THE MADRAS MUSIC ACADEMY CONFERENCE 1963

The Author of Raganidhi demonstrating Karnatak and Hindustani Ragas

AUTHOR'S NOTE |

I feel flattered and am grateful fo connoisseurs of Music in India and abroad for their appreciation of Volume Two (D to J) of Raganidhi which was published last year by the Music Academy Madras. I am thankful to Journals and News papers which have reviewed the book and recommended it to their readers.

I feel happy that the Music Academy will be releasing Volume Three of the Raganidhi during February 1965. I hope it will have the same reception from lovers of Music as Volume I and volume II.

I realise the necessity of the early publication of Volume Four (O to Z) and the revised edition of Volume One (A to C). Myself and the Printers are making our best efforts to expedite their publication.

I am thankful to Dr. V. Raghavan, M.A. PhD., Honorary Secretary Music Academy, Madras for the special interest he has been taking in the publication of the Raganidhi

I am grateful to the Sangeet Natak Akadamy, New Delhi for having given a grant to the Music Academy Madras towards the cost of publishing this work.

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

Volume Two of the valuable thesaurus of Ragas of Hindustani and Karnatak music compiled by Sri. B. Subba Rao was published and released during the 37th Annual Conference of the Music Academy, Madras, in 1963. The plan of this work and the whole scheme relating to its publication have been explained in the Publisher's Note in that Volume.

Volume Three was ready for release during the 38th Conference in 1964 but as there was a proposal to hold under the joint auspices of the Music Academy, Madras and the Sangeet Natak Akademy, Delhi a Hindustani Karpatak Seminar sometime early in 1965, it was considered that it would be appropriate to release the Volume at that Seminar. As, unfortunately owing to unavoidable causes, that Seminar had to be postponed, the Music Academy has now arranged to publish Volume Three of the Raganidhi without any more delay.

This volume, which is somewhat larger than the previous, deals with the Ragas under the alphabets K-P. The method of exposition followed in the previous volume is adhered to in this volume also.

It is hoped that by the end of the year we will be able to issue the fourth volume also and take up the revised publication of the first volume.

Nomenclature of Svaras or Notes

In Bharatiya Sangeet excepting the two svaras Sa and Pa the other five svaras have broadly speaking, two variations each - the lower pitched and the higher pitched. In Hindustani the terms Komal and Tivra are used to indicate these. In Karnatak the terms Taggu and Hetchu are used to indicate these Flats and Sharps used in Westren Music for the same purpose. In Karnatak however these Taggu and Hetchu svaras have other names as well. There are therefore, twelve notes or svaras $(2 \times 5 + 2 = 12)$ in an octave. One thing to be remembered is that in Bharatiya Sangeet the Shadja Sa which is taken to be the Base Note or Adhara Sruti is not a note of constant pitch unlike the 'C' of European Music which is a pitch of a fixed number of vibrations per second. Generally it is 240 v.s. The pitch of Sa chosen varies within wide limits depending upon the voice or the chief instrument in a concert. Hence the remaining eleven notes of the octave vary in their vibrational values according to that of the Adhara Sruti (Shadja) as they are all relative and not fixed.

In Hindustani sangeet signs used, according to Bhatkhande's system whice is the one mostly in vogue, are a downward slant (-) to indicate the lower pitched (Komal, Taggu or Flat) notes of Ri, Ga, Dh and Ni. In the case of Ma however a vertical bar (-) is used to indicate the higher note (Tivra, Hetchu or Sharp). The downward slant or tail for Komal svaras is used below the svaras Ri, Ga, Dh and Ni as R \(\pi\) \(\frac{1}{2}\) \(\frac{1}{2}\). The vertical bar for Tivra or Prati Ma is used above the svara as \(\frac{1}{2}\). Sa and Pa have no signs. Hence the twelve notes in Hindustani are represented by:—

स रिरिग्गम मंप्य ध नि नि.

In Karnatak the signs given for these are:

In the above π_1 and $\hat{\pi}_1$ are not found but contrary to expectation π_3 and $\hat{\pi}_3$ are found. It happens to be like this. In íχ

Karnatak, \Re_2 (Tivra Ri- \Re) goes up to the pitch or position of π_2 (Komal Ga- π) and becomes Ri₃. Db₂ (Tivra Dh- \Re) goes up to Ni₂ (Komal Ni- \Re) and becomes Dh₃. Similarly Ga₂ (Komal Ga- π) comes down to pitch of Ri₁ (Tivra Ri- \Re) and becomes π_3 and Ni₂ (Komal Ni- \Re) comes down to the pitch of Dh₂ (Tivra Dh- \Re) and becomes \Re ₁.

In the above process twelve svaras of Hindustani become sixteen of Karnatak by each of the svaras Ri, Ga, Dh and Ni getting a third status although there is really no change in the pitches of the twelve svaras. These are explained in the accompanying charts.

To those who are acquainted only with Hindustani system the names and sthanas (positions) of the sixteen svaras of Karnatak is no doubt a little confusing. For instance to maintain the pitch at Tivra Ri (\Re) and utter it as Ga (Ga₁ or Suddha Ga) is a problem. The svara group $\Re \Re_1 \pi_1 \pi_2$ of South in which Suddha Ga occurs will only be rendered by the Hindustani musicians as $\Re \Re \Re \pi$. Similarly $\Re \Re_2 \pi_2$ π would be $\Re \pi \pi$ π .

The adjective Suddha stands for different things in the two systems. In Hindustani the Suddha svaras are those which are used in the Bilaval That. This corresponds to Melakarta Dheerasankarabharana of Karnatak. They are:

According to Karnatak, the notation for equivalent notes are:

The Suddha svaras of Karnatak are those which are found in its Melakarta Kanakangi. They are:

KATANAKUTUHALAM

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Katanakutuhalam, nor one which resembles this Karnatak raga.

Karnatak

Katanakutuhala is not an ancient raga. It was invented by Patnam Subrahmanya Iyer as an improvement over the raga Kutuhala which he had learnt from his guru. Katanakutuhala is only a century old raga. It is derived from the 29th Melakarta Dheerasankarabharana (ri, gu, ma, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Bilaval That. Its jati is Sampoorna—Sampoorna. Its aroha and avaroha are,

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. In aroha there is a vakra sanchara नि ग q and elongation of Dh in म घ s नि. These are beautiful features of this raga, and give it a Western tinge. On instruments like veena and violin this raga offers great possibilities to create special effects which are very pleasing.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

सरिमध5 निगपसं—संनिधपसगरिस.

There are not many popular compositions in Katanakutuhalam. The following kriti by the inventor of the raga has immortalised the raga and is a very popular one. It is a composition which is very well suited for orchestral presentation. The chittesvara in this kriti is very pleasing. It is said that the chittesvara was contributed by some other composer.

Raghuvamsa Sudhambudhi Chandra-Adi Tala-

Patnam Subrabmanya Iver.

There is a Karnatak raga called Kutuhala which is also a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Dheerasankarabharana. It resembles Katanakutuhala. Its aroha and avaroha are :-- स रिम नि ५ घ प नि सं—सं नि घ प म ग रिस.

(See Kutuhala.)

KAFI

Hindustani

Kafi is a very popular raga. It belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). Its jati is Sampoorna—Sampoorna. The aroha and avaroha are:--

सरिग - म - प - ध नि सं - सं नि ध - प - म ग - रि - सः

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh, and Komal Ni. Pakad or Gunjan Svara groups are:—स स ि हिन् मून्स प्राप्त कि हिन् मून्स कि हिन् मून्स प्राप्त कि हिन् कि हिन् कि हिन् कि हिन् कि हिन् मून्स कि हिन मून्स कि हिन्स कि हिन् मून्स कि हिन्स कि

Pure Kafi is rarely sung at present. What is catered as Kafi contains touches of Sindhura which resembles Kafi closely. Kafi is mostly chosen for rendering Thumries, Bbajans, Hori, Tappa, etc. There are also some Dhrupads in Kafi.

This raga is very pleasing. It is an evening and night raga, Popular compositions in Kafi are:

Aaj Khele Shyam Sanga Hori-Trital (Madhya)

-Shankarao Vyas.

Khelata Nandakumar-Deepchandi Tal.

Hindustani raga Sindhura resembles Kafi.

Sindhura—Ga and Ni are not used in aroha. Only Komal Ni is used, (See Sindhura).

Karnatak

There is a Karnatak raga called Hindustani Kapi which resembles the Hindustani raga Kafi in many details. It is a mixture of Hindustani ragas Kafi and Piloo.

KAFI JILHA

Hindustant

This raga is a pleasing mixture of the two ragas Kafi and Jilha. It is also called Jilha Kafi. Jilha Kafi belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). Svaras used in Jilha Kafi are Tivra Ri, both Komal and Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, both Komal and Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Chalan or trend of Kafi Jilha is as under:

स्त-बस्नासपध्-पम-म्-ग्रेसध्निन्-सः। पप-ग्म प-ग-म-रि-सःग्-रि-धधध-पधिन्-धप-गम-ग्रिस-धृनिं सः। परि-रिंऽ-रिंसं रिं-गंमं-रिंग्-सं रिंन्धप-मप-सं न्धिप-म प-संन्धिप-मपध-मप-ग्रि-सधृन्दि।

A composition in this raga is:

Jamuna ke Teer Kanhayya-Trital (Madhya)

—S. N. Ratanjankar.

Hindustani raga Gara resembles Kafi Jilha (See Gara).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Kafi Jilha. Raga Dhanakapi of South resembles Jilha Kafi or Kafi Jilha of North.

(See Dhanakapi).

KAFI KANADA

Hindustani

Kafi Kanada belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of Kafi Kanada are:

ज़िस-रिरिग्-मरि-नि्धप-मप-स-सं-नि्धप-नि्प-मप-गुम-रिस

Syaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Sa. This raga is sung during second prahara of night. In this raga angas of Kah and Kanada are:— Kah anga:— नि स - रि रि ग - नि घ प. Kanada anga— नि प - म प - ग म रि स. This is a very pleasing raga. Compositions in Kah Kanada are:

Balama Tore Chala Bala-Pk Tal (Vilambit)

-S. N. Ratanjankar.

Barakha Ritu—Tri Tal (Madhya)—Chidanand Nagarkar. Sukha kar Ayec—Teen Tal (Vilambit).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Kafi Kanada. A raga called Karnatak Kapi resembles the Hindustani raga Kafi Kanada in many sancharas. Aroha and avaroha of Karnatak Kapi are:

(See Karnatak Kapi.)

KAIKAVASHI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kaikavashi. This is an interesting raga, It is suited for being absorbed into Hindustani Sangeet. Aroha and avaroha of Kaikavashi according to Hindustani notation are:

There is a touch of Mia Malhar in aroha and of Madhuvanti in avaroha.

Karnatak

Kaikavashi is a janya of the 60th Melakarta Neetimati (ri, gi, mi, dhu, nu). It is a Sampoorna-Shadava raga. Dh is omitted in avaroha. Its aroha and avaroha are:

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Prati Ma, Shatsruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation aroha and avaroha are:

In the above Komal Ni (\overline{H}_0) represents Shatsruti Dh (\overline{H}_0), of South. Kaikavashi is not a popular raga. A composition in this raga is:

Vachama gochara me manasa (Telugu)---Adi Tala

—Tyagaraja.

KAISHIKA RANJINI

Hindustani

This is a rare raga. Kaishika Ranjini belongs to Karnatak Melakarta Kiravani. Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Pa is dropped completely. Aroha and avaroha of Kaishika Ranjini are:

स रिगमध निसं—सं निधम गुस

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. If Tivra Ri is added to the present day Chandrakauns in both aroha and avaroha the resulting raga will be Kalshika Ranjini. This raga is being popularised by Pandit Chidanand Nagarkar of Bombay. Compositions in this raga are:

Yeri Mayee Piya -- Ek Tal (Vilambit) - Chidanand

Nagarkar.

Barakata Ritu-Trital (Madhya)-Chidanand Nagarkar.

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Kaishika Ranjini. No Karnatak raga has the same aroha and avaroha svares of this Hindustani raga.

KALAGADA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kalagada. There is a raga called Kalingada which has no resemblance to Karnatak raga Kalagada. There is no Hindustani raga which resembles or is allied to Kalagada.

Karnatak

Kalagada is a janya of the 13th Melakarta Gayakapriya (ra, gu, ma, dha, na). Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ma is not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Kalagada are:

Syaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Suddha Ni. According to Hindustani notation aroha and avaroha are:

KALAVATÎ

स दिग प घु घ सं—संघ घ् प म ग दिस.

Tivra Dh (s) represents Suddha Ni (ति) of Karnatak. Kalagada is not a popular raga. The following compositions are available:

Samayamu Yemarake (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja, Parvati Ninnu (Telugu)—Roopaka Tala—Syama Sastry, KALAKANTI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kalakanti, nor one which resembles this Karnatak raga.

Karnatak

Kalakanti is a janya of the 13th Melakarta Gayakapriya (ra, gu, ma, dha, na). Its jati is Shadaya-Shadaya. Pa and Ma are omitted in aroha and avaroha respectively. Aroha and avaroha of Kalakanti are:

स रि, गु म, घा नि, सं—सं नि, घा प गु रि, स.

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Suddha Ni. According to Hindustani notation aroha and avaroha are:

स रि्गमध् ध सं— संघ घ् प स रि्स.

Tivra Dh (\mathfrak{A}) represents Suddha Ni (\mathfrak{A}_1) of Karnatak. Kalakanti is a rare raga. The following composition is available:

Shree Janaka Tanaye (Sanskrit)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja.

KALANIDHI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kalanidhi. Hindustani raga Kafi has some resemblance to Kalanidhi of South.

(See Kafi),

Karnatak

Kalanidhi is a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Kafi That, Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna with vakra sancharas in archa. Archa and avarcha of Kalanidhi are:

Karnatak

Kalavati is the old name for the 31st Melakarta Yagapriya. Karnatak raga Kalavati is a janya of the 16th Melakarta Chakravaka (ra, gu, ma, dhi, ni). Its jati is Audava-Shadava. Ga and Ni are omitted in aroha and in avaroha Ni is dropped, Aroha and avaroha of Kalavati are:

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh. There is Vakra Sanchara in ayaroha. Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, and Suddha Ma are the raga Chaya syaras. According to Hindustani notation, aroha and ayaroha are:

सर्मिप घसं—संधप म गस्र हिस.

Karnatak raga Kalavati is entirely different from the Hindustani Kalavati. It resembles Hindustani raga Hevitri which has got the following aroha and avaroha:

(See Hevitri)

Karnatak raga Kalavati is a pleasant one and deserves to be popularised. The following composition is available:

Ennanadu Chootumu-(Telugu)-Adi Tala-Tyagaraja.

Karnatak raga Malayamaruta which is a janya of the 16th Melakarta (Chakravaka) resembles to some extent Hindustani Kalayati. Aroha and ayaroha of Malayamaruta are:

If Ri is omitted completely in Malayamaruta the resulting raga will be like Hindustani Kalayati. (See Malayamaruta).

According to Dikshitar school Kalavati is a Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga, with vakra sanchara in archa and avaroha. It belongs to 31st Melakarta Yagapriya (ru, gu, ma, dha, na). Its archa and avaroha are:

स रि3 ग्रुम, प्रधा नि1 था प सं—सं नि1 धा प मा रि3 ग्रुम, रि3 स

According Hindustani notation they are:

सन्यसपध्यध्यसं—संधध्यसम्गमन्सः

A composition in this type of Kalavati is:
Kalavati Kamalasana Yuvati (Sanskrit)—Adi Tala
—Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

KALINGADA

Hindustani

Kalingada belongs to Bhairav That (Mayamalavagaula). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of Kalingada are:

Syaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh, and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan syara groups are:

Vadi is Dh and Samvadi is Ga. Regarding Vadi and Samvadi svaras of this raga, there is difference of opinion. Pa and Ma are suggested for Vadi. This raga is sung during the last prahara of night.

Kalingada resembles Bhairav very closely. But in Kalingada these is no andolan on Ri and Dh. Komal Ni is not even touched. (In Bhairav this is allowed although very sparingly). Beauty of this raga lies in svaras Ma, Pa and Dh. Rendering or Gati of Kalingada is in Madhya and Tara saptaks. Some think that Ma should be Vadi and prominently brought out as in the following sancharas:

Kalingada is considered to be Kshudra raga fit for light music like Dhoon, Thoomries etc. Compositions in Kalingada are:

Kouna Khele Tumase-Deopchandi Tal (Vilambit).

Gagariya Le Mai Kaise-Trital (Madhya).

Hindustani Bhairav resembles Kalingada very closely.

Bhairay—Ri is Vadi, There is andolan on Ri and Dh. Komal Ni is very sparingly used. Sanchara is in Madhya and Mandra saptaks. Gati is Gambhira. (See Bhairay)

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Kalingada. There are ragas called Kalthada, Kalakada and Kalagada all of which are janvas of the 13th Melakarta Gayakapriya. They have no resemblance to Hindustani Kalingada, Raga Mayamalayagaula which corresponds to Hindustani Bhairay has great resemblance to Hindustani Kalingada. Aroha and avaroha of Mayamalava gaula are:

स रिगम प घ नि सं-सं नि घप म ग रिस

(See Mayamalayagula)

Karnatak ragas Nadanamakriya and Paraju also possess some resemblance to Kalingada of Hindustani. (See Nadanamakriya and Paraju).

KALYAN or KALYANI

Hindustani

Raga Kalyan is also called Iman, Eman or Yaman, Kalyan or Yaman is a very pleasing raga. It belongs to Kalyan That (Mechakalyani). Its jati is sampoorna-Sampoorna, Aroha and avaroha of Kalvan are:

स रिग मं प घ नि सं—सं नि घ प मं ग रिस.

Svaras used are all Tivra syaras. Pakad or Diagnostic svara groups are:

Yeree Ali Piya Bina-Teen Tal (Madhya)

Bhaja Hari Nama Tu . Tri Tal (Vilambit)

Allied Hindustani ragas are Yaman Kalyan and Chandrakanth.

Yaman Kalyan-Komal Ma or Suddha Ma is used occasionally in particular way. (See Yaman Kalyan).

Chandrakanth-In aroha Ma is omitted. (See Chandrakanth).

Hindustani raga Kalyan or Yaman has great resemblance to Karnatak raga Kalyani.

Karnatak

Kalyani is a very popular raga. It has great resemblance to Kalyan or Yaman of Hindustani sangeet.

Kalyani called Mechakalyani for purposes of "Katapayadi Sankhya" calculations, is the 65th Melakarta (ri, gu, mi, dhi, nu). This corresponds to Kalyan That of Hindustani sangeet. Kalyani is the scale which is obtained by the Shadja-Panchama process of modal shift or Sruti Bheda. This is the Gandhara Moorchana of the ancient Shadja Grama and the first Prati Madhayama raga which came to the notice of man. It is one of the major ragas giving plenty of scope for alapana and elaboration.

Raga Kalyani is of Sampoorna-Sampoorna jati. Aroha and avaroha of Kalyani are:

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma. Chatusruti Dh. and Kakali Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avoroha are:

The above aroha and avaroha are identical with those of Hindustani raga Kalyan or Yaman.

There are a large number of compositions in raga Kalyani. A few of the well known ones are:

Nidhi chala Sukhama (Telugu)—Chapu Tala—Tyagaraja Nija Dasa Varada (Sanskrit)-Adi Tala-Patnam

Subrahmanya Iyer.

KALYANA VASANTHA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kalyana Vasantha.

KAMALARANJANI

Aroha of Hindustani raga Chandrakauns resembles that of Kalyana Vasantha of South. But the avarohas are entirely different. Avaroha in Kalyana Vasantha resembles that of Kiravani which is becoming popular in the North. Kalyana Vasantha may be considered to be a combination of Chandra kauns and Kiravani in aroha and avaroha respectively as under:

Karnatak

Kalyana Vasantha is derived from the 21st Melakarta Kiravani (ri, gi, ma, dhi, nu). Its jati is Audava—Sampoorna. In aroha Ri and Pa are not used. Aroha and avaroha of Kalyana vasantha are:

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh, and Kakali Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:

Sadharana Ga and Chatusruti Ri are the Raga Chaya svaras. Kalyana Vasantha is not a popular raga. The following compositions in this raga are available.

Nadalo Lundai (Telugu)—Rupaka Tala-Tyagaraja Shri Ranganatham (Sanskrit) —Jhampa Tala

-- Jayachamaraja Wadiyar

KAMALAMANOHARI

Hindustani

Kamalamanohari is an imported raga from the South. Prof. B. Umdekar of Gwaliar has tried to popularise this raga in the North. Kamalamanohari has been placed under Bhairav That. (Mayamalavagaula). Its jati is Audava-Shadava. Ri and Dh are omitted in aroha. In avaroha Ri is not used. Aroha and avaroha of Kamalamanohari are:

Svaras used are Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh, and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Anga svaras of this raga are, म प जिड़ी सं— सं नि भू प महम. Svaras Ga, Ma, and Dh are important. This is a morning raga. This raga is considered to be a mixture of Bihag and Bhairav ragas. A composition in this rare raga is:

Payala Baje Jhanana-Trital Madhya - B. Umdekar.

Karnatak

Kamalamanohari is derived from the 27th Melakarta Sarasangi, (ri, gu, ma, dha, nu). It is an Audava-Shadava raga. Varja svaras in aroha are Ri and Dh. In avaroha Ri is dropped. Aroha and avaroha of Kamalamanohari are:

Svaras used are Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avaroha are:

These resemble the aroha and avaroha of Kamalamanohari as sung in the North. Kamalamanohari is not a very commonly heard raga. The following composition is however well-known.

Kanchadlayathakshi Kamakshi (Sanskrit)—Adi Tala, Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

According to Dikshitar school, Kamalamanohari is called merely!Manohari and it is put under the 33rd. Melakarta Gangeyabhushini. As Ri is not used it makes no difference,

KAMALARANJANI

Hindustani

This is a rare raga. It belongs to Bilaval that (Dheeras-ankarabharana). Its jati is Audava-shadava. Ri and Ma are omitted in aroha, Ri is dropped in avaroha. Atoha and avaroha of Kamalaranjani are:

संग - प - ध Sति सं—सं नि ध $ - नि ध प - म ग - प म गSस Svaras used are Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh, and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are:

सुनाप-धानि्धप-मग-पभागऽस. Komal Ni is used as in Bilaval asu नि ध प. Sangati मुड्डल is a feature of this raga. Svara groups

प म - गडरस sound like Kamalamanohari. This raga sounds mostly like Bilaval. Absence of Ri in both aroha and avaroha however gives it a different svaroop. In this raga there are chayas of ragas Bihag and Bihagada. Commencement of Asthayee is with the svara groups ग म - ज़ि भ प - प म गडरस. Beginning sounds like Bihagada. Antara begins with ग प - नि भ नि - संदर्भ A composition in this raga is:

Javo Sakhi Javori-Tri Tal (Vilambit).

Hindustani ragas which are allied to Kamalaranjani are Bilaval, Bihag and Bihagada. In all these ragas Ri is used and hence they all differ from Kamalaranjani. (See Bilaval, Bihag, and Bihagada).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Kamalaranjani in Karnatak sangeet nor one which resembles this rare Hindustani raga.

KAMAVARDHINI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kamavardhini. Pooria Dhanashree which belongs to Poorvi That (Kamavardhini) has great resemblance to the Kamatak raga Kamavardhini. Pooria Dhanashree has the following aroha and avaroha.

Karnatak

Kamayardhini is Melakarta No 51 (ra, gu, mi, dha, nu) of Karnatak sangeet. This corresponds to Hindustani Poorvi That. Its old name is Kashiramakriya. This Sampoorna—Sampoorna raga has the following aroha and ayaroha:

स रि, गः म, प धा बि, सं—सं नि, धा प मः गः रि, सः

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:

स दिश में पश्र नि सं---सं नि भ्र मंग दिसः

Kamavardhini is a very popular raga. It used to be called Panthuvarali. Panthuvarali today stands for Shubhapanthuvarali which corresponds to Hindustani Todi That. Some persist in calling Kamavardhini as Pantuvarali. Kamavardhini is one of the major ragas of the South. There are numerous compositions in this raga. The following are very popular.

Appa Rama Bhakti Yento (Telugu) - Roopaka Tala

—Tyagaraja.

Sarasaksha Paripalaya (Sanskrit) - Adi Tala

-Swati Tirunal.

KAMBHOJI or KAMBODHI

Hindustani

This raga is also called Kambodhi. Raga Kambhoji is said to have been once popular in Hindustani sangeet. It is almost extinct today. Kambhoji belongs to Khamaj That (Hari Kambhoji). Jati of Kambhoji is Audava-Sampoorna. In aroha Ma and Ni are omitted. Aroha and avaroha of Kambhoji are:

Syaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Ni and Tivra Dh. Pakad or Gunjan syara groups are: न ए घ सं- नि भूप-(म) म रि स. Vadi is Ga. Samvadi is Dh. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. A composition in Kambodhi is:

Aye Bahar Nore - Trital (Madhya).

Karnatak

Kambhoji or Kambodhi is a very popular raga. It is one of the major ragas. Kambhoji is a janya of the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri. gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Khamaj That of Hindustani sangeet. It is a Shadava Sampoorna raga, Ni is omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Kambhoji are:

KANADA or KANARA

Hindustani

In Hindustani sangeet there are a number of ragas called Kanada-Durbari Kanada, Nayaki Kanada, Abhogi Kanada etc. Durbari Kanada is the best representative of Kanada features (See Durbari Kanada). Durbari Kanada resembles the Karnatak raga Kanada very closely. In Durbari Kanada, Komal Dh is used. In Karnatak raga Kanada Tiyra Dh is used. Karnatak raga Kanada with its Tiyra Dh resembles the Hindustani ragas Sahana-Kanada and Huseni Kanada. (See Sahana Kanada and Huseni Kanada).

Karnatak

In Karnatak sangeet there is only one raga called Kanada. There is a raga Kannada. This raga has nothing to do with raga Kanada. (See Kannada).

In Karnatak sangeet there are ragas to which the prefix "Kannada" is attached-Kannada Bangala, Kannada Gaula etc. But there are few ragas to which the prefix "Kanada" is attached.

Kanada is a very popular raga in the South. It is a janya of the 22nd. Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dha, ni) which corresponds to the Hindustani Kafi That. It is a Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga having vakra sancharas in both archa and avaroha. Archa and avaroha of Kanada are:

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. Dh is elongated in both aroha and avaroha. Ga is elongated only in avaroha. There is andolan on Ga in avaroha. According to Hindustani notation, aroha and avaroha of Kanada are:—

In the rendering of Kanada the sancharas do not strictly conform to the above mentioned aroha and avaroha. For instance, & fa q η ης is used in which svara Dh is omitted. Unlike Durbari Kanada of North, Tivra Dh is omitted. With Tivra Dh, Kanada of South resembles ragas, Sahana Kanada and Huseni Kanada of North (See Sahana Kanada and Huseni Kanada).

Popular Compositions in this raga are:—
Shree Narada (Sanskrit)—Roopaka Tala—Tyagaraja.
Mamava:Sada Janani (Sanskrit)—Roopaka Tala

According to Hindustani notation they are:-

A composition with this aroha and avaroha is; Renukadevi Samrakshitoham (Sanskrit)—Jhampa Tala— Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

It will be seen that the above aroha and avaroha are exactly like those of raga Malahari. (See Malahari).

KANNADA GAULA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kannada Gaula. This Karnatak raga is an interesting one and can be introduced into Hindustani sangeet under Kafi That. Aroha and ayaroha of Kannada Guala are:—

स दि गुस प निृसं— सं निृध प स गृस

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komai Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. In archa Dh, and in avarcha Ri are omitted.

Karnatak

Kannada Gaula is a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Kafi That of Hindustani sangeet. Its jati is Shadava—Shadava. In aroha Dh is not used and in avaroha Ri is omitted,

KANTAMANI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kantamani nor one which resembles this rate Karnatak raga.

Karnatak

Kantamani is Melakarta No. 16 of Karnatak Melakarta Scheme (ri, gu, mi, dha, na). Its old name is Kuntala. It is a Sampoorna—Sampoorna raga having the following aroha and avaroha:—

स रि, ग, म, प भ, नि, सं—सं नी, भ, प म, ग, रि, स

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Suddha Dh and Suddha Ni. According to Hindustani notation, archa and avarcha of Kantamani are:—

स रिशा संपध्यसं—संध ध्यमंगरिस

Kantamani is not a popular raga. The following composition in this raga is available:— Palintuvo (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja.

KAPI

Hindustani

There is a Hindustani raga called Kafi which resembles the Karnatak raga Kapi. (See Kafi).

Karnatak

There are two varieties of Kapi raga. The popular one is the Hindustani Kapi. The other one is the Karnataka Kapi. Both are derived from the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (Kafi That) and are discussed under Hindustani Kapi and Karnataka Kapi. (See Hindustani Kapi and Karnataka Kapi).

KAPINARAYANI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kapinarayani, nor one which resembles this Karnatak raga. Khammajee Bhatiyar of Hindustani sangeet has some resemblance to Kapinarayani. But in Khammajee Bhatiyar Ni is not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Khammajee Bhatiyar are ;—

स रिम ए ध सं---सं नि घ प म ग रि स

(See Khammajee Bhatiyar).

Karnatak

Kapinarayani is derived from the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Khamaj That of Hindustani. Kapi Narayani is a Shadava-Sampoorna raga. Ga is not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Kapi. narayani are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh, and Kaisiki Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स रिम पध निसं--सं निध पम ग रिस.

Suddha Ma and Kaisiki Ni are the raga chaya svaras of Kapinarayani. Following sancharas are specially employed in this raga:—

हेम रेम 5 - स 5श गरे - नि नि - सं नि नि व घड

The following composition in Kapinarayani is very popular:—

Sarasa Samadana Bheda Danda (Telugu)—Adi Tala —Tyagaraja.

KARNARANJINI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Karnaranjini. Hindustani raga Manohari having the following aroha and avaroha has some resemblance to the rare Karnatak raga Karnaranjini.

स रिग्मपध सं—संधप मग्रिसः

(See Manohari)

Karnetak

Karnaranjini is a janya of 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Kafi that. Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ni is omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Karnaranjini are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh, and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avaroha are: —

सुरिग्मगुप्ध सं~स निध्य मगुरिस

There is vakra sanchata in aroha. A composition in this rare raga is:-

Vanchadomuna (Telugu)—Trisra Jati Triputa Tala— Muthiah Bhagayatar.

KARNATAKA BYAG

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Karnataka Byag. Raga Bihag of Hindustani sangeet has no resemblance to the raga Karnataka Byag. Raga Khamaj of Hindustani sangeet has some resemblance to raga Karnataka Byag. (See Khamaj).

Karnatak

Karnataka Byag is derived from the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Khamaj That. Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna, with vakra sancharas in avaroha. Aroha & avaroha of Karnataka Byag are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are—स रि स सपञ्च नि सं— सं नि ्ध नि प ध म ग रिस.

This raga is not a popular one. One familiar composition in this raga is a kriti by Shri Tyagaraja commencing with the words "Neenendu Vedu Kundura". Even regarding this composition some consider it to be in the raga Harikambhoji. But certain sancharas in the rendering resemble those of the avaroba of Karnataka Byag as indicated above.

KARNATAKA DEVAGANDHARI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Karnataka Devagandhari which is different from the popular Karnataka raga Devagandhari.

One type of Raga Karnataka Devagandhari resembles the popular Hindustani raga Bhimpalas which has the following aroha and avaroha:—

स्रम्भ विसं-सं विध्यम ग्रिस

(See Bhimpalas)

Bhimpalas also resembles the present day Abheri of South which uses Chatusruti Dh (Tivra Dh).

Karnatak

Type I.

(Kharaharapriya janya)

This type of raga Karnataka Devagandhari (not Devagandhari) has come to light since very recently. This raga has the same aroha and avaroha as the present day Abheri which uses Chatusruti Dh and hence resembles the Hindustani raga Bhimpalas. Had the existence of the raga Karnataka Devanga dhari been known to our musicians some forty years ago perhaps Abheri raga would not have undergone the change it did. It would have continued to make use of only Suddha Dh.

Although in Abheri Chatusrati Dh is now mostly used a touch of Suddha Dh is still lurking in certain sancharas in the Kriti "Nagumomu" of Shri Tyagaraja. By emphasising the use of Suddha Dh atleast in certain sancharas like q z q n n z it will be possible to give the new Abheri a different svaroop from raga Karnataka Devagandhari which does not make use of Suddha Dh.

Aroha and avaroha of Karnatak Devagandhari, which is an Audava—Sampoorna raga, are:—

Syaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are :-

A composition in raga Karnatak Devagandhari which is becoming popular is:—

Panchashat Pitha Rupini (Sanskrit)—Adi Tala— Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

> Type II (Kiravani janya)

Its aroha ahd avaroha are ;-

्तिस ग्मप— ६५ पम ग्रिस नि

It is a Nishadantya raga and is not popular.

KARNATAKA KAPI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Karnataka Kapi. There is a raga Kafi which resembles Karnatak raga Karaharapriya from which raga Karnataka Kapi is derived. (See Kafi),

Karnatak

Karnataka Kapi is defferent from the Kapi which is in currency at present under the name Hindustani Kapi. Unlike Hindustani Kapi, Karnatak Kapi is not a bhashanga raga. Svaras used are only those which are found in the Melakarta to which it belongs. Karnataka Kapi is a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Karaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Kafi That. It is a Sampoorna raga with vakra sanchara in avaroha.

Aroha and ayaroha of raga Karnataka Kapi are :--

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. Ga is elongated in aroha. In this raga admixture of Hindustani raga Piloo is not found. Although many compositions were originally meant to be sung in the Kapi of South, at present sancharas of Hindustani Kapi are introduced. A composition which is sung in the pure Karnataka Kapi style is:—

Kousumbha Vasanopetbe (Sanskrit)—Mishra Chapu Tala— Muthiah Bhagavatar.

KARPURABHARANI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Karpurabharani. Although Ni is not used there is a flavour of Hindustani raga Madhuvanti in this rare Karnatak raga. (See Madhuvanti).

Karnatak

Karpurabharani is a new raga which has been invented by Shri P. K. Rajagopala Iyer.

It is a janya of the 59th Melakarta Dharmavati (ri, gi, mi, dhi, nu). Its jati is Shadava – Shadava, Ni is omitted in both aroha and avaroha. There are vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. Its aroha and avaroha are:

स रि. ग, प म, प घ, सं—सं घ, प म, प ग, रि. स

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Prati Ma-Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani nota tion they are ;—

क्ष विजय संघ ध सं—संघ पर्स प गृ दिस

Beauty of this raga lies in the vakra sancharas म् ए संप and प मं प ग्रि

The following composition in this raga is in praise of Saint Tyagaraja.

Tyagarajam Bhajare Chitta-Adi Tala-P. K. Rajagopala Iyer.

Dharmavati, parent raga of Karpurabharani, is aliied to it. Dharmavati—Ni is used. There are no vakra sancharas. (See Dharmavati).

KASHTRAMAKRIYA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kashiramakriya, Poorvi That corresponds to this Karnatak Melakarta which at present is called Kamavardhini. (See Poovi).

Hindustani raga which has some resemblance to the janya raga Kashiramakriya is Pooria Dhanashree. (See Pooria Dhanashree).

Karnatak

Kashiramakriya is the old name for the 51st Melakarta raga called at present Kamavardhini (ra, gu, mi, dha, nu). Kashiramakriya is a janya raga from the 51st Melakarta, Kamavardhini. Jati of Kashiramakriya is Sampoorna—Sampoorna, with yakra sanchara in aroha. Its aroha and avaroha are:—

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स ग रिग संप घृति सं— सं नि घ्य मंग रि्स.

A composition in this raga is :—
Shri Sundararajam (Sanskrit)—Adi Tala—Muttuswamy
Dikshitar.

KATHI MAND

Hindustani

Kathi Mand is the name given to the raga in which a kind of folk song is sung during marriages in Rajasthan. There is a ceremony in which people sing this song and dance round a pole (Kathi) which is pitched in the ground.

KEDARA

Svaras of Kathi Mand are almost like that of Mand. But it has got a peculiar flavour of its own.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Kathi Mand in Karnatak sangeet. Raga Mand which has established itself in the South resembles Kathi Mand of Rajasthan.

KEDARA

Hindustani

Kedar or Kedara is a very popular raga. It is also an old raga. Kedar belongs to Kalyan That (Mechakalyani). Its jati is Audava.—Shadava or Sampoorna. Ri and Ga are omitted in aroha. In avaroha Ga is either omitted or taken in a vakra sanchara. Aroha and avaroha of Kedara are:—

स स ८ - स प - ध प - नि ध - सं— सं - नि ध - प - मं प - ध प - म -

गम हिस and when Komal Ni is used सं- निध-प-मंपध नि धप-म-गम दिस.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:—

स-स5-सप-धप-संपधप-स5-पम 5 - हिस. Although both Madhyamas are used the jeeva svara is Suddha Ma. This svara is kept isolated and clongated.

Komal Ni is sparingly used in a special sanchara मंप्रतिष्प. It is possible to sing raga Kedara omitting Komal Ni altogether. Occassionaly it is used as सं निष्प तिष्प. Vadi is Suddha Ma. Samvadi is Sa. Sangati सम्प्र is very pleasing. Ga, although used in avaroha, is weak (durbal). It is often not used in many sancharas. Sometimes both the Madhyamas are used side by side as. प्रपास प्रमुद्ध प्रसूप माउ. This is a night raga. Popular compositions in raga Kedara are:—

Bana Thana Ka—Ek Tal (Vilambit). Kanganawa Mora—Trital (Drut). Hindustani ragas Chandani Kedar, Suddha Kedar, Maluha Kedar, Jaidhar Kedar and Bhavani Kedar, contain the Kedar anga in them. Chandani Kedar resembles raga Kedara very closely.

Chandani Kedar—Ga is used prominently. Svara groups ज़ि भू मृं पृ स and पृ मं भू π ς are characteristic. (See Chandani Kedar.)

Karnetak

Kedara of Karnatak sangeet is a popular raga. But Kedara of South has no resemblance to the Kedara of North.

Kedara of South is a janya of the 29th Melakarta, Dheera-sankarabharana (ri, gu, ma, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Bilaval That. Its jati is Audava—Shadava or Audava—Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of Kedara types are:—

Type: -Audava-Shadava.

स मा गु मा प निः सं--सं निः प मा गु रिः स

In aroha Ri and Dh are not used. In avaroha Dh is omitted.

Type:—Audava—Sampoorna.

स \mathbf{H}_1 \mathbf{H}_2 \mathbf{H}_1 प \mathbf{H}_3 सं \mathbf{H}_4 \mathbf{H}_4 \mathbf{H}_3 \mathbf{H}_4 $\mathbf{$

Svaras used are Chatustuti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatustuti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation aroha and avaroha are:—

Audava-Shadava type :--

समागपनिसं~संनिपमगरिसः

Audava-Sampoorna type :---

स स स स प हि सं -- सं दि प स य म घ स ग रि स-

The Audava-Shadava type has some resemblance to raga Tilang of Hindustani sangeet. The Audava-Shadava type is more popular than the Audava-Sampoorna type.

Following sancharas are characteristic of raga Kedara. समगम-पसंनिपम - गंदिंसं निपमगम - गमपसंनिपम - गरि सन्दि- नि-सगस SS etc. Popular compositions in Kedara are :--Rama Nee Pai Tanaku (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja.
Bhajana Seyave Oh Manasa (Telugu)—Roopaka Tala —Anayya.

Karnatak raga Neelambari has some resemblance to Kedara.

Neclambari—Ma is elongated and has andolan. Kaisiki Ni is used occassionally. (See Neclambari).

Hindustani raga Nat Bibag of Shadava - Shadava jati has some resemblance to Karnatak raga Kedara. Aroha and ayaroha of Shadava - Shadava type Nata Bibag are as under:—

स्र स - रि - रि - रा भ - प - सं - नि सं--- रिं - सं नि घ प - सं-सं-पम - म रा - रि - स, (See Nata Bihag).

KEDAR BAHAR

Hindustani

Kedar Bahar is a "samyukta" raga formed by combining the two popular ragas Kedar and Bahar. Jati of Kedar Bahar is Audava - Sampoorna. Dh and Ni are not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Kedar Bahar are:—

स-रिख-म-मप-(प)-ग्म-प-सं—िर्हिलं-निधपम-पमग्-भ-ग्मप-ग्म-रिस-रि-स-

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Komal Ni is used sparingly in the sancharas नि सम न नि (नि) प नि पम. Tivra Ni is sometimes touched in the svara groups नि सं हिं ग्रंपं मं. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are, म प ग्राम दि सि स नि सम प म प म ग्राम प ग्राम प स्पान सि स. Vadi is Ma. Samvadi is Sa. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night.

As Kedara and Bahar are both night ragas their combination in Kedar Bahar is beautiful. It is a night raga. Being a new raga it has not become popular yet. A composition in Kedar Bahar is, Madhumat Ayee Hara Harshayee—Trital—(Madhya)— S. N. Ratanjankar.

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Kedar Bahar, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

KEDARAGAULA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kedaragaula. Hindustani raga Des or Desh has great resemblance to this Karnatak raga. Des has the following aroha and avaroha.

स रिसप निसंा सिमाप निषा पनिसं—संनिधप-मग रिगसः (See Desh).

It is possible to combine the Hindustani ragas Kedar and Goudsarang and create a raga Kedaragauda for Hindustani sangeet. Aroha and avaroha of this new raga Kedaragauda of Hindustani sangeet will be स-मऽ-गर्भ-मग-प-निधसं—संनिधप-मंपधप-मऽ-ग रि-मग-प-रिस

This Kedaragauda will have no resemblance to the Kedaragaula of South. This new raga will be an interesting one.

Karnatak

Kedaragaula is a very popular raga. It is a janya of the 28th Melakarta, Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Khamaj That. Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ga and Dh are not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Kedaragaula are:

स रि. म. प तिः सं— से निः धः प मा गः रिः सः

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. Aroha and avaroha according to Hindustani notation are:

स रिरुप निसं--सं वि्ध प स ग रिस.

Kedaragaula of South resembles Hindustani raga Des or Desh. Tivra Ni is not used in Kedaragaula. (See Des or Desh).

Kedaragaula has veera rasa. Popular compositions in Kedaragaula are:

KHAMAJ

Tulasi Bilwa (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja, Ncelakantham Bhaje (Sanskrit)—Rupaka Tala— Muttuswamy Dikshitar,

Saraguna Palimpa (Telugu)-Adi Tala

-R. Sreenivasa Iyengar.

KEDARA NATA

Hindustani

Kedar Nata belongs to Bilaval That (Dheerasankara-bharana). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and ayaroha of this rare raga are:—

ति स रिगम पथ नि सं – सं नि घप - ध नि प - म ग रिसः

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivara Ni. Pakad or "raga chaya" svara groups are:—

स-रिस-स-सप-धप-स-सम-पसं निधप-धनिप.

Ni is weak or "durbal" in aroha. In this raga syara groups of Nata are:--- रिगमप-सरिस-सग्ना-भवम-गम.

Chalan of Kedara Nata is as under :-

सन्दिसं-म-सप-भाष-मःगस-स-प-संविधाप-धान्य-धारम-सदिगमप-सहिसः

Vadi is Ma. Samvadi is Sa. Svara group सं । ध नि ए sounds like Ananda Bhairav. Therefore से नि ध ए । ध नि ए should be used. Kedara Nata is not a popular raga. Compositions in this raga are:

Jaya Jagat Uddharana-Trital (Madhya)

-S. N. Ratanjankar,

Dai Marore Deetha-Trital (Madhya),

Karnatak

There is a Karnatak raga called Kedara Nata. It is a janya of the 27th Melakarta, Sarasangi (ri, gu. ma, dha, nu). Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Dh is omitted in this raga. Aroha and avaroha of Kedara Nata are:—

स रि॰ गः मा प नि॰ प सं --सं निः प मा गः रि॰ सः

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma and Kedara Nata is not a popular raga. Kedara Nata and Kedara of South resemble each other. In Kedara Ri is not used in aroha (See Kedara).

KESARI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kesari, nor one which resembles this rare Karnatak raga.

Karnatak

Kesari is not a popular raga. It is a janya of the 25th Melakarta Mararanjani (ri, gu, ma, dha, na). Jati of Kesari is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ni is omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are:

स रि॰ गा मा प धा प घा सं—सं घा नि। धा प मा गा रि॰ स

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Suddha Ni. Aroha and avaroha of Kesari according to Hindustani notation are:—

स्र रितमपमध्यध्सं--संघ्षध्यमगरिस.

Tivra Dh stands for Suddha Ni of Karnatak sangeet. There are vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. The following composition in this raga is available:—

Nannu Kannatalli (Telugu) - Adi Tala - Tyagaraja.

KHAMAJ

Hindustani

Khamaj is a very popular raga. It belongs to Khamaj That (Harikambhoji). Khamaj is a Shadava-Sampoerna raga. Ri is omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Khamaj are:—

स्राम-प्रधृतिसं--सं-चि्धप-मगरिसः

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Tivra Ni is also used in aroha as सं नि सं - दि घ नि सं. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are: दि घ-म प - घड-म ग. 40

Vadi is Ga. Samvadi is Ni. Sangati भ ता is frequently used. Although Ri is a varja svara in aroha some think that it is only durbal or weak. Hence in rapid tanas use of Ri is overlooked or excused. Pa is sometimes hidden in avaroha as seen in the following sancharas which are pleasing even without Pa being used— स नि भ न म न म नि च नि न म प घ द म न. Ni is sometimes dropped in aroha as in म म प नि भ न Although Komal Ni is the svara which is used, Tivra Ni is introduced in aroha as in स नि से नि म नि से जिल्हा While singing Khamaj, sancharas should not be made in great detail in Mandra saptak. It will then sound like Jinjoti. Beauty of this raga lies in the svaras $\pi - \pi - \eta$ and π . Tanas end on these svaras.

This raga has Sringara rasa. Hence it is specially used for singing Thoomries, Tappas, Horis etc. There are a few Dhrupads in Khamaj. Khyals are not generally sung in Khamaj. This raga is mixed with many other ragas when Thoomries are sung. Khamaj is sung during the second prahara of night. Popular compositions in Khamaj are:

Sakhi Sayaro Giridhara—Trital (Madhya)—S.N. Ratanjankar, Na Manungi Na Manungi—Trital (Madhya).

Karnatak

Raga Khamaj is also called Khamas or Khamach in the South. It is a very popular raga. Khamas resembles the Hindustani raga Khamaj very closely. Khamas is a janya of the 28th Melakarta, Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Khamaj That of Hindustani sangeet. Jati of Khamach is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ri is not used in archa, Archa and avarcha of Khamas are?

. स. म., गु. म., प ध्रु नि. क्षे — से नि. ध्रु ए म. गु. हि. स.

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. There is a vakra sanchara in aroha. Aroha and avaroha according to Hindustani notation are:

स्रम गमप धनि सं—सं नि घप भग दिस.

In aroha sometimes Kakali Ni (Tivra Ni) is used as in प्रधानि सं नि ध

Khamas has Sringara rasa. It is specially suited for singing Javalis. The following compositions are very popular. Seetapathe Namanasu (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja. Brochevarevarura (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Mysore Vasudevachar.

According to Dikshitar school Khamach is a Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga with no vakra sancharas. A composition in this type is:

Enta Ninne Delupudura (Telugu)—Trisra Eka Tala— Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

KHAMBAVATI

Hindustani

Khambavati belongs to Khamaj That (Harikambhoji). Its jani is Audava Shadava. Ga and Ni are omitted in aroha. Ri is dropped in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Khambavati are:—

स-रिम-पध-पधसं--संनिधप-धम-गमऽस.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:—

निधग-धम-गमंडस. Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Pa. Sangatis

ध म and स स are very beautiful in this raga. Khambavati should be sung slowly to bring out the full bhava of the raga.

Svara group $\eta + \xi \eta$ with "meend" is the soul of this raga and gives it its individuality. Sometimes Tivra Ni is used in aroha as in म प नि नि सं—सं हिं ने सं. There are chayas of Mand and Sindhura in this raga. Sindhura chaya is found in the swara groups प ध सं—नि नि घ सं.

Khambavati is sung during the second prahara of night. Compositions in Khambavati are—

Laja Sharama Toku Nahin Ave—Trital (Madhya) —
S. N. Ratanjankar.
Piva Bina Naina Neend Na Ave—Trital (Madhya).

One author mentions a kind of Khambavati having the following aroha and avaroha.

स य - स ध - तिृ सं—सं - तिृ - ध श - ग म 5 स-

This resembles raga Durga of Khamaj That (Madhuradhvani) with the Khambavati ending THSH attached to it.

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Khambavati. Karnatak raga Balahamsa has some resemblance to Khambavati of Hindustani.

Balahamsa is derived from the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (Khamaj That). Aroha and avaroha of Balahamsa are:—

स रिमप ध सं—सं नि घप म रि- भग स.

In Khambavati avaroha ends with न म इस. In Karnatak Balahamsa it ends with म न स. (See Balahamsa)

Sadharana Ga, and Kaisiki Ni, are jeeva svaras of Khara-harapriya. Popular compositions in this raga are: -

Chakkani Raja Marga (Telugu) - Adi Tala - Tyagaraja. Pakkala Nila Badi (Telugu) - Chapu Tala - Tyagaraja.

KHAT OR SHAT

Hindustani

This is not a popular raga. There is diversity of opinion regarding this raga. It is considered to be a mixture of six ragas and hence called "Shat". Word 'Shat' has become changed to "Khat". Even regarding the six ragas which go to form "Shat" or "Khat" there is difference of opinion. Some think that the six ragas are Suha, Kanada, Sarang, Desi, Gandhari and Sugharayee. Others think that the six ragas are Ramakali, Asavari, Todi, Gujari, Varati and Gandhari.

On account of the mixture of several ragas, a number of types of Khat are mentioned. In the type of Khat that is occasionally heard, angas of Bhairavi and Asavari are present. Jati of this type is Shadava—Sampoorna. Ri is omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha are:

स-ग्मप-ध्ध्प-ध्ध्-संन्त्सं—न्द्रि-ध्ध्-न्ध्य-मप-ग्मप-रिस.

In all types of Khat, Ma is Komal. Other svaras vary from type to type of Khat. The following compositions are heard in raga Khat:—

Ye Ri Aj Sakhi Bana te Bane – Trital (Madhya). Shri Rama Jaya Rama – (Marathi) – Jhaptal (Madhya).

स नि - स ग् - स प - ध्य - नि ध्य - ध्नि सं—गं - र्रिं रें - सं सं -ध्य - मं मं - ध्रमं - गृहिस.

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Komal Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. Ni is weak (durbal) even in aroha. Suddha Ma is used in aroha and Prati Ma in avaroha.

TYPE II

In this type only Suddha Ma is used. Ri, Ga, Dh and Ni are all Komal. Aroha and avaroha of this type of Khat Todi are:

स - रि् ग् - म प - घू - नि् सं—सं - नि् घू प - म प - ग् - र् सः Strictly speaking this type should be placed under Bhairavi That.

While singing this type svaras f(n) should be sung as in Todi to produce the Todi effect. Aroha has Bilaskhani chaya. Vakra sanchara in ayaroha gives Komal Asavari effect. A composition in raga Khat Todi is:

Dhet Te Dhe Te Le (Tarana) - Ektal (Vilambit).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Khat Todi. In type II of the Hindustani raga Khat Todi, there is a touch of Karnatak raga Todi in aroha and of Dhanyasi in avaroha. This combination is interesting. (See Todi and Dhanyasi).

KOMAL ASAVARI

Hindustani

Komal Asavari belongs to Asavari That (Natabhairavi). Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ga and Ni are not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Komal Asavari are.

Syaras used are Komal Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Komal Ni. As all syaras are Komal this raga should be put under Bhairavi That (Hanumatodi). But use of Komał Ri is a recent innovation with the object of giving Asavari an independent svaroop as, with Tivra Ri, it was difficult to distinguish between Asavari and Jeevanpuri. Even with Komal Ri the Asavari anga is kept prominent. Hence this raga is put under Asavari That.

Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are, िस्म - पिस्पान प्रमाप स्ट - द्विस. Vadi is Dh and Samvadi Ga. Sangatis प्रमाय स्म् are employed frequently. Komal Asavari is a morning raga. Compositions in this raga are:

> Kagawa Bol-Jhumra Tal (Vilambit). Badhaiyya Lavo—Teen Tal—(Drut).

Hindustani ragas Jogia and Gandhari Todi resemble Komal Asavari.

Jogia—Ga is either totally left out or even when used in aroha Tivra Ga is used. Svara group & # ft is used. (See Jogia).

Gandhari Todi--Ni (Komai) is used in archa. No yakra sanchara in ayarcha. (See Gandhari Todi).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Komal Asavari. Karnatak raga Asaveri (भाराविश) derived from 8th Melakarta Hanumatodi (Bhairavi That) resembles the Hindustani raga Komal Asavari. Aroha and avaroha of Karnatak raga Asaveri (आयाविश) are, स दिमप ध् सं— सं निसं-प ध्मप-दिग्८ ऽ दिस.

(See Asaveri).

KOMAL BAGESHREE

Hindustani

Peculiarity in this type of raga Bageshree is that both Komal and Tivra Ri and only Komal Dh are used. Komal Ri is used in avaroha as # 17 ft # occasionally. Aroha and avaroha of this raga ato:—

स ग्-म घ् सं- नि सं - हिं सं - नि सं नि - प म ग् म - ग् रि स - ग् रि स - श्रिक - Syaras used are both Komal and Tivra Ri. Komal Ga.

Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Komal Ni. Sangati भू म is frequently used. This prevents the chaya of Bhairavi creeping in. Svara groups निष्य - सभ्य स्व are alo used. There is a chaya of Kousi Kanada in avaroha. The following compositions are available in this raga:—

Aye Alasta Bhaye—Choutal. Kaise Tum Ho Moorakha~Dhamar.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Komal Bageshree in Karnatak sangeet nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

KOMAL BHAIRAV

Hindustani

This is a rare raga. It belongs to Bhairav That (Maya-malavagaula). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha are:—

Svaras are Komal Ri, Atikomal Ga (m) having the vibration value 284-4/9, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh, and Tivra Ni. This is a morning raga. A composition in this raga is, Kalab Kaise Ke Pare-Choutal.

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Komal Bhairay. Raga Ganamoorthi which is the 3rd Karnatak Melakarta (ra, ga, ma, dha, nu) resembles Hindustani raga Komal Bhairay.

Atikomal Ga (η) used in Komal Bhairav corresponds to the svara Ga which is produced by Veena players of South India while playing Karnatak raga Todi, by pulling the wire from fret No 1 of Veena (Suddha Ri). This Ga is slightly lower than Komal Ga of North and Sadharana Ga of South.

KOMAL DESI

Hindustani

Komal Desi belongs to Asavari That (Natabhairavi). Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. In aroha Ga is omitted. Aroha and avaroba of Komal Desi are :--

KOMAL RAMKALI

Svaras used are both Komal and Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Komal Ni. Tivra Ri is used in aroha and Komal Ri is used in avaroha.

In Hindstani sangeet there are some examples like Komal Desi in which instead of the important svara its vikriti is used. giving rise to a new raga. Such examples are Komal Asavari, Komal Bageshree, Komal Bahar, Komal Basant etc.

Komal Desi is sung like raga Desi or Deshi. In avaroha Komal Ri is used as is done in Komal Asavari. A composition in raga Komal Desi is:

Gokula Dhooma Machayi-Dhamar (Vilambit),

Karnatak

पप घ्ष- ग्- मप - नि्- नि्सं- ग्रिंसं- प नि्सं- प पश्य-ग्- मप - नि्निसं- ग्रें संं- प नि्सं- प घ्मप - ग्रस्स !

Komal Dhanashree represents Dhanashree of Kafi That (Kharaharapriya) in which Tivra svaras have been replaced by Komal svaras. (See Dhanashree),

Komal Dhanashree is not popular. Interest regarding this raga lies in that the Karnatak raga Dhanyasi or Dhanashree resembles it very closely. (See Dhanyasi or Dhanashree).

Hindustani raga Takka resembles Komal Dhanshree.

Takka — Ma is not used at all in avaroha. In Koma₁ Dhanashree in avaroha Ma is used in a vakra fashion. (See Takka).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Komal Dhanashree. Raga Dhanasari or Dhanyasi which is a janya of 8th Melakarta Hanumatodi (Bhairavi That) resembles Hindustani ragas Komal Dhanashree and Takka very closely. Aroha and avaroha of Dhanyasi of South are as under.

स ग्म प नि्सं --- सं निृध्य स गृद्धि ^{OT} स प ग् ऽ द्सि. (See Dhanyasi or Dhanasari).

KOMAL RAMKALI

Hindustani

Komal Ramkali is Ramkali in which Komal Ga and Komal Ni are used occasionally. If Komal Ga is used very often then it will sound like a kind of Todi. A new kind of Todi called Ram Todi can be created. In Komal Ramkali use of Komal Ga and Komal Ni should be noted carefully. When Komal Ni is used Pa which preceeds Ga is given a grace note or "Kan" of Prati Ma as ης η. Chalan of Komal Ramkali is as under :—

पप द्सि - द्शि ऽस - ध् ऽध् -प - ध् न्ध् प-ग स - ध्ध्-पप -ध् से - संपग ऽप - द्द्सि.

KOUSHI BHAIRAV

Hindustanl

This is a rare raga and a raga which is difficult to render. This raga is a mixture of the two ragas Kousi and Bhairav. Jati of Koushi Bhairav is Shadava-Sampoorna. In aroha Ri is not used. Aroha and avaroha are:

नि नि

सम-गमपम-म घ् घ्-निसं—-रिंन्धिपम-^गम-गम प-रिस-रिघृत्सिस-

Svaras used are both Komal and Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, both Komal and Tivra Dh, and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa.

Koushi or Bageshree anga is seen in uttaranga. Bhairav anga is seen in poorvanga in avaroha. Svara group स् कि स स бŁ

sounds like Bageshree. But Dh is Komal and not Tivra as in Bageshree.

This is a morning raga. It is rarely heard. The following composition in this raga is available:—

Hariki Gati Natu-Trital (Madhya).

Karnatak

KOUSHI KANADA or KOUSHIK KANADA

(ASAVARI THAT)

Hindustani

Koushi Kanada or Keushik Kanada is different from two ragas called Koushi and Kousi Kanada. Koushi Kanada or Koushik Kanada is of two types, belonging to Asavari and Kafi Thats respectively.

Koushi Kanada belonging to Asavari That is a Shadava-Sampoorna raga. In archa Ri is not used. Archa and avarcha of this raga are:—

न् सु-स S - स ग्-प ग् S—स न् ्ष्- नि्सं— संग्रेंसं- न् ्ष् स-प ग-स ग रिस∙

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Komal Ni. Vadi is Ma. Samvadi is Ga. This raga is sung in the night. This type of Koushi Kanada is a mixture of Bageshree, Bhimpalas, and Malkosh. Angas of these ragas are found as under:—

Bageshree— निर्दस - स द- Bhimpalas— प ग्द - म ग्रिस. Malkosh—स भ निसं - निभ्म.

It should be remembered that in this type of Koushi Kanada Db is Komal. In poorvanga mixture of Bageshree and Bhimpalas is found. In uttaranga mixture of Malkosh and Bageshree is found. This is a very pleasing raga. Compositions in Koushi Kanada (Asavari That) are:—

Kirpa Kare Jogi Da - Ektal (Vilambit). Rajanke Siratha—Tilvada (Vilambit).

KSHANIKA

63

Hindustani raga Pancham Malkosh resembles Koushi Kanada of Asayari That.

Pancham Malkosh:—Ri is not used. Pa is used in avarcha only. (See Pancham Malkosh).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Koushi Kanada, Karnatak ragas Kanaka Vasantha, Hindola Vasantha and Saramati resemble Koushi Kanada of Asavari. That with certain differences. All the three ragas are derived from 20th Melakarta Natabhairavi (Asavari That).

Kanaka Vasantha-Its aroba and avaroba are :-

(See Kanaka Vasantha),

Hindola Vasantha —Ri is not used in either aroha or avaroha. Its aroha and avaroha are:

(See Hindola Vasantha)

Saramati – Ri is used in aroha but not in avaroha. Pa is used in only aroha. Aroha and avaroha are:

(See Saramati).

KOUSHI KANADA

(KAFI THAT)

Hindustani

Koushi Kanada belonging to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya) is more popular than the one which belongs to Asavari That (Natabhairavi). This type is a mixture of Bageshree and Kanada ragas. Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ri is durbal or weak in aroha. Aroha and avaroha are:—

There are vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. Svaras used are Tiyra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Use of Tivra Dh only in this raga should be remembered.

Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. The following svara groups are characteristic of Koushi Kanda of Kafi That.

न्पि-सपन्-सपग्म-एस्-स-स्स-सध-न्ध-सप-ग्सध-न्ध-प-सप-ग्रस-स्स-

This raga is sung between 9 p.m. and midnight. A composition in Koushi Kanada of Kafi That is:--

Udho Tum Jay-Teen Tai (Drut.).

Hindustani ragas Shahana Kanada, Huseni Kanada and Kafi Kanada, resemble Koushi Kanada of Kafi That.

Shahana Kanada—Aroha ends with न्प-वसपर्स (See Shahana Kanada).

Kafi Kanada—Aroha ends with न् घप - मण सं (See Kafi Kanada).

Huseni Kanada – Ni is not used in aroha, (See Huseni Kanada).

Karnatak

Karnatak raga Kanada which is a janya of 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (Kafi That) resembles Koushi Kanada of Kafi That. Karnatak raga Kanada bas the following aroha and avaroha.

स रिग्म प ध ऽ निृसं—सं निृपम - प घ निृध पम ग्ऽऽ - म रिस. (See Kanada).

KSHANIKA

Hindustani

This is a new raga which can be put under Bhairav That. Its jati is Audava-Audava. Ga and Pa are not used in this raga. Aroha and avaroha of Kshanika are:

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. In this raga chayas of ragas Jogia and Gunakree are found. There are vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. These give a special beauty to this raga. A composition in Kshanika is:—

Shivani Dayani Bhavani-Ektai (Vilambit)-

Balaram Roy.

Hindustani ragas Jogia and Gunakree resemble raga Kshanika.

Jogia— Pa is used. Ga is also used by certain musicians. Sometimes Komal Ni is used (See Jogia).

Gunakree-Ga and Ni are not used. (See Gunakree).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Kshanika. Ragas Malahari, Padi and Saveri are allied to Kshanika.

Malahari —Pa is used in both archa and avarcha. Ni is not used in either archa or avarcha. Ga is used in archa. (See Malahari).

Padi—Pa is used in both aroha and avaroha. Ni is not used in aroha. (See Padi).

Saveri - Ni is used in aroha. Pa is used in both aroha and avaroha. Ga is used in avaroha. (See Saveri).

KUKUBH BILAVAL

Hindustani

Kukubh Bilaval belongs to Bilaval That (Dheerasankarabharana). Many are of the opinion that it is a mixture of Alaiyya Bilaval and Jayajayavanti ragas. Some think that it is a mixture of Alaiyya Bilaval and Jinjoti. Different musicologists have suggested different aroha and avaroha for Kukubh Bilayal.

TYPE I

Shadaya-Sampoorna jati with yakra sancharas in avaroha. Ri is omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha are:

संग - मप - धनि सं— संध - निृप - निृध प - ध म - स म - हिस - ग म

TYPE II

Shadaya-Sampoorna jati. Ma is omitted in aroha. There is vakra sanchara in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha are:-

ध सरिगप निभाने संजिभ निभाग नगरि ससरि स Pakad svara groups of this type are.

गरि-गप्रमगरिस-रि

TYPE III

Sampoorna-Sampoorna jati with vakra sanchara in both archa and avarcha. Archa and avarcha are:

स - दिस्य - स्वादिकास श्वः तिश्व विश्वय - ध - स्य सं-त्यं ति - ध तिसं - ध विश्वय - ध स्वादि - यदिस - रियम गरि - गसदिस.

Svaras used in this raga are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani with Komal Ni used sparingly as in Alaiyya Bilaval, In all types vadi is Pa and samvadi Sa. Some suggest Pa and Ri as vadi and samvadi. Ri is however an important svara particularly where chaya of Jayajayavanti has to be given. It is kept isolated at the end of svara groups म गि स रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि से रि र म ग रि र प्र कि प्र कि

The following svara groups which are used frequently in Kukubh Bilaval give a chaya of Tilak Kamod. But at the end of these, svara Ri is kept elongated which at once dispels the Tilak Kamod effect.

स-प-पध्यमगहिगस-रि.

Sangatis हिए, सुप, and सुप are used frequently Sanchara of Kukubh Bilaval is as under —

स ८ - प ८ प ८ - म ग रिस - रि८ - ग८ - म ८ - प ८ - सम - ग ग -भ प - भ प - भ ८ - ग रिमः - सं - म ग रिस ।

KHAMBAVATI KHAMAJ

Hindustani

We owe this raga to Master Manhar Barve. It belongs to Khamaj That (Harikambhoji). It is a mixture of Khambavati and Khamaj ragas. In aroha it has Khambavati anga and of Khamaj in avaroha. Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. In aroha Ga and Ni are not used. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स रि - मपश्च - सं - सं - नि सं - नि ध - प्रमा - रि मप्र स or रिमास

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni.

Archa is completely like Khambavati. In avarcha svara groups सं - जिसं मि ध - प स न suggest Khamaj. The svara group स प न स with which the raga ends sounds peculiar and gives an individuality to Khambavati Khamaj. Svara group र स न स is also used instead of स प न स. These svara groups remind us of the group स न स स with which the avarcha of Khambavati ends. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. A composition in this raga is:—

Radha Ne Mori Bansi — Trital (Madhya)

-- Manhar Barve.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Khambavati Khamaj. Karnatak raga Balahamsa has some resemblance to Khambavati Khamaj. Arohas are similar. Avaroha of Balahamsa is सं नि घ प म रि म-ग स (See Balahamsa).

KHAMMAJEE KANADA

Hindustani

Khammajee Kanada is a mixture of Khamaj and Kanada ragas. Its jati is: Shadaya—Sampoorna. Ri is not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha are:—...

स ग - स प - नि भ - नि सं - छं दि भ - नि प - ग म रि स.

Khamaj anga is prominent in aroha and Kanada anga in avaroha. Svara groups न म दि ध - नि सं दि नि सं - नि ध indicate Khamaj and ज़ि प - न् महि द produce Kanada effect. A composition in this rare raga is :— ...

Mai Jab Dekhee Gopal Lala -Chouta).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Khammajeo Kanada. There is no allied raga.

KUMBHINI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kumbhini, nor one which resembles this rare Karnatak raga.

Karnatak

Kumbhini is the old name for the 41 st Melakarta Pavani (ra, ga, mi, dhi, nu) Janya raga Kumbhini belongs to the 41st Melakarta Pavani. Its jati is Sampoorna-Shadava with vakra sancharas in aroha. In avaroha Dh is omitted. Aroha and avaroha of Kumbhini are:—

KUNTHALA

KUMUD

Hindustani

Raga Kumud belongs to Bilaval That (Dhecrasankara-bharana). Its jati is Shadava—Shadava. Ma is omitted in this raga. Its Aroha and avaroha are:—

स-रिगय - घनिसं – संनिघ-पगरिस.

Svaras used are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani sangeet. Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Ni. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. Its aroha sounds like Alaiyya Bilaval while the avaroha has chaya of Suddha Kaiyan. This raga is not a familiar one.

Ragas Shankara and Hamsadhvani are allied to raga Kumud.

Shankara—In aroha Ri is not used. Dh is used in yakra sanchara as कि च सं नि in aroha and not used at all in avaroha.

(See Shankara)

Hamsadhvani-Dh is not used. (See Hamsadhvani).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Kumud in Karnatak sangeet. Kumud is obtained by including Chatusruti Dh in both aroha and avaroha of raga Hamsadhvani. Aroha and avaroha of Hamsadhvani are:—

. सरियप निसं—संनिप म रिसः

Aroha and avaroha of Kumud are :-

स रिन प भ नि सं-सं नि घ व स हिस.

KUMUDAKRIYA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kumudakriya. This is an interesting raga which can be included among ragas of Poorvi That. Aroha and avaroha of Kumudakriya are:—

स रि्गमं घ् सं—सं नि घ् मं ग दि स

Karnatak

Kumudakriya is a janya of the 51st Melakarta Kama-vardhini (ri, gu, mi, dha, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Poorvi That. Its jati is Audava—Shadava. Pa and Ni are omitted in aroha. In avaroha Pa is not used. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स दि, गु, मु, घ, सं—सं नि, घ, मु, गु, दि, स.

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Suddha Dhand Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation they are:—

स दिगमं घूसं—सं नि घूमं ग दिस

The following special sancharas are found in this raga:—

मं घृष्सं - - सं 5 नि सं 5 नि घृ 5 - संगमंग हिस

While singing this raga care should be taken to avoid Sadharana Ga (η) and Chatusruti Dh (Tivra η). A composition in this raga is,

Ardhanarishvaram Aradhayami (Sanskrit)

-Rupaka Tala-Muttuswamy Dikshitar,

KUNTHALA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kunthala. One type of Ahir Bhairav having the following aroha and avaroha resembles Karnatak raga Kunthala

स दि्ग - मप - नि्धःप - मप धः सं — सं - नि्ध Sप - म Sप ग - म -प ग दि S से Or भ दि स

(See Ahir Bhairay).

Kamatak

Kunthala is the old name for the 61st Melakarta Kantamani (ri, gu, mi, dha, na). There are two janya ragas called Kunthala derived from two different melakartas. They are: (1) Chakravaka janya and (2) Kanthamani janya.

KUNTHALA (Chakravaka janya).

One raga Kunthala is derived from the 16th Melakarta

KUNTHALAVARALI

Chakravaka (ra, gu. ma, dhi, ni). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna with vakra sancharas in aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha are:

स रि1 π_3 मा प π_2 नि2 π_2 सं —स π_2 नि2 प मा π_3 मा रि1 स. Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avaroha are:—

स दिगम,प घ नि घ सं-सं नि घ कि प म ग म दिसः

This is not a popular raga. The following composition in this raga is available.

Mati Matiki Nee Namame (Telugu) - Adi Tala
- Tiruvottiyur Tyagaraja.

KUNTHALA (Kanthamani Janya)

Second type of Kunthala is a janya of the 61st Melakarta Kanthamani (ri, gu, mi, dha, na). Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. In aroha Ni is omitted. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स रि॰ मा मा प भा सं— सं नि। भा प मा गा रि॰ स.

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Suddha Dh and Suddha Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avaroha are:—

स रिग मंप इसं— संध इप मंग रिस.

In the above Tivra Dh (a) represents Suddha Ni of Karnatak system.

A composition in this type of Kunthala is,

Shri Sugandhi Kunthalambika (Sanskrit)—Trisra Eka Tala—Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

KUNTHALAVARALI

Hindustani

Kunthalavarali which is a popular Karnatak raga is finding its way into Hindustani sangeet. But it is slightly modified as will be seen later. Kunthalavarali is put under Khamaj That (Harikambhoji). Its jat! is Audava-Audava. Ri and Ga are omitted in this raga. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are:—

समय - ध नि ध - सं—सं नि - ध प - म ऽ - सः

Svaras used are Tivra Dh, Suddha Ma, Komal Ni and Tivra Ni. One peculiarity which should be remembered is that, unlike the use of Tivra Ni in aroha and Komal Ni in avaroha in Hindustani ragas, in Kunthalavarali Komal Ni is used in aroha and Tivra Ni in avaroha (In the Karnatak raga only Komal Ni is used in both aroha and avaroha). Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:— मप-पिप्तं-निप्तं-निप्तं प्रा. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. This raga is sung during the second prahata of night. This raga has yet to gain popularity among vocalists. Only gats in this raga are played by instrumentalists.

If only Komal Ni is used in both aroha and avaroha then it will resemble the Karnatak raga Kunthalavarali. In Karnatak raga, Tivra Ni is not used.

Hindustani raga Khambayati resembles Kunthalayarali to some extent.

Khambavati—In aroha Ni is not used but Ri is used. In avaroha Ga is used as π π5 π (See Khambavati).

Karpatak

Kunthalavarali is a janya of the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Khamaj That. Jati of Kunthalavarali is Audava-Audava. Ri and Ga are completely omitted. Aroha and avaroha are:—

Svaras used are Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh, and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avarcha of Kunthalavarali are:—

There is a vakra sanchara in aroha. This is a very pleasing raga. The following compositions in Kunthalayarali are very popular

Shara Shara Samarai (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja. Kalinarulaku Mahimalu (Telugu) - Adi Tala

—Tyagaraja.

KURANII

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kuranji. This Karnatak raga has resemblance to some varieties of Bilaval.

Karnatak

Kuranji is a janya of the 29th Melakarta Dheerasankarabharana (ri, gu, ma, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Bilaval That of Hindustani. Kuranji is a Nishdantya or Nishada-Dhaivata madhya raga. Its aroha and avaroha are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh, and Kakali Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the archa and avarona are;

Kuranji is sung in Madhyama shruti and hence has a peculiar charm. The following compositions in this raga are very popular.

Shree Venugopala (Sanskrit) - Misra Chapu

-- Muttuswamy Dikshitar

Shiva Deeksha Paru Talanu (Telugu)—Adi Tala

Ghanam Seemayya.

According to Dikshitar school, it is not a Nishadantya raga. Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna with vakra sanchara in both archa and avarcha as under.

स रिश्व मा गा मा प घा निश्व दिसं —सं मिश्व दिस् घा घा प मा गा निश्व दिसः

According to Hindustani notation they are:

The composition "Shree Venugopala" of Muttuswamy Dikshitar mentioned above is not sung in this Sampoorna-Sampoorna type although according to Sangeeta Sampradaya Pradarshini belongs to this type.

KUSUMARANJANI

Hindustani

Kusumaranjani belongs to Poorvi That (Kamavardhini).

KOTROHALA

Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ga is not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Kusumaranjani are:—

स रिसंप धुनि सं -- संनि घुनि पर्म ग रि्सः

There is vakra sanchara in avarona. Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Prati Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:—

Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Sa. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. It is sung with Shree anga. A composition in this raga is:

Ruma Jhuma Payala Baje—Trital. Raga Shree resembles Kusumaranjani.

Shree-In aroha Dh is not used. (See Shree).

Karnatak

Karnatak raga Gaulipantu has some resemblance to Kusumaranjani. In Gaulipantu, in aroha Dh is not used.

(See Gaulipantu).

KUTHUHALA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Kuthuhala. It can be included among Hindustani ragas belonging to Bilaval That. The archa of this raga with its vakra sanchara & # 185 w has a special beauty.

Karnatak

Kuthuhala is derived from the 29th Melakarta Dheera-sankarabharana (ri, gu, ma, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Bilaval That. Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ga is not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Kuthuhala are:—

Syaras used are Chatusruti Ri. Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:--

स रिस नि ८ घप नि सं— सं नि ध प स ग रिस

Kuthuhala is a rare raga. It is said that-Katanakuthuhala was an improvement effected by Patnam Subrahmanya Iyer in the raga Kuthuhala which already existed. Katanakuthuhala has become every popular. Its archa and avaroha are:--

LACHARI TODI

सरिस घ 5 नि ग प सं—सं नि घ प स ग रि स

Ga has been introduced in aroha and instead of क्षेट्र घ प नि सं of Kuthuhala we find घड नि ग ए सं in Katanakuthuhala and the change is very pleasing. (See Katanakuthuhala).

Compositions in Kuthuhala are:-

Avarakula Shramamai Dochu (Telugu)— Adi Tala
— Manabuchyadi Venkatasubbiah.
Mati Matiki Ni Namame (Telugu) Adi Tala—

Tiruvattiyor Tyagaraja.

LACCHASAKH

Hindustani

Amir Khusru is said to have introduced this raga, Lacchasakh belongs to Bilaval That (Dheerasankarabharana). Its jati is Sampoorna - Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha are:—

म रिग- स - प - ध ति सं— सं नि ध - घ नि ध ए - स ग - स रिस्र ा ग रिस्र.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga. Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Diagnostic svara groups are:—

गम निध-प-मग-रिप-मग-म रिस्त ा मंगरिस.

Vadi is Dh and Samvadi Ga. Sangatis ध न - रिप - स प -ध रि - म रि etc., are used.

Lacchasakh is considered by some to be a mixture of Alaiyya Bilaval and Jinjoti. Some others consider it to be a mixture of Alaiyya Bilaval and Khamaj. Bilaval anga is very prominent in avaroha. Hence it is considered to be a type of Bilaval. Bilaval, Jinjoti and Khamaj angas found in this raga are: Bilaval—ध निभा - भाग - this happens angas of Jinjoti and Bilaval are introduced. Ga is used as π at π and also as π at π . This raga is sung during the first prahara of the day. This is a difficult raga although a pleasing one. It is not a popular raga A composition in Lacchasakh is:—

Kahe Karata Ho Mose—Ek Tal (Viiambit).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Lacchasakh nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

LACHARI TODI

Hindustani

This is a rare raga and a difficult one to render properly. This raga is put under Todi That (Shubhapantuvarali) although chaya of Todi is not found. In this raga two Gandharas, two Dhaivats and two Nishads are used. Ri is Tivra and Ma is Suddha. Arohas and avarohas suggested by different authors are:—

- (1) Sampoorna—Sampoorna Type.
- स ग रि स म- प ध नि सं-- सं ग्रें सं नि धप म प ग्रि नि स
- (2) Shadava—Sampoorna Type. In this type Ni is omitted in aroha.

रि निर्मितः नि् सहिग गम-संप ध घपसं — सं- रिं न्धिप - ध्रंप - मण म म

गृग्रिग्मसः

In the second type svara group R n H gives a peculiar effect. This raga has more of Asavari chaya than of Todi. Compositions in this raga are:—

Bahuta ya Jagmo--Ektal (Vilambit)

-- S. N. Ratanjankar.

Hame Dekhilo Lakhilo -Trital (Madhya).

Hindustani raga Hamsakankini resembles Lachari Todi (Sampoorna—Sampoorna) to some extent.

LAKSHMI KALYAN

Karnatak

There is no raga called Lachari Todi in Karnatak sangeet Karnatak raga Anandabhairavi resembles it in some sancharas. (See Anandabhairavi).

LAJAVANTI

Hindustani

Lajavanti is a rare raga belonging to Bilaval That (Dheera-sankarabharana). Its jati is Audava - Audava - Ga and Ni are omitted in both aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Lajavanti are:—

स - म रिप - घ घ प - प घ म प सं— सं ए - घ घ प - व म रिS स.

Svaras used are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani sangect. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are : मिस प्र- य प्र- म प् संप्र प अ प प न म प अ प प न म पिर स. Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Ri. This raga is an interesting one on account of the fact that the svaras used are the same as in Durga of Bilaval That. But in Lajavanti prominence is not given to svaras Ma and Dh as in Durga. Hence the svaroop of Lajavanti becomes different from that of Durga.

While singing this raga touches of ragas Kamod, Tilak kamod, and Sarang are introduced as, Kamod: —स म रि रि प्यम - च घ-प्य Tilak Kamod: —प घ - म प - संट्र प्. Sarang: — प मरिट स ठा म प रिट्र स.

Lajavanti is sung during the last prahara of night. A composition in this raga is:

Aj Jage Mere Bhag—Ektal (Madhya)— J. D. Patki. Hindustani raga Durga (Bilaval That) resembles Lajavanti.

Durga-Prominence is given to Ma and Dh. (See Durga).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Lajavanti in Karnatak sangeet-Suddha Saveri uses the same svaras as Lajavanti. But Suddha Saveri resembles Durga in its sancharas more than Lajavanti. (See Suddha Saveri)

LAKSHMI KALYAN

Hindustani

This raga is said to have been composed by Shri Wamanrao Bhatt. Lakshmi "Kalyan belongs to Kalyan That (Mechakalyani). It is a Sampoorna - Sampoorna raga with vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Lakshmi Kalyan are:—

स - रिगम रि - संपधति स ---सं - धप - सं - म - गम रि - स - धृ ए - ज़िज़ि च - स ज़ि -रिस - रिगम रिऽ

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, both Sudddha and Prati Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:—

रितम रिसंप - नि^{SS} घपसम - गमरिस ख़पू - बिु नि खस नि-रिस - रिग.म रि.

Ni is durbal in aroha. Fivra Ma is used as π η in aroha avoiding Ga. In avaroha both Madhyamas are used side by side as π π η π Ω . There are chayas of Suddha Sarang and Kamod in Lakshmi Kalyan. But as Ga is used in Lakshmi Kalyan its svaroop becomes different from that of Suddha Sarang. In Kamod svara groups Ω η η η η η η are frequently used. These are not in evidence in Lakshmi Kalyan. This is an evening raga.

Sundara Mooratiya-Trital (Madhya)-J. D. Patki.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Kakshmi Kalyan in Karnatak sangeet nor one which resembles Lakshmi Kalyan of Hindustani Karnatak raga Saranga having the following aroha and avaroha resembles Lakshmi Kalyan to some extent.

स रिगमेप घनि सं—संसी भपमे हिन्म हिस.

LAKSHMI TODI

Hindustani

This is a rare raga. This raga is a very difficult one to render as two Rishabhs, two Gandhars, two Dhaivats and two Nishads are used. Madhyama used is only Suddha Ma.,

Use of above mentioned svaras are as under ;---

Ri In aroha Tivra Ri. In avaroha Komal Ri Ga—In aroha Tivra Ga. In avaroha Komal Ga. Dh—In aroha Komal Dh. In avaroha Tivra Dh. Ni—In aroha Tivra Ni. In avaroha Komal Ni.

Svaroop of Lakshmi Todi can be a imagined by the following chalan of the raga.

स्ति - सम्भाग् - प - पध् - ध् - निप् ग् - मप् ग् - मग्रिस -निस्ति - ग्रिस

स्य - ध्ध्-तिसं - सं - तिसं - र्सि - निसं - न्धिप - सप -धिन्य - सं - ध्ध्प - गम -न्धिप - यध्निसं - न्पि - घध्प - सग -पम - सं न्पिसग्रि

A composition in Lakshmi Todi is, Aye Jhoomata Javata Avata—Ek Tal.

Karoatak

There is no raga called Lakshmi Todi in Karnatak sangeet nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga,

LALIT OF LALAT

Hindustani

Lalit or Lalat is a very pleasing raga. It is also a very popular raga. Lalit belongs to Marwa That (Gamanashrama). Its Jati is Shadava - Shadava. Pa is omitted in this raga. Aroha and avarona of Lalit are:—

नि हिगम ≤ - मंगग - मंध सं—िह्निध - मंध - मंग≤ ग - हि - स. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are :—

नि रिग - स S संघ - संग ग - संग रिस. Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Some musicions use only Komal Dh and some use both Komal and Tivra Dh. As this raga belongs to Marwa That it is proper to use Tivra Dh. Vadi is Suddha Ma and Samvadi Sa. This is one of the few ragas in which the two Madyamas occur side by side as # 17. They occur in this way in the svara group # 18 # 17. This sounds beautiful. As Pancham is not used in this raga, the tambura wire for Pa is tuned to Ma. This sometimes causes confusion to the singer-and the listener too—in regard to the Adhara Shruti or Base Note used. This is an uttaranga raga. In this raga Komal Ma is kept more elongated than Tivra Ma as fig fig 1 - 1125 - 17 175 In aroha Ni is kept weak or durbal. Hence # 18 18 is used. This raga can be sung almost from midnight till 9 A. M. Popular compositions in Lalit are:

Raina Ke Sapana—Ek Tal (Vilambit). Are Mana Rama Nam—Ek Tal (Vilambit). Piyu Piyu Ratata—Teen Tal (Drut).

There is a raga called Lalitha in Hindustani sangect which is quite different from Lalit. (See Lalitha)

Karnatak

There is no raga called Lalit or Lalat. There is a raga called Lalitha which resembles Hindustani raga Lalit in many details. But in Karnatak raga Lalitha, only Suddha Ma is used. Aroha and avaroha of Karnatak raga Lalitha are:

स दि्गम धनि सं—सं निधम गदिस.

If Prati Ma is removed from Hindustani raga Lalit what remains is the same as Karnatak raga Lalitha (See Lalitha).

If Prati Ma is added to Karnatak Lalitha then it becomes Hindustani Lalit or Lalat.

LALIT BHAIRAV

Hindustani

Lalit Bhairav belongs to Bhairav That (Mayamalavagaula). Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Pa is omitted in this raga. Aroha and avaroha of Lalit Bhairav are:—

ल दि ग सं धुनि सं—सं नि ध सं ग दिस

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. This raga does not use Tivrra Ma at all. The chaya of Lalit is produced by elongating Ma which is Komal. Lalit Bhairay is a pleasing raga and yet not popular.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Lalit Bhairav in Karnatak sangeet. Karnatak raga Vasantha which is a janya of the the 15th Melakarta Mayamalavagaula (Bhairav That) very closely resembles the Hindustani raga Lalit Bhairav. Vasantha of South has the following aroha and avaroha:—

स्तमध्निसं—संतिध्मगरिसः

In Vasantha Ri is not used in archa (See Vasantha). In Lalitha of Karnatak some use Komal Dh instead of Tivra Oh. When this is done Lalitha resembles Lalit Bhairay of Hindustani sangeet (See Lalitha).

LALITHA

Hindustand

There is a raga called Lalitha mentioned by some writers. The svaroop of this raga is quite different from the popular raga Lalat or Lalit. Lalitha is a rare raga. It is said to be a mixture of Sohoni and Basant. Svaroop of Lalith is not known. It is said that this raga resembles the Hindustani raga Manjari. Aroha and avaroha of Manjari are as under:—

स - म - म ग - मंग - मं घ सं - नि सं — हिं में हिंसे - सं नि घ - हिं नि - घप - प घग - म ग हिस. (See-Manjari).

Karnatak

Karnatak raga Lalitha is a populár one. But Karnatak Lalitha has no resemblance to Hindustani raga of the same name. Karnatak, Lalitha has great resemblance to Hindustani Lalit excepting that Prati Ma is not used in Karnatak raga Lalitha. Want of Prati Ma and absence of two Madhyams side by side as in Hindustani raga Lalitha gives it a different svaroop altogether. If Prati Ma is removed from the Hindustani raga Lalit what remains is Karnatak raga Lalitha. As in Hindustani

Lalit, in Karnatak Lalitha also some use Komal Dh. This type resembles the Hindustani raga Lalit Bhairay (See Lalit Bhairay).

Lalitha, when Chatusruti Dh (Tivra Dh) is used belongs to the 17th Meiakarta Suryakantha (ra, gu, ma, dhi, nu). Its jati is Shadava - Shadava. Pa is not used in this raga. Aroha ' and avaroha of Lalitha are:—

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation they are;

स दि्गम घ नि सं— सं नि ध म ग दि स

This can be called Komal Sohoni of Hindustani. In Sohoni if Suddha Ma is used instead of Prati Ma then it becomes Lalitha of Karnatak.

In Lalitha of Karnatak some use Suddha Dh (Komal Dh) instead of Chatusruti Dh (Tivra Dh). Lalitha then has the following aroha and avaroha:—

This Lalitha will have to be put under the Melakarta Mayamalayagaula (Bhairay That).

While singing Lalitha, Ri is skipped over in aroha giving rise to the sanchara स न म भ नि सं. This should not be done when Suddha Dh is used. The aroha then becomes that of Karnatak raga Vasantha.

A popular composition in Lalitha is :-

Seethamma Mayamma (Telugu) - Rupaka Tala

—Tyagaraja.

Karnatak raga Vasantha has great resemblance to Lalitha. Several discussions had taken place in Music Conferences in South India regarding the svaras used, the sancharas and the Melakartas under which they should be put. As a result of these discussions the opinion of the majority seems to be as under:

Lalitha: - Melakarta - Suryakantha. Only Chatusruti Dh to be used. Ma not to be elongated. Ri should not be skipped over in aroha.

Vasantha:—Melakarta—Mayamalavagaula. Only Suddha Dh to be used. Ma should be elongated in avaroha. Ri should be droped in aroha. (See Vasantha).

LALITHA GAURI (Bhairav That)

Hledustani

In Lalitha Gauri which belongs to Bhairav That, only Komal Dh is used. Its Jati is Sampoorna—Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha are:

मंधामंग-ग रि्सः

Syaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Komal Dh, and Tivra Ni. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa.

This type of Lalitha Gauri consists of a combination of the two morning ragas Bhairav and Lalit. It is sung with Bhairav anga. Hence this raga is more suited for being sung in the morning than in the evening. Compositions in this raga are:—

Phuli Sanga Madhuvaname--Jhaptal (Madhya)---Prabhat Deoji Sahib.

Ye Muraliwale-Dhamar-Vilambit.

Karnatak

There is a raga called Lalitha Gauri in Karnatak sangeet. It is a janya of the 15th Melakarta Mayamalavagaula (ra, gu, ma, dha, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Bhairav That. Its jati is Sampoorna-Audava. In avaroha Ni and Ma are not used. Aroha and avaroha of Lalitha Gauri are:

स रि
$$_1$$
 ग $_3$ म $_1$ प घ $_1$ नि $_3$ सं—सं घ $_1$ प ग $_5$ सि $_1$ स.

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation aroha and avaroha are:

स्रिमपद्मितं—संघ्यगर्सः

Lalitha Gauri is not a popular raga.

Lalitha Gauri of South has no resemblance to Lalitha Gauri (Bhairay That) of Hindustani sangeet as Prati Ma is not used in Lalitha Gauri of South. It has also no resemblance to the Hindustani raga Lalitha Gauri which belongs to Marwa That (Gamanashrama).

(See Lalitha Gauri-Marwa That).

LALITHA GAURI (Marwa That)

Hindustani

This raga is also called by the other names—Lalitha Mangal and Sampoorna Bibhas. In Lalitha Gauri which belongs to Marwa That (Gamanashrama) both Komal and Tivra Dh are used. Tivra Dh is even more prominent than Komal Dh. Jati of this type of Lalitha Gauri is Audava—Sampoorna. Ri and Ga are omitted in aroha, Aroha and avaroha of this type are:—

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha Ma and Prati Ma, both Komal and Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni.

Tivra Dh is used in both aroha and avaroha and Komal Dh only in avaroha. Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Pa It is a raga to be sung very early in the morning—"Ushakala".

It is said that this type of Gauri is obtained by using both Madhyams in Gauri. In this raga chayas of Hindol, Basant, Sohoni, and Bhatiyar are present. In fact there is no anga of Lalit.

Chalan of this raga is as under :--

मंध्- निहिं- गंहिं- सं- निसं- संनि - धर- धन्दिप-गवग-हिग- हिस।

Bhora Bhayee-Jhap Tal (Madhya).

Hindustani raga Bhatiyar of Marwa That resembles this type of Lalitha Gauri. (See Bhatiyar—Marwa That).

Karnatak

Karnatak raga Lalitha Gauri has been described under the raga Lalitha Gauri of Bhairav That. (See Lalitha Gauri—Bhairav That). This raga has no resemblance to the Hindustani raga Lalitha Gauri belonging to Marwa That.

There is no Karnatak raga which resembles Lalitha Gauri of Matwa That.

LALITHA KALI

Hindustani

This raga belongs to Bhairav That. (Mayamalavagaula). Its jati is Sampoorna—Sampoorna. Archa and avarcha of Lalitha Kali arc:

ति दि्ग स - मं म - गप - घृ नि्ध्य मं - ध् सं— हिं नि ध्य - ग मं स य - मंग हिंसः

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Komal Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:

ति हिससार गर्मस्य र स्थाप्ति घ्रा - संगर्स गरिसः

This raga is said to be formed by svara vinyasa in the raga Ramkali. Tivra Ma is taken directly or in a straight way. While reaching Tara Shadja Ni is omitted and $\frac{1}{\pi} \cdot \frac{1}{\pi}$ is used as in Lalit anga. Sangati $\frac{1}{\pi}$ q is beautiful. Nyasa on Ga is very pleasing. This is a difficult raga. Compositions in Lalitha Kali are:

Anga Bibhuti Jaya Gangadhara – Ektal (Vilambit) — "Raşik,"

Sovata Neenda—Trital (Madhya) —"Rasik" Hindustani raga Ahir Lalit resembles this raga. Ahir Lalit - Dh is Komal. Both Komal and Tivra Ni are used. (See Ahir Lalit).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Lalitha Kalifin Karnatak sangeet, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

LALITHAVARI

Hindustani

This is a rare raga. This is supposed to be a kind of Lalit. There is chaya of Hindol also in this raga.

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Jati is Shadava—Shadava. Pn is not used. Chalan of Lalithavari is as under:—

स नि हिस - रि नि घ - मं घ स नि हिस - नि हि ग - मं ग हिग • मं ग हिस - गुर्म घ नि घ मं ग - गर्म घ सं - नि हिं से - संहि नि से नि घ -गर्म घ मं ग हि ग - मं ग हिस - मं म ग - म मं म ग - नि घ मं म ग

Halt is made on Ga to avoid too much of Lalit Chaya in pooryanga In uttaranga halt is made on Dh. Compositious in this raga are:—

Bhala Jagare Sara Raina—Ektal (Vilambit)—Kabirdas. Kaha Nara Apani Janma—Teen Tal (Madhya).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Lalithavari, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

LALIT PANCHAM or LALITHA PANCHAMA Hindustani

Lalit Pancham belongs to Bhairav That (Mayamalava-gaula). Its Jati is Audava—Sampoorna. Ri and Pa are ommitted in archa. Archa and avarcha of Latit Pancham are:—

निस्तास - संसमाग - मंध्री सं—संति ध्रयम - मंप - गम गरिस Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Komal and Tivra Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. Lalit Pancham may be considered to be raga Lalit in which Pa has been introduced. There is Lalit anga. Introduction of Pa gives a different svaroop from Lalit. This raga is sung during the last prahara of night. Compositions in Lalit Pancham are:—

Kara manaka yi Bichara Manuja — Trital (Madhya). Saba Kuch Hota Nahi – Trital (Madhya)

-G. N. Natoo.

Lalit Pancham is different from raga Pancham which belongs to Marwa That. In Pancham Tivra Dh is used (See Pancham).

Karnatak

Karnatak raga Labitha Panchama is a janya of the 15th Melakarta Mayamalayagaula (ra, gu, ma, dha, nu) which corresponds to Bhairay That. Jati of Lalita Panchama is Shadaya—Sampoorna. Pa is omitted in archa. Atcha and ayarcha of Lalit Panchama are:—

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Sudda Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स दिन सध्नि सं—सं नि च् सप सग दिस.

There is a vakra sanchara in avaroha. Aroha is of Lalitha (Karnatak). In avaroha Pa is introduced. One thing to be noted is that in Lalitha Panchama Suddha Dh (Komal Dh) is used. In Karnatak Lalitha, although majority of opinion is in favour of Chatusruti Dh (ψ), some use Suddha Dh (ψ).

Lalitha Panchama is a rare raga. The following composition in this raga is available:

Parama Purusham-Khanda jati Chapu Tala

-Swati Tirunal.

Shri Vidya Pati-Adi Tala-Jayachamaraja Wodeyar.

According to Dikshitar school, Lalitha Panchama is derived from the 14th Melakarta Vakulabharana (ra, gu, ma, dha, ni). Its jati is Audava—Sampoorna. In aroha Ri and Pa are ommitted. Its aroha and avaroha are:—

$$\hat{\mathbf{t}}_1 \ \mathbf{tt} \ \hat{\mathbf{t}}_3 \ \mathbf{S} \ \mathbf{tt}_1 \ \mathbf{tt}_1 \ \mathbf{S} \ \hat{\mathbf{f}}_2 \ \hat{\mathbf{tt}}_1 - \mathbf{tt} \ \hat{\mathbf{f}}_2 \ \mathbf{tt}_1 \ \mathbf{tt} \ \mathbf{tt}_8 \ \hat{\mathbf{t}}_1 \ \mathbf{tt}.$$

Svaras used are Suddha Ri. Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh, aud Kaisiki Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroba and avaroba are:—

हिस गडम घडनिसं—संनिध्यमगर्सः

A composition in this type of Lalitha Panchama is :— Brihadishvaram Bhajare—Adi Tala

-Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

This type of Lalitha Panchama has some resemblance to Karnatak raga Ahiri. In Ahiri, in aroha, Pa is used. (See Ahiri).

LANKADAHAN SARANG

Hindustani

Lankadahan Sarang belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). There are two types of this raga: (1) Audava - Sampoorna. (2) Audava - Shadava.

TYPE I

In the Audava-Sampoorna type Ga and Dh are omitted in archa. Archa and avarcha of this type are:—

स प ध स- हि-स-स-प न् धन्ए-सपनीसं—संन्धिन् ए-सपग्ग्मिरिस.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Koma! Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal and Tivra Ni. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are.

LANKESHREE

This is a midday raga. A composition in this type of Lankadahan Sarang is,

Gulal Ranga Bharaki, Dhamar (Vilambit)

TYPE II

In the Audava-Shadava type Ga and Dh are not used in archa. In avarcha Dh is not used.

Aroha and avaroha of this type are :-

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Tivra Ni is used in aroha and Komal Ni in avaroha. Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Ma. Ga is used in a vakra sanchara as ग्म रिस or as रिग् रिस.

This is a midday raga. A composition in this raga is:—Abki Bar Ayee Re—Jhumta (Vilambit).

Karnatsk

There is no raga called Lankadahan Sarang in Karnatak sangeet.

There are three Karnatak ragas having some resemblance to Lankadahan Sarang of Audava-Sampoorna type. But Tivra Ni is not used in any of these. Aroha and avaroha of these ragas are:—

Shree Raga :-- स रि भ प नि सं-- सं नि घ नि प म रि ग S रि स.

Kanakavarali : — स रि म प नि् सं — सं नि घ नि प म गृ रि सः

Suddha Velavali :--स रिमप निसं--सं नि भ निपम गृरिस-

All these ragas are derived from the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (Kafi That).

Karnatak raga Manirangu has some resemblance to the Audava—Shadava type of Lankadahan Sarang. In Manirangu there is no vakra sanchara in avaroha and Ga is elongated. Only Komal Ni is used in both aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स रिम प निसं—सं निप म सु 5 रिस.

LANKESHREE

Hindustani

Lankeshree belongs to Khama) That. (Harikambhoji.) Its fati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स - गरि - स - स म - गप - म - निध - सं—गं रिंगं - सं - रिं-निसं निध प - निध म - गम हिस ाम गम रिस ाम गरिस

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni.

In this raga there are many vakra sancharas both in aroha and avaroha. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. Some suggest the reverse arrangement.

Lankeshree is formed by combining the two ragas Khamaj and Jinjoti. Chalan of this raga is as under:—

रि-स न्-ि च न्-सि-ग-गरि-गरिस-सिस-गप-म ग-स रि-स

म - घप - न्घम - गम रिस - गम र रि - गरि - गरि -म गरि से

धय-मगरि-मगरिस-म-निध-सं-गंरिंगं-सं-रिं-निसं-निधय-मग-मरिस.

This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. It is a difficult raga and not a popular one. A composition in this raga is:—

Balama More Saiyya - Ada Choutal (Madhya)

Hindustani ragas Bangeshree and Rageshvari resemble Lankeshree.

Bangeshree: — Chalan is mostly in Mandra Saptak. (See Bangeshree.)

Rageshvari: — Komal Ni is used. Pa is not used. (See Rageshvari).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Lankeshree in Karnatak sangeet, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

LILAVATI

LATANGI

Hindustani

There is no raga called Latangi in Hindustani sangeet. Hindustani raga Latika has some resemblance to this Karnatak raga. In Latika Ma is not used. (See Latika).

Latangi Mel or That is obtained by combining Kalyan and Poorvi Thats in poorvanga and uttaranga respectively as under.

Poorvanga (Kalyan) — स रि ग मं. Uttaranga (Poorvi) — प भ नि सं.

Latangi -- स दि गर्भ - प घू नि सं -- सं नि घू प - मं ग दि स.

Karnatak

Latangi is Melakarta No 63 of Karnatak sangeet (ri, gu, mi, dha, nu). According to Dikshitar school this Melakarta is called Geetapriya. Aroha and avaroha of this Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga are:

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga. Prati Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:-

Although Latangi is not a very popular raga, the following composition in Latangi is often heard.

Ece Diname Sudinamu—Chapu Tala—Tyagaraja.

LATIKA

Hindustani

Latika belongs to Poorvi That (Kamavardhini). Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Ma is omitted in this raga. Avoha and avaroha of Latika are:—

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Komai Dh and Tivra Ni. Strictly speaking Latika cannot come under Poorvi That. In Poorvi That Komal Ri is used. Latika should come under either of the two Karnatak Melakarta ragas Sarasangi (No 17) or Latangi (No 63). There are no Thats corresponding to these Melakartas in Hindustani sangeet. In fact Latika sounds like Latangi from which Prati Ma has been removed (See Latangi). Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are, Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Ni. This is an evening raga. Latika is a pleasing raga and should be popularised. A composition in Latika is:

Kona Bahane Bavare-Trital (Madhya)-Balaram Roy.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Latika in Karnatak sangeet. Latika can be obtained by omitting Ma in the two ragas Sarasangi and Latangi, preferably in Latangi. Aroha and avaroha of these are:

Sarasangi :— स दिशास प घ् नि सं—सं नि घ् प स ग दि स. (See Sarasangi)

Latangi :-- स रिगर्म प घृति सं-- सं नि घ् प मंगरि सः (See Latangi)

LILAVATI

Hindustani

Lilavati belongs to Asavari That. Its jati is Audava-Audava. Ma and Ni are both omitted in this raga, Aroha and avaroha of Lilavati are:—

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, and Komal Dh Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are, प स प . म् स् स. Vadi is Ri and Samvadi Pa. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. A composition in raga Lilavati is:—

MADHAVAMANOHARI

93

Kara Trishula Hat Damaru-Ek Tal.

Lilavati has great resembance to the popular raga Shiva-ranjini and to raga Dvigandharabhushini.

Shivaranjini:—Tivra Dh is used. Vadi svara is Pa. (See Shivaranjini).

Dvigandharabhushini— Tivra Dh is used in archa and and Komal Dh in avaroha. Two Gandharas— Komal and Tivra—are used side by side as स दि ग् ग ग् - दि द स - भ् द - प् - ध द स द (See Dyigandharabhushini)

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Lilavati. Raga Dvigandharabhushini has some resemblance to Lilavati. (See Dvigandharabhushini).

LOKARANJINI

Hirdustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Lokaranjini. This Karnatak raga is very well suited for being introduced into Hindustani sangeet. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are:—

स ग मंप मं भ नि सं—सं नि ध नि प मं गरि स.

Karnatak

Lokaranjini is derived from the 52nd Melakarta Ramapriya (ra, gu, mi, dhi, ni). Jati of this raga is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ri is omitted in archa. Archa and avarcha of Lokaranjini are:

स गाम, प म, घालि, सं — सं नि धालि, प म, गारि सः

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antra Ga, Prati Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the archa and avarcha are:

स न मं प मं घ नि सं--- सं नि घ प मं न रि स-

Lokaranjini is not a popular raga but a pleasing one. The following composition in Lokaranjini is available:—

Yennadu Joothuno (Telugu)—Adi Tala
—Tiruvottiyur Tyagayya (Gopala Dasa).

MADHAVAMANOHARI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Madhavamanohari. One type of Karnatak raga Madhahvamanohari has some resemblance to Bageshree. The second type, judging from its aroha and avaroha, seems to be very well suited for bring introduced into Hindustani sangeet. Aroha and avaroha of Madhavamanohari of this type are:—

स कृ दि गुर्म प नि धृ नि सं— सं नि धूर्म गृ दि सः

The above type has a chaya of raga Madhuwanti in its avaroha. Dh is used is Komal. In Madhuwanti Dh is Tivra,

As the raga Simhendramadhyam is becoming popular in the North it is easy to introduce Madhavamanohari which is obtained by giving a vakra sanchara in archa and omitting Pa in avaroha of Simhendramadhyam,

Karnatak

Madhavamanohari is of two types.

One type is derived from the 57th Melakarta Simhendra-madhyama (ri, gi mi, dha, nu). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. In ayaroha Pa is omitted. Aroha and ayaroha of Madhaya-manohari of this type are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Prati Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni. There are vakra sancharas in aroha. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स गृहि गृमं प नि घुनि सं—सं नि घुमं गृहि स.

This is not a popular raga.

According to Dikshitar school, Madhavamanohari is a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Kafi That of Hindustani. Its jati is Sampoorna-Shadava with vakra sanchara in aroha. Pa is omitted in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of this type of Madhavamanohari are:—

Syaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma. Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

A composition in this type of Madhavamanohari is:—
Mahalakshmi Karunarasa Lahari (Sanskrit)—Adi Tala
— Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

This type of Madhavamanohari resembles Hindustani raga Bageshree to some extent. (See Bageshree)

Allied Karnatak ragas are :- Shriranjani and Ritigaula,

MADHYAMAVATI

Hindustani

Some consider Madhumad Sarang or Madhyamadi Sarang or Madhyamavati Sarang to be the same raga, having the following archa and avaroha:—

स रिम प नि्सं—सं नि्प म रिम.

This corresponds with the Karnatak raga Madhyamavati. (See Madhumad Sarang).

One author is of opinion that the Hindustani raga Madhyamavati is different from Madhumad Sarang or Madhyamadi Sarang. He mentions that it is a mixture of Jinjoti, Sindhura, Khamaj and Sorat ragas.

Chalan (trend) of this Madhyamavati is as under :-

ध्वप-अग्रिस-ग्-स्रिम-ग्-रिग्-स्नि-निस्स-स-स्प-नि-निसं।

This Type of Madhyamavati makes use of all the seven svaras. Hence its jati is Sampoorna.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, both Komal and Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh, and both Komal and Tivra Ni. A composition in this type of Madhyamavati is, Abato Mori Sunale—Jhaptal (Madhya).

Karnatak

MALASHREE

Hindustani

Malashree belongs to Kalyan That (Mechakalyani).

Malashree is one among the small number of ragas in Hindustani sangeet in which the number of svaras used are less than five and hence not in accordance with the rules regarding the construction of ragas. In spite of this defect Malashree, like Bhavani which uses only four svaras, is a very pleasing raga. There are four types of Malashree.

TYPE I

In this type only three svaras are used in both aroha and avaroha as under:—

स नै प सं— सं प च स-

This type sounds like the military bugle. Jati of this type is Samika-Samika. (Trisvari—Trisvari)

TYPE II

This is called the Chatusvari or Svarantara jati. In avaroha grace note or Kan of Prati Ma is given for svara Ga as . This is the same of the state of the st

This is the popular Type of Malashree.

TYPE IV

In this type five svaras are used in both aroha and avaroha as under:

Its jati is Audava – Audava.

In all types of Malashree svaras used are Tivra svaras only. Vadí is Pa and Samvadi Sa. Pakad consists of न स - प्स. While singing tanas, use of double or Jod svaras as स स न न प प are employed and they sound well. This raga should be kept clear of ragas like Hindol, Shankara and Bihag.

Compositions in Malashree are.

Karata Ho Sakala Singara (without Ma)— Trital (Madhya).

Bajare Thumaka (with Ma)-Trital (Madhya).

In some grinthas Malashree is put under Kafi That (Khara harapriya) If so all svaras become Komal and the raga sounds like Dhani of North or Udayaravichandrika of South with the following aroha and avaroha:—

सग्मपनिसं—संविषमग्स

(See Dhani and Udayaravichandrika)

Karnatak

Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

Karnatak raga Gaulipantu is allied to Malava Panchama. In Gaulipantu Dh is used in aroha but in vakta sanchara. (See Gaulipantu)

MALAVASHREE

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Majavashree. There is a raga called Majashree which has no resemblance to the Karnatak raga Majavashree. (See Majashree)

Both types of Malavashree described below are pleasing ragas and can be introduced under Hindustani Kafi That.

Karnatak

Malavashree is a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Kafi That. Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Ri is omitted in both aroha and avaroha. Its aroha and avaroha are:

MALAVI

स ग्रुस, प निदुधः निरुपधः निरुसं—सं निरुधः प मा ग्रुसः

Syaras used are Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma. Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the archa and avarcha are:

स गुम प नि ध नि प ध नि सं— सं नि ध प म ग् सः

Malayashree is mentioned in some books as a Shadava-Audava raga with Ri omitted in aroha and Ri and Pa omitted in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of this type of Malayashree are,

स म ग्रम ए नि घ नि प घ नि सं — सं नि घ म ग्राः

Malavashree is not a popular raga. A composition in this raga is,

Yennallu Dirugunadi (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja.
According to Dikshitar school, jati of Malavashree is Audava Shadava with vakra sanchara only in avaroha. In aroha Ri and Dh are omitted. In avaroha Ri is omitted. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स ग. स. प नि. सं—सं नि. घ. प म. प नि. घ. म. ग. स. According to Hindustani notation they are :—

स न स प दि सं-- सं नि घ द म द नि ध म ग् सः

A composition in this type of Malavashree is :--Mangabaya Namaste (Sanskrit)—Jhampa Tala--Mangabaya Namaste (Sanskrit)—Jhampa Tala---

- Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

MALAVI

Hindustani

Raga Malavi belongs to Poorvi That (Kamavardhini). Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. In aroha Ni is not used. In avaroha Dh is omitted. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स दि गप - दि ग मं घ् सं — सं - नि प - मं ग - दि ग - दि स-

Syaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Prati Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or diagnostic syara groups are :—

स - रिहिस - ग - प ग - हिस - स ग - मे ध् सं - हिं सं - नि प - ग - प ग - हि मे ग - हिस. There are vakra sancharas in both archa and ayaroha. Vadi is Ri and Samvadi Sa. Sangati ग प is sometimes used. This is an evening raga. Hence the poorvanga is prominent Malavi is sung with Shree anga. Commencement of the raga is made with Shree anga. Then gradually Ga is introduced. Sangati $\eta + \eta$ is used. Halting on Ga removes the Shree chaya. But Shree chaya has to be maintained in the raga. That is why Ga is not made Vadi. Chalan of raga Malavi is as under.

स - रि्हि-स - गप गित्स - सि द्स - रि्ग रि्प में ग - रि्ग रिस - सगप में - रिमंग रिस - स - रि्ग प - मंग रि-ग हिस.

Namo Namo Narayana—Trital (Madhya)

—S. N. Ratanjankar.

Uoothana Manakar Le—Trital (Madhya). Hindustani ragas Poorvi, Shree, Gauri and Reva are allied to Malavi.

Poorvi - Both Komal and Tivra Ma are used (See Poorvi), Shree-In aroha Ga and Dh are not used. (See Shree).

Gauri—Ga is sparingly used. (See Gauri).

Reva-Ma and Ni are not used. (See Reva).

Karnatak

There is a Karnatak raga called Malavi. It is a janya of the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Khamaj That. Malavi is a Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga with vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Malavi are:

स दि: य3 मा प मा घ: नि: सं---सं नि: घ: नि: प मा य: मा दि: स. Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avarcha are:---

स रिगमप मधिनि सं--सं नि्ध नि्पम गम रिसः

From the above aroha and avaroha it will be seen that the Karnatak raga Malavi has no resemblance to Hindustani raga of the same name. Malavi is not a popular raga. The following composition is sometimes heard.

Nenarunchinanu (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja.

MALIGAURA

MALAYAMARUTA

Hindustani

There was no raga called Malayamaruta in Hindustani sangeet. This Karnatak raga is being introduced into Hindustani sangeet by instrumentalists.

Malayamaruta is obtained by leaving out Ma in Ahir Bhairay. Ahir Bhairay has the following aroha and avaroha.

स वि ग राप ध नि सं—सं नि ध प म ग दि सः

Malayamaruta has for its aroha and avaroha :-

स द्गिप ध नि्सं- -सं नि्ध प ग रि्स.

Ahir Bhairav corresponds to the Karnatak raga Chakravaka. (See Ahir Bhairav). Malayamaruta is a Shadava-Shadava raga with Ma omitted in both aroha and avaroha. It is a morning raga and a very pleasing one. A composition in this raga is Jago Mohana Pyare - Trital (Madhya) -B. Subba Rao.

Karestak

Malayamaruta is a janya of the 16th Melakarta Chakravaka (ra, gu, ma, dhi, ni). Jati of Malayamaruta is Shadava-Shadava. Ma is omitted completely. Aroha and avaroha of Malayamaruta are:

स रि 113 प धः निः सं—सं निः धः प गः रि सः

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स रिग प च नि सं — सं नि च प ग रि सः

Antara Ga and Kaisiki Ni are the raga chaya svaras. Halt on Dh produces a sublime effect as in $\pi \pi \pi s$. This raga is very appealing in the morning time. It is a very popular raga. The following composition is a favourite one.

Manasa Yetulortu Nena (Telugu)-Rupaka Tala

—Tyagaraja-

MALHAR

Hindustani

Although several Hindustani ragas have the name Malhar affixed to them indicating the presence of the Malhar anga

(Megh Malhar, Meera Malhar, Goud Malhar, Mia Malhar, Suddha Malhar etc.), very little is known about the pure raga Malhar itself

Some writers refer to raga Mia Malhar as only Malhar thereby taking it for granted that Mia Malhar is the real raga called Malhar. Some suggest that the raga called Suddha Malhar is the typical Malhar. Some think that raga Malahari has come to be called Malhari and finally called Malhar or even Mallar. Very little is known regarding raga Malahari of Hindustani sangeet. (See Malahari) The following svara groups are accepted as indicating Malhar anga and are found to some extent in all varieties of Malhar.

रिप-ग्मरिस-निृष्नानिस.

Karnatak

There is no raga called only Malhar in Karnatak sangeet. There are ragas called Gouda Mallaru, Megha Mallaru etc., as in Hindustani sangeet. In Hindustani sangeet the Malhar anga is represented by certain groups of svaras like दि ५ - ए स दि स - मि भ नि स. But in Karnatak sangeet there are no such svara groups to indicate the Malhar or Mallaru anga.

MALIGAURA

Hindustani

This raga is also called Marugaura. Maligaura belongs to Marwa That (Gamanashrama). There are four types of Maligaura.

TYPE I

This type is the popular one. Its jati is Sampoorna—Sampoorna, Aroha and avaroha are:—

स - ज़ि द्गि-म ग द्स - द्प-मंध्य - मंगमंधमं - सं नि सं— जि द्सिं जि द्विधय S = मंध्यमं ग - मंध्या - ध S मंग - मंगमं -रिस

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Tivra Ma, both Komal and Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are:—

निष्, निष्, प्रसंघ्य - रिपर्मगरिसः Vadi is Ri. Samvadi is Pa.

This type of Maligaura is a mixture of Pooria and Shree ragas. Hence the use of both Komal and Tivra Dh. In archa Tivra Dh is used and it gives a Pooria chaya. In avaroha Komal Dh is used and along with Pa gives a Shree chaya. In Pooria chaya Pa is not used. Some are of the opinion that only one Dh which is neither Komal nor Tivra should be used. Due to difficulty in locating and rendering such a svara both Komal and Tivra Dh are used.

Halting svaras are Sa, Ga, and Pa. Halt should not be made on Dh. In this raga, poorvanga is prominent. Rendering of the raga is done mostly in mandra and madhya saptakas.

This is an evening raga. Compositions in this type of Maligaura are, Bhaja Shree Rama—Trital (Madhya). Nainan me Chabi—Ektal (Vilambit)—J. D. Patki.

TYPE II

TYPE III

In this type of Maligaura there is only Pooria anga. Only Tivra Dh is used as far as possible. Pa is used in avaroha only. Dh should not be used as ## ## ## because it will sound like Poorva Kalyan.

TYPE IV

In this type Dh is completely omitted. Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Aroha and avaroha are:

स हि गर्म प नि सं—सं नि पर्म ग हि स.

Karnatak

There are two ragas Maruvagaula and Maruvagauri. These names resemble the names Maligaura and Marugaura.

Maruvagaula is a janya of the 43rd Melakarta Gavambodhi (ra, gi, mi, dha, na) and Maruvagauri is a janya of the 46th Melakarta Shadvidhamargini (ra, gi, mi, dhi, ni). These ragas have no resemblance to any of the four types of raga Maligaura or Marugaura of Hindustani sangect. These ragas are unfamiliar ragas in Karnatak sangect.

Raga Mandari which is derived from the 52nd Melakarta Gamanashrama (Marwa That) resembles Type IV Maligaura. Aroha aad avaroha of raga Mandari are,

स दि य संप नि सं— सं नि प मंग दि सः

(See Mandari).

MALLIKAVASANTHAM

Hiodustant

There is no Hindustani raga called Mallikavasantham Aroha of this Karnatak raga consists of svaras of raga Tilang and avaroha of Bhairav.

Karnatak

We owe raga Mallikavasantham to Pallavi Shesha Iyer who composed the raga and also a kriti in this raga.

This raga is a janya of the 15th Melakarta Mayamalava-gaula (ra, gu, ma, dha, nu) which corresponds to Bhairav That of Hindustani. Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. In aroha Ri and Dh are omitted. Aroha and avaroha of Mallikavasantham are:—

स ग, मा प नि, सं—सं नि, धा प मा ग, रि, स.

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:

स स म प नि सं--सं नि भू प म ग दि स.

It is difficult to locate the groups of svaras or sancharas which suggest Vasantha. Aroha sounds like Gambhira Nata or SuddhaNata and avaroha is like Mayamalavagaula.

A composition in Mallikavasantham is;

Ne Neruganu Rama Nee Mahimalu (Telugu)-

Trisra Eka Tala--Pallavi Sesha Iyer.

Karnataka Jaganmohini resembles Mallikavasantham,

Jaganmohini—Dh is not used in avaroha. Ga is elongated in avaroha. (See Jaganmohini).

MALUHA KEDAR

Hindustani

This raga is also called Malava Kedar. Maluha Kedar belongs to Bilaval That. Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Ri is omitted in archa. In avarcha Ni is not used. Archa and avarcha of Maluha Kedar are:—

स - मग - प - धर्मप - निसं— संधप - मंपधप - गमपगम रि - निस्ध्रमु S - मृप्निसः,

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Komal Ni is sometimes used for ranjakatwa. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are: म हिस्स. म भू प्रमान प्राप्ति जिस्स. Vadi is Ma. Samvadi is Sa. Some suggest Pa as Vadi. It is considered by some that Ni may be used in avaroha also as से निक्स में प्र

This raga is formed by introducing angas of ragas Kamod and Shyama Kaiyan into Kedar. According to some Tivra Ma should not be used in Maluha Kedar. Even without Tivra Ma, the raga has its own beauty.

Tivra Ma is used as प्रश्नं पू or भू में पू. Komal Ni is occasionally touched as भ चि पू. Tivra Ma and Komal Ni may both be avoided or eliminated without loosing the ragabhava. Ga is taken in a vakra sanchara as म मि स.

Angas of component ragas of Maluha Kedar are:

Kedar:--- सम-मप-मगप-मंपघप-मंपघनिघए-पघ मपसं-मंपसंऽऽघप-पनिसंहिं,-संनिधप, Kamod-मपघ मंप-गमपनमहि-पनमहि. Shyam Kalyan---सऽहि-निऽस.

To the above the following are added in Mandra sthayee. They give the characteristic feature of Maluha Kedar.

स ८ घुपु स्८ - सु पु नि ५ सः

This raga has Dheera and Gambhira chalan. In alap svaras should be rendered with Gambhirata.

Rendering in mandra and madhya saptaks is very attractive. This raga is sung during second prahara of night. Compositions in this raga are:—

Krishna Murari Shyama Giridhari—Trital (Madhya). Javo Javo Ghara Shyama—Jhaptal (Madhya)

-J. D. Patki.

Dagara Chalata Mori-Trital (Madhya)

-Ajmat Hussain (Dilrang).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Maluha Kedar. No Karnatak raga resembles Maluha Kedar or Malaya Kedar of Hindustani.

MALUHA SARANG

Hindustani

This raga is a combination of Maluha Kedar and Sarang ragas. Its jati is Audava-Audava. In aroha Ga, and Dh are not used. In avaroha Ga and Ni are dropped. Svaras used are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani. Aroha and avaroha are:

Aroha consists of Sarang and avaroha of Maluha Kedar angas,

Chalan is mostly in mandra mand madhya saptaks. Trend or Chalan is as under:—

स - निस - निनिस - सरिम - निस - सरिऽस - घ्रम - मृप्-प्रति - निस - निनिस - सरिम - मनिरिस - घप - म

This raga is sung during midday. Svara groups in mandra sthayee have got the chaya of Maluha Kedar. A composition in Maluha Sarang is:—

Kaise Sajan Ghar Javoo-Teen Tal (Madhya).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Maluha Sarang nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

MAMATA or RAJ

Hindustani

This is a rare raga. It is said to have been invented by Swamy Sampoornanand. This seems to have been the opinion of Prof. Allauddin Khan of Maihar. This is evidently a modern raga.

Mamata is a mishra raga formed by the combination of Shankara and Yaman ragas. Some put this raga under Kalyan. That (Mechakalyani). Others place it under Bilaval That (Dheerasankarabharana). Jati of this raga is Audava-Audava-Ri and Ma are completely omitted in this raga. Aroha and avaroha of Mamata are:

स्राप्धनिसं--संनिध्यम्सः

All svaras used are Suddha svaras of Hindustani sangeet. Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Ni. Svaroop of Shankara is present in this raga in its poorvanga. Unlike Shankara there are no vakra sancharas in Mamata. This raga is impressive in madhya and tara saptakas.

In uttaranga it has the Yaman chaya. Want of Ma and Ri gives a different svaroop. It is particularly suited for compositions in vilambit laya. Meends $\sqrt{\pi}$ and $\sqrt{\pi}$ sound beautiful. In this raga gamaks are used in plenty.

Some think that Mamata is formed by a mixture of Shankara and Malashree. Prominent use of Dh in Mamata makes such a belief weak. In Malashree Dh is either completely omitted or it is weak or durbal.

This is a morning raga. A composition in Mamata is :—
Shyam Svaroop Bhujanga—Trital (Vilambit)
—Akhauri Suraj Narayan.

A raga introduced by Pandit Hamsa Raj under the name "Raj" in 1940 has got the same svaroop as Mamata.

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Mamata, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga,

MANAVATI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Manavati nor one which resembles this Karnatak raga.

Karnatak

Manavati is Melakarta No. 5 of Karnatak system (ra. ga, ma, dhi, nu). Its old name is Manoranjani. Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of Manavati are:—

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Suddha Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स दि दिम प घ नि सं — सं नि च प म दि दि सः

Tivra Ri (n) represents Suddha Ga of Karnatak sangeet.

Manavati is not a popular raga. The following composition in this raga is available:—

Yevarito Ne Delpudu Rama—(Telugu)—Adi Tala —Tyagaraja.

MANAVI

Hindustani

This is a rare raga. It belongs to Kafi That (Kharahara-priya). Its jati is Shadaya-Shadaya. Ma is omitted in both aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Manayi are:—

Svaras usediare Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni, Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Pa. Poorvanga has the chaya of raga Shivaranjini. There is a raga called Kolahas which has the same svaras as Manavi. But in Kolahas Vadi svara is Pa and Samvadi is Sa. This raga is sung during the last prahara of night. A composition in Manavi is:—

Aye Ri Ali Piya Bina Nahi Aye—Ek Tal (Vilambit)
—Kamalakantha Joshi.

Allied Hindustani ragas are Shivaraojini and Kolahas,

MANDARI

125

Shivaranjini—Ni is not used. (See Shivaranjini). Kolahas—Vadi is Pa. Samvadi is Sa. (See Kolahas).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Manavi in Karnatak sangeet. This is a pleasant raga which could be included among ragas of Kharaharapriya Melakarta.

MAND

Hindustani

This is a popular raga. It is also called Maud. Raga Mand belongs to Bilaval That (Dheerasankarabharana). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. This raga is characterised by a large No. of vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha which are:—

ः ्स - गरि-स - गप - - सध - पनिष्यं—संध - निप - ध स - प ग - सहि - गस्र.

Svaras used are all Suddha svaras of Hindustoni sangeet, Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Ma. Some suggest Pa as Samvadi. In aroha very often Ri and Ni are kept weak or durbal. Sometimes they are even omitted. If omitted then the aroha will sound like Nagasvaravali. Hence they are used atleast in vakra sancharas.

Mand is not considered to be a high class raga. But it is a very pleasing raga. It is particularly suited for Bhajans. This raga is very popular in Maharastra stage music. Mand can be sung at any time of day or night. (Sarvakala raga).

The following compositions are popular,

Kharato Prema-Marathi stage song from the play Manapaman.

Thakura Tava Sharana - Trital (Madhya) - Bhajan.

Karnatak

Hindustani raga Mand has gained popularity in the South. It is called Mand and is sung in the same style as in North India. It comes under the Melakarta Dheerasankarabharana which corresponds to Bilaval That (ri, gu, ma, dhi, nu).

Aroha and avaroha of this raga are :-

स ग्रामा प धः स—सं निष्य प्रमा ग दिः स.

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni.

According to Hindustani notation aroha and avaroha are:-

सगमपध्सं—संतिध्यमगहिस.

A composition in Mand is :--

Janaki Manoharam Bhaje Ham (Sanskrit)—Adi Tala
— Mysore, B. Vasudevachar.

MANDARI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Mandari. A type of Maligaura in which Dh is completely dropped resembles the Karnatak raga Mandari. Type of Maligaura in which Dh is omitted has the following aroha and avaroha, स दिस मंप नि सं— सं निप मंग दिस.

(See Maligaura).

Karnatak

In some books Mandari is put under Melakarta No. 50, Namanarayani, In this Melakarta Kaisiki Ni is used. Mandari as sung at the present day uses Kakali Ni As Dh is not used it can come under either of the two Melakartas, Kamavardhini or Gamanashrama. According to the proceedure adopted, for determining the Melakarta under which a raga should be placed, Mandari should come under the 51st Melakarta, Kamavardhini This is the decision arrived at by the Madras Music Academy also. But some put in under No. 52 Melakarta, Gamanashrama (ra, gu, mi, dhi, nu).

Jati of Mandari is Shadaya-Shadaya. Dh is not used. Aroha and ayaroha of Mandari are, स रि 1 म 2 प नि 3 सं — सं नि 3 प म 3 म 8 रिस.

MANIRANGU

127

Syaras used are Suddha Ri. Antara Ga, Prati Ma and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

सरियमं पनि सं—सं नियमं गरिस.

The following composition in raga Mandari is a popular one.

Ninnu Cheppa Karana Memi (Telugu)—Adi Tala —Pattanam Subramani Iyer.

MANGALA KAISHIKI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Mangala Kaishiki. This raga can be introduced into Hindustani sangeet under ragas of Bhairay That (Mayamalavagaula).

Karnatak

Mangala Kaishiki is a janya of the 15th Melakarta Mayamalavagaula (ra, gu, ma, dha, nu) which corresponds to Bhairav That of Hindustani. Mangala Kaishiki is of the following Types:—

1. Sampoorna—Sampoorna jati. 2. Shadava—Sampoorna jati with Ri omitted in aroha. 3. Shadava—Sampoorna jati with Ni omitted in aroha.

Aroha and avaroha of the above types are:

TYPE I

Sampoorna-Sampoorna with vakra sanchara in aroha :---

स्र हि, गु, म, ए स, गु, ए ध, नि, सं रू-सं नि, धः प म, गु, हि, स.

According to Hindustani notation they are :---

स रिगम प्रमाग प्रधानि सं—सं नि घ्रम स रिसः

TYPE 11

Shadaya-Sampoorna with Ri omitted in archa and with vakra sancharas in archa.

स मा गः मा प मा धा निः सं—सं निः धा प मा गः रिः स. According to Hindustani notation they are :---

MANIRANGU

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Manirangu. It is a pleasing raga which could be introduced to Hindustani sangeet under ragas of Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). It can form a type of Saranga.

Karnatak

Manirangu is derived from the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Kafi That. Jati of Manirangu is Audava-Shadava. Ga and Dh are omitted in aroha. In avaroha Dh is not used. Aroha and avaroha of Manirangu are:—

MANJH

स रि, मा प लि सं न सं नि प मा म द द रि, स.

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Suddha Ma, Sadharana Ga and Kaisiki Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स रिम प नि सं—सं दि प म ग् ऽ रिस.

In avaroha the elongated Ga gives a poculiar charm to Manirangu, Use of Ga makes this raga different from Madhyamavati. The following compositions in Manirangu are popular.

Ra Nidhi Radu (Telugu) — Adi Tala—Tyagaraja. Mamava Pattabhirama — (Sanskrit) — Misra Lagho Tala Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

Karnatak raga Pushpalatika has some resemblance to Manirangu. (See Pushpalatika)

MANJARI

Hindustani

Manjari is a rare raga. It belongs to Poorvi That (Kamavardhini). As extraneous svaras are freely used in this raga it is difficult to give its svaroop properly. Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ri is not used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Manjari are:

स्रस्म - माप-गर्मग - मंध्रसं- निसं— हिंगे हिंसे - संनिध्-हिंनि - ध्रप-पध्रग-मगर्स.

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tirra Ga, Komal and Tivra Ma, both Komal and Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups consist of:

These groups of svaras sound like Poorva Kalyan. But use of Komal Ma and Komal Dh changes the svaroop. Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Pa. Here and there. chayas of Hindol Mand and Sampoorna Bibhas are found.

Chalan of Manjari is as under :-

प - पष्य - पष्य - पर्यं गिर्स - सस - म - मप - मप ग -मंघ सं - हिं निष्य - मंग - पघग - मंग हि स - मंघ सं - हिं गें हिंसे -सं निष् - नि - मंगे हिसे - निसं - निष्य - पधग - मंग हिस.

Manjari is a morning raga. A composition in Manjari is:—

Bhora Bhayee Mohana Pyare—Jhaptal (Madhya).

Hindustani ragas Bhatiyari (one type), Hindol Pancham, Lalit Pancham, Basant Pancham and Lalitha (different from Lalit) resemble raga Manjari.

Hindustani raga Manjari has no resemblance to the Karnatak raga Manjari.

Karnatak

Manjari is a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Kafi That of Hindustani. Jati of Manjari is Sampoorna-Sampoorna with vakra sancharas of Ga and Ni in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Manjari are;—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

Excepting the Vakra sanchara ए निश्व दिसं in avaroha Manjari resembles Kharaharapriya very much. The following composition in raga Manjari is popular.

Patti Biduva Raru Na Cheyu (Telugu)-Adi Tala

-Tyagaraja.

MANJH

Hindustani

This is a rare raga and one which is difficult to render. This raga is a mixture of Mand, Khamaj and Bilaval ragas. Angas of above mentioned ragas are found as under:—

Mand— रिस - गरि - सग - सप - घप - निश्र सं. Khamaj— गमध नि सं - धमपमगरिस, Bilaval—निश्वपमग - गमपमग-रि-स-

Svaras used are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani sangeet. In this raga Ri is kept isolated. Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Dh. Commencement of the raga is as under:

सु-विध्स-स-सग-मग-प्रमग-ध्रम-गरि-स्रिस्-विष्म-

Chalan of raga Manjh is as under :---

A composition in this raga is :--Bahuta Bahuta Din Pacche-Ek Tal (Madhya).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Manjh, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

Raga Manji of the South has no resemblance to raga Manjh of North.

MANJI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Manji, nor one which resmbles this Karnatak raga.

Hindustani raga Manjh has no resemblance to the Karnatak raga Manji (See Manjh).

Raga Manji is a janya of the 20th Melakarta Natabhairavi (ri, gi, ma, dha, ni) which corresponds to Asavari That of Hindustani. There are two archas and avarohas suggested for this raga as under:—

1. Sampoorna-Sampoorna with a vakra sanchara in avaroha.

स रि ु ग ु म । प घ ु नि ु सं — सं नि ु घ ु प म । ग ु रि ु स.

According to Hindustani notation they are:-

2. Shadhava-Shadava :-- Dh is omitted.

According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha of Shadaya-Shadaya type are:—

स रिग्म प निसं—सं निप म ग्रिस.

Svaras used in both types are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, both Suddha and Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni.

The first type is popular. This type resembles the Karnatak raga Bhairavi very much. As in Bhairavi, Chatusruti Dh is used in archa. Hence this is also a Bhashanga raga like Bhairavi. This is a difficult raga. Hence alap and svara singing of this raga are attempted by only expert musicians. Compositions in this raga are very few. The following composition is however occasionally heard.

Brovamma Tamasa—(Telugu) -- Chapu Tala

-Syama Sastry

The second type corresponds to the raga Pushpalatika which is derived from the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya. (See Pushpalatika). There are no compositions in this type.

MARU BIHAG

Hindustani

Maru Bihag is said to have been introduced by late Ustad Allauddin Khan, the noted musician of Bombay. This raga is therefore a recent one.

Maru Bihag and Marga Bihag are two slightly different ragas. In Maru Bihag both Komal and Tivra Ma are used. In Marga Bihag only Tivra Ma is used.

Maru Bihag belongs to Kalyan That (Mechakalyani). Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ri and Dh are omitted in aroha Aroba and avaroba of Maru Bihag are;

ं or समगन्यस्य - पनिसं— निर्देनिध - पर्मगन्संगन्सम्य रिस-तिसम 5

र्द कि छ द मंग - मंग हिस - रिनिस - म 5-

141

Svaras are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga both Suddha and Parti Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are सम ऽऽ ग - ग मं - प नि घप - मंग मंग से ग रिस नि म ऽऽ. Use of Suddha Ma as नि स म ऽऽ and use of Prati Ma as मंग मंग न मंग रिस are features of this raga. They give a special charm and individuality to Maru Bihag.

Vadi is Ga and Samadi is Ni. Sometimes both Madhyams are used side by side as प्रमान . But the svara group एमं न मा जांड not used as that becomes Bihag. Maru Bihag is a combination of Bihag in aroha and Kalyan in avaroha. It is sung with Bihag anga. Why it is called Maru Bihag is not known. It has nothing to do with Marwa as is known from its swaroop. It has sringara rasa. Thi raga is sung in the night. Compositions in this raga are:

Rasiya Ho Na Ja-Ektal - (Vilambit).

Brija Juvati-Trital (Madhya)-S. N. Ratanjankar.

Hindustani ragas Marga Bihag and Bihag resemble Maru Bihag.

Marga Bihag—Only Tivra Ma is used. (See Marga Bihag) Bihag—Komal Ma is more important. Svara group ए मं प s दिश्र is not used with Prati Ma in a straight way (See Bihag).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga cailed Maru Bihag. Karnatak raga Bihag has some resemblence to Maru Bihag. But it resembles raga Bihag and Bihagada of Hindustani sangeet more than Maru Bihag. (See Bihag).

MARUVA or MARWA Hindustani

Maruva or Marwa is a very popular Hindustani raga. It is the most important raga of Marwa That. Hence it is called the Ashraya raga of Marwa That (Gamanasrama). Jati of Maruva is Shadava Shadava. Pa is omitted. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are;

सर्ड-समंघड-निधसं--ह्ड-निघड-मंगर्ड-म

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Tivra Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are, भ उसंग हि उ- ग संग - हि उस. Vadi is Ri and Samvadi Dh. Sangatis हि भ उ and सं भ उ are very pleasing. Halts on Ri. and Dh give a characteristic charm to this raga. In raga Marwa Ni should not be given prominence to as it will produce a Poorya effect. While singing this raga Sa of Tara saptak is not taken at once. Raga is sung without using tara Shadja for some time. After keeping the audience in expectation for sometime, tara Shadja is reached. Tanas in this raga end mostly on svara Ri. Important svaras in this raga are Ri, Dh and Ga in order of importance.

Marwa is sung during the last prahara of the day. Popular compositions in Marwa are :

Piya More Anatha - Trital (Vilambit).

Suna Suna Batiya—Trital (Madhya),

Hindustani ragas Pooriya and Sohani have great resemblance to Marwa.

Poorya-Vadi is Ga. Samvadi is Ni. (See Pooriya)

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Suddha Ma and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:

म म स रि रिम-रिस-निृप-सनिृनिृसः Repeated use स स स

म म म of Ri with grace note of Ma as शि हि शि is beautiful. Tivra Ni is used in archa and Komal Ni in avarcha. Sometimes both are used side by side as प नि नि से. Sometimes only Komal Ni is used in this raga without Tivra Ni even in archa, Sangati स रि प is introduced to create a Malhar effect.

Vadi is Sa. Samvadi is either Pa or Ma.

TYPE II

Aroha and avaroha of type II are:

This type sounds more like Brindavani Sarang than the type I although svaras used in both are the same. While singing Megh or Megh Malhar it is necessary to clearly bring out the difference between this raga and the closely allied ragus Brindavani Saranga and Madhumad Saranga.

This is done by using R R R R R and by halting on Ni in mandra saptak as R R R or R R. Halt is made on Ma so that it may sound different from Sarangas. Sanchara in mandra sthayee is another point to be remembered. Use of two Nishadas side by side as q R R R also enables one to give an individuality to this raga. Sanchara of this raga is as under:—

म म हिस रिस-निष्-निस-रि-मिरिप-रिम रिसं। म स म म म रि- रिमरिस-निष्-स-स रिटि रिमम-रिस रि-म रिसन्ष्-मणसं-निषमरिसः।

मप न् . सं - सं - रिंसं - नि सं रिंसं - नि प - सं - नि प नि म रिसरिसं

Compositions in raga Megh Malhar are:

Nachata Nanda Kishora—Dhamar

--- S. N. Ratanjankar.

Umanda Ghumanda Me-Jhaptal (Madhya).

Neela Gaganame—Trital (Madhya)—S. N. Mahadkar. Hindustani ragas Brindavani Sarang and Madhumad Sarang resemble the two types of Megh Malhar.

Brindavani Sarang:— दि दि दिस्ति is not used. Both Nishads are not used as प नि तिस. Sanchara is not prominent in Mandra Saptak. Halt is not made on Ma (See Brindavani Sarang).

स म स

Madhumad Sarang:— रि हिम रिस is not used. प दि क्रिस with two Nishads side by side is not usad. Halt is not made on Ma. (See Madhumad Sarang).

Karnatak

There is a raga called Megh Malhar in Karnatak sangeet.

This raga is a janya of 52nd Melakarta Ramapriya (ri, gu, mi, dhi, ni). Jati of Megha Mallaru is Shadava—Sampoorna with a vakra sanchara in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of this raga according to Hindustani notation are:—

स गर्म प ध नि सं-- सं नि ध प मं गर्म रि स.

Karnatak raga Megha Mallaru has no resemblance to the Hindustani raga Megh or Megh Mallar. Megha Mallaru is a rare raga. It is a pleasing one and deserves to be popularised, Karnatak ragas Brindavani Sarang and Madhyamavati have resemblance to Megh or Megh Malhar of Hindustani sangeet. These two Karnatak ragas are identical with Brindavani Sarang and Madhumad Sarang of Hindustani sangeet.

There is a raga called Megharaga in Karnatak sangeet. Although it is not a well known raga It is an interesting and pleasing raga and deserves to be popularised. Megharagam is a janya of the 13th Meiakarta Gayakapriya (ra, gu, ma, dha, na). Jati of Megharaga is Shadava—Shadava with vakra sanchara in aroha. Ga is omitted in this raga. Aroha and avaroha of Megharaga are:—

Svaras used are Suddha Ri. Suddha Ma, Suddha Ni, and Suddha Dh. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avaroha are:—

Tivra Dh (s) represents Suddha Ni of Karnatak sangeet. This Suddha Ni gives a peculiar beauty to the raga.

This is a rare raga. There are no compositions in this raga.

MEGHARANJI or MEGHARANJINI

Hindustani

Megharanji or Megharanjini belongs to Bhairav That (Mayamalavagaula). Its jati is Audava-Audava. Pa and Dh are omitted completely. Aroha and avaroha of Megharanjini are:—

निहिंग-स-हिंगसऽ-निऽ-सं—ॉर्स-निऽ-सग-सहि। स-निहिंगसऽ

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma and Tivra Ni. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. This raga is sung during the third prahara of night. Sangathis स म and मि म are used giving a charming effect. Ni and Ma are elongated and are pleasing. Some musicians introduce Prati Ma to give a Lalitha effect as under:— नि रि ग म म म न रि ग. Even without the use of Prati Ma Megharanji has a chaya of Lalit This raga is appealing when sung in vilambit laya. Megharanji or Megharanjini is a rare raga. But it is a pleasing one. The following compositions are available:—

Danava Dalana Dheera—Jhaptal (Madhya)

-S. N. Ratanjankar.

Basa Basaye Ho Piya Ki Angana—Ek Tal (Vilambit). Hindustani raga Lalit resembles Megharanjini.

Lalit: Dh is used. Both Suddha and Prati Ma are used. Ni is not elongated (See Lalit).

Karnatak

Megharanji or Megharanjini is a Janya of the 15th Melakarta Mayamalavagaula (ra, gu, ma, dha, nu) which corresponds to Bhairav That of Hindustani sangeet. Megharanji is an Audava-Audava raga. Pa and Dh are omitted completely. Aroha and avaroha of Megharanji are:—

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:

From the above aroba and avaroba it will be seen that the Karnatak raga Megharanji or Megharanjini resembles the Hindustani raga of same name. In the Karnatak raga Prati Ma however is never used. In aroba Ni is clongated more than Ma. Megharanji is not a popular raga. The following composition is available.

Smara Bhumi Sutadhipam (Sanskrit) – Adi Tala —Mysore Vasudevaehar.

MELADALAN

Hindustani

Meladalan and Thatavidhwamsa are pseudonames which Acharya Brahaspati who is popularising the raga has given to the raga the identity of which Acharya wants to keep unpublished for certain reasons. He points out however that it is an ancient raga which he wants to bring into life again.

Meladalan means destroying Mela or That. Thatavidhwamsa also conveys the same meaning. They break the existing rules regarding Melas or Thats.

In both Hindustani and Karnatak systems Thats or Melas are Sampoorna ragas in both aroha and avaroha. Both Suddha and Prati Ma cannot be present in the same That. Both of them cannot be present side by side in either aroha or avaroha.

It has been pointed out by some musicologists that a series of Melas or Thats in which Pa is eliminated and substituted by Prati Madhyama is possible. Hindustani raga Lalit is such a one and is a very popular one. In this series in which Prati Madhyama is substituted for Panchamas 36 Thats or Melas are possible.

Raga Meladalan of Acharya Brihaspati is derived from one of these Panchama varjita—Dwi Madhyamayuta Thats or Melas,

In raga Meladalan there are six svaras in aroha and six in avaroha containing Prati Ma as a separate svara representing Pa. Hence its jati is Shadava-Shadava. In the aroha Ri is omitted. In avaroha Ni is omitted, Aroha and avaroha of this raga are:

स गुम में धृ नि सं—संधृ में म गृ हि सु.

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Komal Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Komal Dh and Komal Ni.

Vadi is Sa. Samvadi is Suddha Ma. There is andolan on Tivra Ma. In the group of svaras म म भू म म the meend स म भू य sounds like the svara group स दि म् of raga Todi. Descending from Sa to Prati Ma and then halting on Suddha Ma creates an effectlike "भू 5 ए" of Bhairay.

While singing this raga, the Pa wire of the tamboora should be tuned to Ma. This creates a very pleasing effect and gives a peculiar bhava to the raga.

MIA MALHAR

In all the 36 Melas where Pa is omitted and Prati Ma takes the place of Pa the luning of the tamboora should be as suggested above. While singing Hindustani raga Lalit this is invariably done.

This raga is appealing when sung in Vilambit Laya.

Being a new raga, the svaroop of which is not properly understood, it has yet to gain currency. A composition in this raga is:—

Nada Sindhu Athaha Hai--Tevra Tal--Khyal and Dhrupad--Acharya Brahaspati-

Karnatak

There is no raga called Meladalan or Thatadhwamsa. There are no ragas in Karnatak sangeet in which the two Madhyams occurs side by side and in which Pa is replaced by Prati Ma. A scheme of thirty six such ragas is possible. Raga Meladalan described above sounds like Karnatak Todi or Hindustani Bhairavi in which Pa is replaced by Prati Ma giving rise to a raga having the following aroha and avaroha.

स दि्गृस मं घृ निृसं---सं क् ध्रमं म ग् रिस

MIA MALHAR

Hindustani

Mia Malhar is supposed to have been invented by Mia Tansen. Some doubt this. It is contended that this raga existed before Tansen and that it was merely called Malhar. Even now some like to call it merely Malhar.

This is a very popular raga and is considered to be a high class one like Durbari Kanada, Maikosh etc. Mia Malhar is put under Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). Jati of this raga is Shadava-Shadava. In aroha Ga is omitted and in avaroha Dh is dropped. Atoha and avaroha of Mia Malhar are:

स ८ - म रि ५ - प - ति ़ ५ घ ८ - ति ६ सं—सं नि्प - म ग्ऽ - म ग्ऽ -म - प म स ५ रि ५ - सः

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Pakad or diagnostic svaras are:—

रिमरिस - नि्पमप - नि्च निसं - प - न् 5 मरिस and also मरिप - मग् 5 म न् 5 - म - पम मरि 5 स - नि नि स.

Regarding the Vadi svara, there is difference of opinion. Some suggest Pa. some Ma and some others Sa. Some suggest Sa as Samvadi. Other suggest Pa. Sangati नि मांड used frequently. Use of both Nishads as नि द स नि द सं or प नि द नि द सं and सं नि मि म प is a feature of this raga. Svara group स द प स स द रि द स sounds beautiful. Alapana of this raga in Mandra saptak is very impressive. Some musicians make use of Dh in avaroha also. But this will create confusion as chaya of Durbari Kanada is likely to creep in,

This raga is sung between 9 p.m. and 12 p.m. It is a seasonal raga (Mosami raga) and is sung during the rainy season.

Compositions in this raga are:

Karim Nam Tero-Ektal-Vilambit.

Sadho Manaka Man Tyago-Trital - Guru Nanak.

Ragas Bahar and Durbari Kanada have so many sancharas and chayas of Mia Malhar in them that it is difficult to sing these ragas immediately after singing Mia Malhar.

Durbari Kanara—Only Komal Ni is used. Dh is prominent in ayaroha (See Durbari Kanada).

Bahar -- Both Nishads are not used side by side. Sangathi # # 5 is prominent. (See Bahar).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Maihar or Mia Maihar. There are various other Maihars like Gouda Mailar etc.,

Karnatak raga Kanada which is a janya of the 22nd Melakarta, Kharaharapriya (Kafi That) has resemblance to Mia

MIRABAI KI MALHAR

Maihar in many sancharas. Tivra Ni not used prominently in Karnatak raga Kanada. But touches of Tivra Ni are unavoidable and do exist. Aroha and avaroha of Kanada are:—

स रिग्मयस घ ऽ न्स्ं — सं न्यिस घ ऽ न्धियस ग्ऽ र स रिस. . (See Kanada)

MIAKI SARANG

Hindustani

This tare raga is formed by combining Brindavani Sarang and Mia Maihar ragas. It belongs to Kafi That (Kharahara-priya). Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. Ga is completely left out. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are, स - निष्य निष्य किस - सि - म रि - म प - निष्य से निसं — सं -निष्य निष - घप - म रि - प म रि - स.

Balamuya Mora-Tilwada (Vilambit)

-Jayasuklal T. Shah.

Bana Bana Dhoondana-Trital (Madhya)

-Jayasuklal T. Shah.

Hindustani raga Mia Malhar is closely allied to Miaki sarang.

Mia Malhar-Ga is used prominently. Vakra sanchara दिश्व से नि सं is not found. (See Mia Malhar)

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Mia Ki Sarang, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

MIRABAI KI MALHAR

Hindustani

This is not a well known raga. Some say that this raga was invented by Mira Bai of fame. But it is believed by others that Meera Bai who composed this raga was the daughter of Ramdas Naik, a famous musician. This raga belongs to to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). Its jati is Sampoorna—Sampoorna. Archa and avaroha are:

म - रि - स रि नि स - ग् - म रि ए - नि्ध नि सं---सं ध - नि्प - म पग म - रि स पथ म प - गु - स रि स्

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, both Komal and Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Komal and Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni.

Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are:

म रिस रि निस - ग - म रिप - निध निसं च - निप - म ग म - रि म प च म प. Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Sa. This is a raga for the rainy season, when it could be sung at any time. During other seasons it is sung in the night. Although both Gandharas are used, use of Komal Ga is more prominent. Tivra Ga is used as म ग म - म प म म and Komal Ga in a vakra way as ग - म रिप in aroha. Svara group रिम प म प is used in aroha also. Tivra Dh is more prominent than Komal Dh. It is used in a straight way in aroha as च नि स and also as intermediate svaras in रिम घ म प. Komal Dh is used in avaroha in a vakra way as स घ ट नि स This kind of Malhar is formed by combining the ragas Mia Malhar and Adana. A composition in this raga is,

Tum Ghanse Ghan Garaje-Choutal (Vilambit).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Mirabai ki Malhar nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

MOHANA

Hipdustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Mohana. Hindustani raga Bhoop or Bhoopali (not Bhupala) has great resemblance to Mohana of Karnatak. Aroha and avaroha of Bhoop are:

MOHANANATA

स रिग प घ सं—संघ व ग रिस.

(See Bhoop)

As Vadi and Samvadi restrictions are not strictly observed while singing Karnatak ragas, raga Mohana also sounds like ragas Deshkar and Jait Kalyan of Hindustani sangeet. They use the same notes as Bhoop in both aroha and avaroha. (See Deshkar and Jait Kalyan).

Karnatek

Mohana is a very popular raga. It is derived from the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Khamaj That. Its jati is Audava-Audava. Ma and Ni are not used. Aroha and avaroha of Mohana are:

Svaras used are Chaiusruti Ri, Antara Ga, and Chaiusruti Dh. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:

सं रिगप ध सं—सं घप गरिस.

Antara Ga is the jeeva svara of Mohana. Mohana has veera rasa and it is a very popular raga on the stage for expressing anger, challenge etc., There are many compositions in this raga. The following are very popular.

Nanupalimpa Nadachi (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja. Ra Ra Rajeevalochana (Telugu)—Adi Tala

-Mysore B. Vasudevachar.

Karnatak raga Mohana resembles the Hindustani raga Bhoop or Bhopali (not Bhoopala) very closely.

MOHANA KALYANI

Hindustani

This raga corresponds to Bhoop Kalyan or Suddha Kalyan of Hindustani. Aroha and avaroha of Bhoop Kalyan or Suddha Kalyan are, स रिग प अ सं—सं नि घ प मं ग रि म.

(See Suddha Kalyan)

Karnatak

Mohana Kalyani is put under the 65th Melakarta Mecha Kalyani (ri, gu, mi, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Kalyan That of Hindustani sangeet.

This raga is formed by the combination of the two very popular ragas, Mohana and Kalyani. Aroha has svaras of Mohana. Avaroha has those of Kalyani. Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ma and Ni are omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Mohana Kalyani are:

स रि. गः प भः सं--सं नि. भः प मः गः रि. स.

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avaroha are:

स रिग प ध सं— सं नि घ प मं ग नि व्य.

Mohana Kalyani which resembles Suddha Kalyan of North is not as popular. The following composition however is sometimes heard.

Bhuvanesvari Alita Manasa (Kanarese)-Adi Tala
-L. Muthiah Bhagayatar.

MOHANANATA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Mohananata. This is an interesting raga and can be introduced into Hindustani sangeet. Its aroha and avaroha are:

स ग् इ म प घ् प म प नि सं — सं नि प घू प म गु स.

This raga resembles Kokil Pancham of Hindustani. In Kokil Panchama however Ni is not used in either aroha or avaroha. Hindustani Kokil Pancham resembles Karnatak raga Prabhupriya very closely.

Karontak

Mohananata is a janya of the 9th Melakarta Dhenuka (ra, gi, ma, dha, nu). Its jati is Shadava-Shadava. In aroha and avaroha Ri is not used. Its aroha and avaroha are:

स्र तः ऽ सः प अः प मः प निः सं—सं निः प अः प सः तः सः

There are vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. Svaras used are Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the archa and avarcha arc:

संगुऽसप ध्यम प नि सं—सं निप ध्यम गुस.

This is a pleasing raga although not popular. A composition in this raga is:

Mohananata Ragapriye Lalithe (Sanskrit)-Adi Tala -Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

Raga Prabhupriya resembles Mohananata,

Prabhupriya - Ni is not used. (See Prabhupriya).

MOOLTANI

Hindustani

This is a very popular raga. Mooltani belongs to Todi That (Subhapantuvarali). Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. In aroba Ri and Dh are omitted. Aroba and avaroba of Mooltani are:

निस - गुर्म प - निसं—संतिधूप - मंगुहिसः

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Komal Ga, Prati Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or raga chaya svara groups are:

निस - मंग्रपग्मेष - मंग्रमंग्रपन् - र्सः

Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Sa. Halting swaras in this raga are Sa, Pa and Ni. Ri, Ga and Dh should not be brought into prominence. Otherwise it will sound like Todi Raga. Repetition of the svara group संग् as संग्मंग् sounds beautiful in this raga. Svara group निस्म should be used and not नि रि ग्म. The latter group is used in Todi raga. Ga is taken with Tivra Ma as its grace note— η . But Todi raga uses हि में straight मू or ग and not ग.

This raga is a Paramela Prayeshak raga. It is sung during the last prahara of the day.

MOORATI

Popular compositions are:

Gokula Gay—Jhumra Tal (Vilambit).

Sundara Surajanava—Teen Tal (Madhya).

Hindustani ragas Todi and Madhuvanti resemble Mooltani.

Todi—Halting svaras are Ri, Ga, and Dh. Kan of Prati Ma is not given to svara Ga. Svara group कि रि π # is used (See Todi).

Madhuvanti-Ri is Tivra (See Madhuvanti).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Mooltani in Karnatak sangeet.

There is a raga called Gamakasamantha which is a janya of the 45th Melakartha Shubhapantuvarali. (ri, gi, mi, dha, nu). Thir raga resembles the Hindustani raga Mooltani in its aroha and avaroha svaras. It is an Audava-Sampoorna raga. Aroha and avaroha of Gamakasamantha are.

सग्रभ्य निर्ध-संनिर्धापम्या, री. स.

According to Hindustani notation they are.

स गुर्म पनि सं— संविध पर्म ग्रिस.

Gamakasamantha is not popular in the South and there are no compositions in this raga.

MOORATI

Hindostani

This is not a well known raga. This is said to be a kind of Kanara, Moorati belongs to Asavari That. (Natabhairavi), Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ri and Dh are omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Moorati are:

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, both Komal and Tivra Ga. Suddha Ma, Komal Dh and Komal Ni. Tivra Ga is used in aroha and Komal Ga in avaroha. Vadi is Ma and Samyadi Sa. This raga is sung during the last prahara of the night. A composition in this raga is:

Kahe Na Bole -Ektal (Vilambit)-Balaram Roy.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Mootati in Karnatak sangeet, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

MOTKI

Hindustani

This raga which is put under Bhairay That (Hanumatodi) is actually a mixture of Thats. In this Rishabs are two, Dhaivats are two, Gandharas are two and Nishads are also two. Only Suddha Ma is used. Chalan of this raga is as under.

This is a rare raga. A composition in this raga is, Mohana Liya Mana Sakhi—Jhaptal (Madhya).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Motki, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

MUDRIKA KANARA

Hindustani

This raga is also called Mangala Kanada,

This is a rare raga about which there is difference of opinion. Its jati is Audava-Samporna. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are;

म अ अ सम-ग्मन्धि-निसं—संवि्धप⊦मपभ गृग् रि

म रिस

In archa Ri and Pa arc not used. Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Pa. In archa svaras Sa and Ma found together as स म give a touch of Bahar. Tivra Dh gives a chaya of Shahana. This raga is for the night. Chajan of this raga is as under:

सम-मप-मपध ग् ग्-मरिस्

Compositions in this type of Mudrika Kanada are:

Jab Te Shyama Sarana Ho Payo — Teen Tal (Madhya). Haro Mero Dukha — Jhap Tal.

This type of Mudrika Kanada sounds like Bageshree in which Pa is used, (See Bageshree).

In another type of Mudrika Kanara Ri and Pa are used in aroha also. In avaroha Ma is kept weak. Meend \sqrt{s} is taken. Compositions in this type are:

Vegi Tum Karma Karo—Choutal. Ayo Phaguna Mas Sakhi—Dhamar.

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Mudrika Kanada, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

MUKHARI

Hindustani

There is no raga called Mukhari in Hindustani sangeet, Raga Mukhari which is from the South is obtained by combining svaras of Kafii That in aroha and those of Asavari Thats in avaroha. In aroha Ga should be omitted. It will then have for its aroha and avaroha, स रिम द ध नि ध सं—सं नि ध प म गूरिस.

Vakra sanchara in aroha as भ नि च सं should be remembered.

Karnatak

Mukhari is a popular Karnatak raga. It is a janya of the 22 nd. Melakarta Kharaharapriya (ri, gi, ma, dhi, ni,) which corresponds to Kafi That of Hindustani. Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. Ga is omitted in aroha. There is vakra sanchara in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Mukhari are:

स रि. म. प धः नि. धः सं—सं नि. धः प म. ग. रि. स.

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, both Suddha and Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. Suddha Dh is used in aroha. Chatusruti Dh is used in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Mukhari according to Hindustani notation are,

स रिम पध निष्यसं — सं निष्य पम ग्रिसः

Svara groups निष्स - रिम ऽ ग्डरि - सपधनिसं - निष्प - . सग्रिस. are characteristic of this raga.

This raga has shoka and karuna rasas. Popular compositions in this raga are:

Yema Ninne Telusu (Telugu) Adi Tala-

Subbarama Dikshitar.

Kshinamai Tiruga (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja. Yenta Ninnevarnintunu Shabari (Telugu)

-Rupaka Tala-Tyagaraja.

Mukhari is a Bhashanga raga. It employs Suddha Dh in avaroha which is not found in the melakarta Kharaharapriya. It is interesting to compare Mukhari with Bhairavi which is also a Bhashanga raga.

According to Dikshitar school, there are two types of Mukhari.

TYPE I

It is a Janya of the 18th Melakarta Kanakangi (ra, ga, ma, dha, na). Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ga and Ni are omitted in archa. Archa and avarcha of this type of Mukhari are:—

स दि, मा प घा सं—सं ति। धा प सा गा रि। सः

Svaras used are Suddha svaras of Karnatak sangeet. According to Hindustani notation they are, स र्मिप इसं--संघ द्वम रिहिस.

In above Tivra Ri represents Suddha Ga (π_1) and Tivra Dh represents Suddha Ni of Karnatak system.

A composition in this type of Mukhari is, Ganapriya Munijana—Dhruva Tala—Lakshanageet —Venkatamakhi

TYPE II

It is a Janya of Natabhairavi. Its jati is Audava—Sampoorna. In aroha Ga and Ni are omitted Aroha and avaroha are:—

स रि॰ मा प अ। से — स नि॰ घा प मा ग॰ रि॰ स According to Hindustani notation they are :—

सरिमपध्सं--संत्ध्यमग्रिस.

A composition in this type of Mukhari is,
Pahimam Ratnachalanayaka (Sanskrit) – Adi Tala...
Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

NABHKAUNS

Hindustani

We owe this raga to Shri Sunil Kumar Bose. It is a combination of two popular ragas Malkauns and Chandrakauns. Its archa consists of syaras of Malkauns and avaroha of those of Chandrakauns. The use of both Komal and Tivra Ni sometimes consecutively gives an individuality and an appeal, Its jati is Audava-Audava. Ri and Pa are not used. Archa and avaroha are:

स ग्म इ नि सं— सं निृ घृम गृस.

Svaras used are Komal Ga, Suddha Ma and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Tivra Ni is used in aroha and Komal Ni in avaroha. Sometimes both Nishads are used as नि न and कि नि म् . These prayogas create a peculiar effect. Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Dh. The following svara groups form the Pakad of this raga:

NADABRAMHA

NATA BHAIRAV

Hindustani

Nata Bhairav has the anga of Nat in poorvanga and of Bhairav in uttaranga. It is rendered mostly with Bhairav anga. But only Tivra Ri is used. Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroba and avaroba of Nata Bhairay are:—

स - रिगमप घृति सं— सं नि भूपमग दिस

Svaras used are Tivra Ri. Tivra Ga, Suddba Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. Vadi is Ri and Samvadi Pa. This is a morning raga. Nata Bhairav is not a popular raga. Some instrumentalists render this frequently these days. Compositions in Nata Bhairav are:—

More Nanda Lal Ab-Ektal (Vilambit)—"Sudhara". Nainana Barasata - Trital (Madhya)—"Sudhara."

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Nata Bhairay. There is a raga called Nata Bhairayi which has no resemblance to Nata Bhairay of Hindustani sangeet. Nata Bhairayi has resemblance to Jeevanpuri of North.

Karnatak raga Sarasangi which is the 27 th Melakarta of Karnatak system has the same aroha and avaroha of Nata Bhairay. Aroha and avaroha of Sarasangi according to Hindustani potation are:—

सरिगमपधानिसं—संनिध्यमगरिसः

(See Sarasangi)

NATABHAIRAVI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Natabhairavi. Raga Nata Bhairav of North has no resemblance to the Karnatak raga Natabhairavi. Natabhairavi Melakarta corresponds to Asavari That. Raga Natabhairavi resembles the Hindustani raga Jeevanpuri which belongs to Asavari That. In Natabhairavi Ga is not left out in aroha (See Asavari and Jeevanpuri).

Karnatak

Natabhairavi is the 20th Melakarta (ri, gi, ma, dha, ni). It corresponds to Asavari That of Hindustani. According to Dikshitar school Natabhairavi is called Nariritigaula. Natabhairavi is a very important Melakarta. It has many derivatives or janya ragas. Aroha and avaroha of this Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga are:—

स रि $_1$ ग $_2$ म $_1$ प ध $_1$ नि $_2$ सं-सं नि $_2$ घ $_1$ प म $_1$ ग $_2$ रि $_2$ स

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh, and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:—

स वि ग्रम प घ नि सं — सं नि घूप स ग्रिस

Care should be taken not to use Prati Ma. It will otherwise become Shanmukhapriya. Many sancharas of Natabhairavi are also found in Shanmukhapriya.

Although many ragas derived from Natabhairavi are popular the parent raga itself is not so. The following composition is available in this raga.

Parulu Seva (Telugu)-Rupaka Tala-

Ramnad Sreenivasa Iyengar.

Hindustani raga Jeevanpuri resembles Natabhairavi and has become popular in the South as Jeevanpuri.

Jeevanpuri - Ga is not used in aroha. (See Jeevanpuri).

NATA BIHAG

Hindustani

Nata Bihag belongs to Bilaval That (Dheerasankarabharana). There are two types of Nata Bihag.

- Shadaya-Sampoorna,
- 2. Shadaya-Shadaya.

Shadava Sampoorna Type

In Shadava-Sampoorna type Dh is omitted in archa. Archa and avarcha of this type are:

स विगम - प नि नि सं संति घप - गम - नि घप म ग - म ग विसः

Both Nishads are used. Other svaras are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani sangeet. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are:

Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Ma. Some suggest the reverse arrangement. With Komal Ni, Nata Bihag sounds like Bihagada. Hence some do not use Komal Ni But it is more pleasing with Komal Ni. Sometimes Tivra Ma is touched for ranjakatva. This raga is sung in the night. Compositions in this type of Nata Bihag are:

Mohana Chalo Chalo Kadamba Ko-Teen Tal

(Madhya).

Jham Jham Payala Baje-Trital (Madhya)

Hindustani raga Bihagada is allied to Nata Bilaval of above type.

Bihagada: — Tivra Ma is prominently used. (See Bihagada).
Shadava: Sampoorna Type

In this type Dh is not used at all. Archa and avarcha of this type are:

ध सस-ति-रि-गस-पसं-निसं—रिं-संनिप-सं-सं-प्रम सग-रि-स्.

This is not a commonly sung type.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Nata Bihag in Karnatak sangeet. Raga Bihag of South resembles Nata Bihag and Bihagada ragas (See Bihag). Karnatak raga Kedara has some resemblance to the Shadava-Shadava type of Nata Bihag of North. Aroha and avaroha of Karnatak raga Kedara are as under:—

समगमपनिसं—संनिपमगिस्स.

(See Kedara).

NATA KEDAR

NATA BILVAL

Hindustani

Nata Bilaval belongs to Bilaval That (Dheerasankara-bharana). Its Jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna.

Aroha and avaroha of Nata Bilaval are:-

स - रिगमप - नि - धित सं (Sampoorna) ा सगमग - मपम -धिन सं (Shadava) — सं - नि ध - नि प - म दग - रिग - रिस ा मग -म रि - स

In aroha Ri is sometimes omitted thus making it a Shadava aroha. Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komal and Tivra Ni. In this raga the group of n n q gives it a chaya of Chayanat. In avaroha Ma is kept elongated as a fig u - fig q - n s. Svara groups with with Komal Ni sounds like Khamaj. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. This raga is sung in the morning.

Nata Bilaval is formed by combining ragas Nat and Bilaval in poorvanga and uttaranga respectively. Compositions in this raga are:—

Aj Nava Nagari—Jhaptal (Madhya). Kouna Kisamaki Unaki—Trital (Madhya).

_J, Bannerjee.

Hindustani raga Shukla Bilaval resesembles Nata Bilaval.
Shukla Bilaval:— Svara group रिगर म is used and not रिगर प (See Shukla Bilaval).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Nata Bilaval nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

NATAKAPRIYA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Natakapriya. Natakapriya is obtained by combining Bhairavi in poorvanga and Kafi in uttaranga. The combination will have the following aroha and avaroha.

स दिशुम - पध निसं— सं दि ध प - म गुरिसः

Natakapriya is Melakarta No. 10 of Karnatak sangeet (ra, gi, ma, dhi, ni). According to Dikshitar school it is called Natabharana. Aroha and avaroha of this Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga are:—

स रि, गः, मः प धः, नि, सं—सं नि, धः, प म, रि, स.

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation they are:—

Idi Samayamu Brovarada (Telugu)—Rupaka Tala
— Mysore, B. Vasudevachar.

NATA KEDAR

Hindustani

Nata Kedar is different from Kedar Nat (See Kedar Nat). Nata Kedar may be put under Bilaval That—just as Bihagalthough in both these Prati Ma is used. Its jati is Shadava—Sampoorna. Ni is omitted in archa. Ri is vakra in archa. Archa and avarcha of Nata Kedar are:

स रिसम - मगप - पथप सं--- सं तिथप- मंप थप म - मगम रिस.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Although Ni is omitted in aroha it is taken when rendering rapid tanas. Pakad or "raga vachak" syara groups are स्म. गम. पमा दिस. Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Pa. Nata Kedar is sung during the second prahara of night.

Nata Kedar is formed by fusion of ragas Nat and Kedar. Auga of Nat is म ग म दि स. Anga of Kedar is मं प घ प म.

Nata Kedar is a very pleasing raga. But it is difficult to render it properly.

Compositions in Nata Kedar arc: +

Mat Kar Bhaiti—Tilvada (Vilambit).

Ek Din Brijame—Ek Tal (Drut).

Nata Kedar is different from Kedar Nat.

Kedar Nat:—Komal Ni is also used. Tivra Ma is not used. (See Kedar Nat).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Nat Kedar. There is a raga called Kedara Nata (See Kedara Nata). There is no Karnatak raga which resembles Nata Kedar of Hindustani sangeet.

NATAKURANJI

Hindustani

This raga is also called Natakuranjika. This Karnatak raga in a modified form is gaining popularity in Hindustani sangeet also. Natakuranji or Natakuranjika is put under Khamaj That (Harikambhoji). Its Jati is Audava-Shadava. In aroha Ri and Pa are omitted and in avaroha Pa is dropped. Aroha and avaroha of Natakuranji are:— हिसगामा निसंदिन संघ उसगामा देसा निसंदिन संघ उसगामा देसा निसंदिन संघ

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are:—

सं संघ- विघऽस-गम दिस ऽरि- नि्स ग - मः

Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Ma. Halting svaras or Vishranti sthanas are Ga and Ni. Vakra sanchara म ग म दि स and svara group नि स ग are frequently used. This raga is sung in the night. A composition in Natakuranji is:—

Darasa Bina Harike—Trital (Madhya)—J. D. Patki. The following Hindustani ragas are allied to Natakuranji.

Madhuradhvani-Ri is completely omitted (See Madhuradhvani).

Bhinnashadja—Ni is Tivra. (See Bhinnashadja). Rageshwari—Tivra Ni is also used. Svara group स स रि ख is not used. स स रि स is used (See Rageshwari).

Malgunji - Pa is occasionally used. Komal Ga is also used. (See Malgunji).

In Hindustani raga Natakuranjika (as in the majority of ragas of North), Ri is omitted in aroha when Ga is used. In the Karnatak raga Natakuranji Ri is not omitted in aroha. Pa is used. In the Hindustani raga there are vakra sancharas in avaroha. In Karnatak raga there are vakra sancharas in aroha but not in avaroha (excepting the occasional prayoga # 4 7 (3 %)

Karnatak

Natakuranji is a very popular raga. It is a major raga and is chosen for raga alapana and pallavi singing. It is a janya of the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Hindustani Khamaj That. Different authors have given different aroha and avaroha for Natakuranji. They are as under:—

1) Sampoorna-Shadaya jati. Pa is omitted in avaroha. स दि? गृ मा नि? घृ नि, प घृ नि, सं- सं नि? घृ मा गृ दि? स. According to Hindustani notation they are :--

NAYAKI

Hindustani

Hindustani raga Nayaki is the popular raga Nayaki Kanada which is said to have been composed by the famous musician Gopal Naik who was in the court of Amir Khusru. Nayaki or Nayaki Kanada belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). It is a Shadava-Shadava raga. Dh is omitted in this raga. Aroha and avaroha of Nayaki Kanada are:—

ज़ि्स - क्षिरग्ठस - एसं - ज़्सं--सं-- ज़्प - मप-ग्ऽम -क्सि.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, and

Komal Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are :- ्र म न्

प - नि भ प म रि स. Grace note (Kan) of Ma for Ga should be carefully noted. It gives beauty to Nayaki Kanada. Although Dh is omitted in this raga some musicians use Komal Dh in aroha as स म नि प and नि म ति प. Strictly speaking Dh should not be used in this raga. Vadi and Samvadi svaras are considered to be Ma and Sa respectively. Some suggest Pa and Ma as Vadi and Samvadi svaras. Andolan on Ga is prominent. Ma is sometimes kept isolated. Sangatis मि प and नि प are used frequently. This raga is sung during the third prahara of night. Popular compositions in Nayaki Kanada are:—

Banara More Pyare—Teen Tal (Vilambit). Papi Hari Mukha Bolare Tu—Trital (Madhya).

The following Hindustani ragus resemble Nayaki Kanada closely.

Suha—In archa Ri and Dh are not used. Sangatis दि q and नि q are not used (See Suha).

स रि॰ मा पघः नि॰ ८ घः पसं क्लां नि॰ ८ घः पमः रि॰ गः ८ रि॰ स छा सं नि॰ संघः पमा रि॰ गः ८ रि॰ स.

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Prati Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the archa and avarcha of Nayaki raga are:—

सरिमप्घ ष्टिश्वपसं---सं न्ऽ्घप म रिग्ऽ रिस् ा सं न्संघप म रिग्ऽ रिस-

Elongation of Ni in both aroha and avaroha and andolan on Ga sound beautiful. Svara groups q स प सं - न् उ घ प - प म रि ग् ऽ रि स etc. are frequently used.

Popular compositions in Nayaki raga are :-

Nee Bhajana Gana (Telugu)—Rupaka Tala—

Tyagaraja.

Kanugonu Soukhyamu — (Telugu). — Rupaka Tala — Tyagaraja.

Karnatak raga Durbar is very much allied to Nayaki.

Durbar—Ni is used in a straight way as म ए ध नि सं. Ga and Ni are not supposed to be elongated (See Durbar).

According to Dikshitar school Nayaki is a Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga. Not only is Ga used in aroha but it is also kept elongated. Aroha and avaroha are:—

स रि₂ स, S स, प घ नि₂ S सं—सं ति, S घ, प म स, S रि₂ स According to Hindustani notation they are :—

Vadi is Ri. Samvadi is Pa. In Neelambari chayas of Sindhura and Jayajayavanti are found. Following svara groups give Sindhura chaya: स - रिम प व सं - म प घ सं - नि घ सं. Jayajayavanti chaya is created by the elongation of svara Ri. In Jayajayavanti Tivra Ga is more important than Komal Ga. In Jayajayavanti grace note given to Ri is that of Komal Ga. In Neelambari use of both Gandharas side by side as म ग ग रि is beautiful. In Jayajayavanti the Gandharas are not used side by side but as म ग रि ग रि स. In Neelambari svara group च नि ग रि is used. In Jayajayavanti च नि रि is used. This is a very pleasing night raga. Compositions in this raga are,

Ho Mitava--Teen Tal (Vilambit).

Kajara Sohata Naina--Tri Tal (Madhya)--J. D. Patki.

Hindustani ragas which are allied to Neelambari are, Jayajayayanti and Sindhura.

Jayajavavanti—Tivra Ga important. Komal Ga could even be dropped. Both Komal and Tivra Ga not used side by side (See Jayajayavanti).

Sindhura — Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Sa. Svara groups अगरग्रि-रिमपध-मपग्रिकाट used. Andolan on Ni prominent (See Sindhura).

Karnatak

Karnatak raga Neelambari has no resemblance to the Hindustani Neelambari. Neelambari is derived from the 29th Melakarta Dheerasankarabharana (ri, gu, ma, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Bilaval That. It is a Sampoorna-Shadava raga. Dh is omitted in avaroha. Its aroha and avaroha are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:

गग

In this raga andolan on Ma with Ga as grace note as ##

म ऽ ऽ is beautiful and is characteristic of this raga. Svara groups गमग इस इंड with Ga and Sa elongated and use of Komal Ni occasionally as गमग धनि इंड ए lend a charm. This raga expresses sorrow.

Popular compositions in Neelambari are, Amba Neelambari (Telugu)—Adi Tala Shringara Lahari (Kanarese)—Adi Tala—

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Nigamagamini. In this newly invented Karnatak raga there are only four svaras used in both aroha and avaroha as in the case of Malashree and Bhavani ragas. It is a Chatusvari or Svarantara raga and can be introduced among ragas of Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). Its aroha and avaroha are:—

Four svaras used are Sa, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma and Komal Ni. This raga sounds like Malakosh minus Dh.

Karnatak

We owe this raga to Shri C. Rangiah, It is a Svarantara or Chatusvari raga belonging to the 22nd Melakarta Kharahara-priya (Kafi That). The svaras used are Sa, Ga, Ma, and Ni. Aroha and avaroha are:

Svaras used are Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are :—

Sadharana Ga is the jeeva svara. This raga sounds like Hindola with Dh withdrawn. (See Hindola). Following sancharas are pleasing.

्यम ग्सः - सग्म ग्सः - ग्म न् २ - व् २ म ग्६ न् सं मंग्सः -निसंगंसं etc.

A composition in this raga in which the svaras, (other than Shadja) used are indicated in the name itself is:—

Nigamagamini Pahi-Rupaka Tala-C. Rangiah.

NIRMALANGI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Nirmalangi. The rare Hindustani raga Salang (not Sarang) has the same svaras in aroha and avaroha as the newly introduced Karnatak raga Nirmalangi. Salang resembles Brindavani Sarang, but only Tivra Ni is used in both aroha and avaroha. (See Salang.)

Karnatak

Nirmalangi has been introduced by Prof. R. Srinivasan, This is a modification of raga Madhyamavati. Kaisiki Ni is replaced by Kakali Ni in both aroha and avaroha. Its jati is Audava-Audava. Ga and Dh are not used. Its aroha and avaroha are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Suddha Ma and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are:-

205

स रिभ व निसं—सं निपम रिस

In this raga Ni should be kept as sharp as possible. Its pitch is Ati Tivra.

A composition in this raga is; --

NIROSHTA

Niroshta means having no lips. Persons who are unable to use their lips cannot utter the letters Ma and Pa. A Niroshta raga is one in which svaras Ma and Pa are both omitted. This is against the rules regarding construction of ragas, but it is meant for the convenience of the lipless.

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Niroshta. Adbhut Kalyan is an example of a Niroshta. Adbhut Kalyan has the following aroha and avaroha.

स रिगध निसं—सं निध करिस

Adbhut Kalyan has the same archa and avaroha as raga Niroshta. As Ma and Pa are both omitted it can be put under either Kalyan or Bilaval Thats. (See Adbhut Kalyan).

Karnatak

This rare raga belongs to the 29th Melakarta Dheera-sankarabharana (ri, gu, ma, dhi, nu,). Its jati is Audava-Audava. Ma and Pa are omitted. Its aroha and avaroha are: --

Syaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and ayaroha are:—

स विग घ नि सं— सं नि घ ग रिस

It is a pleasing raga. The following composition in this raga is available:—

Raja Raja Radhite (Sanskrit)-Rupaka Tala

-Muthiah Bhagavatar.

Hindustani raga Adbhut Kalyan corresponds to this raga.

NISHADA

Hindustani

There is no raga called Nishada in Hindustani sangeet. It sounds like a combination of Simhendramadhyam in poorvanga and Mia Malhar in uttaranga.

Karnatak

Nishada is the old name for the 60th Melakarta Neetimati (ri, gi, mi, dhu, nu). Janya raga Nishada belongs to the 60th Melakarta Neetimati. Its jati is Sampoorna-Shadava. In avaroha Dh is omitted. Aroha and avaroha of Nishada are:

Syaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Prati Ma, Shatsruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation aroha and avaroha are:—

स रिग्मं प नि नि सं—सं निपर्म ग रिग्न.

A composition in raga Nishada is :---

Nishadadi Deshadhipatinuta – (Sanskrit) – Triputa Tala – Muttuswamy Dikshitar,

NISHASAKH

Hindustani

This rare raga belongs to Khamaj That (Harikambhoji). Its Jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of Nishasakh are:—

मिसिऽग-गमगरि-गमधम-पनिसं∾-संविध्यगमग-रिग-विस्,

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh, both Komal and Tivra Ni. Tivra Ni is used in aroha and Komal Ni in avaroha. Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Dh. Svara groups म अ म-प नि सं are characteristic of this raga in aroha. In avaroha रि ग - जि स is prominent. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. A composition in this raga is:-

PADI

Devi Durga Sad Santa Jana—Jhaptal (Madhya)— "Achapala".

Hindustani raga Khamaj resembles Nishasakh.

Khamaj-Svara group तम अस and दिन सं are not used. (See Khamai).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Nishasakh in Karnatak sangeet. Karnatak raga Khamas or Khamaj resembles Nishasakh of Hindustani sangeet in certain sancharas.

NOOR SARANG

Hindustani TYPE I

This type of Noor Sarang is formed by the combination of Madhumad Sarang and Barwa ragas. Its jati is Audava-Shadaya. In aroba Ga and Ni are not used. In avaroba Ni is omitted. Aroha and avaroha are:

स रिमप निसं—सं निप म रिग रिस ा रिग स.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Tivra Ni is used in aroha and Komal Ni in avaroha, (In Madhumad Sarang there is difference of opinion regarding the Ni. Some hold that only Komal Ni should be used to distinguish it from Brindavani Sarang. Some use occasionally Tivra Ni in aroha only. A few use even in avaroha occasionally Tivra Ni as स नि प - नि स). In Noor Sarang रि ग स gives the Barwa Chaya. The following svara groups are characteristic of Noor Sarang.

नि स - रिग्रिस - नि ्प - म्प निस - रिग्सस - रिम - पनिपम रिस -निस रि

Other sancharas are of Madhumad Sarang. A composition in this raga is: - Brijaki Tohe Laj-Tri Tal (Madhya).

TYPE II

This type of Noor Sarang is obtained by using only Tivra Ma in Suddha Sarang. Jati of this type is Audava-Shadava. In aroha Ga and Dh are omitted. In avaroha Ga is not used. Aroha and avaroha are ;--- Svaras used are all Tivra svaras. Vadi is Ri and Samvadi Pa. This is a midday raga like Type!

This type of Noor Sarang resembles Shyam Kalyan also. Shuddha Sarang-Suddha Ma is also used.

(See Suddha Sarang)

Shyam Kalyan-Suddha Ma is also used. Ga is used some times (see Shyam Kalyan).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Noor Sarang. Madhyamavati of South has some resemblance to Noor Sarang Type I. Tivra Ni is not used and sanchara हिंगु स is not found (See Madyamavati)

Hamsanada, a Janya of 60th Melakarta Neetimati, has some resemblance to Noor Sarang Type II. As sung at present Shatasruti Dh is omitted and the present aroha and avaroha of Hamsanada are :--

स रे में पनि सं- सं नि प में रिस

In Noor Sarang Type II Dh is slightly used but in Hamsananda the Shatsruti Dh which is strictly speaking a note to be used is not used at the present day. (See Hamsanada)

PADI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Padi. There is a raga called Pahadi which has no resemblance to the Karnatak raga Padi. (See Pahadi). Hindustani raga Jogia has some resemblance to the Karnatak raga Padi in its avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Jogia are :-

In Padi Ni is used in aroba but Dh is not used.

Karnutak

Padi is a janya of the 15th Melakarta Mayamalavagaula (ra, gu, ma, dha nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Bhairav That, Padi is an Audava-Shadava raga. Ga and Dh are omitted in aroha. In avaroha Ga is omitted. There is a vakra sanchara in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Padi are :-

स रि, मा प निः सं—सं निः प घा प मा रि। स

Svares used are Suddha Ri, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh, and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are :---

स हिम प नि सं— संति प घृप म रिसः

Padi seems to have been a popular raga in the past. It has fallen into disuse. It seems to have been superceded by other janya ragas of Mayamalavagaula. A composition in Padi is :--

Shri Guruna Palitosmi - Rupaka Tala-- Muttuswamy

Dikshitar.

Two Karnatak ragas which resemble Padi are Gauri and Gundakriya. They have the same aroha as Padi but their avarohas are Sampoorna.

Gauri : — स र्मिय निसं — संनिध्यम गर्सिः (Sce Gauri)

Gundakriya :—स दिमप निसं—सं निप भ्यमग दिस (See Gundakriya).

PADMAVATI

Hindustani

Padmavati belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). It is a rare raga. Jati of this raga is Audava-Audava. Ga and Dh are completely omitted. Aroha and avaroha of Padmavati are :--

म स दिसम - मपप नि्ऽप - निमपसं—संऽप निऽप - मपम -

स वि ऽ स Svaras are used are Tivra Ri, Suddha Ma, and both Komal and Tivra Ni. Komal Ni is a very important svaras in this raga. Pakad are diagnostic svara groups are :--

नि ८ म पसं ५ - ए नि ५ प - म प म - स रि ५ स

Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night.

Although svaras used are those found in Sarang, the chayas present are those of Kedar and Nayaki Kanada. Chaya of Kedar is found in pooryanga and of Nayaki Kanara in uttaranga. Kedar anga is found as :-

स्तिसमम्प-मएम-स्टिसः 🔻

Nayaki anga consists of निय - नि 5 स प सं - प ति 5 प.

Chaya of Kedar is produced by keeping Ma as vadi svara. Svara groups मपन्सं - मपन्प . and पमरि उस which are characteristic of Madhumad Sarang are avoided in raga Padmavati. Compositions in this raga are :-

Aye Ritu Bahar Sakhi-Jhumra Tal-

(Vilambit)-J. D. Patki-

Navala Chaila Chabila .-- Trital (Madhya) -- J. D. Patki.

Hindustani ragas which are allied to Padmavati are Madhumad Sarang, Kedar and Nayaki Kanara.

Madhumad Sarang -- Svara groups सपनि सं भागनि प प्रम हिंद्र स are used. Vadi is Ri (See Madhumad Sarang).

Kedar-Dh is used. Komal Ni is not important.

(See Kedar)

Nayaki Kanara-Tivra Ni is not used. Ga is used. (See Nayaki Kanara).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Padmavati in Karnatak sangeet. Karnatak ragas Madhyamavati and Brindavani Saranga (type imported from North) have some resemblance to Hindustani raga Padmayati. But the Kedar and Nayaki Kanara chayas give Padmavati a different svaroop.

Madhyamayati-Tiyra Ni (Kakali) is not used. Vakra sancharas of Padmavati are absent in Madhyama-(See Madyamayati) vati.

Brindayani Sarang-Vakra sancharas of Padmayati are (See Brindavani Sarang). absent.

PALASI

PAHADI

Hiodustani

This raga is a very pleasing one. It is a favourite raga of the Maharastra stage music. Pahadi belongs to Bilaval That (Dheerasankarabharana). Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ma and Ni are omitted in aroha. Aroha and ayaroha of Pahadi are:—

Svaras used are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani sangeet. Suddha Ma is even avoided. Sometimes even Tivra Ma is touched for ranjakatva when it sounds like Bhoop Kalyan. Ni is not important. Pakad or "raga vachak" svara groups are:—

Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Pa. This raga is sung at all times of night are day. Expansion or vistar of this raga is pleasing in mandra and madhya saptaks. It is appealing when sung with Madhyam sur (sruti). Dh in mandra sthayee has great beauty in this raga. Ga, although not Vadi, is of great importance.

Prominence to mandra Dh distinguishes Pahadi from ragas like Bhoop, Deshkar and Suddha Kalyan. This raga has shringara rasa. It is not considered a high class raga but fit only for light music. Still it is a very pleasing raga. Compositions in this raga are:—

Kashi ya Tyaju Padala (Marathi stage song from "Rukmini Swayamvar")

Murali Madhura Dhuna-Teen Tal (Madhya).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Pahadi in Karnatak sangeet, Hindustani raga Pahadi has become popular in the South.

There is a raga called Padi in Karnatak sangeet which is a janya of the 15th melakarta Mayamalavagaula (Bhairav That). It has no resemblance to Hindustani raga Pahadi but has some resemblance to Hindustani raga Jogia. Aroha and avaroha of Padi are:

स्र वि् सं व नि सं — सं नि प श्यम दि सः

(See Padi).

Mohana Kalyani of South is allied to Pahadi of North. In Mohan Kalyani in avaroha Prati Ma is touched. In Pahadi mostly Suddha Ma is touched (See Mohana Kalyani).

PALASI Hindustani

Palasi belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). These days Palasi and Bhimpalasi are considered to be one and the same raga. But the archa and avarcha of Palasi will indicate that it is an independent raga.

Jati of Palasi is Shadava-Shadava. Dh is omitted in both aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Palasi are:

स रिग्म प निृसं— सं निृप म ग्रिस

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma and Komal Ni. With the above aroha and avaroha, Palasi is a pleasing raga with an independent svaroop. It deserves to be popularised in this form. A composition in Palasi is:—

Chandra So Anana Khanjana - Jhap Tal (Madhya).

Hindustani ragas Bhimpalas and Dhani have some resemblance to Palasi.

Bhimpalas—Ri is not used in archa but Ga is used. Avaroha is Sampoorna. (See Bhimpalas).

Dhani :-- In pure Dhani Ri and Dh are not used.

(See Dhani),

Karnatak

There is no raga called Palasi in Karnatak sangeet, Karnatak raga Pushpalatika, a janya of the 22nd Melakarta Kharaharapriya (Kafi That), has the following aroha and avaroha, स रिग्म प निसं—सं निपम ग्रिस.

These correspond to those of Palasi raga of North.

(See Pushpalatika).

Another Karnatak raga which has the same aroha and avaroha as Palasi is Poornashadia which is derived from the Kanikaramu (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja.

Karnatak raga Pancham has no resemblance to any of the types of Hindustani raga Pancham

PANCHAM MALAKOSH

Hindustani

This raga belongs to Bhairavi That (Hanumatodi). Some suggest that this raga should be put under Asavari That (Natabhairavi).

Pancham Malakosh is the name which has been coined for the raga Jayantashree introduced from the South some forty years ago. This raga has in its aroha svaras of Malakosh. Pa is introduced only in avaroha as in Jayantashree. Hence it is called Pancham Malakosh.

Jati of this raga is Audava-Shadava. There is a vakra sanchara in avaroha. Ri and Pa are omitted in aroha and in avaroha Ri is not used. Aroha and avaroha of Pancham Malakosh are:—

All svaras are Komal svaras. It is not a popular raga yet. The only comosition which is sometimes sung is the Maharashtra stage song "Madhusudana He Madhava" which is in imitation of the kriti "Marugelara Oh Raghava" of Shri Tyagaraja in the Karnatak raga Jayantashree. Hindustani raga Malakosh is allied to Pancham Malakosh.

Malakosh - Pa is not used (See Malakosh).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Pancham Malakosh in Karnatak sangeet. Karnatak raga Jayantashree derived from the 20th Melakarta Natabhairavi (Asavari That) is exactly like the Pancham Malakosh of Hindustani sangeet. It is Jayantashree which was imported from the South that was named Pancham Malakosh.

Aroha and avaroha of Jayantashree are,

स्यामध्विसं—संविध्मग्पमग्सः

Janyantashree bears the same relation to Hindola of Karnatak sangeet as Pancham Malakosh bears to Malakosh of Hindustani sangeet. (See Jayantashree).

PANTUVARALI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Pantuvarali. Karnatak Pantuvarali today stands for Melakarta Kamavardhini which corresponds to Poorvi That of Hindustani sangeet.

Aroha and avaroha of Poorvi That are;

स रि्ग मं प भ्र नि सं— यं नि भ्र मं ग रि.स.

Karnatak

Pantuvarali is the name by which raga Kamayardhini (Ramakriya) is also called. Strictly speaking Pantuvarali stands for Shubhapanthuvarali Melakarta (Todi That). Shubha is prefixed for purposes of Katapayadi Sankhya scheme to find out the No of the Melakarta.

Somehow since long (whether it is a mistake or a confusion) Pantuvarali stands for Kamavardhini whose old name is Ramakriya. (See Kamavardhini).

PARAJ or PARAJU

Hindustani

Raga Paraj belongs to Poorvi That (Kamavardhini). Its jati is Audava-Sampoorna. Ri and Pa are omitted in aroha. Aroha and avaroha of Paraj are,

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are:—

Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Pa. This raga is sung during the last prahara of night. It has bhakti and sringara rasas. Paraj is a Poorvi anga raga. In this raga Ni is also prominent

This is an Uttaranga raga. Tara Shadja gives a special charm to this raga. The following svara groups are frequently used.

सं ५५ - निष्प ५ ५ and मंप च्य - समस ५

PARAJ BAHAR

219

Many tanas end with the following

Some omit only Ri in aroha and use Pa in the following way.

निसंगर्भप ध्निसं [ा] निसंग्य-सप्रध्मं ध्निसं

In the Tara sthayee of Paraj there is anga of Kalingada as under, नि हैं गे हैं से—से तिथ्य - धूनिथ्य - गम ग.

In this raga in its Poorvanga the svara groups संपष्ण न सम् and in the uttaranga सं दि - नि सं - नि स नि द are "raga vachak" svaras. To sing this raga efficiently raga vistar in archa is made like Basant. In avarcha Schoni is sung using Komal Dh and anga of Kalingada is introduced here and there. Mandra sthaye is not reached except occasionally. There is not much meend work in this raga.

Compositions in raga Paraj are,

Sakhi Vanamali — Feen Tal (vilambit).

Bita Gayi Raina Sakhi-Jhumra (Vilambit)-

S. N. Ratanjankar

Chandani Rat Ati Bhave -- Teen Tal (Drut)

Hindustani ragas Sohoni, Basant and Poorvi are allied to Paraj.

Sohoni: -Pa is not used. Only Tivra Ma is used.

(See Sohoni)

Basant:—Komal Ma is used in an isolated manner as ज़िस म s. Sometimes Komal Ma is altogether not used. (See Basant)

Poorvi:—Ri is used in archa as π · fr η. Tivra Mais more important than Komal Ma. (See Poorvi)

Karnatak

Paraj or Paraju is a janya of the 15th Melakarta Maya-malavagaula (ra, gu, ma, dha, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Bhairav That. Its jati is Shadava-Sampoorna. In aroha Ri is omitted- Aroha and avaroha of Paraju are:-- संग्रु 5 साप था 5 निः सं--सं निः धाप सागः 5 कि. स.

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Suddha Dh and Kakali Ni, According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are, स ग 5 म प घ 5 नि सं— सं नि 5 घ प र ग 5 हि स.

Ga and Dh are elongated in aroha and Ni and Ga in avaroha. Sometimes Ri is also taken in aroha making it Sampoorna. Raga Paraju has bhakti and karuna rasas in it. Compositions in this raga are:—

Triloka Mata (Telogu)--Chaputala--Syama Shastry. Shri Shukra Bhagavantham (Sanskrit) --Atta Tala --Muttuswamy Dikshirar.

Karnatak ragas Mayamalavagaula and Nadanamakriya resemble Paraj.

Mayamalavagaula—Ri is used in aroha also. Pa is important. (See Mayamalavagaula).

Nadanamakriya—This is a Nishadantya raga (See Nadanamakriya).

There is some resemblance between Hindustani raga Paraj and Karnatak raga Paraju or Pharaju. In the Karnatak raga Paraju, Prati Ma is not used. Only Suddha Ma is used.

PARAJ BAHAR

Hindustani

Paraj Bahar is included in Poorvi That (Kamayardhini). This raga is formed by mixing Paraj and Bahar ragas. Svaras used are both Komal and Tivra Ri, both Komal and Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, both Komal and Tivra Dh, and both Komal and Tivra Ni.

Chaian or trend of this raga is as under :-

निसं-निध्य-म-मय-ध्-निनिसं - छं हिं-निसं-घिन्-सं हिं, गें हिं-संनिध-ममय-गम-निध्यं-निप-गम-मिश्स। निधिन्सं-हिंनिसं-नि-ध्य-म-पध्-पध्नि-घनिसं - सं हिं गूहिं-संनिध्सं॥

PATA BIHAG

While singing this raga care should be taken not to stray away into the allied ragas Basant, Babar and Kalingada Bahar.

A composition in Paraj Bahar is,

Palana Jhula Kanha - Ektal (Madhya) - R. N. Vaze.

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Paraj Bahar, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

PASHUPATIPRIYA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Pashupatipriya. Raga Durga uses the same svaras as are used in this Karnatak raga. But raga Durga has no vakra sancharas and hence the svaroops are different. (See Durga).

Pashupatipriya is a janya of the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni). Its jati is Audava-Audava. Ga and Ni are completely omitted. There are vakra sancharas in both aroha and avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are:—

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Suddha Ma and Chatusruti Dh. According to Hindustani notation they are:—

स्तिमपमध्यं—संघपमतिमसः

Dh and Ma are the jeeva svaras of Pashupatipriya. Ending of avaroha with दिस स sounds good. Compositions in this raga are:—

Paripalisow Parameshwari (Kannada)—Adi Tala
—Mysore Venkatagiriyappa.

Pashupati Priya Sati — Rupaka Tala — Muthiah Bhagavatar, Karnatak raga Suddhasaveri is allied to Pashupatipriya.

Suddasaveri-There are no vakra sancharas. The avaroha does not end with # # (See Suddhasaveri).

PATA BAHAR

Hindustani

Pata Bahar is a "Samyukta" raga formed by combining ragas Patadeep and Bahar. It is difficult to give the archa and avaroha for this raga as svaras of Patadeep and Bahar are mixed in a variety of ways in this mixed raga.

Svaras used are Tivra Ri, Komai Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and both Komai and Tivra Ni. Angas of Patadeep and Bahar are found as under.

Patadeep — धनिसंनिधय - मपध्य ग्रमनिसं - ग्रमपनि संसं

Bahar — नि्ध निसं—संऽनिष्ण-सपग्म-रिस-गंमं रिसं-मिन्धिनि.

Chalan of this raga is,

In the first type only Suddha svaras are used whereas in the second type Komal Ni is also used. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups for both types of Pata Bihag are:—

f

निधपपगम-गम् गः

In the above raga Tivra Ma is not used. In the present day Bihag, Tivra Ma is used although in orthodox Bihag only Suddha Ma is expected to be used. Komal Ni is used as म न् घप and not सं नि घप or घ नि घप.

In Pata Bihag anga of Bihag is more in evidence than in Bihagada, a raga which is allied to Pata Bihag. Ri is much in evidence in Pata Bihag. Pata Bihag is not a popular raga. Compositions in this raga are,

Kaise Kaise Bolata Moso Ada Choutal (Madhya).

Bita Gaye Gaye Bita Ri Trital (Madhya)

-S. N. Ratanjankar

Hindustani ragas Bihag and Bihagada resemble Pata Bihag.

Bihag-Tivra Ma is used. Komal Ni is not used (See Bihag).

Bihagada-- प भ नि भ प is used and not स नि भ प, In aroha Dh is used as नि भ सं (See Bihagada)

Karnatak

PATADEEP

Hindustani

Patadeep is also called Patadeepaki. Present day Patadeep is different from Patadeepaki. Patadeep is different from the ragas Pradeepika and Pradeepaki (Patadeepaki). There seems to be some confusion regarding the above mentioned ragas Patadeep has become popular during the last three decades,

Patadeep belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya). Its jani. is Audava-Sampoorna. Ri and Dh are omitteed in aroha. Aroha and avarohs of Patadeep are, ति स ग्म प नि 5 सं — सं नि ध प म गृ रि स नि 5 - स गृ रि स.

Svaras used are Tirra Ri, Komal Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Vadi is Pa and Samvadi Sa.: This is an evening raga.

While singing this raga Tivra Ni has to be brought into prominence. It is slightly elongated. Ending of the alap is with नि ८ - च ग रि स. This present day Patadeep sounds like Bhimpalas in which Tivra Ni has been substituted for Komal Ni.

Compositions in this raga are,

Piya Nahi Ave-Trital (Madhya)

Rajata Rangi Natale (Marathi) - Trital - (Madhya).

Hindustani raga Bhimpalas resembles Patadeep.

Bhimpalas :- Tivra Ni is not used. Vadi is Ma,

POORVI

Hindustani

Raga Poorvi belongs to Poorvi That (Kamavardhini). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. There are two types of Poorvi-In one type only Prati Ma is used. In the second type both Suddha and Prati Ma are used. Aroha and avaroha of these types are:—

Type I. स - हिन - मंच घुति सं -- सं नि घुप - मं - ग रि्स-

Type II. स - रिज - मंग्र्य - विसं---संविध्य - मंग्रिशा - रि गरिस Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Prati Ma, Komal Dh and Tivra Ni, In the second type Komal Ma is also used.

POORVI

Type I which does not use Suddha Ma. sounds like Pooria Dhanashree which is a very popular raga. It is to overcome this difficulty that Suddha Ma is also used in a special way in Poorvi. Hence type II is the popular type of Poorvi. Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are, नि - स दि ग - म ग - मंग - दि म ग - दि म दि स. use of Suddha Ma as मंग - दि म ग should be carefully noted. Suddha Ma is used only in avaroha in this special way.

Vadi is Ga and Samvadi Ni. This is a Sandhi-prakash (when day and night meet) raga. It is sung between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Prakriti of this raga is of Gambhirya. While singing this raga some use both Madhyams together as under:—

This also sounds well. Antara of of this raga begins with मंग - मं भू मं - सं S--सं. Although Pa is not omitted in aroha it is kept weak or durbal. This makes it look different from Pooria Dhanashree in aroha. In avaroha Komal Ma makes the difference still more clear

Poorvi is a very popular raga. Compositions which are favourites are:—

Piyarawa Ke-Tilvada (Vilambit).

Kagawa Bole Mori-Teen Tal (Drut).

Hindustani ragas which are allied to Poorvi are Pooria Dhanashree, Paraj and Basant.

Pooria Dhanashree – SuddhaMa is not used. Pa is prominently used in aroha also. (See Pooria Dhanashree).

स रि, ग₈ मा - अ, नि, सं--सं नि, धा प म, ग, रि, स.

Svaras used are Suddba Ri, Antara Ga, Suddba Ma, Suddba Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation they are:—

स द्विम - श्वृति सं—संति भूषम ग द्सि

Raga Poorvi is different from Poorvi Kalyani or Poorva Kalyani. Karnatak raga Poorvi is a combination of Karnatak ragas Vasanta in aroha and Mayamalayagaula in ayaroha.

In Hindustani sangeet there is a type of Sohoni which has the same aroha as Karnatak Poorvi. If raga Bhairav is used as avaroha then the Karnatak raga Poorvi is obtained. (See Sohoni)

Karnatak raga Poorvi is not known to many musicians. It is not a popular raga. The following composition in the Karnatak raga Poorvi is available But in this composition the aroha and avaroha of Poorvi followed are as under.

स दिगमप घृति घूसं--संनिध्प घ्म ग दिस.

Kaligedi Dorlabhamu (Telugu)-Chapu Tala -

Tiruvattiyor Tyagaraja.

Raga Kamavardhini corresponds to Hindustani raga Poorvi in which only Prati Ma is used. Kamavardhini is Melakarta No. 51 of Karnatak sangeet. Its aroha and avaroha are:

स्र हिंग मंद्र घू निसं— संनिध्य मंग हिंस

(See Kamayardhini).

According to Dikshitar school also Poorvi belongs to Melakarta Mayamalavagaula, but it is a Sampoorna-Sampoorna raga without any vakra sancharas.

A composition in this type of Poorvi is,

Sri Guru Guhasya Dasoham (Sanskrit)-

Mishra Eka Tala-Muttuswamy Dikshitar.

POORVI KALYANI

Hindustani

This is also known as Poorva Kalyan and Pooria Kalyan. It belongs to MarvaThat (Gamanashrama). Its Jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of Poorva Kalyani are:

स - रिगमं रघति स— लि हिं निध - निध प - मंध मंग - नि नि ध मं - गर्सि.

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, Prati Ma, Tivra Dh and Tivra Ni. Pakad or Gunjan svara groups are .—

मं हिंग संप- धलि धप ट : ह्रि.

Vadi is Ri and Samvadi Dh. Some sugget Sa and Pa as Vadi and Samvadi. This raga is sung in the evening, and till 10 p.m. Pa is weak or durbal in avaroha as is seen in vakra sanchara of avaroha. Sangatis q fq and q ri are frequently used. Halt on Ri sounds beautiful. Svara group and frin which Prati Ma is used only as Kan or grace note to Ri sounds very well.

Antara commences with the following svaras---व ग में घ में -सं 5—सं

Poorva Kalyani is formed by the combination of Pooria in poorvanga and Kalyan in uttaranga. Poorva Kalyani is a verypopular raga. A composition in this raga is.

Howana Lagi Sanjh-Ek Tai (Vilambit).

Karnatak

Karnatak raga Poorva Kalyani is aiso called Poorvi Kalyani. This raga resembles the Hindustani raga Poorva Kalyan or Pooria Kalyan very much.

Poorvi Kalyani is derived from the 53rd Melakarta Gamanashrama (ra, gu, mi, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Marva That. This raga is of Sampoorna Sampoorna jati. The following arohas and avarohas are given to this raga by different musicologists.

 स रि₁ गः सः प घः निः घः प सं मः सं निः घः प मः गः रिः स ा सं घः प सः गः रिः सः. (Shadaya with Ni omitted).

स रि1 ता म2 प घ2 नि घ2 सं—सं ति ध2 प म2 ता रि1 सः

3. स रि, ग, म, प भ, नि, प भ, प सं — सं नि, भ, प म, ग, रि, स.

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Chatusruti Dh and Kakali Ni.

According to Hindustani notation the aroba and avaroba of the three types:—

Type I. संद्गिसंपधनिध्यस—संनिध्यमंगाहिस ा संध पर्मगरिस- Ni omitted

Type II. स दिन संपथनि धर्स-संति धर संगरि स

Type III. स दिगमंप घनिय घपसं – संति घपमंग हिस्स

Sanchara q q q q as given in the 3rd set of aroha and and avaroha is very frequently rendered in this raga and is characteristic of the raga. This is a very popular raga. The following compositions are frequently heard.

Parama Pavana Rama (Telugu)—Adi Tala (Vilamba Laya)—Ramnad Sreenivasa Iyengar.

Gyana Mosaga Rada (Telugu) - Rupaka Tala-

Tyagaraja.

Raga Gamanashrama resembles Poorvi Kalyani.

Gamanashrama—Ni is used in aroha in a straight way as q व नि सं (See Gamanashrama).

POOSHA KALYANI

Hindustani

There is no raga called Poosha Kalyani in Hindustani sangeet. This Karnatak raga which is not popular even in the south is an intersting one and can be easily introduced into Hindustani sangeet.

Aroha and avaroha of this raga are :-

स दिस मंप निृति सं— संनिप मंग दिस.

Poorvanga sounds like Poorvi and uttaranga has Mia Malhar chaya. It can be called Poorvi Malhar.

Karnatak

Poosha Kalyani is a janya of the 54th Melakarta Vishwambhari (ra, gu, mi, dhu, nu). Its jati is Sampoorna-Shadava. In avaroha Dh is omitted. Aroha and avaroha of Poosha Kalyani are,

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Antara Ga, Prati Ma, Shat-shruti Dh and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are, स दि त मंप नि ने ले--सं नि प मंग दि स.

In the above aroha Komal Ni (A) represents Shatsruti Dh of Karnatak system. Although it is a pleasent raga it is not a popular one. A composition in this raga is;—

Kori Bhajinchiti (Telugu)--Rupaka Tala--Tituvottiyur Tyagaraja.

PRABHAT BHAIRAV

Hindustani

Prabhat or Prabhat Bhairav belongs to Bhairav That (Mayamalavagaula). Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of two types of this raga are, as given below.

सस् - दि्र्सि - ग - म - प्रपृष्ण् - निस्म - संनिध्य - म ग -रिग - मर्म - गमग - रिस

In this type use of Lalit anga and use of two Madhyams together is found only in the avaroha

TYPE II

नि दि सम्मान सम्प्रात्ते सं--सं नि ध्यम - सध्यम - यध् मं - सस् - दि समानि स

In this type Lalit anga and the use of two Madhyams side by side occurs in both aroha and avaroha equally prominent.

Svaras used are Komal Ri, Tivra Ga, both Suddha and

PRADEEPAKI OR PATADEEPAKI

Prati Ma, Komai Dh and Tivra Ni, Vadi is Suddha Ma and Samvadi Sa. Raga Prabhat as the name suggests is a morning raga possessing bhakti rasa.

Although Last anga is introduced in this raga, the raga in general possesses Bhairav anga. Hence Ri and Dh are used as in Bhairav raga.

Although this raga is formed by the fusion of three or four ragas still it has an individuality of its own. Commencement of this raga is like that of raga Kalingada.

Compositions in this raga are : -

Uthi Prabhata Sumariye-Dadra Tal (Madhya).

Ab to Jago Manava-Tilwada (Vilambit)-

S. N. Ratanjankar,

Hindustani ragas Ramkali and Megharanjini also use Tivra Ma and have to be kept clear.

Ramkali-Lalit anga is inot found. Two Madhyams are not used together. (See Ramkali).

Megharanjini-It is of Audava jati. (See Megharanjini).

Karnatak

There is no raga called Prabhat or Prabhat Bhairav in Karnatak sangeet, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga.

PRABHUPRIYA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Prabhupriya. This recently introduced Karnatak raga has great resemblance to the Hindustani raga Kokilapancham which has the following aroha and ayaroha.

A

स - ग्मपभ्द ६ सं—संघ्प - मप - मपभ् - मप - ग्- मग्ऽ स - भाभाभा - स (See Kokilapancham)

Karnatak

Raga Prabhupriya was invented by Sri Mysore Venkatagiriyappa. He places this raga under the 8th Melakarta Hanumatodi (ra, gi, ma, dha, ni) which corresponds to Bhairavi That of North. It is an Audava Audava raga. Ri and Ni are not used. Aroha and avaroha are:—

Svaras used are Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma and Suddha Dh. According to Hindustani notation, the archa and avarcha are:—

सग्मपध्सं--संघ्यसग्म

Ma and Pa are the jeeva svaras. Svara groups $\mathbf{g} \in \mathbf{q} = \mathbf{s}$ and $\mathbf{q} = \mathbf{q} = \mathbf{s}$ are frequently used and sound beautiful. This is a very pleasing raga and deserves to be popularised. A composition in this raga is:—

Shri Rajarajeshvari (Kanarcse)—Adi Tala— Mysore Venkatagiriyappa.

PRADEEPAKI or PATADEEPAKI

Hindustani

Pradeepaki or Patadeepaki belongs to Kasii That (Khara-harapriya). It is different from Patadeep. Jati of this raga is Audava-Sampoorna. In aroha svaras Ri anh Dh are omitted. Its aroha and avaroha are, Svaras used are Tivra Ri, both Komal and Tivra Ga, Suddha Ma, Tivra Dh and Komal Ni. Tivra Ga is used in aroha while in avaroha both Komal and Tivra Ga are used.

Pakad or diagnostic svara groups are,

Vadi is Sa and Samvadi Ma. Some suggest Ma as Vadi svara. This raga is sung during the third prahara of the day. It is sung with Bhimpalas anga. Use of Tivra Ga in aroha has a peculiar effect. It should be carefully used. Raga vistara is rendered mostly in mandra and madhya saptaks. In aroha Ri is weak and can even be omitted. Although Ri and Dh are

PRAMODINI

245

Tivra, it is suggested that they should be kept somewhat lowered in pitch. There is slight chaya of Hamsakankini in this raga. But by halting on Ma this effect is removed or changed.

Compositions in raga Pradeepaki are .--

Piya Ghara Nahi Kaise—Tilvada (Vilambit). Ari Beera Aa Piya - Jhumra (Vilambit).

Karnatak

There is no Karnatak raga called Pradeepaki or Patadeepaki, nor one which resembles this Hindustani raga-

PRADEEPIKA

Hindustani

Pradcepika is different from Pradcepaki or Patadeepaki. Pradeepika belongs to Kafi That (Kharaharapriya) and seems to be a combination of Bhimpalas and Deepak ragas. This type is sung with Bhimpalas anga, Svara group नि स म is used in poorvanga. A peculiarity of this raga is that Komal Ni is used in aroha and Tivra Ni in avaroha. This is the reverse of usual use of two Nishads in the same raga.

Svaras used in this type are Tivra Ri, both Komal and Tivra Ga, both Suddha and Prati Ma, both Komal and Tivra Ni, and both Komal and Tivra Dh. Vadi is Ma and Samvadi Sa. Chalan of this raga is as under-

स स म प जिल्लाम ग्-स्सिम म गप-मेप मंगस म - मप स स मं गुगु-मग्रिस - मेप - मंप जिल्ला घरमंगम स - प्राग्-मग्रि स म स म् ग्रमप मंप निभूष घ्यमं - गम स. संसं प नि निसं—संनिधप - मंगम म - पस्म ग्रिस - ससंक्रि

म ध्रुष्य-संगमस-सय ग्रि-गमपग्रमग्रिसः.

This type of Pradeepika is difficult to render and is not popular. A composition in this raga is,

Tuma Bina Taraphata—Trital (Vilambit) --- Sankara Rao Vyas.

Karnatak

There is no raga called Pradcepika, not one which resembles this Hindustani raga,

PRAMODINI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Pramodini This is an interesting raga which is obtained by substituting Tivra Dh. for Tivra Ni in the Hindustani raga Malashree. Aroha and avaroha of Pramodini will be us under:-

This raga can be included under Kalyan That, Pramodini is also obtained by using Prati Ma instead of Suddha Ma in Nagasvaravali (See Nagasvaravali)

Karnatak

Promodini belongs to 65th Melakarta Mechakalyani (ri. gu, mi, dhi, nu) which corresponds to Hindustani Kalyan That. Jati of this raga is Audava-Audava. Ri and Ni are omitted. Aroha and avaroha are :---

Svaras used are Antara Ga, Prati Ma and Chatusruti Dh. According to Hindustani notation they are,

स गर्म प घ सं—संध्यमं गर्म

A composition in this raga is:-

Jyotiye Ichoodanai Tahad (Tamil)—Trishra Rupaka Tala - R. Srinivasan.

Raga Pramodini may be considered to be raga. Nagasyaravali in which Prati Ma has been substituted for Suddha Ma. (See Nagasvaravali),

RAGANIDHI

PRANAVAPRIYA

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Pranavapriya. This raga can be introduced among ragas which have Madhuvanti chaya. Aroha and avaroha of Pranavapriya are:-

म क्रिमंद नि ऽसं—संनि ऽपसंग रिस

Karnatak

Pranayapriya is a janya of 57th Melakarta Simhendramadhyama (rí, gi, mi, dha, nu). Its jati is Andaya-Shadaya-Ga and Dh are not used in aroha. Dh is omitted in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha are: --

स रिः मः ए तिः ऽ सं—सं निः ऽ प मः गः रिः सः

Syaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Sadharana Ga, Prati Ma, and Kakali Ni. According to Hindustani notation the aroha and avaroha are :---

स दि - मंप नि 5 सं-- सं नि 5 प मंगु दिस

Ni is elongated in both aroha and avaroha as:-

प नि ८८ - सर्रि सं नि ८८ - प संगु ८ रिस् नि ८

Pranavapriya is a rare raga but a pleasing one. A composition in this raga is, Padaravindamule Gati yani (Telugu)-Adi Tala-Ogirala Veeraraghava Sharma.

PRATAPAVARALI

Hindustani

Pratapavarali belongs to Khamaj That (Harikambhoji). Its jati is Audava-Shadava. Ga and Ni are omitted in aroha. Ni is not used in avaroha. Aroha and avaroha of Pratapavaraliare:--

Svaras used are all Suddha svaras of Hindustani sangeet. Vadi and Samvadi are Ri and Dh. This raga is sung during the second prahara of night. This is not a popular raga. A composition in this raga is,

PRAVALASHODHI

Kahe Na Mana-Trital (Madhya).

Hindustani ragas Durga (Bilaval That), Arabhi, Naravani and Goud Malhar resemble Pratapavarali.

Durga—Ga is not used (See Durga)

Arabhi-Ni is slightly used in avaroha (See Arabhi.)

Narayani-In avaroha Ni is used but Ga is not used.

(See Narayani).

Goud Malhar-Ni is used in avaroha (See Goud Malhar).

Karnatak

Pratapayarali is derived from the 28th Melakarta Harikambhoji (ri, gu, ma, dhi, ni) which corresponds to Khamaj That of Hindustani.

Jati of this raga is Chatusvari-Shadava. In aroha Ga, Dh and Ni are omitted. In avaroha Ni is not used. Some use Dh in yakra sanchara in aroha. Aroha and avaroha, of Pratapavarali are:---

स रि₃ म, प सं ा स रि₃ म, प ध₂ प सं--सं ध₂ प स₁ ग₂ रि₂ स

Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma and Chatosruti Dh. According to Hindustani notation they are:

स्र विक्र व सं ा स्र विस्त व व प सं—सं व प स ग रिस.

It will be seen that the Karnatak and Hindustani ragas use the same svaras. Arohas however slightly differ. This is not a popular raga. The following composition in this raga is available.

Vina Nasa Koni (Telugu)—Adi Tala—Tyagaraja, Karnatak ragas Arabhi and Sama resemble Pratapavarali . Arabhi - Dh is used in aroha. (See Arabhi) Sama - There is andolan on Ma and Ri is elongated. (See Sama)

There is vakra sanchara in avaroha. Svaras used are Chatusruti Ri, Antara Ga, Suddha Ma, Chatusruti Dh, and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation they are .—

Svara groups स नि्घ नि.स २ - स २ वि म २ - वि सं ते २ सं — सं निच नि प 2 etc are frequently used.

Pravalashodhi is not a populor raga. The following composition in this raga is available.

Parabrahamu Raghu Tilaka (Telugu)-Adi Tala.

—Venkatasubbiah.

PUNNAGAVARALI

Hindustani

There is no Hindustani raga called Punnagavarali. Certain sancharas of Bilaskhani Todi resemble those of Punnagavarali (See Bilaskhani Todi).

Karnatak

Punnagavarali is a janya of the 8th melakarta, Hanumatodi (ra, gi, ma, dha, ni) which corresponds to Bhairavi That of Hindustani. It is a Nishadantya raga. Its jati is Sampoorna-Sampoorna. Aroha and avaroha of this raga are:

Svaras used are Suddha Ri, Sadharana Ga, Suddha Ma, Sudda Dh and Kaisiki Ni. According to Hindustani notation they are,

In this raga andolan on Ga and elongation of Ri are fascinating. Following svara groups are characteristic of this raga. There is andolan on Ni also.

क्स स्ट्रिट.

While rendering this raga certain groups of svaras which produce the effect of Snake Charmers "Pungi" are used to produce this effect and it is charming. The following composition in this raga is a very popular one.

Kanaka Shaila Viharini (Sanskrit)--Adi Tala ---

Sama Sastry.

PUSHPA

Hindustani
