POLITICAL

Slogans

Recurrent Slogans: The bottom of each front page continues to bear the slogan: Emergence of the State Constitution is the duty of all citizens of Myanmar Naing-Ngan [reverted back from "Union of Myanmar."

The top of each back page bears the slogan:

The Tatmadaw has been sacrificing much of its blood and sweat to prevent disintegration of the Union. All nationalities of the Union are urged to give all co-operation and assistance in this great task.

Variable Slogans: Since August 1991, each issue has included a changing religious slogan at the top of each front page:

Nov. 1-16: Anavajjani kammani, to perform faultless actions; this is the way to auspiciousness.

Nov. 17-30: Arati papa, to abstain from evil; this is the way to auspiciousness.

Political Articles

Following the pattern begun in October 1988, many issues contain lengthy feature articles, translated from Burmese, designed to bolster government views and policies. Editorials sometimes touch on similar themes. We note them briefly, with excerpts of typical or particularly significant portion:

Nov. 7: Editorial: Promote our own culture (full text): ["The National Traditional Regatta Festival is coming up in a couple of weeks. This is the sixth, and is based on the objective of preservation of our cultural values and what is genuinely original. The people of this land have distinctive cultures, be they in the hills or in the plains, and we are all very proud of it. The need for the preservation of traditions and distinctive cultures is promoted by the fact that there are among us, specially the younger generation who have a penchant for what is new and fascinating. At the conclusion of the recent Second Myanma Traditional Performing Arts Competitions, Secretary-1 of the State Law and Order Restoration Council cautioned against our culture being influenced by alien culture, specially what is harmful to the national wellbeing and to preservation of our own. Of course, with development, with the changing conditions worldwide, with satellite television bringing right into the homes whatever is going on in other parts of the world, viewers are bound to be influenced due to too much exposure. Then, there is the case of pirated X-rated video features of the kind one cannot escape if you pick up what the locals call 'English' tapes. There is also hard rock, or heavy metal or whatever you call it that raises youthful spirits, or other kinds of pop music which may be termed alien and influential if not decadent. Agreed, such infiltrations of alien culture of a variety of species as may be noticed by switching stations on the tee-vee connected to that 'status-symbol' dish are injurious to what is originally our own culture, preserved over the centuries. Agreed, there has to be due concern over such infiltration, what with the threat of such influences harming our own culture. Yet plucking all dishes off roofs should sound preposterous, and filtering other kinds of entertainment bordering on 'decadence' is well nigh impossible. So, we go to the business of promoting what is our own, as many of our immediate neighbours agree, in order that what is distinctively our own may not be totally eclipsed by what is something new or appear attractive, yet is harmful in the national context. Rather than condemn what is alien, much worse condone it, we must do our duty in making the younger generations realize what is good for them and what is not. And, have them come to the conclusion that what is our own is better than what is not."]

Nov. 16: Upholding national spirit, alive and dynamic, by Kyaw Zaw. [Quick review of Myanmar history and SLORC activities and purposes.]

Nov. 18: Editorial: National political leadership role. [After independence the politicians weakened the Tatmadaw that had regained independence "after a long and bloody struggle against the imperialist rulers.... As a safeguard against disintegration...a basic principle has been laid down in drafting the constitution stipulating that the Commander-in-Chief of the Defence Services is the head of the armed forces and an objective of the National Convention is for Tatmadaw to participate in the national political leadership role in the future State. We should never forget that because of disunity and due largely to the weakness of the Tatmadaw, our independence was lost. Thus, a strong Tatmadaw is required to safeguard the independence, to uphold Our Three Main National Causes and take part in national political leadership role.

Nov. 20: Lest we forget, by Tin Maung Than. [Nationalist struggles during colonial period recalled.]

Nov. 24: Proper perspective of National Day, by Win Naing. [University strike of 1920 recalled.]

Nov. 27: National Day "Lest We Forget", by Dr. Win May. [Student strike of 1920, against Rangoon University Act which would have established Rangoon University as an elite, limited access, boarding establishment.]

Nov. 30: Myanmar's success is built on mutual trust and plaindealing, by Min Kyaw Min. [Activities of SLORC reviewed and approved.]

Nov. 30: A visit to the Thai media world, by Kyaw Myint. [Account of meeting with the Mass Communication Organization of Thailand in September.]

Special Refresher Courses
Oct. 31: Special Refresher Course No. 12 for Basic Education Teachers opened at the Central Institute for Civil Service, and was addressed by SLORC Secretary-1 Lt-Gen. Khin Nyunt. "He pointed out that it will not do for teachers to only teach lessons and increase their knowledge, but also to study the hobbies and habits of their pupils and guide them on the right path which will make them outstanding in their respective fields. This, he said, will enable them to take part in State development tasks efficiently." Reviewing the course, he said that social affairs will include "how to give advice to the pupils and mould their characters, social dealings, sports and physical education, Red Cross and school health among others." Since pupils will have to preserve the State in future, "military science will be taught and they [the teachers] will also be given military training, he said." Economic policy will be a topic. He said the teachers "are to coordinate among themselves in the welfare of the teachers and the extra-hour classes at schools so that the tasks implemented by the State will achieve success." Because Myanmar has more contact with other countries "it is necessary to preserve own culture and traditions and customs."

The Secretary-1 reviewed the history of negotiations with "armed groups in the jungles", in 1958, 1963, and 1980-81 (BCP and KIO). Now, under the SLORC, "responsible personnel themselves went to Kachin, Kayah, Kayin and Mon States, and invited [the armed groups]. He said a total of 13 armed groups has already returned to legal fold after realizing the goodwill of the Government.... He expects the remaining armed groups will return to the legal fold...." He went on to discuss the National Convention and its aims. Turning to anti-narcotics activities, he noted that 190 Tatmadawmen died and 350 were injured in just four weeks activities. "In spite of such sacrifices, he said, groups that are against Myanmar's welfare and well-being are fabricating news as if Myanmar were encouraging narcotic drug production and trade. Similarly, he said, public involvement in regional development projects is termed as forced labour belittling the projects of the State. People who are not accustomed to cultural traditions of Myanmar accused Myanmar of violating human rights.... Such wanton allegations without studying specific characteristics of the nations concerned are not the work of civilized persons, he said.... He made it clear that Myanmar is honouring basic human rights standards that conform to the traits and cultural traditions of the race but it will in no way accept outside accusations in disregard of its national character."

"He said that as assigned by the State Law and Order Restoration Council discussions with Daw Aung San Suu Kyi were held for the second time on 28 October. Political and economic situation of the country, efforts being made by the State Law and Order Restoration Council and measures that should be taken for the future were discussed cordially and frankly with mutual understanding. There have been both optimistic and pessimistic views within the nation and without over the meeting. It was held with no one's urging nor under anyone's pressure but it has been the result of mutual understanding, he said. The State Law and Order Restoration Council, he said, has been adopting and implementing political and economic strategies and it will march on to reach the objective which will not be changed by anyone's pressure, he said adding that it will not allow the momentum of present endeavours to diminish. However, he said, good counsel will be sought and right and best path will be chosen to reach the objective in the long-term interest of the nation."

1,502 teachers are attending the four week course. (NLM 11/1)

Nov. 25: The Course concluded, with an address by SLORC Secretary-1 Lt-Gen. Khin Nyunt. After general remarks, including a detailed survey of progress in Myanmar's transportation infrastructure. "Despite full goodwill of local residents in their contribution of voluntary labour, he said, certain elements and armed groups who bear ill will towards the wellbeing of Myanmar are extensively engaged in a propaganda campaign, alleging that the people are subject to forced labour." He went to denounce "destructive elements" at length.

"Due to the spread of concocted news and dissemination of unfounded information by a handful of traitorous groups, those mouthing human rights are making allegations through misconceptions of Myanmar, he said.

"He remarked that those who are engaged in such propaganda are expatriates who think highly of other nations and making livelihood there, armed organizations unwilling to return to the legal fold, those who want themselves under foreign influence and who bear ill will towards Myanmar and destructive elements."

"These destructive forces, he said, are sending unfounded news to the international organization, alleging that Myanmar is abusing human rights, persecuting those demanding democracy and similarly, certain nations, in collaboration with armed groups, are concocting falsehood about Myanmar and certain radio stations are broadcasting subversive propaganda.

"He reiterated destructive plans of some armed organizations and expatriates in which there are plans for sending concocted news to international organizations and NGOs with purpose of causing Myanmar to be shunned by the international circles.

"He spoke of inethical [sic] journalists who are creating an industry for themselves by writing concoctions as if they were representatives of the armed groups....

"Speaking of the latest piece of news, he said a radio station is broadcasting that Myanmar is attempting to eradicate some national armed groups by bacteriological warfare and the radio also said that a congressman had found some evidence that could be linked to the case and on the other hand, it said a legitimate department of the nation said it did not find any such evidence.

"He said a definite conclusion cannot be drawn as to what reasons and purposes those concocting the news and those broadcasting it have but it is clear that they have been creating a story with dishonest aims....

"Making these allegations is an act completely counter to Myanmar cultural traditions and it can be said that there is no cause for those who know about Myanmar nationals and have been to Myanmar to assume these allegations are correct, he said.

"If clarification is not made on these allegation[s], he said, image of Myanmar and its people will be tarnished due to the persons who are not informed about Myanmar.

"He called on the teachers to recount his clarification to their pupils and neighbours, help eradicate these elements and participate in the movement of the Union Solidarity and Development Association with aims towards harnessing youths' capabilities in national construction services...." (NLM 11/26)

USDA

Nov. 7: The opening of Management Course No. 4/94 for USDA [Union Solidarity and Development Association] Executive Committee Members was addressed by the USDA's Patron, SLORC Chairman Senior General Than Shwe. "He asserted that trainees are fully aware of the fact that the five aims of USDA will ever remain correct and alive for Myanmar and there will not occur any dispute or difference of opinion over these aims. The trainees are the hardcore of the USDA and represent the only national force which will always work together with the Tatmadaw.... Emphasizing the importance of good beginnings for fruitful results, he warned that there should be qualified members at different levels of the USDA but at the same time measures must be taken to guard against opportunist[s].... He spoke of the need for the youths to be convinced of the fact that USDA is a dependable and reliable organization for patriotic youths and to play a most active role.... All the trainees...are to instil in the youths the love for one's race, the spirit of national unity, the spirit of defending the independence and sovereignty at the risk of life, the spirit of preventing the destructionists from disturbing and disrupting the rule of law and peace and tranquillity in the nation. At the same time, he noted, they should be aware of unscrupulous persons who would not like to see improving peace and tranquillity and favourable conditions in the country and as such they are misleading the youths for their selfish ends. The trainees are to organize the youths not to pay heed to the instigations of destructionists and instead to adopt the correct concepts and utilize their physical and intellectual strength in the national interest...." (NLM 11/8)

Police Warned to Mend Ways

Nov. 6: Speaking to police units in Mandalay, Sagaing, and Bago Divisions between Oct. 27-Nov. 5, Director-General Police Maj-Gen. San Thein of the People’s Police Force "touched on the three tasks of the PPF, namely, prevalence of law and order, crime prevention and investigation, and measures against narcotic drugs. He spoke of unfavourable public opinion towards some of the PPF personnel because of their continued misbehaviour and malpractices. Instead of serving the public they are annoying them he said.

"He told them of gradual changes being brought about with the formation of the committee for changing PPF management system chaired by the Secretary-1 of the State Law and Order Restoration Council. It is necessary for PPF personnel to mend their ways of the past or else they will be dissociated [sic]. He warned that they may also face prison sentences. He disclosed that a law is being drafted to set up courts like courts-martial to take disciplinary action against PPF personnel...." (NLM 11/7)

(NLM 11/26)

Nov. 27: National Day Message, from SLORC Chairman Senior
General Than Shwe [full text]:
To the people of all the national races,

Today is the 74th Anniversary of National Day, a day of historic importance on which the entire nation was first awakened to wage anti-colonialist and national independence struggles. The national education movement that resulted from the 1920 Rangoon University Act was the first anti-colonialist movement that made the clarion call to the entire nation to wage national independence struggles.

The national movement launched after the unilateral promulgation of the Rangoon University Act in 1920 by the colonialists is a movement encompassing the entire nation to set the nation totally free from colonial oppression. National Day instilled in the minds of the people national pride and honour, spirit of sacrifice and spirit of national unity enabling them to win victories over the colonialists stage by stage eventually restoring independence and sovereignty to the nation.

National brethren born in the Union have been residing together sharing weal and woe with one mind since the dawn of Myanma history. The nationalist spirit is the will of the people living on the same land, drinking the same water, travelling in the same boat and embarking on the same journey to always join hands sharing weal and woe with one mind.

It is highly necessary for the national races who are national brethren to remain ever united for the eternal existence of our independent and sovereign motherland of Myanmar which was won back from the colonialists only after sacrificing many lives and shedding much blood and sweat, and for the nation's continued modernization and progress. This is a permanent requisite of each and every independent and sovereign nation.

The State Law and Order Restoration Council's most important policies of national interest are Our Three Main National Causes—non-disintegration of the Union, non-disintegration of national solidarity, and perpetuation of sovereignty. The State Law and Order Restoration Council being a body constituted based on the united Tatmadaw and [sic] has carried out tasks in full strength in the interest of the nation and all national races, holding in high esteem Our Three Main National Causes. Today, considerable success has been achieved in various aspects such as political, economic and social fields of the nation.

The State Law and Order Restoration Council gave priority to prevalence of the rule of law and ensuring peace and tranquillity after assuming State responsibilities and having achieved this it has carried on making efforts for the emergence of a stable, peaceful, modern and developed nation. As a result, political and economic stability has been ensured in the nation beginning 1992-93.

After striving for and achieving political stability, the State Law and Order Restoration Council has been convening the National Convention to lay down fundamental principles to pave the way for writing and promulgating an enduring constitution which is of vital importance to the nation. Moreover, it has laid down projects for the development of border areas and implementing them for the uplift of the living standard of all the national races; as border areas have developed, the total solidarity has been further strengthened. In the meantime, work is under way for effecting national reconciliation and thus far 13 armed groups have renounced the line of armed struggle and returned to the legal fold. They are implementing regional development projects together with the Government.

At the same time, efforts are being made for allround economic development after designating 1994-95 Allround Development Year; this has led to increase commodity production and economic progress has gained momentum. Neo-colonialists and their lackeys, who would not like to see Myanmar achieve stability and peace and make progress for modernization and development, are posing a threat to national sovereignty and territorial integrity; it will be necessary to deter and combat against them with full awareness.
It is the inborn duty of each and every citizen to love the motherland and to be loyal, and the spirit of nationalism calling for protection of own race and mutual friendship and respect among the national races are like the soul essential for perpetuation of the Union. Hence, all the people of the national races of the Union are earnestly urged to hold always in esteem Our Three Main National Causes--non-disintegration of the Union, non-disintegration of national solidarity, and perpetuation of sovereignty, ensure eternal existence of the motherland as a stable, peaceful and modern nation, and carry out this task as a national responsibility with national consciousness and national conviction.
