Political Articles

Mar. 7-8,12-16,12,24-25,27: Let all be united, by Tekkatho Tin Kha. [Cont. (7--2 parts) Visit to the Model Industrial Myothit (new town) in Myanmar Pyigy Tagun Township. The new town was established by 56 industrialists of major industries, 23 of medium-sized industries, and 599 small-scale industrialists. It cost K 134.9 million to build, of which the industrialists furnished K 114.9 million and the State K 20 million. "That was why they had been able to display a wide variety of machinery and equipment and motor repair facilities. In fact, Upper Myanmar Industrial Exhibition in Mandalay and Lower Myanmar Industrial Exhibition in Bago stemmed from the displays of Seinban Industries in Mandalay and Pyigy Tagun Model Industrial Myothit." SLORC Chairman Senior General Than Shwe visited in August 1995. Description of Exhibitions. (8) Agricultural progress in Rakhine State inspected by SLORC Chairman Senior General Than Shwe. (9--2 parts) Historic roads, and modern road projects, in Rakhine State. Inspection tour by Senior General Than Shwe.

[(10) Patriotism of the Tatmadaw; return of Khun Sa's MTA and other armed groups; NLD failure to disrupt National Convention; Union Solidarity and Development Association. (11) Senior General Than Shwe's inspection of Rakhine State. (12) Agriculture in Ayeyawady Division. (13) Inauguration of new river boats on the Chindwin. (14) Installation of cellular telephone systems in Yangon and Mandalay. The Mandalay system cost US$ 4.5 million and K 28.9 million. (15) Dams and reservoirs.]

Mar. 9: Tatmadaw to take leadership role in national politics of the country in future, by Myo Thant Kyaw. [Long review of Tatmadaw role in Myanmar history since 1941. If it had not intervened, "the country would have fallen again under foreign rule for sure." Therefore, "Our Three Main National Causes is the national policy accepted by the Tatmadaw and it will take part in the national political leadership role of the State in real earnestness."]

Mar. 19: Tatmadaw always ready to sacrifice life, blood and sweat, by Ko Ko Oo. [The people and the Tatmadaw, "striving hand in hand," will make Myanmar "a modern and developed nation as long as the world exists."]

Mar. 19-20: Myanmar--what is the West's Real Agenda? by Michael Dobbs-Higginson. [(1) The simplistic Western position is that, as a result of the 1990 elections which Daw Aung San Su Kyi's National League for Democracy "won by a substantial margin," it should be allowed to form a government. This is hypocritical, because "in today's Western populist democratic system" individuals demanding rights "ignore, or even take specific action to deny, the rights of others." Western governments are even more extreme in this, "because they have the facilities and power to disguise their true intentions."]

The West makes a "special target" out of Myanmar, "totally disproportionate to its recent behaviour and the positive results it has achieved to date." At the same time the US bends over backward to aid North Korea, for fear of its nuclear capability, compromises its principles in dealing with China in order to protect business deals, ignores Algerian refusal to accept the results of a democratic election, etc., etc.

The US hidden agenda in constantly attacking Myanmar is that it wishes to contain China, and so objects to Myanmar's position of friendship with China. The US encourages Russia, Vietnam, and Korea, so as to contain China. Myanmar (unlike Daw Aung San Su Kyi, who vigorously protested Tiananmen Square), "steers a careful and delicate line between friendship, aid and dependence." What "makes this equation interesting," is that the NLD is a faction-riven group, including "former dissidents and communists," that Aung San Su Kyi and her associates have no governmental experience or skill, and "their overall confusion would lead them like putty in the determined hands of the US/West's power brokers." This would make it a "client state", and return it to "a country of warring ethnic groups." But so long as the present government remains in power, it will "formulate its own policy towards China." It is prepared to do so without any help from the West, which contributes to the "US's obsessive opposition to the current government."

[(2) US demand for the extradition of Khun Sa, "after stripping away all the American huff and puff," is not to jail him, but to interrogate him about drug trade individuals in "Myanmar, Thailand, China, Hong Kong, and the US, make a "deal" with him, and end up with "a great deal of leverage to use as it chose for its own ends." Britain introduced drugs to Myanmar, and US, to support the Kuomintang, encouraged continued opium production after World War II. Two US Ambassadors, William J. Sebald and David McKey, "resigned because they were not kept informed of their government's activities in the north of Burma," activities that certainly created the "current drug production problem in this area." In 1995, a former DEA official, Richard Horn, who had served in Yangon, sued the State Department and CIA for "deliberately subverting his anti-drug efforts in the country," because of their instructions to "'deny Burma any credit'" for anti-narcotics activities.

[But my main concern is that Western Governments posture about democracy and demand that others adopt their values, while behind the scene they are "often more corrupt" than countries like Myanma, which however imperfect "are actually moving forward and making real progress against great odds and with little support" outside Asia. US contradictory attitudes towards China and Indonesia prove its hypocrisy. Given US budget shutdowns, European paralysis over Yugoslavia, Greek-Turkish hostility, one could argue that the West "are going backwards while lecturing everybody else on why they should go forward the Western way!"

Mar. 20: The Tatmadaw is the star that shines everbright, by Min Kyaw Min. [Patriotism of the Tatmadaw and its services to the State.]

Mar. 21-24: The Pyithu Tatmadaw born of the patriotic spirit upholds, promotes national ideals, by Shwe La Win. [(1) History of Myanmar nationalism and birth of the Tatmadaw. (2) Burma Defence Army (1942), Patriot Burmese Forces (1945), Burma Army (1945), insurrections through the 1950s. (3) Tatmadaw from 1958-1988. :Closing Address

Mar. 30: In adjourning the Plenary Session of the National Convention to an unspecified date, Chairman Lt-Gen. Myo Nyunt of the National Convention Convening Commission said [full text]: Esteemed delegates of the National Convention,

I extend my best wishes to the delegates to be able to work with peace of mind, fully in all aspects, in the national political task of contributing suggestions to get most complete and appropriate basic principles to serve in writing the State Constitution that is of vital importance to the State and all the citizenry.

Because of weaknesses and flaws in the State Constitution of 1947 that had existed in our Myanmar Naing-Ngan, solidarity of the national races had deteriorated to near disintegration. Just as the cause of such weaknesses and flaws in the Constitution was not free of influence of British colonialists who enslaved, oppressed and ruled us at one time, one other reason was that it had to be written in haste, not with due thorough consideration and deliberation.

The writing of the State Constitution of 1974, was systematic, with time given for it, but after 14 years thence, there emerged about [sic] economic difficulties for Myanmar Naing-Ngan, as they did for the world at large, and weaknesses of the centrally-controlled economic system became evident. In the political system, too, the country did not develop as much as expected under the single-party leadership, and so the people became tired of the single-party system. Consequently, there came about political and economic change, and along with it ended the essence of the Constitution of 1974.

Now, the government of the State Law and Order Restoration Council is striving its utmost to promote the basic interests of the citizen and the State. The most basic aspiration of the people is for their life to be fully peaceful and pleasant and for the nation inclusive of themselves to achieve marked economic development and become a developed modern State in good time. Delegates know that the State Law and Order Restoration Council is endeavouring to practically fulfil the basic wishes of the people for peace, tranquillity and development. In doing so, it is proceeding, not without plan, groping like sinking the bait where the fish seems evident, but on the contrary with due foresight and a definite programme, prominently laying down the 12 objectives and striving resolutely for their realization.

If we look at the four political objectives, namely,
-- Stability of the State, community peace and tranquillity, prevalence of law and order,
-- National reconsolidation,
-- Emergence of a new enduring State Constitution,
-- Building of a new modern developed nation in accord with the new State Constitution.

The very basis is the stability of the State, community peace and tranquillity, and prevalence of law and order.

The Chairman of the State Law and Order Restoration Council Commander-in-Chief of Defence Services himself noted the significance of this point in his address at Annawa Yeiktha in Thandwe on 9 March. He said:

"Priority has been given especially to stabilising the unstable situation in the country. Any political, economic, social or development undertaking cannot be implemented without peace and tranquillity in the country.

"Nation-building and development tasks are now being implemented in a steady course as priority has been given to restoring peace and stability in the nation of three to four years.

"Stability of the State, community peace and tranquillity and prevalence of law and order are most essential in nation building.

"However, there are internal and external elements who are marring a stable, peaceful and developing condition in the country. The entire mass of the people must ostracize, oppose and remove such destructionist elements in the interests of the nation and the people.

"It is the inborn duty of every citizen to ostracize, oppose and remove the enemies of the State.

"As the State becomes stable and peaceful, there remain many tasks to establish a new era or system."

Esteemed delegates to the National Convention,

The most vital political programme of all the national peoples in Myanmar today is accomplishments of these four political objectives. Just as stability of the State, community peace and tranquillity, prevalence of law and order are being restored, national consolidation is being forged. The achievement of this objective is significant in Myanmar history. The third political objective directly concerns us.

As drastic changes are being affected in political and economic systems in Myanmar, it is imperative that there must be an enduring Constitution that is in harmony with the changed political and economic systems and capable of properly guiding and controlling these political and economic systems. With lessons taken from events of the past, and with vigil kept against the danger from reactionary elements subservient to colonialism and imperialism and subscribing to sectarianism, as is being seen and heard today, endeavours must be made to bring about a situation where only the people of our country can determine all their affairs in the future State that is truly free from any dependence and free from any stunting eclipse. So it is necessary for all the delegates to carry on with tenacity and courage to obtain necessary detailed basic principles without losing sight of the 104 basic principles that is the fruit of the National Convention presently.

Today, detailed basic principles on the formation of the fourth, fifth and sixth out of 15 chapter headings, namely, "The Legislative", "The Executive" and "The Judiciary" are now in hand.

Discussions will continue and suggestions are to be forwarded on the rights and powers to be exercised at the Union level and Region/State level in connection with these three headings. This part, too, is important. How are rights and powers to be distributed among and exercised by the Union and the Regions/States? It will be necessary to realistically consider and lay down principles to see that legislative, executive and judicial powers are smoothly, properly and harmoniously exercised. As this part is also important, it is necessary to obtain most suitable detailed basic principles after consideration in all aspects so that there exist no weaknesses and flaws and no confusion in exercise of the three powers.

Esteemed delegates to the National Convention,

The principal duty of our National Convention is laying down the basic principles; the National Convention Convening Commission and the National Convention Convening Work Committee will have to continue to study and conduct research from all angles to obtain good and enduring basic principles for the State. National Convention delegates are urged to make studies when the National Convention is in recess.

Hence, the National Convention will be in recess beginning 31 March 1996. In the meantime, the National Convention Convening Commission and the National Convention Convening Work Committee are to make thorough and extensive studies to obtain detailed basic principles on the rights and powers of the legislature, the executive and the judiciary.

Therefore, the National Convention will be reconvened after due study and preparations in connection with those detailed basic principles. We will meet you, all delegates, in good health on the date announced for reconvening the National Convention.

With this, I conclude. (NLM 3/31)

GOVERNMENT

Peasants Day Message

Mar. 2: SLORC Chairman Senior General Than Shwe issued the following message on the occasion of 1996 Peasants Day [full text]: All esteemed peasantry,

The 2nd of March 1996 is "the Peasants Day" observed annually in honour of the peasantry throughout the country. I wish, on this auspicious occasion, good health and happiness of the entire mass of the peasants and may you all achieve success in agricultural tasks.

The peasants constitute a work force engaged in producing food which is essential daily for the existence of national brethren. The agricultural production of the peasants is indeed the most basic and strongest undertaking of the Union of Myanmar in commodity production.

Hence, the government has been trying to provide everything possible in all aspects for the welfare and progress of the peasants on whom food sufficiency of the national peoples and economic development of the nation mainly depend. All esteemed peasantry,

With a view to turning the Union of Myanmar into a modern and developed nation, the State Law and Order Restoration Council has laid down political, economic and social objectives and been implementing them. In the nation today, peace has been restored and the rule of law secured, and at the same time success has been achieved in forging national consolidation since tasks were undertaken with deeds and not with mere words.

Efforts to write an enduring new constitution for modernization and development of the nation and its perpetuity are making progress despite hindrances from within and without the country. Peasant delegates are actively participating in the deliberations of the National Convention which is trying to formulate the fundamental principles for the new State Constitution; this is most impressive. The entire mass of the peasantry including the peasant delegates are urged to play appropriate role and carry on discharging their respective duties to achieve the objectives of the National Convention.

In striving for economic development of the nation emphasis is placed on agriculture and this indicates that the State relies very much on agricultural tasks of the peasantry. Accordingly, the State expends substantial sums and applies all available means to extend the sown acreage, supply sufficient water and use farm machinery and equipment most extensively. The State also provided quality strains and chemical fertilizer, cultivation techniques and financial assistance to boost the crop yields.

Paddy yield has thus increased year by year due to proper arrangements and assistance of the State and conscientious efforts of the peasantry themselves. This year, the peasantry are urged to try their utmost to boost the yield of oil crops, beans, sugar-cane, cotton, jute and so on in addition to paddy by engaging in double and multiple cropping.

All esteemed peasantry,

In the country today, firm foundations have been laid for stability, peace and progress since the State Law and Order Restoration Council has been implementing the correct political, economic and social objectives.

Destructive elements within and without the country, on the other hand, would not like to see this positive conditions [sic] and thus they are resorting to all possible means to disturb and disrupt maintenance and stability and peace and the rule of law, hinder national reconsolidation programmes, obstruct the on-going process of the National Convention which is trying to formulate principles for the new constitution and sabotage all political, economic and social endeavours of the State Law and Order Restoration Council.

The mass of peasants with noted historic past are to eliminate the destructive acts joining hands with the Tatmadaw for national cause. It is also necessary to crush and eliminate through the strength of unity, those destructive and disruptive elements disturbing community peace and the rule of law which are indispensable for national progress.

The State Law and Order Restoration Council is endeavouring to fulfil the national people's food, clothing and shelter needs as basic human rights. Out of these basic human rights, the peasantry are to play their appropriate role to see that the agricultural sector meets the national people's food and clothing needs.

The agricultural sector constitutes a basic economic sector of the Union of Myanmar and the growth in this particular sector will contribute much forward progress of other economic sectors. Hence, the peasantry are urged to lend their active cooperation in boosting agricultural production required by the State projects as a national duty, realizing their important role in the government's efforts for economic development. Armed Forces Day Address

Mar. 27: SLORC Chairman Senior General Than Shwe made the following address [full text] at the 51st Anniversary Armed Forces Day Parade:

Comrades,

Today is a significant, noble day for the State and our Tatmadaw, the 51st Anniversary Armed Forces Day. Just as the founding of our Tatmadaw completes 51 years, it is 51 years since we, with the cooperation of the people, waged the Anti-fascist Resistance. On this auspicious day, there are matters about which I would like to speak to you, Comrades, with special emphasis.

The history of our Tatmadaw originated with that of the national struggle for freedom and it is also interconnected with the contemporary history of our nation. Our nation fell into servitude after three aggressive wars waged by the colonialists -- in 1824, in 1852 and in 1885. As our nationals put up valiant resistance against the colonialists, you will also find that they were undaunted despite odds and they rose up at every opportunity even while being enslaved. Patriots resorted to various ways and means in their struggle for freedom. It will be found that they strove to establish a Tatmadaw with the objective of wresting the nation free from the colonialists. [Formation under the Japanese]

The Revolution of 1300 Myanmar Era became the most ardent political struggle of our nationals. Just as there were achievements, so also there were setbacks. Our patriotic leaders realized that only with the armed resistance by a modern Tatmadaw along with the political struggle would they be able to regain independence. Accordingly, they came to see that the nation needed an armed force. As our Tatmadaw was established on that objective, we must today say that our Tatmadaw emerged for the nation and for the people.

Under suppression of the colonialists, Myanmar patriotic leaders strove, suffering hardship, and resorted to various means for emergence of a national Tatmadaw. The historic Thirty Comrades selflessly endeavoured to establish the Tatmadaw strictly on patriotism. They secretly left for Hainan Island and underwent tough military training there. When Japan entered World War II, they formed the Burma Independence Army, the BIA, on 26 December 1941 and entered Myanmar via Bangkok together with the Japanese troops. Fully aware that they could not hope for any privilege, the then patriotic youths joined the BIA incessantly regardless of danger to their lives. As the BIA units grew in strength overnight, the fascists were overcome with fear. They disbanded the BIA on 27 July 1942 and caused it to be reorganized as the Burma Defence Army, the BDA, with limited strength. Therefore, you, Comrades, have known that our Tatmadaw is patriotic as it was born of the BIA and the BDA which were based on patriotism.

The BDA was more consolidated by its systematic recruitment, organization and training though it had less strength than the BIA. On 15 September 1943, the BDA was formally renamed the Burma National Army. However, it did not possess attributes of a national army and remained only as a unit under the fascists. The name Burmese Armed Forces emerged ever since.

The Tatmadaw had tried to launch the Anti-fascist Resistance since 1943 to save the people from persecution of the fascists. It organized Myanmar political forces to come together in the Resistance. The Tatmadaw headed the secretly-formed Anti-fascist League and strenuously prepared the Resistance. On 27 March 1945, our Tatmadaw launched, together with the people, the Anti-fascist Resistance which will perpetually remain significant in Myanmar history.

[Anti-Fascist Resistance]

Our Tatmadaw, which originated from the BIA and the BDA, systematically organized and trained, was able to confront and repulse the enemy. Therefore, the Tatmadaw that represented the nation and the entire masses of the national peoples launched, together with the people, the Anti-fascist Resistance on 27 March 1945. The Tatmadaw made its own decision and formally declared war and launched the Resistance and so this day was designated Armed Forces Day (Resistance Day) which has been observed with the holding of military parades without fail every year for 51 years.

The Tatmadaw has been a pivotal organization in struggling for national freedom by waging the anti-colonialist and anti-fascist resistance. If we look back at the history of the national liberation struggle and that of the Tatmadaw, you will clearly see that it is a patriotic Tatmadaw and not an ordinary Tatmadaw. If we examine the good attributes of the Tatmadaw, you will also find that it possesses the Noble Traditions -- a patriotic Tatmadaw, a disciplined Tatmadaw, a loyal Tatmadaw, a united Tatmadaw, an efficient Tatmadaw, a Tatmadaw which makes heroic sacrifices, a Tatmadaw which does not seek personal gain, a Tatmadaw of noble spirit and high morale, a Tatmadaw which possesses true quality of overcoming obstacles, a Tatmadaw which can endure hardship, a tenacious and persevering Tatmadaw, a Tatmadaw which upholds Our Three Main National Causes.

Therefore, you, Comrades, must be aware that ours is a Tatmadaw endowed with historical traditions.

[Post-Independence Duties]

Comrades,

When our country regained independence, internal insurgence emerged together with it. Regardless of sacrifices, the Tatmadaw continued to launch offensives against internal insurgents as well as external infiltrators to protect life and property of the people. Just as the Tatmadaw continued to launch offensives against internal insurgents as well as external infiltrators to protect life and property of the people. Just as the Tatmadaw, in concert with the people, regained the nation's independence, it is also duty-bound to continue to preserve independence and sovereignty. Therefore, our Tatmadaw has three main duties for perpetuation of independence and sovereignty --

- (1) to defend the State
- (2) to train
- (3) to perpetually serve the interest of the people

Our Tatmadaw should be duly imbued with the conviction to be able to discharge these duties. Our conviction is, of course, Our Three Main National Causes, namely, non-disintegration of the Union, non-disintegration of national solidarity and perpetuation of sovereignty, which are, in fact, the national responsibilities that must be borne not only by the Tatmadawmen but also by the entire people.

[Crisis intervention]

Being the Tatmadaw representing the mass of national people it had to intervene whenever they country was confronted with crises. It was compelled to assume the duties of State three times -- first in 1958-59 as the Caretaker Government, then in 1962 as the Revolutionary Council and from 1988 to this day as the State Law and Order Restoration Council. It had to assume those State responsibilities unavoidably as demanded by history. You, Comrades, are well aware of the fact that the 1988 disturbances could have led to disintegration of the Union had our Tatmadaw not assumed those responsibilities.

[Current tasks]

Our Tatmadaw today has been discharging political, economic and social duties in addition to the principal duty of national defence. We must build our Tatmadaw to be a strong, capable and modern one to be able to discharge these duties successfully and defend the nation to ensure its existence till eternity. In other words, to be strong, capable and modern is the goal of our Tatmadaw.

In terms of strength, it should have adequate manpower and materials. For manpower, duty-conscious youths and citizens like you, Comrades, have joined the Tatmadaw out of your own free will and are discharging duties. To be strong in terms of materials depends on the wealth of the nation which will be able to build up its armaments depending on its economy. They constitute indispensable material strength.

[Training, Administration, Welfare, and Morale]

It is necessary to enhance the capabilities of the Tatmadaw to turn it into an efficient one. Four major tasks have already been laid down to build up the Tatmadaw to ensure unity in the process. They are:

- (1) training
- (2) administration
- (3) welfare, and
- (4) morale.

Training is most important for an armed force to be capable. Good discipline as well as good morale can be achieved only through training. A force has to undergo training to acquire combat skills and as such training comes first. You, Comrades, must accept that training is highly essential for an armed force.

Regarding administration, you will have to be efficient in the fields of operation, administration and logistics. Our Tatmadaw is machinery set in motion on these three pinions. It will be brought to a standstill if one of them falters. So, our Tatmadawmen will have to be efficient in operation, administration and logistics.

Welfare is something which is today indispensable at Tatmadaw units. It is essential even for civilians and emphasis must therefore be placed on the welfare of the Tatmadawmen who face hardship risking life and limb away from their families. Welfare work must not only be for Tatmadawmen but also for their families.

The last is morale. It is highly important in service structuring. Comrades must be well aware that no matter how modern or advanced materially, nothing much can be achieved in the absence of morale. Love of one's country and one's race and the oaths we take everyday form the basis. Moreover, it is necessary to possess undaunted determination to discharge duties despite obstacles and dangers, unyielding endurance, perseverance and courage to carry on even if only the hull is left when faced with difficulties and crises.

There will be good morale if the Tatmadaw is built based on these four main tasks. There will also be good discipline, loyalty and strong unity. The Tatmadaw will also possess the three capabilities, namely, combat, organization and administration. Five qualities -- morale, discipline, loyalty, unity and capability -- are, in fact, the qualities all units and men must possess and the yardstick to evaluate to what extent success has been achieved in building the Tatmadaw.

Only when our Tatmadaw has acquired these qualities will it be capable. To become a modern Tatmadaw it will be necessary to efficiently use materials obtained through available means. Thought and action should be in accord with the times. There is the need to keep pace with development in science, technology and military science. Only then will the desired strong, capable and modern Tatmadaw emerge.

[Development, Insurgency, Narcotics]
Comrades,

Our Tatmadaw today is discharging political, economic and social duties of the State as required by history in addition to national defence. You know very well that we are carrying out duties day in and day out with sincere goodwill to build a peaceful, modern and developed nation while we assume State responsibilities. When compared with other countries or weighed in respect of salient features, you will find that our country still lags behind to some extent. Our economy has still not developed as much as we desire. Under the circumstances, the government alone should not be regarded as responsible for national development; we must accept that all of us our duty-bound and the public, the government, the Tatmadaw, involving the entire nation, are to make concerted efforts with patriotism, nationalist fervour and national integrity for national development.

Stability is most important in building a peaceful, modern nation. Therefore, we have worked mainly for stability of the State, community peace and tranquillity and prevalence of law and order. I have told you earlier that the danger of insurgency emerged together with the independence of our country. There had been a long period of fighting and killing between brethren due to instigations of colonialists to sow discord. The State Law and Order Restoration Council, realizing our country would suffer more if such fighting continued, endeavoured for national reconciliation. Today, 14 armed groups, realizing our correct action and true goodwill, have returned to the legal fold and the armed group called the MTA which had been engaged in the business of opium and drugs that would endanger the entire mankind, has totally abandoned its wrongful acts, turned in its arms to the Tatmadaw and returned to the legal fold.

The danger of narcotic drugs threatens the entire world. In combatting that danger, our Tatmadawmen have sacrificed lives and done the job effectively. The Tatmadaw is striving to see to the total elimination of the drug menace. Development is being carried out with increasing momentum in the drug production areas. The task of combatting the drug menace is a concern of the entire people of the world and is of enormous magnitude and difficult. Sincere cooperation will be gladly accepted. Even without cooperation, we will do best on our own to bet this narcotics menace which threatens and endangers the people of the world.

[External and internal destructionists]
Comrades,

You yourselves have witnessed endeavours being made with the leadership of the State Law and Order Restoration Council for the emergence of a peaceful, modern and developed nation after laying down the political, economic and social objectives. Our country is today enjoying stability and peace and we have laid firm political, economic and social foundations. Some foreign destructionists, who cannot bear to see our nation develop thus and are jealous, are resorting to instigation to cause destruction. They are resorting to machinations so that it would not be possible for the international community to get a true perspective of Myanmar. Specially, there are acts to drive a wedge between the Tatmadaw and the people, to create misunderstanding, to sow bad blood, and to cause public morale to decline and to waver.

There are a few internal destructionists, who, aping their external cohorts, are perpetrating acts to disturb and hinder national construction, primed, as the saying goes, of the actor destroying the main drum on being denied the leading role. The danger posed by these internal and external destructionists is great. As for our Tatmadaw, we maintain true to the slogan "We shall not be divided no matter who tries; We remain ever united", and must, together with the people, ostracize, oppose and remove these destructionists.

[Conclusion]

Comrades,

In conclusion, I would like to tell you it is not adequate for you, who are shouldering political, economic and social duties of the State to possess military outlook alone. It is specially essential to possess four outlooks -- political, economic, social and administrative. For only then will you be able to effectively and successfully carry out military, political, economic, social, administrative and organizational tasks.

The Tatmadaw must, at all times, serve the people. In order to serve the interests of the citizen and the State perpetually, Tatmadawmen must possess physical and moral courage, must be efficient, and those in leadership must possess the 16 leadership qualities and act accordingly. You must uphold the Tatmadaw's Noble Traditions even if it means sacrificing your lives and must abide by the Military Code of Conduct. We, Tatmadawmen, are today holding the military parade to commemorate the auspicious occasion of the 51st Anniversary Armed Forces Day with four objectives.

These are --

-- to give priority to national defence for stability of the State, community peace and tranquillity and prevalence of law and order;

-- to direct efforts toward modernization of the Tatmadaw to be able to provide full protection to the emerging new, modern and developed nation;

-- to actively contribute to realization of the political, economic and social objectives of the State; and

-- to unswervingly accomplish the aim for the Tatmadaw to be able to participate in the national political leadership role of the future State.

As these objectives have been laid down to meet the nation's needs, and historical necessity and for the Tatmadaw to fulfil, I urge you, Comrades, to strive to implement them, and also to strive to the best of your ability to ensure that the Tatmadaw is strong, capable and truly dependable for the nation. With this, I conclude.

Wild Elephants

Mar. 19: Wild elephants are causing damage to crops at the Hline Yoma forest reserve in Taikkyi Township, Yangon Division, and the Nyinaung forest reserve in Mawlamyinegyun Township, Ayeyawady Division. In Taikkyi, using six tame elephants, wild elephants were driven back to the Bago Yoma in Sept. 1995, but they came back. Some are now being trapped by "skilled persons." "Wild elephants are being captured and trained. They continue to catch the remainder." In Mawlamyinegyun, 11 elephants were tranquilized and sent by Z-craft 150 miles to the Myittaya forest reserve in Ngaputaw Township, where food is abundant. One "is being trained to be used in forest industry." (NLM 3/20)
