night at Town Hall during the board's first meeting since its summer break.

The board is required by law to appoint a new member, but there is no specific time limit provided. As a compromise, Mayor Mark Chilton proposed the board immediately seat the highest non-incumbent vote-getter in November's Aldermen election.

Herrera had nearly completed his second term as the first Latino immigrant elected in Carrboro when his recent move to Holly Springs forced him to resign. He had alfor re-election.

Board member Randee Haven O'Donnell will take over his duties as mayor pro-tem.

Also at the meeting, the board heard two options for proposed modifications to the Head Start Building on Hargraves Street in the Northside neighborhood.

The first option involves making accommodations to the internal structure, including making the resource that no other school in our bathrooms smaller, taking out the community has provided," he said. kitchen and adding a nursery and community room.

The second option is to add a second floor, which would serve as ready stated he did not plan to run an assembly room with some storage space. This option would cost $500,000 and would be preferred if enough money is raised.

Chilton said he used to live in that neighborhood and has seen firsthand what the school means to the community.

"It's been a tremendous resource for families in our community, especially lower-income families in our community, and has provided a

The board approved both options, which will be submitted for formal review and approval through the plan review process.

In other action:

• The town will no longer post completed advisory-board applications on the town's website due to concerns over privacy. The applications are still considered a matter of public record.

• Michael Krasnov was appointed to one of the two vacant seats on the Transportation Advisory Board.

SEE BOA PAGE 3

CHS wins at home!

PHOTO BY TED SPAULDING Running back Douglas Parrish, uses a block by Torrell Farrar to gain yardage Friday night against St. Paul's in Carrboro's first ever home football victory. Parrish scored two touchdowns in the 26-7 victory. See more scores and a Preps Preview on Page 9.

UNC study: Rogers Rd. wells tainted

BY TAYLOR SISK Staff Writer

Just weeks after being told their neighborhood wouldn't qualify for a federal improvement grant for sewer lines, the Rogers-Eubanks community has learned from a new UNC study the extent of its well and septic tank failures. The study indicates that almost half of homes surveyed that have wells have levels of fecal bacteria above federal Safe Drinking Water Act limits and two-thirds of homes with septic tanks show signs of failure.

Preliminary findings from the study conducted this summer through a partnership of UNC's Gillings School of Global Public Health and the Rogers-Eubanks Neighborhood Association (RENA) indicate failing wells and septic tanks throughout the community. Those findings were presented to the Orange County Board of Commissioners at its Aug. 18 meeting. Twenty-one drinking samples were collected from 20 homes. Fourteen households reported having operating wells, seven of which use those wells as a primary water source.

SEE FLORA PAGE 10

INSIDE

Hillsborough elections

See Page 3

INDEX

Music
News
Community
Opinion
School
Classifieds
Almanac

Campus remembers fallen soldier

BY BETH MECHUM Staff Writer

Members of the UNC community are still reeling from the death of Army Pfc. Morris Walker, a 2008 graduate who died Aug. 18 in Afghanistan. Walker — "Mo" to all who knew and loved him — died of wounds suffered when an improvised explosive device detonated near his vehicle.

Walker, 23, was deployed in April after enlisting in the Army in August 2008. He was based at Fort Richardson in Alaska. He is the first alumnus of UNC to die in the war in Afghanistan.

He was a well-known member of the campus community, especially known for his affinity for hanging out at the Library nightclub, his keen sense of brotherhood with fellow members of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity and, most particularly, his ability to be comfortable and have fun in any situation, which he encouraged othlook easy.

Catherine DeVine, the Carrboro writer, organizer and frequent WCHL commentator, didn't say as much, but after learning what she has survived since cancer rocked her world in 2007, the thought arises.

She and her husband, Berkeley Grimball, owner of Grimball Jewelers in Chapel Hill, moved to Carrboro from Durham in 1997, and DeVine immediately immersed herself in the mill town's activities.

"We liked Durham," she said while sitting in the dining room of the mill house that they converted into flowing open spaces. "We moved because we could."

They had lived in a Morehead Hill mansion.

'We liked it, but a lot of our friends lived here."

One day she was visiting Carrboro, when Rick Hermanson (a sand ers around him to do as well. Ben Packer, a rabbi, hosts Friday night dinners in his home that Walker would often attend. "I would say that I've never seen anyone who was more determined to ensure that everyone around him was happy and having a good time,"

Packer said. "He cared intensely for the enjoyment of others, and their enjoyment was a great source of happiness for him. He will be sorely missed in our house as well as to everyone that knew him."

Walker was born in Raleigh, but raised in Fayetteville. He attended the Fayetteville Academy before coming to UNC.

ZBT brother and friend Sam Rosenthal has been trying to collect stories from people about Walker, but said in an email that it's hard to get people to go on the record with "Mo stories," because they all involve some sort of craziness.

"A minute with him was memorable," Rosenthal said.

ZBT brother Michael Chasin said in an email that one of the things he remembers most about Walker is how everyone seemed to know who he was.

"He was truly an amazing person that was always having fun and get-ting others involved," Chasin said. "The Chapel Hill campus will have to fill a very large hole in their social life, because Mo was the one degree of separation that held this campus together as a whole."

The report states:

"The median year of well construction was 1962 (with the oldest constructed in 1949 and the most recent in 2005). Signs of well vulnerability were common and included failure of the well pump (85%); cloudiness, taste or smell of well water (79%); and a need for disinfection of the well with chlorine (21%)."

All households with wells reported experiencing one or more of these wellvulnerability indicators.

Researchers also reported evidence of higher drinking-water turbidity (cloudiness) and fecal bacteria concentrations at households with wells than at those with regulated public drinking water. Six wells were found to have levels of fecal bacteria above Safe Drinking Water Act limits, one was found to have E. coli concentrations above the limits and one contained another fecal bacteria called enterococci.

SEE ROGERS ROAD PAGE 7

sculptor well-known for Weaver Street Market lawn installations) told her about a house on Oak Avenue rumored to be for sale. He didn't know the address, only that it had a new foundation and needed a lot of work. DeVine found it and fell in love.

"It was on the brink of collapse," she said, but undeterred, she walked around the property and left a note on the front door. The owner called and an offer was made the next day, which resulted in DeVine and Grimball renovating and restoring the now purple house with the yellow front door.

"Frail" may best define DeVine these days, but so does "feisty" and "funny." She's a straight-talker, with few filters when talking about the cancer that changed her life even more than her figure.

She first became aware of running "into this freight train of cancer" during Christmas week 2006.

"I rolled over on my side in bed to get more comfortable," she explained. "I felt something under my arm."

Cat DeVine

It was a lump the size of an apricot. "It was flat and hard and didn't hurt. I kept it totally to myself," through Christmas and family visits.

On New Year's Day, she told Berkeley; the next morning, she was at Carrboro Family Medicine, where her doctor, Bruce Wilks, saw her first thing. "He got that look on his face," which was the look she had dreaded.

PHOTO BY VALARIE SCHWARTZ

Before the first week of 2007 was history, so was her right breast.

SEE RECENTLY PAGE 4

RECENTLY ... BY VALARIE SCHWARTZ Survival sometimes makes death

Busy with life

MUSIC CALENDAR

THURSDAY AUG 27

300 Main Street Concert Series: John Howie, Jr. 4:30pm

Blue Bayou: Spork Sausage. 9pm. Cats Cradle: Mickey Cash, Willie Painter Band. 8:30pm. $10

The Cave: EARLY: 3 Feet Up. LATE: The New Romans. $5

General Store Cafe: Marie Vanderbeck Trio. 7-9pm

Local 506: Jason Kutchma, Stuart Mclamb. 8:30pm. $5

Nightlight: Kah Isbin, Invisible River, Eleanor Murray. 9:30pm. $5

Weaver Street Market: Gravy Boys. 6-8pm

FRIDAY AUG 28

Blue Bayou: Room to Breathe. 9:30pm, $6/8

Cats Cradle: Abbey Road LIVE! 9:30pm. $15

The Cave: EARLY: Moonfisher. $5 LATE: About Last Night, Martha Basset

City Tap: Great Big Gone. 5-7pm. Andrew Marlin. 7-10pm

General Store Cafe: David Dyer and The Crooked Smile String Quartet. 8:30-11pm

Harry's Market: Mason Cleveland Local 506: Embarrassing Fruits, Free Electric State, Veelee. 10pm. $7 Nightlight: Rocket Cottage, Prostitute Hostage, Shards. 10pm

Open Eye Cafe: Greg Koons. 8pm

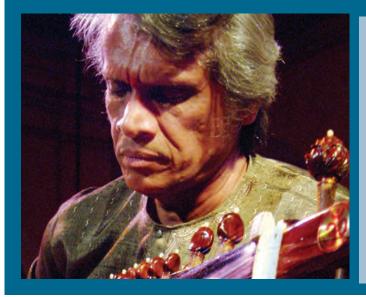

SATURDAY AUG 29 Blue Bayou: Jacob Johnson Band. Cats Cradle: Annuals, Birds of Avalon, Hammer No More The Fingers, The Never. 8:30pm. $10 Caffe Driade: The Drowning Lovers. 8pm

The Cave: EARLY: Acoustic Garage LATE: Rat Jackson, Aminal, Pistolero

City Tap: Starmount. 8-10pm General Store Cafe: No Strings Attached. 8:30-IIpm

SPOTLIGHT: K. SRIDHAR, SAROD MAESTRO

Locals will have a rare opportunity to experience the music of K. Sridhar this weekend. Sridhar is often described as an aspiration towards spiritual bliss. He will be joined by Morten Grunnet, a disciple of his, perfrming on a rare Indian stringed instrument known as the surbahar. It has an extremely deep, meditative sound and can be thought of as a bass-sitar.

K. Sridhar, with special guest Morten Grunneton Sandeep Hattangady on Tabla Saturday, August 29 7:30pm The Barn at Valhalla $18

GUST

Q

●BIRKENSTOCK ● CARHARTT ● ● • VASQUE• THE NORTH FACE • PATAGONIA • KEEN

GRAMICCI

Local 506: Juan Huevos, Gross Ghost, Pros and Cons. 10pm. $7 Nightlight: EAR PWR, Toro y

Moi. 9:30pm

ange. 8pm

Nomads. $5

Compay

Open Eye Cafe: Mandolin Or-

The Cave: The Great Unknown,

Southern Village: The Legendary

Weaver Steet Market: Saludos

The Cave: LATE: Bitter Resolve,

SUNDAY AUG 30

Jeremy Blair from Effingham

Milltown: Swang Brothers

MONDAY AUG 31

Triple Overhead Cam

City Tap: Jaafar. 6-8pm

TUESDAY SEPT I

Cats Cradle: Hot Tuna Electric, Patrick Sweany. 8:30pm. $25/28

WEDNESDAY SEPT 2 Blue Bayou: ShackTown. 8pm. Cats Cradle: Enter The Haggis, The Smart Brothers. 9pm. $12/14 DPAC: Jamie Foxx. 7:30pm

THURSDAY SEPT 3 Blue Bayou: Shawn Deena. 9pm. General Store Cafe: Bernie Petteway. 7-9pm

FRIDAY SEPT 4 Blue Bayou: Bill West and the Truth. 9:30pm Caffe Driade: The Mary Johnson Rockers. 8pm

Cats Cradle: Yo Mama's Big Fat

Harry's Market: Andi Morgan, Sudden Affair

Nightlight: Jack Rose, Black Twig, Zeke Graves. 10pm

Open Eye Cafe: Rafael Green. 8pm

SATURDAY SEPT 5

Cats Cradle: Carolina Chocolate Drops, Greg Humphreys, John Dee Holeman. 8:30pm. $15

City Tap: Marla Vickers Band. 8-10pm

General Store Cafe: Rootzie. 8:30-11pm

Open Eye Cafe: Crys Mathews. 8pm

• KELTY • DARN TOUGH • GARMONT • DANSKO • ROYAL ROBBINS • MERRELL • BLACK D

Lunch: Mon-Fri 11:30-2, Sat 11:30-3 Dinner: Sun & T-Th 5:30 -9, F & Sat 5:30-10 Brunch: Sun 10:30-2

Panzanella is closed Monday evenings. Please visit our website to see our complete menus. www.panzanella.coop

> ^{$}20FF OF YOUR CHOICE

Our weaver street house salad features baby lettuces with pine nuts and champagne vinaigrette

Fresh arugula salad combines roasted beets, creamy local goat cheese, spiced pecans and golden raisin vinaigrette

- Entree-size orange county chopped salad is composed of romaine, garbanzos, bacon, grilled eggplant, tomatoes, croutons and goat cheese with caesar dressing
- Our panzanella salad shows off local tomatoes at their peak, with baby lettuces, fresh focaccia croutons and crisp cucumbers in creamy balsamic vinaigrette and we'll add fresh pan-seared salmon to any of these salads.

Fresh, local food with an Italian accent.

Historic Carr Mill in Carrboro, at the 919 929 6626

corner of Greensboro & Weaver Streets

One coupon per purchase. panzane Please present coupon at time of purchase. Cannot be combined with any other discount offers. Coupon good thru 9/30/09.

FR 10/16 OM TH 8/27 MICKEY CASH, WILLIE PAINTER BAND($10) FR 8/28 ABBEY ROAD LIVE! PERFORMING W/HORNS & STRINGS($15) PERFORMING W/HORNS & STRINGS(SI5) SA 8/29 ANNUALS, BIRDS OF AVALON, HAMMER NO MORE THE FINGERS, THE NEVER HEAR HEAR: THE TRIANGLE RELEASE PARTY (SI0) UNCLUBES CORY OF THE CDU ($10-INCLUDES COPY OF THE CD!) TU 9/1 HOT TUNA ELECTRIC($25/$28) WE 9/2 ENTER THE HAGGIS($12/$14) FR 9/4 YO MAMA'S BIG FAT BOOTY BAND($10/$12) SA 9/5 CAROLINA CHOCOLATE DROPS($15) SU 9/6 L IN JAPANESE DANCE PARTY ($10/$12) NO ALCOHOL SERVED FR 9/11 OWL CITY W/KATE HAVNEVIK AND UNICORN KID($12/$14) SA 9/12 CD RELEASE PARTY BILLY SUGARFIX GUESTS SCHOONER, BIRDS & ARROWS SU 9/13 SON VOLT TU 9/15 AND YOU WILL KNOW US BY THE TRAIL OF DEAD W/SECRET WE 9/16 JAMES MCMURTRY W/JONNY BURKE($15/$18) SOLD OUT TH 9/17 MARGARET CHO FR 9/18 WHO'S BAD? TRIBUTE TO MICHAEL JACKSON($15) V/ | F SA 9/19 ARROGANCE 40TH BIRTHDAY BASH WITH MANY SPECIAL GUESTS! SU 9/20 CARRBORO MUSIC FEST M0 9/21 INGRID MICHAELSON($15/$17) TU 9/22($13/$15) IMMORTAL TECHNIQUE TH 9/24 MAE W/LOCKSLEY, DEAS VAIL FLOWERS FOR FAY($12/$15) M0 11/2 SILVERSTEIN FR 9/25 NEEDTOBREATHE ADINA LAKE, I SEE STARS W/CROWFIELD AND GREEN RIVER ORDINANCE($12/$14) SURE IN MOSCOW AND THE VORD ALIVEON SALE 8/28

OJECT AND THE STEVE WYNN IV PERFORMED BY OTT MCCAUGHEY, PETER BUCK, STEVE WYNN AND LINDA PITMON WE 9/30 RA RA RIOT($12/$14) W/MAPS & ATLASES CETON AND P TH 10/1 DAN DEACON /NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS FR 10/2 SIMPLIFIED($10/$12) SA 10/3 WILL HOGE($10/$12) W/ALTERNATE ROUTES SU 10/4 GHOST FACE KILLAH($16/$18) TU 10/6 CARBON LEAF/ STEPHEN KELLOGG & THE SIXERS($17/$20) TWO NIGHTS: WE 10/7 AND TH 10/8 ANDREW BIRD W/ST. VINCENT($25 FR 10/9 BLITZEN TRAPPER /YE 0/ TU 10/13 LUCERO W/AMY LEVERE, CEDRIC BURNSIDE AND LIGHTNIN' MALCOLM WE 10/14 REVIVAL TOUR CHUCK RAGAN, JIM WARD, TIM BARRY, DAVE HOUSE, JENNY OWEN YOUNGS TH 10/15 BASSNECTAR N/HEAVEYWEIGHT DUB CHAMPION($18/$20) FR 10/16 OM W/SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE AND LICHENS SA 10/17 POLVO($10) SU 10/18 BUILT TO SPILL WE 10/21 DR. DOG W/JEFFREY LEWIS($15 SA 10/24 ELECTRIC SIX W/THE GAY BLADES, MILLIONS OF BRAZILIANS($12/$14) SU 10/25 GALACTIC M0 10/26 KMFDM W/ANGELSPIT($20/$23) TU 10/27 PINBACK($14/$16) WE 10/28 THE BLACK HEART PROCESSION($12) FR 10/30 WHY? W/AU AND SERENGETI & POLYPHONIC($10) SA 10/31 TOUBAB KREWE($14/$16)

IGHT, BK ONE 1/5 THE JESUS LIZARD($20) FR 11/6 THE OLD CEREMONY W/MODERN SKIRTS SA 11/7 CHATHAM COUNTY LINE($12/$ SU 11/8 SAY ANYTHING, EISLEY, MONEEN, MINIATURE TIGERS($16.50/$19 M0 11/9 BLIND PILOT W/THE LOW ANTHEM^{} TU 11/10 THE GET UP KIDS W/KEVIN DEVINE($15) WE 11/11 LOTUS($15/$17) SA 11/14 DAN AUERBACH CA LEA MAYFIELD($15) M0 11/16 MUMIY TROLL($20/$23 TU 11/17 PRETTY LIGHTS SA 11/21 STEEP CANYON RANGERS SA 12/5 SOUTHERN CULTURE ON THE SKIDS($12/$14) SA ENTING 2 LOCAL 506 (CHAPEL HILL) TH 9/10 FRUIT BATS W/PRONTO TU 9/22 STILL FLYIN' WE 9/23 ASOBI SEKSU M0 9/28 SCHOOL OI SEVEN BELLS W/MAGIC WANDS TH 10/1 TWILIGHT SAD W/BRAKES BRAKES BRAKES, WE WERE PROMISED JET PACKS WE 10/15 DAVID BAZAN W/SAY HI TH 10/22 JER COONS NIGHTLIGHT (CHAPEL HILL) M0 9/7 THE CIRCULATORY SYSTEM W/NESEY GALLONS AND PIPES YOU SEE, PIPES YOU DON'T SA 9/12 GOD'S POTTERY WE 10/24 SEAWOLE WE 10/21 SEAWOLF W/PORT O'BRIEN, SARA LOV THE ARTSCENTER (CAR) TU 9/15 MISSING CATS FEATURING JOHN "JOJO" HERMANN AND SHERMAN EWING M0 9/21 JOLIE HOLLAND FR 10/2 GREAT LAKE SWIMMERS SU 10/4 COLIN HAY COWBOY JUNKIES TU 10/27 MIKE DOUGHTY (THE QUESTION JAR SHOW) CAROLINA THEATRE (DUR) FR 9/18 YO LA TENGO TIX VIA CAROLINA THEATRE BOX OFFICE & CAROLINATHEATRE.ORG OVENS AUDITORIUM FR 10/9 ROB BELL TIX VIA TICKETMASTER

CATSCRADLE.COM * 919.967.9053 * 300 E. MAIN STREET

ASTERISKS DENOTE ADVANCE TICKETS @ SCHOOLKIDS RECORDS IN RALEIGH, CD ALLEY HAPEL HILL, KATIE'S PRETZELS IN CARRBORO * ORDER TIX ONLINE AT ETIX.COM We serve carolina brewery beer on tap!* We are a non-smoking club

News Briefs

DWI checkpoint on campus

The UNC Department of Public Safety will conduct a driving-while-impaired checkpoint on campus Aug. 27 starting at 10 p.m. and ending at 4 a.m.

A checkpoint route on Country Club Road will be clearly marked and posted on the night of the initiative, conducted in partnership with the N.C. Governor's High Safety Research Center.

Record-high research funding for UNC

UNC's research grants and contracts totaled $716 million in fiscal 2009, the largest amount to date.

The tally is up to 5.6 percent from the $678 million received last year and is more than double the amount from a decade ago. The contracts and grants come primarily from the federal government, with the largest share coming from the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the National Science Foundation. The NIH is traditionally the university's largest source of resource funding. For more on UNC research trends, visit research.unc.edu

Mural restoration

Chapel Hill artist Michael Brown is currently restoring a third mural as part of the Painted Walls Project in downtown Chapel Hill. The Blue Mural (also known as The Starry Night Mural) is located on East Rosemary Street and was the first mural Brown painted downtown, in 1989.

Brown will spend nearly two weeks restoring this mural and then will work on the Hands Mural, on West Franklin Street, that was recently destroyed by graffiti.

Peace rally

The Chapel Hill-Carrboro NAACP and the Town of Chapel Hill will sponsor two upcoming "Celebrate Our Peace and Justice Legacy" events, both in front of the post office at 179 E. Franklin St.

This Friday at 5 p.m., a rally will be held to observe the anniversary of the 1963 March on Washington.

Then on Sunday, Sept. 20 at 3:00 p.m., there will be a dedication of a tribute marker at Peace and Justice Plaza.

For more information or to become a co-sponsor, call Suepinda Keith of the NAACP History Committee at 338-2065 or Catherine Lazorko, Town of Chapel Hill information officer, at 969-5055.

David Price to discuss health care

United Church of Chapel Hill will host a conversation with representative David Price on Aug. 30 at 10 a.m.to discuss the nation's healthcare options at 1321 Martin Luther King Jr Blvd. For more info, 942-3540 unitedchurch.org

Speedway Celebration in Hillsborough

Hillsborough's Historic Speedway Group will present their annual fund raiser: Celebration of the Automobile and Racer's Reunion this weekend starting with the Friday night cruise with a sock hop and music by Phil-N-the-Blanks.

Saturday is the Celebration of the Automobile and Racer's Reunion. Vintage cars that raced at the Historic Occoneechee track will be on display attended by the drivers, crews, mechanics and family members who supported NASCAR in its infancy. Food vendors, memorabilia vendors and hundreds of show cars & race cars will also be part of the celebration. The event is free and open to the public.

For more information, visit historicspeedwaygroup.org/

Hillsborough challenge: Managing more rapid growth

Stevens

BY RICH FOWLER Staff Writer

Hillsborough's town elections may not have the twists and turns found in Carrboro and Chapel Hill, but the issues the town is facing are no less serious.

Growth, and all of the problems it can bring, is the major issue facing Hillsborough. With a new hospital coming in a few years, and other prospects for growth on the horizon, the town will have to be careful about managing that growth without damaging its quality of life.

Three candidates are vying for two town commissioner seats, and whoever wins will have a lot of work to do. And even though the mayor is running unopposed, that doesn't mean he's going to have less work to do.

The candidates (in order of filing)

Tom Stevens

There is only one candidate for mayor this year. Stevens, 55, first got the job in 2005, and is seeking a third term.

He is self-employed, conducting seminars on leadership. He first decided to run for mayor in 2005, because at the time he was working on his new business and missed being involved in the community. His feelings about being mayor haven't changed.

"I'm not so much interested in politics, but I'm very interested in where this community is going. I live here. I have a huge stake in it. So I feel like if I'm not involved and doing my part, what can I say about it?"

BOA

FROM PAGE I

Gering

Stevens is concerned about managing future growth and development. "That breaks down into a number of very specific issues, and a lot of it has to do with how we manage water, how we manage traffic and transportation, and how we help steer and engage and bring the kind of development that brings the kind of community we want to see in Hillsborough."

Many people are worried about the economy, and he knows that it's an important issue for the town. "We want to do what we can from a community standpoint to encourage small businesses, to encourage economic development, to make sure people from all walks of life can prosper in this community.

"I think for my campaign, it's to continue to do what I'm doing, which is being very active in the community, trying to make sure that our town government communicates with citizens, engages citizens and listens to citizens, and campaign by doing."

Mike Gering

Gering, a 53-year-old software engineer, said that one of the reasons he is running for a third term as town commissioner is that he enjoys the work.

"Hillsborough has got a lot of exciting things that have been started, but not yet completed, and I'm anxious to see some of those projects through," Gering said. "I think this a very exciting time for Hillsborough in general, so I think there are more promising opportunities headed for us."

Gering said he was pleased with the performance of the town board, and that they work well together.

The issues facing the town that concern him most are growth, development, the town's financial health, residents' quality of life and economic improvement.

For his campaign, he said he has met a lot of people in Hillsborough and will be getting back in touch with them. "There are a number of opportunities for doing that with community meetings, forums and face-to-face time."

Bryant Kelly Warren Jr.

After serving as chair of both the planning and parks and recreation boards, Warren, 58, has decided to make his first run for one of the town commissioner positions. He works for the U.S. Postal Service in Chapel Hill as a carrier.

Warren decided to run because he feels passionate about the town. "I'm very concerned about what goes on in Hillsborough and what happens in Hillsborough, and I'd just like to make sure that whatever does happen is what is best for Hillsborough," he said.

He's concerned about a number of issues, such as reducing traffic flow, managing growth, maintaining the town's historical character, handling annexation and expanding parks and trails. He also wants to have informational meetings throughout the town to let the people in the town know "that we do care what's going on with them in their neighborhoods."

Warren plans on campaigning face to face. "Most of it is going to be personal contact. Getting out, meeting people, going door to door," he said. He also plans to go to the next two of the Hillsborough Arts Council's Last Fridays to meet as many people as he can.

Frances Dancy

Dancy, 55, is seeking a fourth term as commissioner, and wants to see through what she has already started. She works at UNC's Carolina Population Center.

"I just like the direction that we're heading, even though I know we get criticized sometimes," she said. "We're not going to please everybody."

Dancy is excited about new businesses potentially coming to town, bringing new jobs and increasing the tax base. But she also wants to make certain that development doesn't control the town, and that, instead, the town controls it. "We want to keep our downtown like downtown, and not have things out of proportion."

Dancy wants more input and involvement from the community. "We want to be mindful of the citizens and what the citizens would like to see."

For her campaign, she plans on going out, meeting people and putting out a few signs. "In these economic times, I have no intentions of spending a lot of money on this. I know it's tough for people. It's tough for me. It's just getting out and meeting people.

"I want to encourage people to get out and vote," Dancy said. "Don't forget local elections."

Castillo sentenced to life

HILLSBOROUGH — After deliber- with prosecutors, who detailed ating for seven hours on Friday, an Castillo's planning. Orange County jury found Alvaro Castillo guilty of murder. He was sentenced to life without parole. Castillo, who had a history of mental illness and was obsessed with the Columbine school shootings, shot and killed his father on Aug. 30, 2006. He then drove to Orange High School, where he began firing at students, wounding two. After his gun jammed, he was subdued by an Orange County Sheriff's deputy and an off-duty highway patrol officer.

A defense witness social

HOW TO REACH US The Carrboro Citizen 942-2100

P.O. Box 248 942-2195 (FAX) Carrboro, NC 27510

EDITORIAL editor@carrborocitizen.com

ADVERTISING marty@carrborocitizen.com 942-2100 ext. 2

CLASSIFIED & REAL ESTATE

919-942-2100, 8:30-3 M-F carrborocitizen.com/classifieds Classifieds deadline is midnight Tuesday.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Carrboro Citizen is free to pick up at our many locations throughout Carrboro, Chapel Hill, Pittsboro and Hillsborough. Subscriptions are also available via first class mail and are $78 per year. Send a check to The Citizen, Post Office Box 248, Carrboro, N.C. 27510. Visa/Mastercard are also accepted. Please contact Anne Billings at 919-942-2100 for credit card orders.

ONLINE carrborocitizen.com/main Updated every Thursday.

Always Inspiring

UPCOMING SHOWS - TICKETS ON SALE NOW!

The ArtsCenter

John Howie, Jr./THU 8/27 FREE Outdoor show!

Lucy Wainwright Roche w/Jocelyn Arem/FRI 9/11 (UMall) JoJo Hermann and Sherman Ewing/TUE 9/15 John Jorgenson Quintet/FRI 9/18 Carrboro Music Festival/SUN 9/20 FREE Jolie Holland/MON 9/21 Great Big Gone/THU 9/24 FREE Outdoor show! Kickin Grass Band/FRI 9/25

Great Lake Swimmers/FRI 10/2 Grainne Hambly & William Jackson/FRI 10/2 (UMall) The Iguanas/SAT 10/3 Colin Hay/SUN 10/4 Cowboy Junkies/THU 10/8 and FRI 10/9 2nd night added! Red Molly/THU 10/15 Malcom Holcombe/FRI 10/23 Red Clay Ramblers/FRI 10/23 (Chatham Mills) Red Clay Ramblers/SAT 10/24 NCSC Songwriting Contest/SUN 10/25 Mike Doughty/TUE 10/27 Question Jar show!

South Wing Band/SUN 11/1 April Verch Band/SAT 11/7 Steve Kimock Crazy Engine/WED 11/11 Vector Brass Quintet/SUN 11/15 John McCutcheon/SAT 11/21 The Subdudes/SUN 11/22

For more information or to order tickets call 929.2787 x201 or go to artscenterlive.org ARTSCHOOL REGISTRATION NOW OPEN!

*The Carrboro police department will begin using an updated wrecker policy, which means they will be searching for a new service to handle the town's wrecker services. This is to ensure the wrecker provider will meet all the town's wrecker needs. According to Police dinance to allow neighbors to appeal the granting of permits for goats. In June, the board adopted an ordinance to make a limited exception to the town's livestock and wild-animals code for fainting goats in response to Carrboro resident Marianne Prince's request in early April.

Chief Carolyn Hutchinson, the department has a list of five or six companies it is considering.

*The BOA adopted an or-

UNC student shot to death by police

Courtland Smith, a UNC student and president of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, was shot to death by police early Sunday morning after a traffic stop on I-85 near Greensboro.

Smith, 21, from Houston, Texas, had called 911 saying he needed help because he was suicidal. When police stopped his car, there was a confrontation and Smith was shot by Jeremy Paul Flinchum, 29, of the Archdale Police Department.

The two officers that pulled him over are on paid leave while the State Bureau of Investigation is looking into the event, which is standard protocol in officer-related shootings.

On Wednesday, Smith's phone call to 911 was released to the public.

Castillo's lawyers mounted an insanity defense, but jurors sided worker with Caring Family Network in Hillsborough - testified that Castillo was denied mental health care by a UNC-run facility, after screeners there questioned whether Castillo was actually having the delusions he claimed. The social worker had referred Castillo to the UNC facility after she was told there would be a six-week wait for him to see a psychiatrist at Caring Family Network, which was contracted with the county at that time to provide psychiatric services.

cvcle9.com

You recycle nis at the curb! You have to ^{美华华}东东^{和华华}东东

LATT EN

REMOVE AND DISCARD ANY PACKAGING CUT DOWN TO 3'x3' OR SMALLER PIECES

All curbside recycling customers can recycle up to TEN boxes at the curb if you FLATTEN! If you have boxes that are too big or are over the ten piece limit, they will not fit in the recycling truck. Please bring oversized loads of cardboard to any of the 24-hour recycling drop-off sites: CARRBORO: Carrboro Plaza • Cedar Falls Park

CHAPEL HILL: University Mall • Meadowmont HILLSBOROUGH: Hampton Pointe

Thank You!

Orange County Solid Waste Management (919) 968-2788 recycling@co.orange.nc.us

www.co.orange.nc.us/recycling

Community Briefs

Blood donors sought

The American Red Cross, Anna Maria's, Whole Foods Market-Chapel Hill and OWASA will co-sponsor a blood drive on Thursday, Aug. 27, from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Community Room at OWASA on 400 Jones Ferry Road.

To participate in a blood drive, donors must be at least 17 years old or 16 with parental consent, weigh at least 110 pounds, be in general good health and have identification.

For more information or to schedule an appointment, contact Lisa Wilson at OWASA at 537-4237 orlwilson@owasa.org. Walk-ins are welcome after noon.

James Norwood to perform at UNC

Drummer James Norwood will perform Sept. 1 as part of the Dancing With the Starlite program at the UNC Student Union. Norwood was an influential musician who performed the Monkees, Ike and Tina Turner and many others.

Norwood's performance is part of a community event celebrating almost 100 images that highlight the history of the local black neighborhoods: the Starlite Supper Club, the Quaker School, bills of sale, Sparrow's pool, marriage certificates, the sit-ins on Franklin, and, the Monkees with James Norwood on drums. The event begins at 5 p.m. For more information, contact Kathryn Williams at 255-6025.

Prostate cancer educational forum

To help mark Prostate Cancer Awareness Month, Cornucopia House Cancer Support Center will host a free educational forum Sept. 1 about nutritional strategies for the prevention and treatment of prostate cancer.

Mark Mead, nutritional oncology specialist with Carolina Center for Integrative Medicine, will discuss strategies for improving nutrition and health as it relates to prostate cancer.

The program will be 6-8 p.m.at Cornucopia House in Chapel Hill. Space is limited so call 401-9333 to reserve a place at this forum. There is no charge to attend.

For more information, visit cornucopiahouse.org.

Community

Community Calendar

THURSDAY, AUGUST 27 Environmental Issues — Gary L. Saunders, special projects engineer with the NC Division of Air Quality, speaks about environmental issues in Orange County at the Orange County Democratic Women's monthly general meeting. 7:30-9pm, OWASA Community Room, info at 942-0045 or I_foxworth_2000@yahoo.com

FRIDAY, AUGUST 28

Financial aid workshop — College Funding Consultants, LLC, will host a free workshop to help parents through the financial aid process at the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Chamber of Commerce. 7:30-8:30pm. Call 641-3328 to register.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 29

Church yard sale — The Chapel Hill St. Paul AME Church will hold its annual yard sale and silent auction. Items for sale or auction include paintings, car detailing, Durham Blues Festival Tickets, career counseling, and more. 7am to Ipm, St. Paul AME Church, 101 N Merritt Mill Rd.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 30

CHICLE talk — Main Challenges to Democratic Consolidation in Mexico, led by Cecliia Martinez-Gallardo. Martinez-Gallardo will discuss challenges faced by democratic institutions in Mexico. 5pm at 101 E

Weaver St. Suite G-I, 3rd floor over Weaver Street Market. 933-0398 or chi-cle.com for more information. gbelder@bellsouth.net.

TUESDAY, SEPT. I Haw River Burrito Bash — Celebrate environmental education with music, dancing, a silent auction and burritos. Tickets are $12 advance, $15 at the door. 6-9pm at the General Store Cafe. Visit hawriver. org or call 542-5790 for more information.

Ongoing

Cancer Support — Support groups for cancer patients and their families. cornucopiahouse.org

Compassionate Friends — Free self-help support for all adults grieving the loss of a child or sibling. Third Mondays, 7-8:30pm, Evergreen United Methodist Church. 967-3221, chapelhilltcf.org

DivorceCare — Support group for those separated or divorced. Mondays, 7pm, Orange United Methodist Church. 942-2825, connect2orange.org

Family to Family — A series of 12 weekly classes structured to help family members understand and support their family member suffering a with a mental illness. The class is free and sponsored by NAMIOrange. One class will begin Tuesday, Sept. 1, 6:30-9 pm at the Seymour Center. Another class will begin Sept. 13, 2-4:30 pm at the Ebenezer Baptist Church North Campus. Contact Gove Elder at 967-5403 or

Garden Tour — Free tour of the N.C. Botanical Garden's display gardens. Saturdays, 10am, in front of the Totten Center at the garden. 962-0522, ncbg.unc.edu

Garden Walk — Discussions on fall planting, garden maintenance, design, and gardening for wildlife with bird and butterfly plants. Saturdays at 10am at Niche Gardens, 1111 Dawson Rd, Chapel Hill NC. Call for directions, 967-0078. nichega dens.com

Job Search Meeting — A networking and support group for job hunters. Wednesdays, 9:30-11am, Binkley Baptist Church, 1712 Willow Drive. 942-4964

Open-Mic Poetry — Tuesdays except first Tuesday, 7-9pm, Looking Glass Cafe & Boutique, 601 W. Main St. 636-5809

Kids

Toddler Time — Thursdays, 4pm, Carrboro Branch Library. 969-3006 Preschool Story Time — Saturdays, 10:30am, Carrboro Branch Library. 969-3006

Express Yourself! — Art

program for ages 3-8 and their caregivers. Saturdays, 10:45-11:15am, 11:30am-noon, Kidzu Children's Museum, 105 E. Franklin St. $2. 933-1455, kidzuchildrensmuseum.org been busy staying alive. Though she considers herself retired from a career she loved as a corporate video scriptwriter, her community involvement continues through the OrangePolitics blog, and she'll coordinate the Carrboro Centen-

part of the Carrboro arts scene for many years," said Jackie Helvey, who drove DeVine home from the UNC Cancer Center after every chemo treatment. "She is one of the founders of the Carrboro

Music Festival, put together the

"Catherine has been an active nial Celebration next year.

Garden Story Time — Children ages 3 to 5 and their caregivers are invited to come read themebased nature tales and participate in activities in the garden. Thursdays through Aug. 27, 10-11am, N.C. Botanical Garden. $5 per family. Preregister 962-0522, ncbg.unc.edu

THE CARRBORO CITIZEN

Coaches Needed — Coaching applications are now being accepted for the positions of JV women's basketball coach and assistant field hockey coach at Carrboro High School. Please contact Athletic Director April Ross for additional information. at aross@chccs.kl2.nc.us or 918-2200, ext. 25023.

Volunteers

RSVP 55+ Volunteer Program — Seeks volunteers at least 55 years of age and older who would like assistance in finding an opportunity that matches their interests. 968-2056, co.orange.nc.us/aging/ RSVPindex.asp

Meals on Wheels — Seeks volunteers to deliver meals and/or bake simple desserts for recipients in the Chapel Hill-Carrboro area. 942-2948

Orange County Literacy

adult literacy, basic math and English language tutoring, creative writing workshops at local homeless shelters and family literacy workshops. New tutor training workshops every month. Skills Development Center, 503 W. Franklin St. 933-2151 for the Carrboro Century Center and has volunteered for Carrboro Day in many capacities over the years."

When I started treatment at UNC, the people were so wonderful I assumed they must all be good actors," DeVine said. "Gradually, I realized they're not acting; they really are wonderful. We didn't move to Carrboro for health care ... but everything about living here makes us feel lucky."

Contact Valarie Schwartz at 923-3746 or valariekays@mac.com

CitizenCryptoquote By Martin Brody

RECENTLY

FROM PAGE I

She declined reconstructive surgery.

One year later, symmetry was again achieved, when her left breast had to be removed.

But for DeVine, the worst part of the worst year of her life came midway, on July 24, when she had a stroke.

"I was home alone making a grocery list from a recipe book," she said. "I had trouble turning the pages. I felt queer. I went to my (in-home) office and checked email. There was a message from Kirk Ross. I went to answer it and my hand fell on the keyboard."

She picked up the phone and called the UNC on-call person in the oncology department. When they answered, she learned that she could not speak. She called Berkeley and managed to say, "I can't talk," which was enough for him to call 911.

"They say the stroke was a lightning strike," she said, and that it had nothing to do with the cancer treatments. "It was a really bad episode. I was SO MAD!" DeVine, 57, said, her color rising at the memory.

She could not talk, so she cried and cried and cried and cried. "I had not lost my mind, but they thought I might have." It took several months to recover her speech.

Though the health professionals insisted the stroke had nothing to do with her cancer treatment, they had plenty of other warnings about what the chemotherapy medications might do to her body.

They said it would make me sick. It did not. They told me my feet could crap out. They did

— it's very painful to walk. And they told me my heart could crap out.

With that, she pulled away the strap of her tank top to expose the square box implanted under the skin where her left breast once was. It was a defibrillator. She calls it "the doorknob on my chest." During the second stage of chemo, her heart failed, and the March 2008 implant prevents sudden death.

So, for those who might wonder where Catherine DeVine disappeared to after a failed run for Carrboro alderman in 2005, she's

P045151 4/04

PETS OF THE WEEK

PAWS4EVER - Meet Rodney! He's a 6-monthold German Shepherd/ bulldog mix. This young puppy already has some great leash manners. loves dogs and, like all puppies, loves to play! Rodney is a very happy, shy boy who requires a little time to come out of his shell. Due to abandonment at an early age, we believe he has trust issues, therefore taking him a while to warm up. He is always friendly, never aggressive, enjoys playing, but also has a fear of dominance. He is just slightly unsure of the world around him. Rodney would benefit greatly from socialization and the free training classes offered with adoption. He would do great with other dogs and possibly cats. Has an extra dew claw on both feet ... silly and unique!. Please come by the shelter and take a look, at Paws4Ever, 6311 Nicks Road, Mebane, or call 304-2300. You can also go online at paws4ever.org son! This adorable black lab mix is around 7 months old and waiting patiently at the new Animal Services Center to find a new family of his own. He's a shy boy at first, but loves people and will charm and wiggle his way over to you after he knows you're safe! If you are looking for charming, handsome and a gentle, loving demeanor, you'll find it all in Davidson! Visit him at Orange County's Animal Services Center, 1601 Eubanks Road, Chapel Hill or call 942-PETS (7387). You can also see him online at co.orange.nc.us/animalservices/adoption.

Meet David-

SUPER CROSSWORD	SELF-DIRECTED
-----------------	---------------

	-			-				_
1 5 9 13 18 19 20 21 22 25 266 27 28 301 34 39 42 43 44 45 47 49	OSS Way forest Enthu- Encry Swee Ssadc "Zip -Doo- Big na chocc Self-di in "He Facilit Queu tip? Taxing A little Stirrung Self- direct Wacat homes Creatu "Stop Brocc Olds Brocc Olds Brocc Olds at a to State Control to State State Control to State Control to State Control to State State Control to State State Control to State State Control to State St	siast sers are Pepa pted vich f Dah" ame i late port are the port stated e port are the port of port of port of port of port of port of port of port of port f or port f f f f f f f f f f f f f f f f f f f	e S	9 Atla caab 0 Pee 2 cha 4 Pae 2 cha 4 Pae 6 lad 7 Frill 0 the 2 Sub 4 Goo 6 See 8 ria 0 Coo 1 1 galas 3 Acoo 0 Cl 2 Sub 4 Goo 8 ria 0 Coo 1 Cooo 1 Coo 1 Coo 1 Coo 1 Coo 1 Coo 1 Coo 1 Coo 1 Coo	thereid anta mpusster of asaa- rent nnon' gquer estange' roar aquer estange' roar addisor unty'' efinical roar angy ffix tress age s anily or mon tress anily or mon tress anily angy anily angy s anily angy s anily angy anily angy anily angy angy angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy angy ang angy ang angy ang angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily angy anily ang anily ang anily ang anily ang anily ang anily ang anily ang anily ang anily ang anily ang anily	s stily rr- tith with or rait- he of aly!" tuff s" odel	103 105 106 107 110 112 115 119 120 121 122 124 128 131 136 137 138 139 140 0141 142	Photo raphea Adam Chee song Plato Velve plant Lake 26 Do Aphido Self-d appad Self-d appad Self-d b Break Comni- Break Comni- Break Comni- Break Comni- Break Comni- Break Comni- Cabbi Absq Disce Prom Disce Coubi Self-d S	ar fruit ar of on ar of on ar of on ar of on ar on ar of ar of a	d is" -	www 3 Hit bil bil 4 Ci 5 Ff 6 Du treat 7 Bu feet 9 So err 110 Ou tiss 2 So 8 Att 9 So err 111 Pc So 8 Att 11 Pc 2 So 8 Att 11 Pc 2 So 8 Att 11 Pc 2 So 8 Att 11 Pc 2 So 8 Att 2 So 8 Att 11 Pc 2 So 8 Att 2 So 8	b beck of oods amilto is andid andid andid andid andid andid andid andid yden yden yden yden yden yden yden yde	here est- ton- g. k play- bod's hka" ive ring (city	41 42 46 48 50 51 52 54 56 63 65 68 69 71 74 75 77 78 79 95	Hodg: define Rober Do m the Skite Self-ick Self-	direction "Bob	10 10 10 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 12 13 14 15 16 17	project project <t< th=""><th>artha ash the f amlet erkeg l give weigf pak u poposition adde rectoon and be asho asho asho asho asho asho asho asho</th><th>n an ref.) laard tion you oo!" re n re ir goor ir goor reen</th></t<>	artha ash the f amlet erkeg l give weigf pak u poposition adde rectoon and be asho asho asho asho asho asho asho asho	n an ref.) laard tion you oo!" re n re ir goor ir goor reen
53	Ohio First-o	city	ĝ	18 Hu 11 —	rried		143	Sund Swee		's	38 Mi 39 Ba	ghty	mite		— -L FL		,	134 Artichoke heart? 135 Spell
1	2	3	4		5	6	7	8		9	10	11	12			13	14	15	16	17
18	1				19			\vdash		20	+	 	 		21
22	+			23				┼	24		+				25
26			 				27	\vdash	 				28	29				30
			31		32	33	 		34	-	35	36		 		37	38
0.0	40	14	 	ļ	ļ	 		40	 			 		40
39	40	41	1	1	1	1		42	1		1	1		43	1		1

For example, YAPHCYAPLM is WORDSWORTH. One letter stands for another. In this sample, A is used for the two O's, Y for the two W's, etc Apostrophes, punctuation, the length and formation of the words are all hints. "Politics"
FW PRC KPVRFRQ F LOIG	CΖ
PR DPT PW DBC LOD	CV
ОЈУРЕЕ ОВС ТРОРК	0 J
VFMCV, DBC BCOZIF	RC
DBOD OWDCVRP	ΡR
LPYIZ VCOZ "TVCEFZC	RD
JOR'D ELFK!" - ISRZ	ΡR
UPBREPR Find the answer in the puzzle answer section.

Weekly SUDOKU

by Linda Thistle

	4	9	3				5
		7			8		6	1
2				4	1	3
8				2		6		4
4		2			7		9
	1		6	3				7
	5		4				3	6
	9	8		5		7
3			7		9	1

Place a number in the empty boxes in such a way that each row across, each column down and each small 9-box square contains all of the numbers from one to nine.

DIFFICULTY THIS WEEK: *

★ Moderate ★★ Challenging * * * HOO BOY! © 2009 King Features Synd., Inc.

2	3	4		5			143 Sundance's sweetie				38 Mighty mite 39 Battery				FL 135 Spell
· · ·					6	7	8		9	10	11	12			13	14	15	16	17
				19					20					21
			23					24						25		·
						27						28	29				30
		31		32	33			34		35	36				37	38
40	41						42						43					4
				45		46			47			48			49		50	51	52
		54		55				56		57			58		59
			61			62			63			64		65			66
	67			68	69		70			71		72					73
75			76			77					78				79		80
				82				83					84			85			,
			87						88	1		89			90			91	92
		94			95		96	97		98	1		99	100		101
·						103			104		105						106
		107		108	109		110			111			112		113	114
116	117					118						119
				121					122		123				124		125	126	127
		129	130			131	132	133		1			134	135
						137					138					139
						141		 			142					143
	75	67	40 41 54 57 5 75 9 94 107 116 117	40 41 54 54 67 67 75 87 94 107	40 41 45 54 55 61 68 67 68 75 76 82 87 94 94 107 108 116 117 121	40 41 41 45 54 55 54 55 67 68 67 82 87 94 94 95 107 108 107 108 109 121	$ \begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$	31 32 33 42 40 41 42 45 46 54 55 46 55 5 67 61 45 62 70 67 67 68 69 70 75 94 82 70 82 94 107 108 109 103 110 116 117 129 120 121 131 129 130 131 132 137	$ \begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$	1 31 32 33 34 34 40 41 34 34 34 34 40 41 5 45 46 42 47 54 55 46 56 56 56 67 61 55 56 56 63 67 61 55 62 56 63 67 61 55 76 77 62 63 67 76 77 77 83 83 76 76 77 83 83 10 94 94 95 96 97 107 108 109 110 114 114 116 117 72 118 131 132 133 129 130 131 132 133 137 131 132 133	$ \begin{array}{c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c c $	1 31 32 33 34 35 36 40 41 34 35 46 42 34 35 36 41 54 55 46 42 47 56 57 54 55 55 56 56 57 56 57 67 61 57 62 56 63 77 63 77 67 61 57 76 77 83 7 78 75 76 77 78 83 7 78 87 82 70 83 7 78 87 82 70 88 7 78 10 94 95 96 97 98 70 107 108 109 110 111 111 71 116 117 7 118 71 71 71 71 7	1 31 32 33 34 34 35 36 36 40 41 1 45 46 42 1 35 36 48 41 1 45 46 42 1 47 2 48 1 54 55 2 56 47 57 57 67 61 34 70 63 77 63 77 67 67 68 69 70 71 72 72 75 76 77 77 83 78 78 78 75 76 77 77 88 88 89 98 10 94 96 97 98 10 110 111 111 107 108 109 110 110 111 111 111 111 111 111 111 1111 111 111	40 41 32 33 42 34 35 36 43 40 41 45 46 42 47 48 43 54 55 46 56 57 58 56 57 58 67 61 45 62 56 63 77 64 67 68 69 70 63 78 64 67 76 77 83 78 78 78 78 75 76 77 77 83 78 98 99 79 87 78 78 112 103 104 105 99 107 108 109 110 111 112 112 112 116 117 121 73 131 132 133 24 134 129 130 131 137 133 24 138 <td< td=""><td>40 31 32 33 34 34 35 36 a a 40 41 a a a 42 a a a 43 41 a a<td>$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$</td><td>1 3 1 3 2 3</td><td>31 32 33 34 35 36 34 35 36 37 38 40 41 45 46 42 47 48 43 49 50 54 55 2 56 57 58 59 7 61 65 7 66 67 61 77 62 63 77 64 65 7 73 73 75 76 77 83 78 78 79 80 75 76 77 88 89 99 100 79 80 75 76 77 88 88 89 99 90 101 87 103 104 105 99 100 101 106 107 108 109 110 111 111 112 113 114 125 124 125 124 125 124 1</td><td>10 31 32 33 34 35 36 a a</td></td></td<>	40 31 32 33 34 34 35 36 a a 40 41 a a a 42 a a a 43 41 a <td>$\begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$</td> <td>1 3 1 3 2 3</td> <td>31 32 33 34 35 36 34 35 36 37 38 40 41 45 46 42 47 48 43 49 50 54 55 2 56 57 58 59 7 61 65 7 66 67 61 77 62 63 77 64 65 7 73 73 75 76 77 83 78 78 79 80 75 76 77 88 89 99 100 79 80 75 76 77 88 88 89 99 90 101 87 103 104 105 99 100 101 106 107 108 109 110 111 111 112 113 114 125 124 125 124 125 124 1</td> <td>10 31 32 33 34 35 36 a a</td>	$ \begin{array}{c ccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccccc$	1 3 1 3 2 3	31 32 33 34 35 36 34 35 36 37 38 40 41 45 46 42 47 48 43 49 50 54 55 2 56 57 58 59 7 61 65 7 66 67 61 77 62 63 77 64 65 7 73 73 75 76 77 83 78 78 79 80 75 76 77 88 89 99 100 79 80 75 76 77 88 88 89 99 90 101 87 103 104 105 99 100 101 106 107 108 109 110 111 111 112 113 114 125 124 125 124 125 124 1	10 31 32 33 34 35 36 a

I WAS GOING TO DO SOMETHING WITTY ABOUT THE STUDENTS RETURNING BUT I REALLY WANTED TO DRAW THIS TREE. ILLUSTRATION BY PHIL BLANK

What's at Market?

Check out what's at the Carrboro Year-Round Farmers' Market ...

New Item this Week: MUSCADINE GRAPES, figs, pears, butternut squash, concord grapes, apples, peaches, eggplant, shiitake mushrooms, melons, corn, heirloom and various varieties of tomatoes, basil, beans, tomatillos, okra, blueberries, bell peppers, zucchini, cucumbers, summer squash, new potatoes, kohlrabi, lettuce, onions, flour, garlic, cabbage, collards, fresh herbs, kale, arugula, sweet potatoes, pecans, herb and vegetable starters, flowers such as zinnias, sunflowers, lilies, and gladiolas, meats like goat, beef, pork, lamb, chicken, buffalo, and various specialty meats like liverwurst, bologna, hotdogs, etc, cow's and goat's milk cheeses, eggs, breads, doughnuts, tortes, pies, cakes, jams, and relishes.

RECIPE: Pasta with Fresh Tomato, Summer Squash & Lemon From Kelly Clark, Market Volunteer

Once you've purchased tomatoes and summer squash from your favorite farmer, you should have most of the ingredients for this recipe in your pantry, including some pesto that you've made from your burgeoning basil plants! This dish requires a little prep work, and no cooking except for the pasta - making it a fairly quick option for a late summer dinner. Serve with a toasted baguette to soak up the extra juices.

Land & Table

Briefs

Pancake breakfast

The Eno River Farmers Maket is hosting a Pancake Breakfast featuring flapjacks made with local, organic ingrediants and a reading of children's books about pancakes. The event is Sept. 5 from 8 a.m. to noon at the Public Market House on Margaret Lane in Hillsborough.

New CCCC campus goes green

The Chatham County board of commissioners have approved funding for a green roof for the new Central Carolina Community College's Sustainable Technologies Building and a wastewater recycle system to serve that building and the Chatham Community Library, which is also being built at the campus. The commissioners unanimously approved spending $227,239 for the roof, which will be covered with low-growing vegetation, and $652,920 for the water system at their Aug. 17 meeting.

Environmental summit

The Commission for the Environment will hold its third Orange County Environmental Summit on Saturday, September 12 from 10 a.m. to noon at the Education Center for the North Carolina Botanical Garden. The event is free and open to the public.

The summit will feature keynote speaker Dr. Larry Band, who will discuss storm water sustainability in Orange County watersheds. Band is the Director of the UNC Institute for the Environment and a professor in the Geography Department. There will also be a panel of experts who will discuss issues pertaining to the quality and quantity of water resources in the County followed by questions from the audience.

Following the summit there will be an optional tour of the Botanical Garden's brand new education center. This will be the first public event held at the center, which was built using a variety of "green building" technologies intended to achieve LEED-Platinum certification.

I large lemon - to yield zest and 1/4 cup of juice 1/2 cup fruity extra virgin olive oil I teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper I cup parsley leaves 1/4 cup pesto 6 small to medium patty pan squash – a mix of yellow and green is pretty – coarsely grated to equal 3 cups. (You can substitute zucchini or summer squash). Patty pan squash are round with scalloped edges. 4 medium Cherokee Purple tomatoes (or other tomato variety). 8 oz. farfalle (bowtie) pasta One jar with a tight lid One large pasta bowl Procedure: Cook the pasta according to instructions. While the pasta is cooking prepare the other ingredients. When the pasta is done, drain well and set aside.

Zest the lemon then finely chop the zest, set aside. Juice the lemon, augmenting if necessary, to yield 1/4 cup juice, set aside. Put the lemon juice, olive oil, salt and pepper in a jar with a tight lid. Shake the mixture until well combined.

Finely chop the parsley, set aside.

Coarsely grate the squash, set aside.

Chop the tomatoes into 1/4 - 1/2 inch pieces, collecting any juices.

Layer in a large pasta bowl in this order: tomatoes with their juice, parsley, pasta, pesto, lemon zest, squash. Shake the dressing one more time, then pour over the layered ingredients and toss well. Generously serves four.

The power of water: Rethink your drink

DEBRA J. BARKSDALE

I have just returned from my vacation near Niagara Falls. I stayed in a town called Welland that had a river and three canals. I frequently thought about all that water. We had just missed a season of heavy rains, and every living plant was lush and vibrant. In addition, the power of water rushing over the falls created a heavy mist that might as well have been called rain, except that it did not originate from the sky. Our boat ride near the falls of course resulted in a good soaking through our flimsy plastic rain capes.

Water has power. It cleanses, refreshes and causes growth. If water has such an impact on the outside, I believe that it can also have a profound impact on the inside of our bodies, which are, after all, 50 to 75 percent water (10 to 12 gallons). Water helps our bodies function properly. Every organ and system in the body needs water to wash out toxins, transport nutrients to the cells and provide a moist environment for certain tissue and organs, such as the eyes, ears, nose and throat. Proper hydration has a lot of benefits, such as: (1) improving mental processing, (2) helping with weight control, (3) improving skin condition, (4) reducing headaches and light headedness associated with dehydration and (5) improving fatigue and muscle weakness, among others.

Unlike the seemingly endless flow of water over Niagara Falls, our bodies' water must be replenished. The American Dietetic Association recommends that we drink about eight 8ounce glasses of water per day. This seems like a lot of water, but there are many ways to get the water that our bodies so desperately need to remain healthy.

Don't wait until you are dehydrated to get the proper amount of fluid and don't use thirst as indicator of how dehydrated you are. Drink before you become thirsty because "feeling thirsty" may not be a reliable indicator in certain people, particularly those who are frequently dehydrated. A better indicator of hydration is to make sure you are putting out enough urine every day. The average adult produces about 6.5 cups of urine per day, which should be odorless and slightly yellow.

Now is a good time to "Re-Think Your Drink." Join me in drinking more water. I admit that water is not my drink of choice, so I have to replace my drink now that I have spent so much time rethinking it. Consider having a big glass of water in the morning when you wake up. Many glasses hold 12 to 16 ounces, so you will get almost a quarter of the daily requirement at the start of your day.

You can find other helpful tips and resources for rethinking your drink at co.orange.nc.us/ health/Re-thinkYourDrink.asp. On this site, sponsored by the Eat Smart Move More Orange County Campaign and Healthy Carolinians of Orange County, you will learn more about the difference between healthy and non-healthy drinks, smart drinking choices and smart drinks for a healthy weight.

A few of those tips:

Choose power drinks like water, milk and juice instead of soft drinks.

Drink in the morning: pour a glass of water, juice or milk.

Drink all day: keep a water bottle handy in the car and at home, work or school.

Drink water before, during and after activity.

Why stop with rethinking your drink? To learn more about how to improve your health and move more where you live, work, pray and play, visit Eat Smart, Move More Orange County at co.orange. nc.us/health/ESMMOC.asp

(If you have a medical condition that causes you concern about your fluid intake, please contact your health care provider. Excessive thirst and urination may indicate a more serious medical condition.)

Debra J. Barksdale is an associate professor in the UNC School of Nursing and a member of Healthy Carolinians of Orange County.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Downtown Carrboro and Chapel Hill on the first day of classes:

A young woman glides by on a small scooter on an increasingly bumpy Weaver Street. Farther down, as cars and pedestrians queue up at the corner of Greensboro and Weaver streets, drivers on cell phones whiz by and walkers on cell phones start crossing without looking up.

With many of those operating them new to town, bikes and cars intermingle in unfamiliar traffic patters, sometimes in ways you never thought possible. Yes, two bikes can ride parallel, straddling the cars in the oncoming lane in front of the Century Center, and make an in-formation left turn headed east on Main.

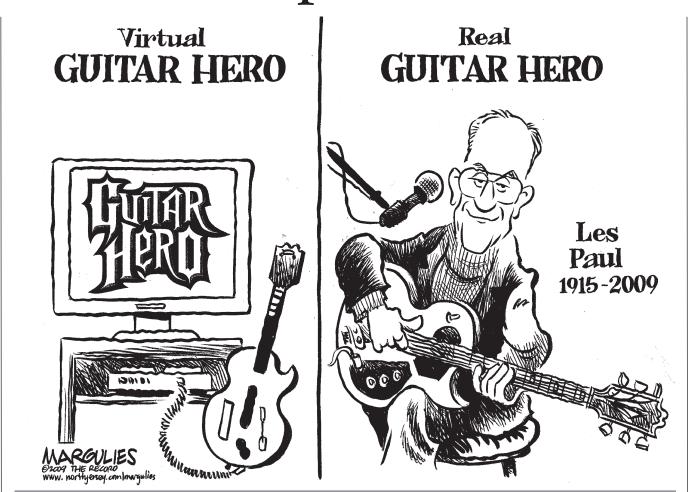

In Chapel Hill, the roads in downtown are a bit wider, yet one scooter rider hops onto the sidewalk off of Merritt Mill and pedestrians risk the cacti in front of Crooks rather than get run over. Everywhere, despite seeming to be engaged in navigating sidewalks or streets, about half of those en route somewhere are on the phone.

These are not a collection of images from several walks downtown, but just one from last Monday — where there was an abundance of illustrations of the potentially dangerous vortex of cars, pedestrians and two-wheeled transit and the need to be always in touch.

One more image that still sticks in the mind: a young woman jogging along then suddenly turning to cross the street midblock. She stepped off the curb, then hesitated, just as a car went by narrowly missing her. You could tell from the volume of her headphones she couldn't have heard it coming. That image recalled another: a promising young graduate student died under similar circumstances while jogging on campus last year.

Every fall, we try to underscore to our readers that this is the least safe period of the year and everyone — old-timers and newcomers alike — should take extra care. Study after study has shown that this is the peak season for accidents involving cars and pedestrians and cars and bikes. Add to that the fact that far too many are negotiating our streets while on a cell phone, and you might understand why at least once a year we start sounding like your Mom, as in:

Turn down those ear buds. Signal your intentions. Look both ways before crossing the street. And, for goodness sake, hang up and drive.

pinion

Chatham's new commuter bus service is a first step toward sustainable public transportation

JEFFREY STARKWEATHER

Monday morning, my wife, a UNC employee, skipped her usual indoor bicycling exercise. Instead, she walked 23 minutes to the Chatham County Courthouse in downtown Pittsboro to catch a free bus ride to work. Rather than driving her car as usual along U.S. 15-501, she got on a 7:08 a.m. Chapel Hill Transit bus that dropped her off 45 minutes later at the UNC Student Union.

Monday was the start of a weekday commuter bus service between Chapel Hill and Pittsboro. The bus my wife rode was the second of three buses that begin their journey from the courthouse during the morning rush hour. The buses also pick up riders at Lowes in Pittsboro and in Fearrington. They start their return trips from campus at 4:48 p.m. UNC covers the fare for its employees, others pay $3 each way or $65 a month.

By taking the bus daily from Pittsboro, a UNC employee would save about $3,500 a year in transportation expenses (e.g., gas, wear-and-tear based on federal mileage cost rates and parking savings). A non-UNC employee would save $780 less, still about $2,700 a year over driving the entire route in his car. My wife has already been saving since she has been riding the free Chapel Hill Transit bus from the north Chatham UNC lot for more than two years, but she's saving considerably more now by riding the bus all the way from PBO. In addition to personal savings, riding the bus will reduce traffic congestion, air pollution, fossil fuel consumption and their carbon footprint. Car insurance costs also will decrease. Riders can spend more of their increased expendable income in Chatham, since they won't be tempted with out-of-county shopping after work. Automobile accident costs will be significantly reduced. My wife is enjoying having 40 minutes of uninterrupted time to read going to and from work each day.

Thus, if use of this commuter bus grows as expected, it will have a significant positive impact on Chatham's economy. Beyond this direct economic impact, the success of such a service will help brand Chatham as a green enterprise zone, attracting the type of green industries and creative entrepreneurs that are already beginning to locate and/or incubate here. That was one of the reasons why the Chatham County Economic Development Corporation Board unanimously requested that Chatham County and the Town of Pittsboro financially back this service.

Of course, no successful transit system starts and grows without significant government subsidies. For Chatham, that meant a relatively modest investment of $43,000 for the county and $24,000 for Pittsboro, all allocated without resorting to tax increases or staff reductions. The federal government is investing $176,356 for 18 months. More importantly, this incredible public service is the result of an extraordinary county-town-federal-state partnership with UNC and Chapel Hill Transit, which are providing the buses and subsidizing fares, as well as Lowe's shopping center, which provide the parking space. Each partner understands the long-term economic, environmental and social benefits a successful transit system will bring to residents, students and/or employees. Those concerned about these modest public investments should ponder the enormous subsidies governments provide to automobile commuting and sprawl. For years, the federal government paid 90 percent of the cost of state highways. In 2000, $46.5 billion was provided across the nation in government highway subsidies. Only 2 percent of federal transportation dollars was spent on transit.

Others may be concerned that not enough Chatham residents will ride the bus to justify the government subsidies. Ridership, of course, will depend on whether these cost savings and community benefits are marketed effectively. It will also depend on the price of gas, which economists say will continue to rise as worldwide petroleum demand increases and supply decreases. I'm betting that cost-savvy commuters will soon be eagerly hopping on the bus.

Chatham cannot postpone the development of a public-transit policy. Sixty percent of Chatham workers commute to jobs outside the county. More than 4,000 commute to Orange County. Chatham faces enormous sprawl development pressures that will only exacerbate commuting. County leaders' other commuter mitigation strategies include smart growth, high-paying jobs in Chatham and telecommuting. Even these strategies will be insufficient, given the expected dramatic population growth in eastern Chatham.

Chatham County and the Town of

LETTERS

Project asked to add commercial space

Thank you for your article on the Carrboro Board of Aldermen's granting a one-year extension on several development permits. As your article points out, these extensions are essential to give these projects time to get going in a challenging economy.

One point omitted is that we only granted the Ballentine AIS a six-month extension, half the time they had requested. Ballentine is an entirely residential subdivision off Old N.C. 86, north of Lake Hogan Farms, much like those that have been typical in northern Carrboro. However, in recent years the board has heard loud and clear from residents that they want mixed-use and commercial projects that will provide retail services and nearby destinations for their neighborhoods.

Planning staff is working its way through a review of the Northern Study Area. This review is designed, in part, to identify locations for mixed-use and commercial development. While we await the completion of that process, the extension request afforded the opportunity to encourage a developer to seek to site some commercial space now (note: the three one-year extensions granted that same night already had commercial components).

In granting the six-month extension (which can be renewed), we requested MI Homes "to look favorably at including a commercial element in the project." Our thinking is that even a single building near Old N.C. 86, perhaps similar in some respect to Johnny's on Main Street, with a shop downstairs and offices or apartments upstairs, would be an important enhancement to this project and to the surrounding neighborhoods.

> DAN COLEMAN Carrboro Board of Aldermen

Real health care reform needed

As I read of the efforts of the insurance industry, the pharmaceutical industry and other for-profit organizations spending millions of dollars to prevent health care reform, I am saddened and angered at the destruction of our democracy. I read that $1.4 million is being spent every day to prevent real reform. Lobbyists representing corporate America, threatening and cajoling our elected representatives, beat democracy into submission, leaving us with a shadowy substitute.

I am also deeply saddened that, as a nation, we have become so morally misguided. How is that we have come to value corporate profits over an individual's right to basic health care? How can we allow the insurance and pharmaceutical industries to reap billions of dollars in profits while our families and neighbors can't afford to get the medical care they need? Who are we as a nation? The vast majority of Americans want and need real health care reform. We understand that the current system is morally and financially broken. We know that without a public option, there will be no real change. We must find a way to make our voices heard. We must call our representatives, join groups that are advocating for real change, write letters, join protests. Wrestling control of our democracy back from corporations will not be easy, but health care reform is a critical place to begin.

ENDORSEMENT LETTERS

The Carrboro Citizen welcomes letters of endorsement for candidates in the 2009 municipal and school board elections.

We ask that you keep letters in support of individual candidates to 325 words and multiple candidates to 375 words.

As with our general letters policy all letters must be accompanied by the author's name, address and contact information. We will publish one letter per author per month. Typed letters are preferred and email even more so. Lengthy letters written in longhand will become mysteriously lost.

SUBMISSIONS:

E-MAIL: letters to editor@ carrborocitizen.com MAIL: The Carrboro Citizen Letters to the Editor Box 248 Carrboro, NC 27510

EDITORIAL

Robert Dickson, Publisher Kirk Ross, Editor Taylor Sisk, Contributing Editor Liz Holm, Art Director Beth Mechum, Staff Writer Margot Lester, Lucy Butcher, Rich Fowler, Contributors Ava Barlow, Photographer

ADVERTISING

Marty Cassady, Ad Director marty@carrborocitizen.com

OPERATIONS

Anne Billings, Office Coordinator anne@carrborocitizen.com

DISTRIBUTION

Chuck Morton, Julian Davis

Published Thursdays by Carrboro Citizen, LLC.

Pittsboro should be applauded for taking the critical first step in developing a sustainable public transportation system. Now every Chatham resident who desires sustainable economic prosperity needs to help it succeed.

Jeffrey Starkweather, a lawyer and Chatham County Economic Development Corporation board member, will teach "Introduction to Sustainable Communities and Public Policy Analysis for Sustainable Communities" this fall at Central Carolina Community College in Pittsboro. He welcomes feedback at

Budget cuts disproportionately affect Bingham residents access to services

BY KATHLEEN AND CARL HOFFMANN

In order to address budget cuts and shrink costs, the Orange County Board of Commissioners and staff plan to reduce services at solid waste convenience centers. At four of the five convenience centers, they will cut hours and operations from six days to four days a week. Unfortunately, the fifth convenience center, Bradshaw Quarry in southwest Orange County, will close on September 20.

More than 100 people showed up for the Aug. 18 commissioners meeting with impassioned pleas to keep the Bradshaw Quarry Center open. Rather than closing, we asked for cuts similar to those at the other county convenience centers. We even proposed reducing our center services to just the essential trash and recycling in order to keep the center open two or three days a week, including a Saturday or Sunday.

When the proposed budget is actually parsed, closing the center is estimated to save the county only about $20,000 in FY2009-10. This estimated savings ignores the county's additional cost in cleaning up the inevitable roadside dumping and the fire department's concerns for the dangers associated with increased trash burning.

The costs that will be shifted to Bingham township residents are much higher than the $20,000 savings. If the center closes, Bingham residents will have to drive an additional 20 to 35 miles to dump their trash and recycling. That's several gallons of gas every week, which translates to roughly $300 to $500 a year for Bingham households. Completely closing Bradshaw Quarry is a disproportionate burden. It asks a small group of citizens to underwrite the county's budget cuts at a time when all citizens face personal fiscal constraints.

At the Aug. 18 meeting, the group questioned the county's rationale. We are told we are being closed because we have the fewest customers and lowest waste volume. Rural southwest Orange County, with its miles of beautiful fields, woods and large farms, naturally has a low population density. Our density is further reduced by the Cane Creek Reservoir, with watershed restrictions requiring minimum 2-acre and 5-acre land parcels. With fewer people, we have little access to private garbage or recycling services. We depend on BQCC as our primary resource for waste disposal.

The county says they are closing Bradshaw Quarry because they can't expand it to allow room for residents to drop off yard waste. Do the commissioners realize that for this rural community, yard waste is firewood, habitat and compost? Expansion is unwarranted, unnecessary and unasked for.

The speakers on Tuesday did not ask the commissioners to shift the cost to other parts of our community. They did not ask to cut funds from libraries, human services or the commissioners access to lifetime health benefits. They only asked to be treated like citizens whose needs are respected. They understand the need for budget cuts and are willing to do their fair share by cheerfully accepting reduced hours and services at Bradshaw Quarry.

On Aug. 18, we were proud to sit among our neighbors who were informed and articulate. After offering practical and creative alternatives to closing Bradshaw Quarry, the commissioners instructed residents to direct further correspondence to the interim county manager and went on with their meeting. It was as if to say, "The board of county commissioners is too busy to address your concerns and has no interest in hearing any more about your problems with trash."

For our tax dollars and recycling fees, Bingham residents simply want to continue our access to a small, nearby facility to safely dispose of trash and recycling. Maybe the board should start listening to this important and underserved community who votes and pays taxes. By reconsidering the decision to close Bradshaw Quarry, this board can show that rural residents count, too. DONELL KERNS Carrboro

Nominations sought

In times such as these, it is easy to put our personal philanthropy on the shelf while we focus on surviving the economic challenges of the day. Thank goodness for the many generous souls in our community who, regardless of how much or how little they have to give, remain committed to expressing their compassion for others through generous contributions of time, talent and treasures. Thank goodness for donors and volunteers who believe that nonprofits of all shapes and sizes play vital roles in our society.

On Nov. 12, the Triangle chapter of the Association of Fundraising Professionals will honor some very special philanthropists and volunteers in the Triangle. Visit afptriangle.org to learn more about National Philanthropy Day and to nominate a person or organization that deserves the thanks of our community for their generosity.

Award categories include: Excellence in Philanthropy, Innovation in Philanthropy, Outstanding Volunteer Fundraiser, Outstanding Youth in Philanthropy, Outstanding Philanthropic Organization and Outstanding Fundraising Executive and Development Team. Send in your nominations and join others in our community on Nov. 12 as we celebrate the generosity of so many people in our community.

The Hoffmanns live on Mebane

Frank Cook traveled to meet plants

Tim Toben

Just hours after his passing on Aug. 19, Frank Cook's brother Ken spoke from the circle of nearly 200 friends holding hands around Pearson Garden in Asheville. "I think he saw us all as plant beings and he certainly was one himself." Muffled laughter mixed with tears. Frank Cook was the Banyan Tree.

If the name is not familiar, you'll remember the man. Frank stood 6'3" with piercing blue eyes and waist-length dreadlocks. He wore simple clothes and sandals and carried a satchel over his shoulder. In Chapel Hill, his home was a loft bed at the residence of Beth Williams and Alan Dehmer. He walked everywhere, once across the entire state of North Carolina, foraging for food along the way. Most of us in these modern times would die attempting such a trek. Frank feasted – both physically and spiritually.

Someone once said that we are born with two beings - one that dies and one that lives forever. That is certainly true for Frank Cook. Frank will always be known around the world for his plant knowledge and his journey to "meet" the 5,000-plus genera of plants. At 47 years old, he was 70 percent of the way to his goal. He'd chucked a promising career in computer science 20 years earlier to follow his heartsong, traveling to Namibia to meet Omumborombonga, the ancestral tree of life, and to India to meet Buckuchurbu, used to treat stomach upset.

Those of us lucky enough to cross His path were reacquainted with the native plants we loved as children. Frank could hang with the best Linnean taxonomist, but he "understood" plants more deeply - their medicinal qualities, their nutritional values and their unique role in the interdependent ecology of nature. And he clearly loved them.

The meals between walks were just as vibrant. Reminding us that most Americans eat just 25 species of plants a year, he'd make fresh bread and soup with at least 25 species gathered during his walk. The flavors and energy in his food were life giving. He'd make teas by day and meads at night, always sharing a batch from last year in a passaround bottle. His gatherings built benevolent communities -- families with native knowledge and skills.

His "business model" baffled most. He worked for donations. You paid what you could, and that was enough to fund Frank's travels to meet plants across the globe. He'd recently completed a master's degree at the Schumacher Institute in the U.K. and written a book titled Emerging Planetary Medicines. His subject matter had expanded to include "transition cultures" - those preparing for not a low-, but a no-carbon economy.

Frank had just returned from teaching engagements in the Southwest U.S., and before that in South America. What he thought was travel weariness was apparently a spreading parasitic infection, which spread rapidly this week and this morning claimed his sinewy body. Thousands around the world, and several hundred in Carrboro, Chapel Hill and Asheville, weep quietly at the loss of their friend and teacher. We are ever so grateful for his many gifts, for the many seeds he planted.

If he'd ever stayed in one place for more than a few months, I'm convinced that Frank's cascading dreadlocks would have taken root, like the Banyan Tree, and grown other Frank Cooks. And if so, what a better world this would be. Then again, as I looked around Pearsons Garden this damp August night and reflected on past gatherings at LEAF and Pickards Mountain, I thought ... that's precisely what has happened.

Godspeed.

Tim Toben is chairman of the state's Energy Policy Council.

ROGERS ROAD FROM PAGE I

According to Chris Heaney, an epidemiologist from the Gillings School and lead researcher in this investigation, fecal pollution at such levels can cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

"The cause of the fecal pollution could be failing septic systems or surface runoff carrying this fecal pollution from domestic or wild animals or other sources into the groundwater supply," Heaney said.

The survey also looked at septic tanks. Twenty-one households reported having a private septic system, the oldest of which was constructed in 1926, the most recent in 2008. Failures reported included septic discharge saturating the yard, septic back-up into the home and septic system odors. More than two-thirds of homes with private septic systems reported one or more of these failures nity would now like to see answered, said RENA spokesperson Robert Campbell, is, "How do we bring the Rogers Road community into compliance with water and sewer?"

The question the commu-

Campbell's answer is to provide public water and sewer lines to all homes in the community.

"There's something causing this contamination," he said. "We're not trying to say what's causing it, only that it needs to be addressed."

Heaney has presented his findings to the county. While he said there was no way to know at this point whether the levels of the contaminants would continue to rise or spread, he felt it was important community members be made aware.

On Tuesday, county enhad received from Heaney the less than $30,000.

preliminary findings, hadn't had the opportunity to review them, but intended to talk with Heaney after he had.

In July, Tara Fikes, housing and community development director for Orange County, reported to the county commission that the Rogers-Eubanks community was ineligible for federal Community Development Block Grant funding for sewer lines because its septic tanks were functioning properly. Fikes said on Tuesday she hadn't yet seen Heaney's findings, but that the county is in the process of surveying community residents toward seeking funding from other sources for water and sewer services.

According to the Gill-ings-RENA surveys, 26 of 27 households in which surveys were completed were Africanvironmental health services American and 17 reported an director Tom Konsler said he annual household income of our years ago, I asked students in an elementary photo class to bring in a beloved family snapshot. Along with her stunning photo, this is what Crystal Essex of Marion, Ala., wrote in the margins:

Her Grandmother's Pearls, 1925

I know you have never seen the lady in this photo...and neither had I. This is my grandmother posing for her senior high school portrait in 1925. She was 18 years old in the photo. I was born in July of 1986 and missed the pleasure of meeting my grandma by two months. My father told me a lot about his mother, but I always wanted to see her for myself. After cleaning up a room in my grandparents' home, my aunt found the photo and made duplicates for each family member. Now I can see her more often. As I look at the picture there is one thing that stands out — my grandmother's pearls. I imagined that she wore those pearls because they signified beauty, class and love. That's just what I want to exhibit to the world. But I don't have those pearls. At the moment, I believe one of my aunts has my grandmother's pearls. But my dad said that I may get them one day. I pray that those pearls come my way, not because I love jewelry, but because they belonged to my grandmother, the woman I never met.

OBITUARIES

Paul Wesley Bickell

Mr. Paul Wesley Bickell of Fearrington Village, Pittsboro died Friday evening, Aug. 7, 2009 at UNC Hospitals, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

A memorial service was held at University Presbyterian Church in Chapel Hill.

Mr. Bickell was born in East Chicago, Indiana on Dec. 15, 1927 to the late Ada Dixon Bickell and Norton Bickell. He served in the United States Army and attended Purdue University on the G.I. Bill. He graduated from Purdue University with a bachelor's of science degree in civil engineering in 1952 and later earned an MBA from the University of Chicago.

Mr. Bickell worked for most of his career in the petrochemical industry in Chicago and in New York City, as well as in Antwerp, Belgium and Cairo, Egypt. He was a music lover and played the French horn in several community orchestras.

He and his late wife, Mary Barbara, traveled extensively in the United States and overseas.

Mr. Bickell is survived by his son, John Bickell, and grandson, Andrew Bickell, of Sandusky, Ohio; daughter, Barbara Manson, son-in-law, Peter Manson, and granddaughter, Isabel Manson, of Cary, N.C.; brother-inlaw, John E. Cochrane, and his wife, Anne Cochrane, of Elmwood Park, Ill.; nieces Harriet Allen of Indianapolis, Ind., Kristine Cochrane of Highland, Ind. and Susanna Decker of Oak Park, Ill.; and nephew David Bickell of Indianapolis, Ind.

Many thanks to all the members of Chapel in the Pines Presbyterian Church for their love and support of Paul. In lieu of flowers and to continue Paul's support of this church, contributions may be made to the building fund for Chapel in the Pines Presbyterian Church, 212 E. Rosemary St., Chapel Hill, NC 27514.

C

CFV

full spectrum eye care services

SONG

919.444.1958

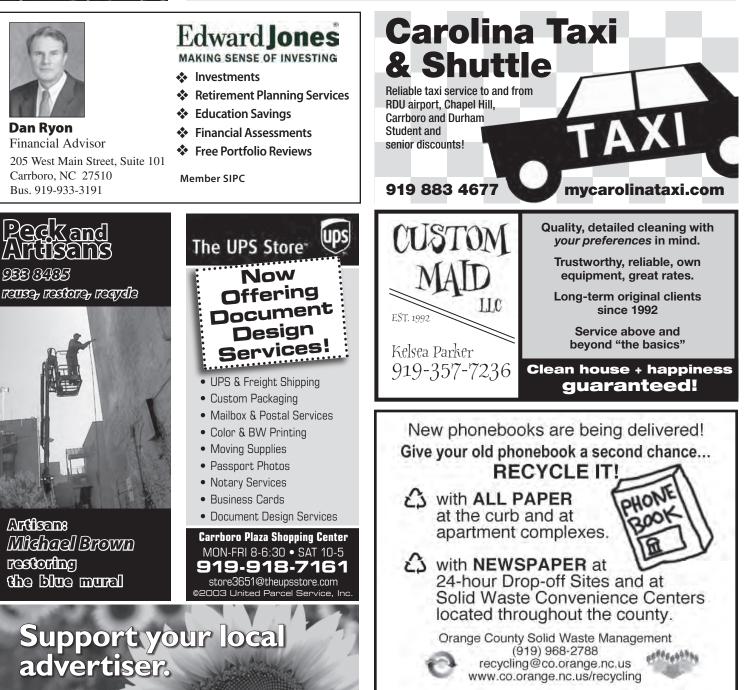

Financial Advisor 205 West Main Street, Suite 101 Carrboro, NC 27510

A THOUSAND WORDS BY JOCK LAUTERER

Do you have an important old photo that you value? Send your 300 dpi scan to jock@email.unc.edu and include the story behind the picture. Because every picture tells a story. And its worth? A thousand words.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 27, 2009

Schools

CARRBORO M

District emphasizes HINI precautions

H1N1, or swine flu, began preading across the U.S. last pring. It has remained a public health concern through the ummer months, closng summer camps in the Triangle nd across the ation. Chapel Hill-Carrboro City Schools CHCCS) has a oandemic influenza vebsite linked to the district home page, chccs. x12.nc.us. The website contains links to official Orange County and Centers for Disease Control (CDC) websites. The district pandemic influenza website is updated regularly with new information as it becomes available.

The CHCCS Coordinated chool Health Advisory Counil wants to remind parents and tudents to practice cough and hand etiquette at all times. This means that you should cover

School Briefs

Parents interested in volunteering at their child's school or another local school

an hour or two each week

during the school day should

reading partner, ESL volunteer, writing coach or general classroom volunteer helping in any grade level with math,

science, social studies, home

Positions include a school

Parent volunteers

wanted

your nose and mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze and then throw away the tissue after you use it. Wash your hands with soap and water, especially after you cough or sneeze. Use alcohol-based hand cleaners if you are away from a source of running water. Avoid spreading germs by touching your eyes, nose or mouth. Avoid crowds or places where you know others are sick.

Those who have flu-like symptoms should isolate themselves. The Orange County Health director advises staying at home for seven days after symptoms begin or until you are symptom free for 24 hours, whichever is longer. Keep away from other household members as much as possible to avoid spreading influenza.

CHCCS follows H1N1 policies established by the Orange County Health Department.

Symptoms of influenza include a fever and cough or sore throat, headaches, muscle aches, chills, runny nose, diarrhea and vomiting.

The CDC is considering a number of programs in schools during the fall. These might include seasonal flu clinics for some students.

All students received a letter from the Orange County Health Department during the first week of school summarizing the symptoms and care for those who may be affected. Employees also received a letter regarding H1N1 guiding them on how to interact with students they suspect might have H1N1 and also on cleaning classrooms.

Signs are being installed at hand-washing stations to remind students and staff of good hygiene practices.

- Staff Reports

M VANCOUVE Where can I find my Citizen? WHITE CROSS CARRBORO Weaver Street Market AREA Harry's Market Harris Teeter The ArtsCenter Amanté Gourmet Pizza Fiesta Grill White Cross BP White Cross Shell Milltown Carrburritos Express Lane Q-Shack CHAPEL HILL DOWNTOWN Piedmont Health Services Midway Barber Shop VisArt Video Caribou Coffee/ downtown Carolina Fitness Visitors Center Looking Glass Café Carrboro Business Coop Orange County Social Club Speakeasy – Greensboro & Main Jiffy Lube Job Development Center Sandwhich/The Courtyard West Franklin town racks (near Chapel Hill Weaver Street Realty Cleaners) Carrboro Family Vision Internationalist Books Franklin Hotel Century Center Great Clips Ham's Restaurant

EQUATOR

Cybrary Capelli's East Franklin town racks Elmo's Diner (near Subway) Courthouse Alley town Spotted Dog Nice Price Books Carrboro Town Hall Carrboro Town Commons Cliff's Meat Market UNC Campus UNC Student Union PTA Thriftshop Calvander Food Mart Bullshead Bookshop Carrboro Mini Mart Southern Rail Open Eye Cafe Carolina Inn Carrboro Branch Library The Beehive EAST Chapel Hill Post Office/ Estes Drive Auto Logic Reservoir Johnny's Carolina Cleaners Laundromat (Willow Creek) Crescent Green Assisted Living Jones Ferry Rd Park &

Ride CARRBORO Plaza Carrboro Plaza Park & Ride North American Video Tar Heel Tobacco Super Suds UPS Store

Curves Wingman

Aquatic Center Chapel Hill Mini Mart SOUTH

Margaret's Cantina

N.C. Botanical Garden Covenant House 15-501 South Park & Ride

GOVERNOR'S CLUB AREA Bean & Barrel/ Governor's Village Carolina Meadows/Café Tarantini

MEADOWMONT AREA

UNC Wellness Center Brixx Pizza Cafe Carolina The Cedars Young Simpson Underwood Friday Center Park & Ride Courtyard Marriott Amanté Pizza - Falconbridge

SOUTHERN VILLAGE La Vita Dolce Park & Ride bus stop Market Square

Galloway Ridge

Andy's Maple View Farms Visitors Center Orange County Senior Center Orange County Public

Caribou Coffee/ Franklin at Estes Café Driade Siena Hotel Whole Foods

Time Out

racks

North Columbia St. town

racks (at bus stop)

Davis Library / UNC

UNC Family Medicine

Village Plaza

Mal

Drugs

Owen's 501 Diner

Bruegger's Bagels/

Eastgate Chapel Hill Public Library

Food Lion/Ram's Plaza

Chamber Of Commerce

Phydeaux

Borders Books

FEARRINGTON AREA McIntyre's Books Fearrington House Inn Harris Teeter / University University Mall / Kerr

HILLSBOROUGH

Weaver Street Market Library Cup a Joe / outside box Daniel Boone Shopping

Oranges HIGH SCHOOL

ELEMENTARY

FRI 8/28 — Spaghetti & Meat

Sauce w/Garlic Bread; Turkey

den Salad; Blueberry Cobbler

Hot Dog w/Chili; Coleslaw; Gar-

MON 8/31 — Cheeseburger on

Wheat Bun; Fishwich on White

Oven Bkd Potato Wedges; Peas

w/Wheat Roll; Chicken Tacos w/

Salsa, Lett, Tom & Salsa; "Fun on the Run'': Seasoned Pinto Beans:

Mexicali Corn; Fresh Orange

WED 9/2 — Chicken Patty

Sandwich on Wheat Bun; Éruit

& Yogurt Plate; Green Beans;

Steamed Carrots; Chilled Fruit

THU 9/3 — Herb Baked

Cocktail; Fresh Apple; May Select

Chicken; w/Wheat Roll; Ham &

Cheese Melt on Whole Wheat;

"Fun on the Run"; Mashed Potatoes; Turnip Greens; Mandarin

Wedges

One:

Bun; Lettuce & Tomato Salad;

& Carrots; Chilled Peaches

TUE 9/1 — Beef & Macaroni

FRI 8/28 — Turkey & Cheese Wrap; Sloppy Joe on a Bun; Sweet Yellow Corn; Green Beans; Chilled Applesauce

MON 8/31 — Chicken Nuggets w/Wheat; Roll; Beef Tacos w/Salsa, Let, Tom and Cheese; Spanish Rice; Sweet Yellow Corn; Fresh Apple

TUE 9/I — Pork Egg Roll w/ Wheat Roll; Mozzarella Cheese Sticks; w/Marinara Dipping Sauce; Brown Rice Pilaf; Asian Mixed Vegetables; Chilled Apricots

WED 9/2 — Steak & Cheese Sandwich; Chicken Salad w/Lettuce, Tomato and Crackers; Lettuce & Tomato Salad; Carrot & Celery Sticks: Steamed Broccoli: Fresh Banana

THU 9/3 — Ham & Cheese Sub on Wheat; Chicken Tetrazzini w/Wheat Roll; Lettuce & Tomato Salad; Sweet Potatoes w/Apples; Seasoned Lima Beans; Chilled Pears

Training for specific programs that require it is available in September.

CHCCS SAT scores remain highest in NC

SAT scores remained unchanged overall in the Chapel Hill-Carrboro City Schools but continue to be the highest of any local education agency in North Carolina.

The CHCCS composite of reading and math is 1179. The CHCCS composite of reading, math and writing is 1751. The district average for reading is 581, down two points from last year's average. The district average for math is 598, up two points from last year's average. The district's average for writing is 572, down two points over last year.

Despite numbers that mirror those in last year's report, the district average still outpaces the state average. The CHCCS average of 1179 is 173 points higher than the state average. The state and national trends for performance also were flat. In composite measures calculated both with and without writing results, East Chapel Hill High School is the highest ranking public noncharter high school in North Carolina. Carrboro High ranks third and Chapel Hill High School fourth.

This was the first time results were reported for Carrboro High School. The school's composite average is 1177 on math and reading and 1754 for reading, math and writing. CHS has an average of 576 in reading, 601 in math and 577 in writing.

economics, physical education, special needs, art, music, language arts or foreign visit chccs.k12.nc.us language. There are specific requests from teachers listed in the volunteer office in Lincoln Center. For more information, call 967-8211 x28281 or email volunteer@chccs.k12.nc.us hand how when he have a hard a second

If you're considering mental health services, you likely have countless questions.

Fortunately, there's a single answer.

And that answer is UNC Mental Health Specialists. We provide a comprehensive range of services to treat a broad array of conditions. Whatever the issue might be, our professionals are here to help-backed by the resources and expertise of UNC Health Care. All treatment is confidential, so you can feel comfortable turning to us. You'll find that we're conveniently located across from University Mall in Chapel Hill-with plenty of free parking. Most important, treatment is offered with compassion and care, for you and those you care about.

For appointments and to learn more, please call (919) 929-7449 110 Conner Drive, Suite 4, Chapel Hill

School Briefs

High School Football, Aug. 21

Carrboro 26 – St. Paul's 7 This week's football game was a major milestone for the Jaguars, as it was the first home-game victory ever. Carrboro will hope to continue on its winning streak Friday, when it travels to play Orange High.

Northwood 24 - East Chapel Hill 0

Northwood's Shane Peppers rushed for three touchdowns and kicker Josue Pena added a field goal. ECH quarterback Drew Davis completed four of 12 passes for 15 yards.

South Granville 33 – Chapel Hill 6

South Granville scored 26 unanswered points in the first half and Chapel Hill never got its engine started. The Tigers will look to rebound Friday against Cedar Ridge.

Men's Soccer, Aug. 24 East Chapel Hill 5 - Carrboro 1

The Jaguars allowed four goals in the first half of their season opener, before bunkering down in the second half and netting one of their own.

PREPS PREVIEW

Teams gear up

BY BETH MECHUM Staff Writer

Many local high schools are getting a shakeup in conference play this year. Carrboro is now part of the Carolina 9 and Chapel Hill is in the Carolina 6.

Though conference rivalries are important in Orange County, cross-town rivalries often hold just the same importance, and women's volleyball is one such example.

The coaches in the area said they are excited to play new competition, but look forward to seeing the familiar faces in gyms across town as well.

It remains to be seen whether these new conferences make teams stronger or weaker when those matches circled in red on coaches' and players' calendars come to fruition.

Carrboro High

Coach Steve Scanga considers this season's volleyball team the first true varsity team he's had in his three years of coaching the Jaguars.

With one senior in the past two years combined, it's safe to say that experience was not at a premium.

While that could have been detrimental in the past, the girls are now primed to gain the rewards of their struggles. The hours they toiled as freshmen and sophomores playing slightly out of their league should prove beneficial as juniors and seniors in a new conference, the Carolina 9, that Scanga considers to be competition more suited for their skill level.

the team is 5'8", which makes it difficult to block teams with a lot of firepower in the striker position.

That's why Scanga has preached defense all these years. The Jaguars are a defensive team first; the offensive skills then follow naturally, Scanga said.

Last year's record: 5-16

Who's gone: Abby Owens was the one senior on last year's team and her leadership will be missed.

Who's here: Ŵilla Brooks will be expected to step up and be a strong outside hitter, something Scanga said he has seen happen already. Andi Aldana's mobility will make her an important part of the team this year, as also will be the case with Meredith Allen, a setter.

Expectations: Scanga said he expects the Jaguars to be more competitive in the Carolina 9 Conference and is predicting an above .500 record, along with a trip to the conference tournament.

Chapel Hill High

The Tigers might have had to forego some lazing around this summer to practice volleyball, but Coach Sherry Davis made sure the girls didn't suffer too much.

The team took a beach trip to Wilmington and Sunset Beach to facilitate team bonding and have some fun.

But they made sure to participate in some scrimmages too. Davis said each girl got some playing time (and probably some sun time too), and she's happy with where her team is right now.

"Last year was a rebuilding year, and I'm really thinking this Scanga said the tallest girl on year we are going to perform and

PHOTO BY AVA BARLOW

Willa Brooks, a varsity volleyball player for Carrboro High School, practices some drills on a recent afternoon at the school gym.

"We're excited about the competition we're facing."

have a better record," Davis said.

Last year's record: 12-12

Who's gone: The loss of Ellen Porter's passing ability will create a hole in the offense, but Davis said that just means others on the team will need to step up.

Who's here: Davis is looking for juniors Helena Archer, Ariane Cook and Elise Healy to emerge as leaders, as well as the one senior, Megan McCluskey.

Expectations: Davis said the team is relatively young but still has the experience necessary to really stand out this year. Their sheer power and size will make them a formidable opponent for any school.

East Chapel Hill High

Coach Michelle Wood's Tigers are a young team; and though they miss some strong leaders from last year's team, Wood likes the idea of being able to improve every game, and every practice.

'We're really young. We have a freshman setter and three sophomores," Wood said. "We're going to be competitive, but right now we're still learning each other, still trying to get our kids into the varsity speed of the game." Last year's record: 14-9

Who's gone: Kayla Austin was the setter for three years before graduating last year. All the hitters had gotten used to her sets and the team will miss her quickness and knowledge of the game.

Who's here: Wood will need Catherine Weiser and Marisa Iritani to step up and be vocal leaders on the court.

Expectations: Wood said she expects the Tigers to be in the top three or four in their conference, but they do have a chance to exceed beyond those expectations by putting in extra work.

TIVE. Looking for a ipeople personî who loves to help others achieve

ROOMS FOR RENT House in country, central Orange county 15 minutes from Carrboro. 2 bedrooms available, shared living space. $300-400/ month negotiable, plus utilities. Wood heat, well water, large garden, hiking trails. Great opportunity for persons interested in organic gardening, medicinal herbs, astrology. Neat nonsmokers, please. Call Michael at 919-932-7240.

HOMES FOR SALE

CLOSE TO NEW HOPE COR-RIDOR, $124,900. Two Story Townhouse. Deer out back. Pool, tennis, pond. Park like setting. 122 Twisted Oak Place, Durham. www. cb-wm.com

CONTEMPORARY BUNGALOW nestled on a wooded acre lot south of Carrboro. Rocking chair front porch, hardwood floors, vaulted ceilings, nice kitchen, mud/laundry room, deck. PERFECT FOR FIRST TIME HOMEBUYERS! $185,000 Weaver Street Realty 929-5658

DOGWOOD ACRES HOME Wonderful screened porch, master bedroom addition, updated kitchen w/one-of-akind wine storage space. Solar water heater. Adjoins path to new Southern Community Park. $250,000 Weaver Street Realty 929-5658

EXECUTIVE HOME ON 12.5 ACRES Secluded setting, private spring-fed pond, high end finishes. Walk-out basement with FP. Large windows throughout the home capture the beautiful setting. $485,900 Weaver Street Realty 929-5658

NEW PRICING! Rose Walk: New Custom Townhomes by local builder, Homescape Building Company. Priced from the $290's. 3 bedrooms. 2.5 - 3.5 baths. Garages. 1.5 miles to Downtown Carrboro. Chapel Hill/ Carrboro Schools. Walk to UNC Park & Ride and University Lake. Please contact us at 919-928-9006, rosewalk@mindspring.com.

QUALITY BRICK HOME One level, open floorplan. Perfect kitchen with ample storage space, lovely sunroom that opens to nice screened porch. Wonderful owners' suite. Hardwood floors, heavy crown molding throughout. Verv nice indeed. $398.000 Weaver Street Realty 929-5658

SWEET COTTAGE IN THE WOODS Updated w/new oak floors, new butcherblock counters, lighting fixtures, interior paint. Cool bathroom. Bonus room w/teak floors. Great deck w/arbor. 10 mins to Farmers Market. $189,500 Weaver Street Realty 929-5658

WANTED TO RENT OR BUY

ESPECIALLY IF YOU ARE AWAY a lot, misscontemplative@ gmail.com

(933-5934 or 360-1556) will live in half of the unfurnished space of your house - at least 900 sq.ft. - for reduced rent. I prefer to live in Carrboro, quiet, a lot of light, an open floor plan, and the first floor. I'm a stable renter who has lived at the same address for 12 years.

their dreams. Strong communication and computer skills required. Complete info and application at www.massage.net/now.hiring.php. No calls please.

SERVICES

Wholistic facials Cori Roth, Licensed Esthetician(#E3914) & Certified Dr. Hauschka Esthetician. Offering facials featuring lymph aromatherapeutic stimulation, compresses, decollete massage and treatments designed for specific skin conditions. Very healing and relaxing. Contact: 919-933-4748 or www.divinerose.com

ONL CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER Now Enrolling! Location: Binkley Baptist Church Chapel Hill www.onlcdc.com_contact: Cynthia Williams-Hills. Director 919-428-5139 or cynthia@onlcdc.com

NOTICES

LAWRENCE CRAIG JEWELRY Designs starting business for vending at craft fairs as Lawrence Craig Jewelry Designs

VOLUNTEERS

SUSTAIN FOUNDATION is a growing non-profit seeking passionate/committed individuals to serve on board. Requirements: monthly meetings and informed participation. More info: sustainfoundation@gmail. com

FREE

3 FEET UP PLAYS THE CAVE minimalist rock duo 3 feet up - early show at the cave 8/27, 7:30pm. free!

LOVE DOGS? Visit us at TriangleDogForum.com

RIFE carrborocitizen.com Jay Parker • moonwistle@gmail.com /mill WeaverStreetRealty.com Weaver Street 116 E. Main St • 929-5658

Join us for a free event featuring continuing education opportunities

Find out about courses offered online, on campus, and off-site. Learn about programs for academic credit, professional growth, and personal enrichment. Representatives will be on site and ready to

For more information, visit fridaycenter.unc.edu/showcase or call 919-843-5836.

> THE WILLIAM AND IDA FRIDAY CENTER FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION

Professional Development and Enrichment Programs | Credit Programs for Part-time Students | Conference Center

Your classified ad will be published on our high-traffic website just as it appears in the printed version of The Carrboro Citizen

Almanac

THE CARRBORO CITIZEN

A closer look reveals the spines on stems and leaves of horse-nettle.

FLORA FROM PAGE I

Some of you may remember an experience similar to that described by Paul Green (Paul Green's Plant Book): "This pest used to play havoc with our bare feet as children, especially if the dead dried plants chopped up by the hoe were stepped on. The thorns were sharp as little needles."

If you take a closer look you will easily see the spines along the stems, as well as on both sides of the leaves. You definitely tread softly when moving barefoot among horse nettles.

It is commonly found in sunny disturbed areas, which is why this native is sometimes considered a pest in cultivated areas. But in the natural succession of plant growth, horse nettles give way to larger perennials and eventually to competition of shrubs and trees. In the meantime, this droughttolerant perennial provides a service with its vigorous tap root breaking up barren, sterile soil, gradually improving it for other vegetation following in its path.

Horse nettles are having a late-summer re-blooming fling just now, and though the little tomato-like fruit of the early-season's flowers are already dispersed, you'll likely be seeing fruit again later in the fall.

PHOTO BY KEN MOORE

There are many descriptions of medicinal uses of horse nettles. The Cherokees, in particular, have an interesting heritage. Described remedies include stringing the roots around a baby's neck for teething, making a grease of fried berries to treat mange on dogs and crushing leaves in milk to kill flies. One of the most intriguing to me is the application of wilted leaves to relieve irritation from poison ivy. I haven't tried this yet, but certainly plan to do so.

So, take a closer look at those flowers and watch out for those spines!

live in concert WED, OCT 7 8pm

CAROLINA THEATRE 309 W. Morgan St. Durham

Reserved seating on sale 8/28 @ 11am $34/$29/$25 via the Carolina Theatre Box office 919.560.3030 or carolinatheatre.org

Eat good food. Take care of the earth. Keep it local.

WATER WATCH

PRECIPITATION THIS MONTH

CANE CREEK RESERVOIR: 1.63"

CUSTOMER WATER DEMAND

Past 7 days (average): 9.177 million gallons

Past 30 days (average): 8.934 million gallons

LAKE LEVELS

3' 5.25" below full

UNIVERSITY LAKE:

I' 5.25" inches below full

CANE CREEK RESERVOIR:

JONES FERRY PLANT: 2.91"

ESTIMATED SUPPLY

332 days worth (about 11 months),

based on average demand in the last 30 days, and assuming no further rainfall.

REMAINING:

At Weaver Street Market, these have never been half-hearted slogans – our core values have driven our decisions and practices since our co-op began in 1988.

Becoming an owner of Weaver Street Market is an investment that guarantees you a return — in good food, a healthier environment, and a vibrant local economy. Your one-time purchase of an ownership share in Weaver Street Market goes to support a business that cares about the community and strives to provide our owners and shoppers with the largest selection of locally-produced, organic and all-natural products in the area. PLUS, you also get the satisfaction that comes from knowing your purchases support local farms, small businesses, eco-friendly enterprises, a good place to work, and a great place to shop. Becoming an owner is easy and your benefits will start immediately! Your one-time purchase is fully refundable whenever you choose. Simply ask a cashier about becoming an owner.

three locations

open 7 days

mastercard visa discover

EL HILL: /illage t St., I, NC 27516 009 ys: m www.weaverstreetmarket.coop

FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY

New owners receive a coupon package valued at over $75

CARRBORO: 101 East Weaver St., Carrboro, NC 27510 919-929-0010 Open 7 Days: Mon-Fri: 7 am-9 pm Sat & Sun: 8 am-9 pm

