Myanmar and China respect each other’s sovereignty

The Union of Myanmar has friendly relations with all her neighbours and the nations in the region. The leaders of the Union of Myanmar and her neighbours exchange visits with the intention of cementing friendship and boosting economic relations.

During his official visit to the People’s Republic of China, Prime Minister General Soe Win of the Union of Myanmar paid a courtesy call on Mr Hu Jintao, President of the People’s Republic of China, in the Great Hall of the People in Beijing on 15 February. On the occasion, Mr Hu Jintao of the People’s Republic of China said that maintaining friendly relations with Myanmar was the foreign policy of China, that China paid attention to ensuring peace and stability and prosperity of neighbouring countries and respected security, independence and sovereignty of Myanmar.

Prime Minister General Soe Win of the Union of Myanmar said that it was heartening to see the People’s Republic of China developing rapidly under the leadership of President Hu Jintao and the entire people were also unitedly and actively taking part in the national development endeavours.

Myanmar and China have a long common border and the governments and peoples of the two nations have been friendly since time immemorial. As successive leaders of the nations, with farsightedness, have cultivated the Sino-Myanmar friendship, it is flourishing and becoming closer. And as the two nations have always adhered to the Five Principles of Peaceful Co-existence, changes in international affairs and domestic affairs of both countries have not affected the bilateral relations.

In recent years, leaders of the two nations have exchanged goodwill visits to cement mutual friendship and promote mutually beneficial cooperation. Myanmar has always supported the one-China policy and accepted that Taiwan is an inseparable part of China. In the same way, China has always expressed her belief that Myanmar people are to shape their future and opposed the imposition of economic sanctions on Myanmar by foreign nations.

We believe that Prime Minister General Soe Win’s visit to the People’s Republic of China will cement the Sino-Myanmar friendship and the two nations will continue respect each other’s sovereignty.

Pakistan, India resume train service after 40 years

Zero Point (Pakistan), 18 Feb — Pakistan and India resumed a train service across the Thar Desert on Saturday, 40 years after it was suspended following the second of the three wars between the two South Asian rivals.

Sitting on camels, paramilitary troops patrolled the desert as the train carrying around 250 passengers arrived at Pakistan’s southern border village of Khokhrapore for its onward journey to Munabao in India’s Rajasthan State.

Many passengers burst into tears and shouted “Long Live Pak-India friendship” as the Thar Express halted at Zero Point, the last stop on the Pakistani side of the border.

Dancers wearing traditional dresses danced to the beat of drums to greet the train, decorated with colourful buntings. Ladi Singh Sodho, a Hindu Pakistani engineer, was making his first visit to his in-laws since he and his wife married in 1992.

11 villages evacuated from landslide struck region in Philippines

MANILA, 19 Feb — Philippine officials said on Saturday that 11 villages in Southern Leyte where a landslide buried a village on Friday have been evacuated and seven centres have been set up in Saint Bernard Township, where the landslide took place, to shelter the evacuees.

Officials participating in an emergency meeting on landslide held by President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo told reporters that the evacuation was made in fear that more landslides could strike in the region, which is known for faulty geological structure, according to experts.

Heavy rainfalls triggered by the La Nina weather, and possibly a mild earthquake, also contributed to Friday’s devastation which buried a village alive with hundreds, if not thousands of people inside.

Arroyo held the emergency meeting to hear the reports of officials from different government agencies under the National Disaster Coordination Council (NDCC).

The NDCC said so far 22 bodies have been found and 53 rescued from the huge burial ground four kilometres long and half a kilometres wide with 30 feet thick mud and rocks.

Officials said at least 1,500 could have been buried under the mud and are feared dead.

The US Charge d’Affaires Paul Jones also attended the still on-going meeting after the US military said it could look into the assistance it could provide to the disaster rescue and relief operation. —MNA/Xinhua

Iran hails IAEA chief’s suggestion on enrichment

TEHERAN, 19 Feb— Iranian Foreign Minister Manouchehr Mottaki on Saturday hailed as “a step forward” a recent suggestion to allow Iran to perform small-scale uranium enrichment by the UN nuclear watchdog chief to break the deadlock over the issue.

“We welcome our friend’s positive view toward the issue of enrichment inside Iran and regard it as a step forward,” Mottaki said. According to ElBaradei, a deal could be made by permitting Iran to operate a pilot enrichment plant for small-scale work in exchange for Teheran’s withdrawal from industrial-scale enrichment.

Mottaki said Iran was ready to continue negotiations on the compromise plan and was determined to find “a suitable formula for building confidence on Iran’s peaceful nuclear activities that would at the same time preserve its nuclear right”.

“We find the view that upholds enrichment in Iran as a step forward. Iran is ready to continue talks with its friends to reach a comprehensive formula,” Mottaki stressed.

The blasts were the result of a clash between two groups of workers of Congress Party, PTI quoted city Police Commissioner Prasun Mukherjee as saying.

Three persons carrying nine crude bombs were arrested by the security personnel posted near the chief minister’s residence the three persons, he said. “It was neither a terrorist activity nor anything to do with the chief minister’s security,” PTI quoted Mukherjee as saying. He added that security in the area had been tightened following the incident.

Venezuela to build houses for Sri Lankan tsunami victims

COLOMBO, 19 Feb — Venezuela signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) recently with Sri Lanka’s Reconstruction and Development Agency (RADA) to launch a housing project to assist tsunami victims in the country, Daily News reported on Saturday.

Venezuela donated funds worth 6.2 million US dollars for Sri Lanka’s post tsunami reconstruction activities in June last year, it said.

The MoU, signed by Counsellor of the Embassy of Venezuela, Luis Raul Montell and Chief Operating Officer of RADA, Saliya Wickremasuriya, will enable Venezuela Embassy officials and RADA to use the funding and embark on the housing construction project.

Scientists see growing animal-disease risk

ST LOUIS, 19 Feb— Humans risk being overrun by diseases from the animal world, according to researchers who have documented 38 illnesses that have made that jump over the past 25 years.

That’s not good news for the spread of bird flu, which experts fear could mutate and be transmitted easily among people.

There are 1,407 pathogens — viruses, bacteria, parasites, protozoa and fungi — that can infect humans, said Mark Woolhouse of the University of Edinburgh in Scotland.

Of those, 58 percent come from animals. Scientists consider 177 of the pathogens to be “emerging” or “re-emerging.” Most will never cause pandemics.

Experts fear bird flu could prove an exception. Recent advances in the worldwide march of the H5N1 strain have rekindled fears of a pandemic.

British gas, electricity bills to soar to 1,000 pounds this year

LONDON, 19 Feb— An energy bill of 1,000 pounds a year could soon be the norm for an average family in Britain, after the British Gas Corporation announced on Friday that it is to further raise its gas and electricity prices by 8.6 per cent, The Daily Telegraph reported on Saturday.

The increase, which will come into force on 1 March, was announced just five months after the company, the country’s biggest gas supplier, raised its gas and oil prices by 14 per cent.

It will bring the average British Gas bill for gas to 628 pounds a year, while electricity will cost 391 pounds.

Energywatch, the consumer watchdog, said that it was “the bleakest day yet” for consumers. It warned that by next winter, 3 million consumers could fall into the fuel poverty bracket — which means they will spend more than 10 per cent of their income heating their homes.

British Gas, which is said to be the most expensive gas supplier in Britain, has 16.9 million customers. It explained that the main reason for the price hike is “the North Sea gas production is falling since 2004”.

The electricity price hike is due to the fact that 40 per cent of the electricity in the country is generated in gas-powered power stations. It is estimated that the British Gas price rise could cost customers 2.7 billion pounds a year.

McDonald’s sued over fries ingredients

CHICAGO, 19 Feb— McDonald’s Corp faces at least three lawsuits claiming the fast-food giant misled the public after it acknowledged earlier this week its French fries contain milk and wheat ingredients.

Debra Moffatt of Lombard, Illinois, seeks unspecified damages in a suit filed on Friday in Chicago.

Her attorney, Thomas Pakenas, said his client has celiac disease, which causes gastrointestinal symptoms set off by eating gluten, a protein found in wheat.

Jack Daly, McDonald’s senior vice president, said in a statement the company had not reviewed the case yet and is testing its fries for gluten through a food allergy research programme at the University of Nebraska.

Mark and Theresa Chmiak of Jupiter, Florida, sued Friday in Florida, claiming their 5-year-old daughter has an intolerance to gluten and became seriously ill after eating the fries.

Musharraf says shooting incident not to affect ties with China

ISLAMABAD, 19 Feb—Pakistan President Pervez Musharraf said here on Friday that all development activities between Pakistan and China would continue and the incident of the killing of three Chinese engineers would not affect the friendship between the two countries.

In an interview at the presidential palace, Musharraf told Xinhua that the incident had shocked him, the Pakistani Government and the whole Pakistani nation.

“We condemn it in the strongest terms,” he said. “We are annoyed at those who carried out this very evil act. We are determined to catch them and give them strongest and harshest punishment.”

“These elements don’t want Pakistan to prosper and progress,” he said. “They do not want development in Pakistan.”

“Since Chinese are our great friends and they are helping us in this development and progress in various projects, they (the gunmen) have targeted the Chinese to achieve two things: deny progress in Pakistan and create a misunderstanding between Pakistan and China,” Musharraf said.

“But we are determined that none of these two objectives will be achieved.”

“Our friendship with China is very strong and it will not be affected by the incident,” he said. “We are determined to carry out all development activities as we were doing before. And we will be able to bring the elements to justice and suppress them.”

Jackpot winner: laying low, or not aware?

LINCOLN, 19 Feb—Someone, somewhere held the only winning ticket for the record $365 million Powerball jackpot but likely wasn’t in a rush to come forward, Nebraska lottery officials said Sunday.

The only ticket matching the winning numbers drawn Saturday night for the multistate lottery was sold at a U-Stop convenience store in Lincoln, Nebraska Lottery spokesman Brian Rockey said. It was the biggest jackpot on record for any lottery in the United States. No one had come forward to claim the jackpot Sunday, Rockey said.

“Don’t know if the winner knows yet,” he said.

Even when the lucky individual or group realizes it, they might not leap into the public eye. “We have found ... that they tend to wait until they have sought legal counsel or financial counsel,” Jim Haynes, acting director of the Nebraska Lottery, said.

However, he said, the winner knows yet, “we don’t know if,” he said.

65 trapped Mexico miners in extreme danger

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, 19 Feb—A gas buildup in a northern Mexico coal mine triggered a pre-dawn explosion on Sunday, trapping at least 65 coal miners underground with a limited supply of oxygen. Emergency officials were tunneling through the debris to rescue them.

At least eight miners who had been near the mine’s exit when the explosion occurred were rescued and were hospitalized with burns and broken bones.

The trapped miners were in extreme danger, said Ruben Escudero, director of Grupo Industrial Minera Mexico, which owns the mine. The company is a subsidiary of mining giant Grupo Mexico.

A statement by the National Miners’ Union said 65 people were trapped below the surface, but Escudero said there were 66 miners still underground.

The explosion occurred at the mine near the town of Sabinas, 85 miles southwest of Eagle Pass, Texas, on the Mexico-US border, Escudero said.

The mine is about 985 feet below ground, he said. Radio reports said the workers were in three different locations in the mine, and rescue workers were working to reach them while checking for poisonous gases.

Officials had cordoned off the area, and concerned family members waited outside the security zone for information.

Daniel Romo, a spokesman for Coahuila state’s emergency services, said authorities did not know how long it would take to reach the trapped miners.

Wider tourism knowledge in best interest of nation and people

Ma Swe (Yangon University)

The word “tourism” has become popular in a decade since 1995-96. More and more people have taken interest in tourism. Many persons at different ages such as experts, educated persons, businessmen, and those who want new types of jobs have defined the word “tourism” variously based on the knowledge they gained, presenting variety of opinions and suggestions.

In fact, they are taking an interest in tourism due to the conviction that tourism is a lucrative business. Tourism industry can make a nation prosperous in a short time. So, tourism is considered to be a profitable business.

In reality, that is not all.

In a country with a thriving tourism industry, the people’s standard of living and education are getting higher with strong economy.

Tourism industry is a business that can satisfy the human desire to get richer and achieve greater aim.

However, tourism industry is not a normal business involving investment, production and sales. It is a business of offering different sorts of services to satisfy the wishes of tourists from various countries while preserving the attractions such as the nation’s natural resources, cultural heritages, way of life, customs and traditions of the people so that these resources will not deteriorate. Otherwise, the nation concerned will lose its dignity damaging the business and finally putting an end to it.

After completing the Tourism Diploma Course for faculty members at the Yangon University, I came to realize the nature of tourism industry that is different from other businesses — delicateness, vulnerability and the need to take remedial measures.

I have also learnt that tourism industry is not just a business but an art, it is interrelated with many sectors such as social affairs, education, and environmental conservation, and knowledge of tourism should be disseminated to the people.

If a nation plans to earn income through tourism industry, it is to be a sustainable one without harming the nature, cultural heritage, lifestyle and customs of the nation. That is the most important factor of the tourism industry.

Tourists are interested in the attractions of lush and green environment, archaeological sites, seaside beaches, and regions where various national races live.

Supposing such regions attract a large number of tourists, it will adversely affect the environment due to the fact that the tourists throw waste materials indiscriminately. Moreover, cultural heritages may be destroyed or lost owing to touching, taking some parts away as souvenirs, and stealing objects at a profit. Local people tend to think highly of the tourists who can spend lavishly, and imitate their costumes abandoning the traditional ones. Later, environment, cultural heritages and way of life of local people will deteriorate and such regions will be no longer attractive to tourists.

Tourism industry will be like an inexhaustible resource if the people can make most of it systematically. But, if not, tourism industry will be just a short-term business and the nation concerned will suffer irreparable effects such as environmental degradation, climate changes, decadent lifestyles, frequent outbreaks of diseases, and tarnishing of the image of the nation and the people concerned.

However, if a nation avoids the running of the tourism industry in fear of negative impacts, such a nation will not enjoy economic, social and education development, modernization, and will not be able to catch up with international standard.

If a nation could not attract tourists, its green and lush environment, peace, culture, hospitality and archaeological sites will remain in obscurity. And the image of its land will remain in dim view.

Only when a nation can draw the attention of a host of tourists, will it be well-known. Moreover, it will be able to make its dignity known to international community, and can create jobs for its people. As tourism industry is a highly profitable business, local people will be able to enjoy development in economic, education and social sectors if they are engaged in the business.

To ensure sustainable tourism, it is required to inculcate correct concepts and conviction into local people and regional administrative bodies.

In particular, travel and tour companies and their staff, tourist guides, local people and authorities in tourist destinations, hotels, motels and inns, restaurants, souvenir shops, souvenir producers, meat, vegetables and fruits suppliers, drivers and owners of travel and tour buses, and those who do their business in tourism industry are to be knowledgeable about tourism industry, to have correct outlook on tourism, and to make the best use of tourism industry.

Bulgaria tests man for bird flu

SOFIA, 19 Feb—Bulgarian health authorities have put a man in an isolation chamber and were testing him for bird flu on Saturday after two of his ducks died, but said he was not showing symptoms of the disease.

The man, from the southern Bulgarian village of Preslavtsi, has been in close contact with the dead ducks, which are being tested by veterinary authorities for the H5N1 strain of bird flu, which has killed more than 90 people since late 2003.

"We are keeping the man in an isolation chamber as a precautionary measure," said Todor Gogovski, the doctor on duty at the hospital at the southern city of Haskovo.

"We are testing him for bird flu and are awaiting the results, but so far he does not show the symptoms of the disease. He just has a running nose and does not have high temperature." Bulgaria detected its first outbreak of the H5N1 strain of avian flu in a wild swan on the Danube River town of Vidin, close to the Romanian border, at the end of January.

The Balkan country, which lies on one of the major routes of migratory birds from Europe to Africa, has stepped up measures to prevent the spread of the disease to domestic fowl and urged people to avoid contact with wild birds. MNA/Reuters

Two Chinese Canadians receive Canada’s highest honour

OTTAWA, 19 Feb—Two famous Chinese Canadians were among the 33 people who received Canada’s highest honour on Friday.

Doctor Steven Aung and writer Wayson Choy joined 31 others at Rideau Hall in Ottawa to be awarded the Order of Canada by Governor General Michaelle Jean.

As a strong proponent of the synergy between western and eastern medicines, Aung has a unique approach to healing that has had a distinct and lasting impact.

After immigrating to Canada in 1974, he embarked on a mission to share traditional Chinese concepts of wellness, balance and harmony with health care professionals, students and patients. To this end, he founded the Certificate Programme in Medical Acupuncture in the University of Alberta, a Canadian first.

For his part, Choy is admired as a writer of stories that reflect the history of the Chinese community in Vancouver. And he is equally known as a passionate, caring and motivating teacher.

Choy is deeply committed to nurturing the process of self-awareness and discovery in his students. The humanity that he reflects in his writing is also very much resent in his personal life.

Working from a place of compassion and true understanding of life’s joys and sorrows, he consistently gives himself, whether for the crusade against AIDS or through teaching at shelters for abused women, runaways and homeless children.

The award, established in 1967, is Canada’s highest honour for lifetime achievement in a variety of fields.

Appointments are made on the recommendation of an advisory council, chaired by the chief justice of Canada.

Recipients can wear either the snowy flake medal or the lapel pin, and are entitled to add the initials CC (companion), OC (officer), or CM (member) after their names. MNA/Xinhua

Australian Co announces successful results of bird flu vaccine trial

Canberra, 19 Feb— An Australian company's preliminary results from its human clinical trial of a pandemic influenza vaccine showed that it is possible to vaccinate people against the bird flu virus using existing technology, Australian Health Minister Tony Abbott said on Friday.

Australia’s CSL Ltd announced earlier in the day the results from its clinical trial of a pandemic influenza vaccine based on the H5N1 bird flu virus. According to CSL reports, two doses of vaccine, used in conjunction with a stimulant or adjuvant, can produce an immune response to the vaccine.

The company has stated that further research is needed to determine the optimal doses of vaccine. Abbott said the vaccine will be tested in a wider range of age groups to ensure safety and a sufficient immune response in the young and elderly.

“The Howard Government provided 4.93 million Australian dollars (3.65 million US dollars) to fast track this trial. Today’s results are an important step in Australia’s efforts to ensure it has the capacity to rapidly develop a vaccine on-shore to respond to a possible influenza pandemic,” Abbott said in a statement. “Australia is one of the most prepared countries in the world to respond to an outbreak of avian influenza or an influenza pandemic,” he said.

Since the emergence of avian influenza in Asia in 2003, the Australian Government has committed a total of 555 million Australian dollars (410 million US dollars) on avian influenza and pandemic preparedness measures, including 141 million dollars (105 million US dollars) to help its regional neighbours, according to Abbott.

Study says orphans stunt growth, foster care better

St Louis, 19 Feb— Children raised in orphanages are stunted physically, emotionally and intellectually but good foster care can help orphans start to grow again, researchers said on Friday.

An experiment in which foster homes were set up in Romania showed that children taken out of the country’s notorious orphanages began to grow taller and put on weight, gain intellectually and lose the most marked symptoms of depression and anxiety.

The researchers said their findings apply to all children in orphanages, not just in Romania. Their study, however, provided them a unique opportunity to examine the effects of foster care in a place where it had never existed before.

“An orphanage is a bad place to grow up in,” Dr Dana Johnson, a pediatrician and adoption specialist at the University of Minnesota, told a news conference. Johnson and colleagues, funded by the John D and Catherine T MacArthur Foundation, did the first scientific comparison of what happens to children raised in orphanages versus those raised in foster care and children raised in normal families.

They persuaded the Romanian Government to place 69 children in foster homes — something that had not existed in Bucharest before. Another 67 had to remain in the orphanage and the researchers compared the two groups.

Social workers trained the foster families and checked on the children’s progress.

Next space shuttle crew confident of foam fix

Cape Canaveral (Florida), 19 Feb— The crew chosen to fly the space shuttle on NASA’s second mission since the 2003 Columbia disaster said on Friday they are confident that changes to the fuel tank will result in a safe, but not debris-free, liftoff.

The modifications were ordered after shuttle Discovery’s fuel tank shed large pieces of its insulating foam during launch in July 2005 on the first mission since the accident, which also was caused by falling foam debris. “The (shuttle) programme has never advertised that we would never lose any foam,” said astronaut Steven Lindsey, the commander of the next crew, which also will fly on shuttle Discovery. — MNA/Reuters

China to better regulate food products for children

Beijing, 19 Feb— China will monitor the production and sale of food made for children and those made for the rural population, China’s health watchdog told Xinhua on Friday.

“We mean to strengthen the protection of this disadvantaged group,” a spokesman of the Health Ministry said on condition of anonymity.

The Ministry will punish producers who cheat peasants by making inferior food products, the spokesman said. — MNA/Xinhua

Roche seeks EU early-stage OK for breast-cancer drug

Zurich, 19 Feb— Swiss drugmaker Roche AG said on Friday it was seeking approval from European authorities for the use of its breast cancer drug Herceptin in post-surgery therapy for women with early-stage cancer. Roche said in a statement that it had submitted a marketing authorization application to the European Medicines Agency for Herceptin as adjuvant treatment for early-stage HER2-positive breast cancer. Herceptin is already licenced in Europe and in the United States as treatment for metastatic advanced cancer. The new license, if granted, would extend the use of the drug to early stage cancer.

The European request is based on data from an international study showing that patients treated with Herceptin experienced statistically significant improvements in disease-free survival compared to patients who did not receive it.

“Results from four large trials with nearly 12,000 patients analysed from around the globe provide consistent evidence that Herceptin reduces the risk of cancer coming back by about half, providing the best chance of long-term survival to women with this aggressive form of early-stage breast cancer,” Roche said.

GLASGOW, 20 Feb—Celtic thrashed Dunfermline 8-1, with Polish striker Maciej Zurawski netting four goals, to re-open a 13-point gap at the top of the Scottish Premier League on Sunday.

Second from bottom Dunfermline were level at 1-1 after 14 minutes before Celtic raced to their biggest win of the season and of Gordon Strachan's managerial career.

“Dunfermline were unlucky to get us on a day like this,” Strachan told Setanta TV after the second biggest away victory in Celtic’s history.

Celtic have 67 points from 27 games with Hearts second courtesy of their 3-0 home win over Motherwell on Saturday.

Bulgarian Stilian Petrov grabbed the third minute opener for Celtic who were denied a penalty soon afterwards when Petrov was brought down. A minute later Dunfermline levelled. Craig Wilson whipped over a corner and the ball found its way to Andy Campbell who hooked it back across for Andy Tod to head high into the net.

Late Cole goals edge Chelsea past Colchester

LONDON, 20 Feb—Chelsea needed two late goals by Joe Cole to beat Colchester 3-1 in the fifth round of the FA Cup on Sunday after the Third Division side had taken the lead and threatened to hold on for a notable Stamford Bridge draw.

A Ricardo Carvalho own goal put Colchester ahead in the 28th minute with Paulo Ferreira equalizing nine minutes later.

Champions Chelsea looked increasingly nervous until substitute Cole scored in the 79th minute and the England midfielder then curled in a sublime second in injury time.

Earlier Middlesbrough won 2-0 at Preston North End and Birmingham City won 1-0 at Stoke City to ensure that the quarterfinals will contain eight Premier League sides.

Later on Sunday Aston Villa host Manchester City in the final fifth round game.

Colchester hold a special place in FA Cup history thanks to their giant-killing 3-2 win over then-mighty Leeds United in 1971.

The Essex team were in the Fourth Division then, this time they are in the third and pushing for promotion. Their entire squad cost 15,000 pounds (26,030 US dollars) compared with the 227 million of their billionaire-backed opponents on Sunday.

Colchester went close to taking a shock lead in the 22nd minute when on-loan Mark Yeates drove a low shot against a post.

Chelsea failed to heed the warning though and paid the price for more slack defending. A neat build-up sent Richard Garcia free down the right and when he drove in a low cross Carvalho clumsily turned it into his own net.

The equalizer came in the 37th minute when Carvalho gothic shoulder to a corner and fellow Portuguese international Ferreira hooked the loose ball in from close range.

Hamburg edge Eintracht to close on Bayern

FRANKFURT, 20 Feb—Hamburg SV trimmed Bayern Munich’s lead in the Bundesliga to eight points by winning 2-1 away to Eintracht Frankfurt on Sunday.

Piotr Trochowski and Daniel van Buyten got the goals for Hamburg, who had slipped off the pace after defeats in their previous two away games.

Bayern remain on course for a successful defence of their title despite Saturday’s 1-1 draw away to Hanover 96. With 22 games played, the Bavarians have 55 points, with Hamburg’s victory on Sunday taking them back up to second on 47.

Werder Bremen, 1-0 winners away to Borussia Dortmund on Saturday, are third on 46.

VfB Stuttgart won 2-1 at home to Mainz on Sunday, a first victory for Armin Veh since he replaced Giovanni Trapattoni as coach on 10 February.

Hamburg were untidy in the first half in Frankfurt, giving the home side plenty of opportunities, but after taking the lead for the second time shortly after the break, their first away win of 2006 never looked in danger.

Trochowski had created the first out of nothing in the 20th minute, nipping past the covering defender and pok ing out a boot to convert a high, hopeful cross from Sergej Barbarez on the left.

Eintracht kept pressing for an equalizer and it ar rived three minutes after the break, when Alex Meier’s header hit Van Buyten and deflected past the keeper.

van Buyten made amends seven minutes after the break, calmly stroking in after being teed up by Trochowski’s cut-back. “We didn’t give them a chance after they’d got their equalizer,” coach Thomas Doll said. “We were very disciplined.”
