Work hard in concert for eternal peace

Nowadays in Myanmar, there have been favourable conditions for peace and development and democracy. In such a situation and at such a time like this, Commander U Min Sin of Brigade (758) and 848 members of Shan State Army (South), realizing the genuine goodwill and loving-kindness of the entire national people, have returned to the legal fold.

U Min Sin and members of his brigade brought together with them 24 assorted heavy weapons, 834 assorted small arms, 1990 magazines, 157,971 rounds of ammunition, 55 hand grenades, 63 landmines, 15 communications sets and 120 walkie-talkies.

The entire national people and local people of Shan State (South), Shan State (North) and Shan State (East) have been giving a rousing welcome to the peace group which has returned to the legal fold with a view to bringing peace to the nation and the people. Vehicles, power-tillers and presents have been provided to them in order that they can earn their living and carry on regional development work.

At present, the government has given priority to national reconciliation and kept the peace door open with the genuine goodwill. Therefore, a total of 17 armed groups and small groups of national races have returned to the legal fold and, as a result, peace, stability and the rule of law are prevailing all over the nation.

The return to the legal fold by U Min Sin with the rank of vice-chief of staff of Shan State Army (South) is a significant achievement on the road to peace. This is the most suitable response to genuine goodwill and loving-kindness people have shown towards them.

We believe that all the national brethren who have been living in the same land since the time of their forefathers will continue working hard in concert with the government for eternal peace so that they can fully enjoy the protection of the law and the fruits of development.

Putin takes swipe at British PM’s fundraiser

ST PETERSBURG. (Russia), 17 July— Russian President Vladimir Putin took a deliberate swipe at British Prime Minister Tony Blair on Saturday, turning a question about democracy into a jab at Blair’s embattled fundraiser Lord Michael Levy.

He said he always listened to criticism and was glad to take into account the views of fellow leaders at the summit, but Russia would always make its own decisions.

“There are also other questions,” he said after a long pause. “Questions, let’s say, about the fight against corruption. We’d be interested in hearing your experience, including how it applies to Lord Levy.” Blair was not available to respond, having just finished dinner with Putin and the other G-8 leaders and their spouses.

Putin, a former KGB spy, often produces unexpected quips in an attempt to expose the weakness of his critics.

US Vice-President Dick Cheney and Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice have both criticized Russia this year. But President George W Bush backed away from confrontation on Saturday, saying Russia had its own style of democracy.

But when Bush urged Russia “to promote institutional change in parts of the world like Iraq where there’s a free Press and free religion”, Putin replied: “We certainly would not want to have the same kind of democracy as they have in Iraq, I will tell you quite honestly.”— MNA/Reuters

China, Sri Lanka FMs issue joint Press communiqué

BEIJING, 17 July—Chinese Foreign Minister Li Zhaoxing and Sri Lankan Foreign Minister Mangala Samarawera issued a joint Press communiqué in Beijing on Saturday evening.

The joint Press communiqué said at the invitation of Li, Samarawera paid an official visit to China from 12 to 16 July.

Samarawera called on Chinese Premier Wen Jiabao and held in-depth talks with Li. Samarawera also met with Li Shenglin, Minister of Communications, Yu Guangzhou, Vice Minister of Commerce, Shao Qweii, chairman of China National Tourism Administration, Li Ruogu, president of the Export-Import Bank of China and Yuan Xingpei, chairman of China-Sri Lanka Friendship Group of China’s National People’s Congress.

The joint communiqué said during the meetings, the two sides exchanged views on bilateral relations as well as regional and international issues of mutual interest.

The two sides reaffirmed that China-Sri Lanka relations have enjoyed healthy and smooth growth on the basis of the Five Principles of Peaceful Coexistence since the establishment of diplomatic relations 49 years ago.—MNA/Xinhua

Poll shows Blair’s Labour now sleazier than predecessor

LONDON, 17 July— Prime Minister Tony Blair’s Labour Government is sleazier than the Conservative administration it swept from power nine years ago, an opinion poll showed on Saturday.

Its findings increased the pressure on the Premier to step down as his beleaguered government has been hit by sex scandals, mismanagement and accusations of trading state awards.

Blair, who promised to be “whiter than white” after defeating the Conservatives in a landslide 1997 election triumph, now faces even greater voter disillusion.

The YouGov poll in Saturday’s Daily Telegraph showed 69 per cent of people looked on Labour as “very sleazy and disreputable” compared to 63 per cent for the last Conservative government.

The poll showed strong public backing for a police investigation into political party funding which has seen detectives question two of Blair’s ministers and his chief party fundraiser and personal Middle east envoy, Lord Levy.

An overwhelming 81 per cent supported the investigation which has severely dented Blair’s popularity.

He has promised to step down before the next election after steering Labour to three straight poll victories.

“Historians 100 years from now will wonder how a government that began so well ended so badly.” said Anthony King, professor of government at Essex University, commenting on the new poll.

Police are investigating allegations that Blair promised lordships — life-long seats in the Upper House of Parliament, the House of Lords — in return for secret loans.

Even bookmakers have now slashed the odds on Blair quitting this year from 11-4 to 2-1. Labour came under pressure after it said it had received 14 million pounds (26 million US dollars) in loans from 12 businessmen, some of whom were nominated for seats in the House of Lords. S Korea on crisis alert as heavy rain kills ten

SEOUL, 17 July — South Korea issued a national crisis warning on Sunday as torrential rain caused flooding in parts of the country, killing 10 people and leaving 17 missing and presumed dead.

The orange alert issued for the capital, Seoul, and its surrounding regions and for the eastern province of Kangwon was prompted by a “high likelihood of large-scale disasters” from heavy rain, the National Emergency Management Agency said.

The alert is a step below the category-red warning that shuts down schools and workplaces and bans access to major highways.

The orange alert puts residents of affected areas on standby for possible swift evacuation and advises children and the elderly to remain indoors.

Up to 50 centimetres (20 inches) of rainfall in eastern South Korea since Friday had caused flooding, driving more than 2,000 people into emergency shelters, the emergency agency said in a report.

Further heavy rain was expected in central and eastern regions including Seoul, with more than 25 centimetres (10 inches) of precipitation expected in some areas before midnight on Sunday, the National Meteorological Agency said.

Bangladesh woman gives birth to quadruplet babies

DHAKA, 17 July — A Bangladeshi woman, a mother of four, gave birth to quadruplet babies in Dhaka Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujib Medical University Hospital on Saturday, which doctors dubbed a rare incident.

The quadruplet are two baby girls and two boys and they are looking well, according to doctors dealing with the case.

The father of the babies works in Saudi Arabia.

More wildfires expected in western US

LOS ANGELES, 17 July — Thunderstorms were expected to hit parts of the Western United States, particularly California later Sunday and produce lightning capable of starting new blazes.

Although the thunderstorms might be helpful in putting out some wildfires, but they might also ignite more blazes, the California Department of Forestry said on Sunday. “We’re definitely concerned” about the coming thunderstorms, said department spokeswoman Karen Guillemine.

The runaway wildfires, which were started by lightning last Sunday, had destroyed 58 homes and blackened more than 110 square miles, according to the department.

So far, one man had been killed and his body was found on Saturday after he went missing since one of the fires rushed through historic Pioneertown last week, police said.

Nearly 4,000 firefighters have been sent to the spots to contain the fires before they could endanger mountain resort towns where thousands live.

The fires, the most widespread since the 1970s, had charred about 75,000 acres of land.

Fire officials estimated damage at more than 5.4 million US dollars and firefighting costs at 10.3 million.

Three killed in single-engine plane crash in Italy

ROME, 17 July — A single-engine plane headed to Germany crashed shortly after take-off from the Italian island of Elba on Sunday, killing three people and seriously injuring two others aboard, an Airport official said.

Smoke was seen coming from the aircraft just moments after it was in the air and the official at the Marina di Campo Airport said the crash appeared to be due to engine failure. The victims were all believed to be Germans, he said, but added further checks were necessary.

Nearly 250 detained in combing operation in Mumbai

MUMBAI, 17 July — At least 250 people were detained on Saturday from the city’s Mahim area, which is allegedly frequented by illegal Bangladeshi immigrants, as part of the ongoing probe into Tuesday’s serial train blasts.

The raids were conducted early in the morning by officials of the central region of Mumbai police and over 400 policemen from various police stations participated in it, police said.

Nearly a dozen history-sheeters and wanted criminals also landed in the police net during the raid.

The combing operation was launched at 4 am, since there were reports that the area is frequented by illegal Bangladeshi immigrants.

The suspects will be individually interrogated later, while nearly a dozen history-sheeters and wanted criminals who have been arrested will be produced in Court for offences for which they were wanted, sources said.

Death toll of flood rises to 115 in China

FUZHOU, 17 July — Floods and rainstorms accompanying Typhoon Bilis have killed 115 people across southeast China, according to official estimates on Sunday.

Rainstorms hit Fujian Province where Bilis landed at noon on Friday, causing flooding and landslides that left 43 dead, 24 missing and four injured.

Ten of the missing were confirmed buried in a landslide in Zhangzhou at 1:00 am on Sunday. Rescue work is underway, but city officials believe their chances of survival is slim.

Heavy rain in Fujian is continuing. Fourteen of the province’s 68 counties and cities have recorded rainfall of more than 200 millimetres, including two whose rainfall exceeded 400 millimetres.

Three million people had been affected by flooding, 19,100 houses destroyed and 519,000 people were evacuated by 6:00 am on Sunday.

Rainstorms and floods ruined 144,680 hectares of crops and forced 1,865 industrial and mining enterprises to close, resulting in losses of three billion yuan (375 million US dollars).

The Fujian government has appropriated 4.3 million yuan (375,500 US dollars) for relief aid and delivered 2,000 quilts, 6,000 boxes of instant noodles and 12,000 tents to victims.

Aid has also been distributed in Hunan Province, where at least 50 people have died since torrential rains started at dawn on Saturday.

Rescuers have evacuated 262,000 people, but 112,000 are cut off by flooding.

Civil defence authorities said more than 3,600 people have been evacuated from the highest risk areas near the volcano.

“We need water, food and medicine … but we are lucky we had no deaths or people hurt,” said Juan Salazar, the mayor of Pumice County on the outskirts of the volcano.

The Tungurahua’s crater has blasted melted rocks during the two days, burning trees and grass on its way down in the volcano’s highest recorded activity since it started erupting in 1999, local scientists said.

Ecuador volcano spews melted rocks, villages evacuated

PINGUE (Ecuador), 17 July — The Tungurahua Volcano spewed ash, gas and melted rocks for the second day straight on Saturday, sending hundreds of Ecuadorean villagers crowding into schools and churches seeking refuge.

Tungurahua, located about 80 miles (129 kilometres) south of Quito, has been increasingly active since May, when it shot out large clouds of hot gas and prompted officials to renew a limited state of emergency in nearby towns.

Civil defence authorities and police continued to evacuate seven small villages around the volcano, whose name means “throat of fire” in the indigenous Quichua language.

President says Philippine economy on rise and competitive

MANILA, 16 July—Philippine President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo said on Friday the Philippine economy is now on the rise and capable of competing with the country’s neighbours in attracting investment.

“The Philippines is now ready to rise and join the league of prosperity, peace and true freedom,” she said in a statement to the Press.

Arroyo said economic indicators of the country vis-a-vis rising oil prices in the world market show the country’s situation has been stabilizing despite political turmoil.

She also said government funds are available for vital projects because of increased tax incomes.

Indicators of an improving economy are a 5.5-per-cent increase in gross domestic product for the first quarter of 2006 and an expected 6-per-cent growth for the second quarter. 21 billion US dollars in foreign exchange reserves, relatively low inflation, budget surpluses for April and May, foreign direct investments of 500 million US dollars for the first four months this year, and a double-digit growth of export of 17 per cent for May, she said.

“We will spend in public investment and infrastructure but also in social development, security livelihood and enterprise facility and good governance and this will in turn address the problem of employment, food and prices,” she said.

China urges US, EU to push forward Doha talks

BEIJING, 16 July—Spokesman of Chinese Ministry of Commerce Chong Quan here Friday made a call to related departments of the United States and the European Union that they should show their political willingness to push forward the Doha talks.

The United States and the European Union should work out the negotiation pattern as soon as possible, so as to help the Doha round trade talks to be concluded by the end of this year, he said at a Press conference.

“We are regretful that the just-concluded World Trade Organization (WTO) informal ministerial meeting in Geneva made no progress,” he said.

China insists on the general goal of concluding the Doha talks by the end of this year, so the negotiation momentum must be maintained, he said.

First job training centre for inmates opens in HK

HONG KONG, 15 July — Hong Kong’s Correctional Services Department Friday opened its first vocational training centre on Hei Ling Chau, offering inmates full-time pre-release career coaching.

The Lai Sun Correctional Institution Vocational Training Centre provides 260 places with courses and lessons on a host of trades for inmates two years before discharge. Participants that pass the courses can get accredited certificates. Local male inmates aged 21 or above can apply to take the courses.

Commissioner of Correctional Services Pang Sung-yuen said that with the training centre’s establishment, rehabilitation services have reached a higher and more professional level.

“One of the important themes of the new correctional focus, with the aim of helping re-habilitated offenders reintegrate into society, is to execute a common social responsibility by integrating the resources and manpower of the community,” Pang said.

At present, the courses and lessons provided by the centre include mechanical craft, food and beverage services (Western style), kitchen assistant training, printing and desktop publishing, computer skills training and hairdressing. Courses on clerical training and commercial studies, painting and decorating, air-conditioning and refrigeration as well as electrical fitting and installation will be provided at a later stage.

Iraq’s top sports officials abducted

BAGHDAD, 16 July — Some 50 sports officials and athletes, including the head of Iraq’s Olympic Committee, were abducted by gunmen when they were holding a meeting in central Baghdad. The gunmen, raising alarms in the government vehicles wearing police uniforms when they broke into a cultural centre, police Lieutenant Thaar Mahmoud said.

Ahmed al-Hijia, president of the committee, was taken away around 13:00pm along with his bodyguards.

T. Karim, secretary of the committee, were attending a conference in Karradah, a Shite neighbourhood in Baghdad.

Others abducted included the deputy head of the Olympic committee, Ammar Jabbar al-Saadi; the chairman of the Taekwondo Federation, Jamal Abdul-Karim; and the chief of the Boxing Federation, Union, Bashar Mustafa.

The director of sports medicine, Dr Faleh Francis, was originally reported to be among those abducted, but state-run television later said he was not part of the group. — MNA/Xinhua

“Bilis” leaves 42 dead, over 100 missing in China

BEIJING, 16 July — Rainstorms and floods caused by Typhoon Bilis have claimed 42 lives and left more than 100 missing after it landed in eastern China on Friday, government sources said Saturday.

Central China’s Hunan Province is the worst hit as 36 people were confirmed dead and more than 100 went missing as of 4 pm Saturday, said the provincial flood control and drought relief headquarters.

Six people died and nine others were missing in South China’s Guangdong Province, said the Guangdong headquarters of flood control at 5 pm Saturday.

In Hunan another 349 people were injured and 40,000 people in the cities of Hengyang and Chenzhou were stranded by floods.

Hunan Party Chief Zhang Chunxian and Governor Zhou Bohua asked rescuers to save people and reduce casualties at all costs. The two senior officials have rushed to flood-hit areas to coordinate rescue efforts.

Hunan flood control headquarters have sent 140 vessels to search and rescue the trapped.

Eight reservoirs in the province are in dangerous condition while the dam of one of the reservoirs could collapse at any time as the sluice is crammed by floating tree trunks and cannot open.

Workshop on bio-diesel producing technology held

YANGON, 17 July—The workshop on growing physic nut plant and bio-diesel producing technology sponsored by Yangon Division Peace and Development Council was held at No 2 Basic Education High School on Myoma Kyaung Street in Dagon Township here this morning, attended by Lt-Gen Myint Swe of the Ministry of Defence.

Also present on the occasion were Chairman of Yangon Division PDC Commander of Yangon Command Brig-Gen Hla Htay Win and members, Secretary of Yangon City Development Committee U Tin Soe, station commanders under the Yangon Command, commanders of battalions and regiments, chairman of the District/Township PDCs, members of the District/Township and regiments, chairmen under the Yangon Command, commanderies under the Yangon Command, station commanders under the Yangon Command, chairmen of the District/Township Development Committees, members of the District/Township and regiments, and regional development councilors.

The workshop was attended by ministers, rectorates, rectifiers, rectors of universities and colleges, professors and lecturers, businesspeople, and merchants from industrial zones and guests. In his address, Commander Brig-Gen Hla Htay Win said that the growing of physic nut plants is being carried out with might and main in the states and divisions as a national duty. The commander quoted Head of State Senor General Than Shwe as saying during his tour of Ayeyawady Division that bio-diesel is being extracted easily from physic nuts to be substituted for diesel. This being the case, extended cultivation of physic nut plants is to be carried out for regional development and the development of agricultural sector. In the coming one-and-half or two years, farmers will be able to fully engage in double cropping with the use of bio-diesel. In the meantime, efforts are to be made to fully utilize land resources in the nation. In accordance with the guidance of the Head of State, each state and division including Yangon Division is to put 500,000 acres of land under physic nut plants, said the commander.

He stressed the need for those present to hold a discussion through good ideas and effective technology.

Next, Lt-Gen Myint Swe, the commander and officials viewed the demonstration of technologies on cultivation of physic nut plants and extraction of bio-diesel, and documentary photos on growing of physic nut plants in districts being displayed.

YANGON, 17 July—The workshop on growing physic nut plant and bio-diesel producing technology sponsored by Yangon Division Peace and Development Council was held at No 2 Basic Education High School on Myoma Kyaung Street in Dagon Township here this morning, attended by Lt-Gen Myint Swe of the Ministry of Defence.

Also present on the occasion were Chairman of Yangon Division PDC Commander of Yangon Command Brig-Gen Hla Htay Win and members, Secretary of Yangon City Development Committee U Tin Soe, station commanders under the Yangon Command, commanders of battalions and regiments, chairman of the District/Township PDCs, members of the District/Township and regiments, chairmen under the Yangon Command, commanderies under the Yangon Command, station commanders under the Yangon Command, chairmen of the District/Township Development Committees, members of the District/Township and regiments, rectors of universities, professors and lecturers, businesspeople, and merchants from industrial zones and guests. In his address, Commander Brig-Gen Hla Htay Win said that the growing of physic nut plants is being carried out with might and main in the states and divisions as a national duty. The commander quoted Head of State Senor General Than Shwe as saying during his tour of Ayeyawady Division that bio-diesel is being extracted easily from physic nuts to be substituted for diesel. This being the case, extended cultivation of physic nut plants is to be carried out for regional development and the development of agricultural sector. In the coming one-and-half or two years, farmers will be able to fully engage in double cropping with the use of bio-diesel. In the meantime, efforts are to be made to fully utilize land resources in the nation. In accordance with the guidance of the Head of State, each state and division including Yangon Division is to put 500,000 acres of land under physic nut plants, said the commander.

He stressed the need for those present to hold a discussion through good ideas and effective technology.

The Secretary-1, the guests and the diplomats posed for a documentary photo together with members of the national race cultural troupe.

The Secretary-1, the ministers, guests and diplomats planted commemorative trees in front of the building. The Secretary-1 formally unveiled the bronze plaque of the facility and sprinkled scented water on it.

Lt-Gen Kyaw Win, the commander, the dean of diplomatic corps, Minister U Thaung and Laotian Ambassador Mr Chanthvy Bodhisane also sprinkled scented water on the bronze plaque.

The Secretary-1 in his speech said that U Kan Na and members of Brigade-11 of SSNA, U Aik Mone and members of PSLA, and U Gon Khay and members of Brigade-19 of SSNA, that returned to the legal fold beginning in the middle of 2005, have unconditionally exchanged arms for peace.

He said the ceremony to mark the return to the legal fold of a national race armed group led by Brigade (758) commander U Mein Sin with the rank of vice chief of staff from Shan State (SSA-S) of Ywet Sit was held the day before.

In conjunction with the ceremony, the destroying of seized narcotic drugs took place in Laikha Township that demonstrated success in the government’s drug-elimination drive.

In its drive for enabling the motherland to catch up with the international community, the government is taking all necessary steps for ensuring equitable development of all parts of the Union based on the progress of the region concerned.

In the process, it is harmoniously implementing border areas and national races development projects based in border areas, the special development zones projects based in states and divisions, and the rural development tasks that cover countryside regions of the nation. As a result of the projects, all parts of the Union including Shan State are now having prospects for development.

With the centre of the four of the development regions established under the special plan by the government — Taunggyi, Lashio, Kengtung and Panglong — Shan State has seen stability and all-round development dramatically.

Today, Shan State has got basic foundations for development such as a network of transport facilities, schools, universities and colleges where local national races youth can pursue higher education, specialists hospitals, general hospitals, health care centres, rural health care centres, coal-fired and hydropower power stations and modern airports that jets can use.

It is encouraging to see increasing development of Shan State with industrial zones and border trade centres that can effectively enhance regional development, such modern border cities as Muse, Chinsawhaw, Laukkai, Mongla and Tachilek, tourism industry and trade.

(See page 9)

He said he would like to let local people know that such remarkable development Shan State is enjoying is largely due to extraordinary efforts and steps of the government. When the Tatmadaw took up the State’s responsibilities, Shan State was in a desperate plight owing to tribulations of armed insurgency, drug-related cases and lack of infrastructures due to insecurity.

Inequality and rich-poor divide resulting from the divide-and-rule policy of the colonialists, the quagmire the drug problem had created, chronic feudalism, Kuomintang intrusion, domination of the Burma Communist Party. In consequence, local people had to withstand all trials and tribulations of armed insurgency, drug-related cases and lack of infrastructures due to insecurity.

Extraordinary efforts and meritous deeds, and efforts of the government. The government has striven for peace, prosperity and progress of Shan State in accord with the national policy.

Shan State in accord with national policy. Hence, the exclusion of Shan State and the exclusion of the entire Shan State will lead to peace and stability resulting from the people of Shan State and the people of the entire Shan State will lead to a situation that almost all the national race armed groups have returned to the legal fold and joined hands with the government in striving for regional peace, stability and development. The number of national race armed groups that are building eternal peace after totally abandoning the armed struggle line is increasing. All are going to witness in the near future the prevalence of peace in the entire Shan State.

All must be aware that the extremist saboteurs should view the international events objectively and reconsider their situation correctly. It is heart-rending to witness the terrorist acts of killings and attacks between the people of different faiths or different races daily in the world. All should realize the double standard the powers are practising to dominate the entire world, sowing seeds of discord among the peoples of other nations. All the national people should preserve Union and safeguard the national unity.

However, blinded by greed, anger and delusion, the extremist saboteurs could not bear to witness the Shan State enjoying peace and progress in all sectors due to concerted efforts of the local government fully believes that the entire Shan State will enjoy total peace and prosperity when all the armed opposition cease to exist. With much patience and tolerance, the government will continue to work steadfastly towards peace.

And because of lack of peace and stability resulting from the armed insurgency, local people could not lead a peaceful life but had to stay in precarious conditions in earning their living. Schools were destroyed, youth could not pursue education, and elderly persons could not perform meritorious deeds, and local people’s life was totally uncertain due to bullying and terrorist acts.

In his discussions, he said that they were there to inspect Ayethaya Industrial Zone in Taunggyi and provide necessary assistance for its development. He said he frequented the industrial zone and whenever he arrived there he witnessed its development all the more.

The government has established the industrial zones for industrial development and provided all the necessary assistance in this regard. Thus, he said, all the industrial zones are making progress to such an extent that they have been able to produce automobiles and farm equipment.

A glance at the international community will reveal that the industrialized nations are prosperous. Those industrialized nations had to begin like ours to reach such a status. Monetary and human resources are imperative for industrial development.

Therefore, efforts are being made to obtain the investment for the industrial sector from the agricultural sector for national development, the industrial zones are to strive to be able to install computerized modern equipment and to nurture and produce intellectual and technocrats.

At least two killed, 30 wounded in bomb attack in Baghdad

BAGHDAD, 17 July — A roadside bomb went off at a busy commercial area in southern Baghdad on Sunday, killing at least two people and wounding up to 30 others, a police source said.

The bomb detonated at the Baghdad Massana market for vehicles’ spare parts, the source said, confirming that all the victims were civilians.

The attack came a day after gunmen wearing police uniforms abducted some 50 sports officials and athletes, including the head of Iraq’s Olympic Committee, while they were holding a meeting in central Baghdad.

Ahmed al-Hijjya, president of the committee, was taken away around 1:30 pm (1030 GMT) along with his bodyguards and some 30 athletes as they were attending a conference in Karradah, a Shiite neighbourhood in Bagh- dad, according to a police source.

New York doctor suspected of blowing up house dies

New York, 17 July— The Manhattan doctor suspected of blowing up his townhouse last week in an apparent suicide bid has died of injuries suffered in the blast, hospital officials said on Sunday.

Dr Nicholas Bartha, who was alone in the four-story townhouse on East 62nd Street when the explosion levelled it on Monday, was rescued from the rubble but had been in hospital with severe burns and had been on a respirator, so he was never questioned by police.

Several of his friends, as well as his ex-wife and some media outlets and politicians, received e-mails from him before the explosion saying he would leave the home the couple once shared “only if I am dead.”

Bartha, 66, had been ordered by the courts to sell the multimillion-dollar home, where he had his practice, as a result of the couple’s acrimonious divorce and was reportedly served with eviction papers just days before.

British firms commit to pensions, but costs bite, says survey

LONDON, 17 July — British companies are pumping large slices of workers’ salaries into workplace pensions and these payments are biting into profits, according to a survey published on Monday.

Companies now pay an average of 19.6 per cent of staff salaries to defined benefit (DB) pensions—a figure including payments to cut scheme deficits. A quarter of firms pay more than 25 per cent of salaries to pensions, according to the survey, carried out by Mercer Human Resource Consulting.

Contribution to DB pensions— which in benefits are usually linked to salaries— are more than double those paid to defined contribution (DC) pensions based on market investment returns, known as de—fined contribution (DC) pensions. Some companies, such as pest-control business Rentokil, have even shut final-salary plans to existing members.

The survey was drawn from 355 companies employing a total of 900,000 staff with retirement scheme assets totalling 76 billion pounds (140 billion US dollars). The report was carried out on behalf of the Confederation of British Industry (CBI), the business lobby group.

“The rising cost of pensions has had a serious impact on corporate cashflow, profitability, investment and the ability to pay dividends. And this survey shows that government actions have not alleviated the pressure.” — Richard Lambert, CBI director-general, said in a report.

While three-quarters of firms are committed to providing a workplace pension of some kind, only 7 per cent believe they should offer aplan that pays a pre-determined benefit, the survey showed.

Among detailed findings, 74 per cent of firms with final-salary pensions say their rising costs have significantly or severely reduced company profits, compared with 50 per cent taking this view in 2004. Companies contributed an average of 14.2 per cent of pay to a defined benefit pension, while contributions to pensions based on market returns, known as de—fined contribution (DC) schemes, were 6.6 per cent. — MNA/Reuters

China’s technology imports up 60% in first half of the year

BEIJING, 16 July — China signed 5.461 technology import contracts valued at 13.2 billion US dollars in the first half of 2006, up 62.2 per cent on the previous year, according to the Ministry of Commerce.

A report of the ministry published this week said the railway transport industry signed contracts worth 3.93 billion US dollars from January to June, eight times that of the same period last year.

The electronics and telecommunications industry signed 782 technology import contracts, with the con-tractual value reaching 2.79 billion US dollars, up 150 per cent. The European Union is still the number one technology exporter to China. In the first six months, China signed 5.62 billion US dollars worth of technology import contracts with the EU, a rise of 45.7 per cent.

Japan and the United States ranked second and third, with technology contracts signed with China standing at 3.36 billion and 2.08 billion US dollars, up 25.4 and 15.7 per cent respectively.

China peer on coal liquefaction

YINCHUAN, 15 July — The Netherlands-based Shell Gas and Power Developments BV and Shenhua Ningxia Coal Industry Company Ltd (Shenhua-Ningmei) have recently signed an agreement on joint study of coal liquefaction technology in Yinchuan, capital of northwest China’s Ningxia Hui Autonomous Region.

Under the accord, the world’s leading gas company will work together with Shenhua-Ningmei on the technological and commercial feasibility for launching an indirect coal liquefaction facility with a daily production capacity of 70,000 barrels of oil products and chemicals at the Ningdong coal production base, one of the 13 major such bases approved by the Chinese Government.

Lim Haw Kwang, executive chairman of Shell China operations, said that as a leader in clean coal technology, “We have proven technology that converts coal to gas and then gas to liquids. We believe this technology is important to China, particularly in large coal-producing areas such as Ningxia.”

Zhang Wenjiang, chairman of Shenhua-Ningmei, said, “Ningxia is not only rich in coal but in water and power supply, which are all important for the successful development of an indirect coal liquefaction project.”

Shenhua-Ningmei is the principal investor and constructor of Ningxia’s Ningdong base. Capital construction has begun at the base for the indirect coal-to-liquid project, Zhang added.

British princes lash out over Diana’s death photos

LONDON, 16 July — Britain’s princes William and Harry lashed out on Friday at an Italian magazine that published tabloids photographs of their mother Princess Diana dying in the wreckage of a Paris car crash.

“We feel deeply saddened that such a low has been reached,” the two princes said in a rare statement. “Despite the support shown to us and our mother’s memory by so many people over the last eight years, we feel that, as her sons, we would be failing in our duty to her now if we did not protect her, as she once did us.”

“Therefore, we appeal to all forms of media throughout the world to appreciate fully that publishing such material causes great hurt to us, our father, our mother’s family and all those who so loved and respected her.”

Milan-based magazine Chi defended its decision to run the photo, which showed Diana slumped and dying in the mangled Mercedes moments after it slammed into a tunnel at high speed, killing her, her lover and their driver.

Philippines continues to receive high overseas remittances

MANILA, 16 July — Overseas remittances sent to the Philippines through banking system amounted to 1.1 billion US dollars in May, the highest ever on monthly basis, the Philippine Central Bank or Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) said Friday. The May level brought the cumulative remittances for the first five months to an all-time high of 4.9 billion US dollars, nearly 15 per cent higher than last year, said the central bank.

BSP Governor Amando Tetangco Jr said the increase was due to the continued increase in deployment of Filipinos workers and the commercial banks and more efficient banking services.

Citing pre-liminary data from the Philippine Overseas Employment Administration, Tetangco said total deployment rose by nearly 13 per cent in May. For the first five months, deployed sea-based workers posted a 15-per-cent increase to 115,557, offsetting the 3.6-per-cent decline to 350,705 in deployed land-based workers.

S America federation unaware of Colombia Cup bid

RIO DE JANEIRO, 18 July— The South American (CSF) was unaware of a Colombian bid to host the World Cup finals in 2014, a spokesman said on Monday.

Nestor Benitez said the CSF still considered Brazil as their only candidate to host the tournament in eight years’ time, due to be staged in South America under FIFA’s new rotation system.

“Brazil is unquestionably the only candidate for the 2014 World Cup,” he told Reuters by telephone from the CSF’s headquarters in Asuncion.

However, Colombian Vice-President Francisco Santos told reporters he would meet with the CSF this Friday to pitch the idea of Colombia hosting the World Cup.

Colombia President Alvaro Uribe said in a speech on Saturday evening that his country wanted to stage the tournament in the future, although he did not give any details.

Colombia was awarded the 1962 finals but pulled out less than two years before the tournament was due to be staged claiming financial difficulties.

Mexico stepped in and held the competition for the second time in 16 years. The 10 members of the South American confederation voted in 2003 to back Brazil as their only candidate for the 2014 World Cup.

However, Brazil, who have won the World Cup five times but only hosted it once in 1950, would still have to meet FIFA’s standards to be awarded the event.

“If Colombia wanted to bid for the World Cup, it would have to come through the Colombian federation,” said Benitez, adding no such bid had been made.

In Bogota, the Colombian federation would not comment on Uribe’s speech. —MNA/Reuters

Manchester United debt deal cuts interest bill

LONDON, 18 July— Manchester United have finalized a 660-million-pound (1.2-billion-US-dollars) debt restructuring to cut their annual interest bill, Tuesday’s Financial Times said.

The newspaper said the restructuring would strengthen the Glazer family’s grip on the club and reflect their improving financial prospects.

A spokesman for the Glazers said the amended structure would continue to provide team manager Alex Ferguson with “sufficient funds in the transfer market”.

The FT, citing people familiar with the package, said the club’s annual interest charge would fall to 62 million pounds, compared to 90 million pounds under the old deal.

It said overall borrowings would rise to 660 million pounds from 580 million, but the club had halved to 135 million pounds the amount they owe in the form of higher risk payment-in-kind notes.

The club could not immediately be reached for comment.

INTER to sue Moggi over match-fixing comments

ROMA, 18 July— Inter Milan will sue former Juventus general manager Luciano Moggi for comments he made about their president in a newspaper interview, Inter owner Massimo Moratti said on Monday.

Moggi, at the centre of a match-fixing scandal that has rocked Italian football, said in the interview with daily Repubblica that Inter were unfairly trying to take the moral high ground in the scandal which has engulfed Juve, AC Milan, Lazio and Fiorentina. Illicit dealings...

Moratti said in comments published on Inter’s official website: “These are the words of desperate people...Facchetti above all, and we at Inter, will sue Moggi because we have nothing to do with this and these things should not even be thought of.”

Moratti also reiterated his call for last season’s Serie A title to be awarded to Inter, who have not been involved in the biggest scandal in European soccer for decades. —MNA/Reuters

SOFIA, 18 July — Bulgarian Premier League club Vihren Sandanski have sacked coach Dionysios Beslikas and replaced him with former striker Petar Zhekov, the club said.

“It’s a decision made by our president Konstantin Dinev and we’ll have to respect it,” the club’s chief executive Valeri Stoichev told Reuters on Monday.

The 56-year-old Greek Beslikas was at the helm for just three weeks as he failed to establish any form of rapport with the players during the pre-season training. —MNA/Reuters

Djukovik steps down as Ghana coach

ACCRRA, 18 July— Ghana coach Ratomir Djukovic quit his post at the weekend, saying he had turned down an offer to extend his contract with the west African nation’s side.

Djukovic told Reuters he was leaving despite having a contract with Ghana until the end of the year. The Serbian-born coach led the Black Stars to the World Cup second round in Germany last month on their debut appearance at the finals and in the last three years has earned a reputation as something of a miracle worker in African soccer.

“I think I have proven again what I can do,” he said of his team’s World Cup run.

Djukovic said he was hoping for an appointment elsewhere on the continent or in Europe, adding: “I have had many offers. I will be studying them to see where I will go next.”

He said he had experienced a difficult stay in Ghana where the media had been hostile to him despite their World Cup achievements. “They did not support me and made it very frustrating,” he said.

Ecuador volcano explosion destroys homes of 100,000

Quito, 18 July — Patricio Donoso, president of Ecuador’s Chamber of Agriculture, said on Monday that 100,000 people have lost their homes and 15,000 hectares of land were destroyed by the eruption of Tungurahua Volcano some 135 kilometres south of the capital Quito.

“Farmers in the region are losing everything: livestock and planted land. The situation is very, very bad,” Donoso told Teleamazonas television, calling on the government to provide emergency help.

The government evacuated 5,500 people who lived close to Tungurahua’s crater on Friday. The 5.029-metre-high volcano was showing the region with burning hot lava for a fourth day on Monday. The Andean provinces of Tungurahua and Chimborazo in southern Ecuador have been put under an orange alert and regional authorities were watching the volcano, ready to declare a red alert which implies the total evacuation of the area around the volcano.

Hot and dangerous lava was due to reach the town of Banos, which has 15,000 residents, on Monday, experts told television.

“The Discovery” touches down in Florida

CAPE CANAVERAL (Florida), 18 July — US Space shuttle Discovery landed smoothly in Florida on Monday at the end of a 13-day mission meant to show the fleet is fit to fly safely, three years after the fatal Columbia accident.

Double sonic booms thundered over central Florida as the shuttle glided through partly cloudy skies heading toward a three-mile-long (five-kilometres) runway at the Kennedy Space Centre.

Commander Steve Lindsey gently steered the shuttle through a series of turns to burn off speed before the winged spacecraft set down at 9.14 am (1314 GMT).

“Welcome back Discovery. Congratulations on a great mission,” said astronaut Steve Frick from NASA’s Mission Control at the Johnson Space Centre in Houston.

“Thanks. It was a great mission, a really great mission,” said Lindsey. — MNA/Reuters
