Transport facilities improve national people’s living conditions

With the concept that the transport sector lies at the heart of national development, the government has been building roads, railroads and bridges in states and divisions till they have formed themselves into a network of transport facilities for ensuring smooth transport between one region and another and forging amity among national races.

As a result, the total length of tarred roads, concrete roads, gravel roads, laterite roads and earth roads in the nation has risen from over 20,000 miles in 1988 to over 70,000 miles.

From 1988 to 12 November 2007, it constructed more than 1172 miles of railroads. Owing to the construction of the railroad that goes through Ponnnya mountain range between Kyaw and Yemyetni in Magway Division, there has emerged ChaungU-Pakokku-Gangaw-Kalay Railroad.

The 227-mile Pakokku-Gangaw-Kalay Railroad, which rises from ChaungU in Sagaing Division, passes through the towns on the western bank of the Ayeyawady River and links Kabaw Valley in Magway Division and links Kabaw Valley on the western bank of the Ayeyawady River in Sagaing Division, passes through the towns on the eastern bank of the Ayeyawady River to northern Chin State, and Kalay, thereby cementing friendship among national races.

The railroads under construction across the nation include the 95-mile Katha-Bhamo and Kalay, thereby cementing friendship in Magway Division and links Kabaw Valley.

Egypt says Russia agrees to provide nuclear know-how CAIRO, 22 Nov — Russia has agreed to provide nuclear know-how and technical expertise to Egypt to help Cairo with plans to build civilian nuclear power stations to meet growing energy needs, Egyptian state media said on Tuesday.

State news agency MENA said Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei Kislyak had told Egypt that Moscow welcomed the planned resumption of Egypt’s nuclear programme.

“Egypt is ready to give nuclear knowledge and its technical expertise to the Egyptian side in light of Russia’s large experience in building nuclear power stations,” MENA said, quoting a Foreign Ministry spokesman.

Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak said last month Egypt would build several nuclear power stations, a year after his government restructured its nuclear policy.

Cairo suspended a nuclear programme after the Chernobyl disaster in 1986.

The London-based International Institute of Strategic Studies said the first 1,000-megawatt reactor could be built at Dabaa on the Mediterranean in eight to 10 years if foreign investment was secured.

Washington has said it supports Egypt’s plans to develop peaceful nuclear energy. In addition to Russia, China and Kazakhstan have offered cooperation.

Officials put Egypt’s soil and gas reserves at 15.5 billion barrels of oil equivalent, enough for 34 years at current production rates.

Hailstorm causes cluster bomb blasts in S Lebanon

BEIRUT, 22 Nov — A hailstorm has caused hundreds of cluster bombs to explode in south Lebanon, the National News Agency said on Tuesday.

The cluster bombs were dropped by Israel during its war with Hezbollah guerrillas last year. The hailstones, as big as walnuts, fell in a number of valleys in south Lebanon, the agency said.

When cluster bombs burst, they spread bomblets over the ground and vegetation. Air or ground-launched, the bombs often fail to explode on impact. Cluster bombs have killed 30 people since the war. Dozens more have been wounded.

PNG floods kill 163, thousands displaced

PORT MORESBY, 22 Nov — Floods in Papua New Guinea have killed 163 people, with 1,000 homes destroyed and thousands of people displaced, police said on Wednesday.

The floods in the South Pacific nation’s east, caused by a tropical cyclone in the past week, have washed away roads and tracks in the remote mountainous region hindering relief efforts.

Aid only started reaching some remote villages on Wednesday when helicopters arrived from the capital Port Moresby.

“We have 163 people dead, 10 have died of starvation,” local police spokesman David Terry told Reuters.

“We are having intermittent rains in parts of the province. In some areas the water is subsiding and in other areas there is still flooding,” he said.

Turkish President approves nuclear power plant law

ANKARA, 21 Nov — Turkish President Abdullah Gul has approved a law allowing construction of the country’s first nuclear power plants, his office said on Tuesday.

The law, vetoed by Gul’s predecessor Ahmet Necdet Sezer, is intended to help avert a serious energy shortfall in the fast-growing emerging economy.

Oil importer Turkey aims to build three nuclear plants with a total capacity of 5,000 megawatts. It had initially intended the first plant to come on line by 2012 but legislative delays are seen pushing that target back.

According to the new law, approved by Parliament on 9 November, qualifications for companies bidding to build and run the power plants will be published within a month.

Former Press aide blames Bush in CIA leak case

WASHINGTON, 21 Nov — Former White House secretary Scott McClellan says in an upcoming book that he was misled by President George W. Bush and other high officials into misinforming the Press about a CIA leak case that fuelled debate about the Iraq war.

McClellan says he publicly exonerated former top White House aides Karl Rove and Lewis "Scooter" Libby because Bush had called on him to help restore his credibility after the failure to find weapons of mass destruction in Iraq.

"There was one problem. It was not true. I had unknowingly passed along false information. And five of the highest ranking officials in the Administration were involved in my doing so: Rove, Libby, the Vice-President, the President’s chief of staff, and the President himself," McClellan said in an excerpt released on Tuesday.

McClellan, a long-time Bush aide, whose job as White House Press secretary from 2003 to 2006 was to field questions from the Press, was not available for comment.

His book Inside the Bush White House and What’s Wrong with Washington is due out only in April, but the publisher, Public Affairs, posted the excerpt on its website as a teaser.

Roadside bomb hits US patrol in Baghdad

BAGHDAD, 21 Nov—A roadside bomb went off near a US patrol in eastern Baghdad on Tuesday, wounding three people, a well-informed police source said.

The blast took place in the afternoon when a US patrol was passing through the neighbourhood of Baladiyat, damaging a US Humvee and wounding three bystanders, the source told Xinhua on condition of anonymity.

It was unclear whether the US soldiers sustained any casualty as the troops immediately cordoned off the scene, the source said.

The US military had no immediate comment on the incident.

Earlier in the day, a roadside bomb detonated in the same neighbourhood, wounding three civilians, the police said.

Violence persists in Baghdad although the US and Iraqi officials announced a steep drop of violence in the capital as a result of a major security plan aimed at checking the insurgency and sectarian strife in Baghdad.

Japan detains 5 with new fingerprint entry checks

TOYKO, 22 Nov — Fingerprint checks on foreigners arriving in Japan matched five people to an immigration blacklist on the first day, the Justice Ministry said on Wednesday.

Biometric scanning of almost all foreigners entering Japan was introduced on Tuesday, sparking anger among long-term residents, businesspeople and human rights campaigners.

The five individuals’ fingerprints came up on a list containing around 800,000 names including Interpol suspects and people deported from Japan in the past, the ministry said.

It refused to give any details of the five people or say which countries they came from.

Over 100 journalists arrested in S Pakistan

ISLAMABAD, 22 Nov — Police in the southern Pakistani port city of Karachi Tuesday arrested more than 100 journalists who were protesting against curbs on the media, according to local Press reports.

The journalists gathered outside the Karachi Press Club and chanted slogans against ban on two independent news television channels.

The government banned TV channel networks Geo and ARY after President General Pervez Musharraf proclaimed emergency in the country on 3 November.

The police arrested more than 100 journalists when they refused to disperse.

Britain’s longest-serving prisoner dies

LONDON, 22 Nov — A child killer, who became Britain’s longest-serving prisoner, has died in custody after 55 years behind bars, the government said on Tuesday.

John Straffen, 77, gained notoriety in 1952 after escaping Broadmoor high-security hospital and within hours murdering a five-year-old girl, Linda Bowyer.

At his trial in 1952 he was sentenced to death, but the sentence was reduced to life imprisonment by the then home secretary, David Maxwell Fyfe, on the grounds Straffen was a “feeble-minded person”.

He was in Broadmoor because he had been deemed unfit to stand trial in 1951 for the murder of Cicely Batstone, nine, and six-year-old Brenda Goddard.

Japan matched five people to a list containing around 800,000 names including Interpol suspects and people deported from Japan in the past, the ministry said.

It refused to give any details of the five people or say which countries they came from.

One of the five is set to be deported and the others are still under investigation, a ministry official said.

The new procedure, which involves electronic scanning of both index fingers as well as taking a digital photo of the face, ran into minor problems due to computer glitches and people with dry fingertips.

Domestic media reported as an immigration official in Fukushima, southern Japan, as saying it was hard to check some older people because their fingerprints have worn smooth.

More than 6.7 million foreign visitors entered Japan last year, while around 171,000 foreigners overstayed their visas, government statistics showed.

Three more killed in sectarian violence in Pakistan

PARACHINAR (Pakistan), 21 Nov—At least a dozen people were killed in fighting between Sunni and Shiite Muslim tribesmen in a Pakistani region near the Afghan border on Monday, taking the death toll to more than 100 in four days of clashes.

Eight people were killed and 16 were wounded when a mortar bomb exploded in a bazaar in the Kurram tribal region, residents said.

Army helicopter gunships pounded militant positions on the outskirts of the main town of Parachinar, killing four people. Residents said soldiers were deployed in Parachinar and nearby areas while the government prepared to send a delegation of tribal elders and clerics to bring peace to the area.

Military officials were unavailable for comment.

Sectarian violence has bedevilled Pakistan since the 1980s and Kurram has a long history of such clashes.

Vietnamese rice export prices forecast to rise in 2008

HANOI, 21 Nov—Export prices of Vietnamese rice are expected to increase next year, standing at 220 US dollars upwards for a ton of the 25-per-cent broken rice, and 340 dollars upwards for the 5-per-cent one.

Average export price of the local commodity now stands at 295 dollars per ton, up from 254 dollars in 2006, local newspaper Vietnam Agriculture reported Tuesday.

Vietnam’s paddy rice output is estimated at 35.9 million tons this year, equaling to last year, the paper quoted the Vietnamese Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development as reporting. Vietnam, the world’s second largest rice exporter, earned nearly 1.4 billion US dollars from shipping abroad nearly 4.3 million tons of rice in the first 10 months of this year, up 12.7 per cent in value, but down 4 per cent in volume over the same period last year, according to the General Statistics Office.

The country exported over 4.7 million tons of rice worth 1.3 billion US dollars last year to nearly 100 markets, with the exports to the Philippines, Malaysia and Cuba accounting for some 60 per cent of the total.

Sinopec plans to boost output, imports to stabilize oil supplies

BEIJING, 21 Nov—China Petrochemical Corporation, better known as Sinopec Group, is planning to boost output and imports amid efforts to stabilize the domestic oil supplies.

The oil giant has ordered subsidiaries to work on their full capacities to refine 42 million tons of crude oil in the fourth quarter and also to refine 200,000 tons more as scheduled in December. To achieve this, Sinopec Group has ordered five refining subsidiaries to halt facilities maintenance on the precondition of safety, a source with the company said. The group’s oil output for October was 198,000 tons more than the target and it planned to raise diesel production for November by cutting aviation fuel output by 50,000 tons.

Despite losses making, Sinopec will continue to import 200,000 tons of diesel in December after it imports 277,000 tons of refined oil this month.

The oil firm halted imports of refined oil this September and October as the domestic oil prices were lower than the import prices. Quite a number of oil filling stations across the country are suffering from supply shortages. Experts believed the government should reform the oil pricing mechanism to reflect the international oil price hikes in a bid to give a boost to the oil giants.

Russia may sell Iran $1b of civilian aircraft

MOSCOW, 21 Nov—Iran has started talks to buy 30 Russian Tupolev-passenger aircraft worth more than one billion US dollars a source with knowledge of the deal told Reuters on Monday.

The source, who asked not to be identified, said the deal for 30 Tupolev-204 aircraft was likely to be reached by the end of the year. The deal would greatly embarrass Western powers which are trying to persuade Russia and China to join them in tightening sanctions on Iran to make it halt its uranium enrichment programme. They suspect it of trying to build nuclear weapons, but Iran says it wants only to produce electricity. A spokesman for Ilyushin Finance, which is selling the planes, confirmed that negotiations had begun.

“We have started talks to deliver a new order of aircraft,” spokesman Andrei Lipovetsky said, but declined further comment. Russia has already sold Iran military air defence systems and is building a nuclear plant in Bushehr, to the annoyance of the United States and Israel.

Russia and China, both with strong trade ties with Tehran and veto power on the UN Security Council, have argued in favour of more negotiations to encourage Iran to comply with the international demand for a halt in uranium enrichment.

President Vladimir Putin, trying to revive Russia’s once mighty aviation industry, has grouped companies like Tupolev and Sukhoi into one giant, state-controlled holding called the United Aviation Corporation.

The corporation has ambitious plans to sell 250 billion US dollars worth of aircraft by 2025 and overtake even Soviet-era production records to compete on the world market with giants such as Boeing and Airbus.

WB says air pollution alone costs 3.8% of China’s GDP

CHENGDU, 21 Nov—Air pollution is costing China 3.8 per cent of its gross domestic product, causing more diseases and claiming more lives, the World Bank has warned.

While it has put the combined health and non-health cost of outdoor air and water pollution for China’s economy at around 100 billion US dollars a year, or about 5.8 per cent of the country’s GDP, David Dollar, the World Bank country director for China and Mongolia, said air pollution poses higher costs than water pollution.

Air pollution, especially in large cities, is leading to higher incidence of lung diseases, including cancer, respiratory system problems and therefore higher levels of work and school absenteeism. Dollar said, quoting a World Bank report issued following a joint assessment with China’s State Environmental Protection Administration (SEPA).

He pointed to particulate matter, which measures less than 10 microns in diameter, as a major threat to health. The density of particulate matter in north China averages 112 microgrammes and that in the south, 88 microgrammes, he said at a forum on China’s investment environment in Chengdu, capital of southwest China’s Sichuan Province.

Particulate matter has also been a headache in Beijing, with density averaging 141 microgrammes.

JAKARTA, 22 Nov—Indonesia, would stop importing rice next year, the staple food in the agricultural country, as a high production of rice is expected this year and the next, the country’s Vice-President Jusuf Kalla said here on Tuesday.

“Indonesia’s rice production has now risen to some 1.8 million tons, and our stock will be well secured for this year,” Kalla said at a seminar on state credits here.

The Vice-President said the production of rice is increasing this year and he expected it would continue in 2008. He said Indonesia imports one million to 1.5 million tons of rice annually in recent years to curb the high rice price in the country.

Scientists identify proteins key to brain function

WASHINGTON, 21 Nov — US researchers have identified a family of proteins key to the formation of normal brain function. Their research could lead to new treatments for brain injury and disease.

The team, led by MIT biology professor Frank Gertler, found that a certain family of proteins, known as the Ena/VASP proteins, is necessary to direct the formation of axons and dendrites, the cellular extensions that facilitate communication between neurons.

Their findings were reported in the November 18 online edition of Nature Cell Biology.

The work focuses on cellular outgrowths called neurites, which are the precursors to axons and dendrites. Understanding how neurites form could eventually lead to therapies involving stimulation of neurite growth, said Gertler.

“You could use these insights to help repair injuries to the top of the spinal column, or treat brain injuries or neuro-degenerative disorders,” he said.

The majority of neurons in the cerebral cortex have a single axon—a long, thin extension that relays information to other cells—and many shorter dendrites, which receive messages from other cells. The interconnection of these axons and dendrites is essential to create a functional neural circuit. In their study, the researchers found that mice without the three Ena/VASP proteins did produce brain cells, but those neurons were unable to extend any axons or dendrites.

Brown apologizes over lost data

LONDON, 22 Nov — Prime Minister Gordon Brown apologized on Wednesday for Britain’s tax authority losing the personal details of nearly half the population in an error which has dealt a new blow to his Labour Government.

The loss in the mail of two computer discs containing data on 25 million people exposed victims to the risk of fraud and is potentially Britain’s biggest data security lapse. It also increased pressure on Finance Minister Alistair Darling, who was accused by the opposition conservatives of making an appalling blunder and is already under fire over a banking debacle involving mortgage lender Northern Rock.

“I profoundly regret and apologize for the inconvenience and worries that have been caused to millions of families…” Brown told Parliament when questioned about the data loss.

“When mistakes happen in imposing procedures we have a duty to do everything that we can to protect the public,” he said, promising a review of personal data security.

The government says there is no evidence the discs, which disappeared after being sent via Dutch mail and parcel company TNT, have fallen into criminal hands.

But Conservative leader David Cameron said: “Millions of people today will be worrying about the safety of their bank accounts and the security of their family details … they will be angry that the government has failed in its first duty to protect the public.”

In noisy clashes in Parliament, Cameron said the breach pointed to a systemic failure in a department overseen by Brown during his decade as Finance Minister before he replaced Tony Blair as prime minister in June. — MNA/Reuters

Britain to study carbon cuts as deep as 80%

LONDON, 21 Nov — Britain will study whether it can commit to cutting its carbon emissions by as much as 80 per cent by 2050, Prime Minister Gordon Brown said on Monday in his first major speech on the environment since taking office this year.

Brown has been challenged to take a strong stance on global warming by an opposition Conservative Party that increasingly stresses environmentalism. His popularity has sunk in recent weeks to the lowest since he took over from Tony Blair in June.

Brown’s government published a draft Climate Change Bill a week ago committing to a 60-per-cent cut in carbon dioxide emissions by 2050, but environmentalists groups have said it should look at even deeper cuts.

The government will set up an independent committee to study whether it should commit to even deeper cuts of 80 per cent. — MNA/Reuters

Video threatens Germany, Austria over Afghanistan

VIENNA, 21 Nov — An Islamist group calling itself “Global Islamic Media Front” has sent a video demanding Germany and Austria withdraw their troops from Afghanistan, Austria’s Interior Ministry said on Tuesday. The video, published on the website of Austrian daily newspaper Oesterreich, also demands the release of two Austrians arrested in Afghanistan in September on allegations they helped produce a similar video message published in March.

“The German soldiers still occupy Afghanistan and we repeat our call from the last video that Germany withdraw their troops from Afghanistan,” the video’s German subtitles say. “This only serves your own security in your country.” The same applies to Austria too. The Mujahedeen have spared you so far, therefore the number of dead soldiers is not particularly high. But this will now change…”

Germany has some 6,000 troops in Afghanistan as part of the ISAF mission. Three Austrian soldiers serve as part of ISAF in Kabul.

Israeli PM implies peace deal with Palestinians in 2008

CAIRO, 22 Nov — Visiting Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Olmert Tuesday said he hoped to make a peace deal between Israel and the Palestinians could be reached in 2008. Olmert made the remarks after his talks with Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak in Egypt’s Red Sea resort of Sharm el-Sheikh. Doha-based al-Jazeera satellite TV reported.

At a joint Press conference after the meeting, Olmert said, “I hope we can reach a definitive deal with the Palestinians in 2008.”

Earlier, he said that he hoped to make serious strides toward such a deal before the term of US President George W. Bush ends in January 2009.

However, the Israeli Prime Minister pointed out that any future peace deal would not be implemented until the Palestinian Authority takes control of the Gaza Strip and the roadmap commitments are all implemented, which requires the Palestinians to fight terrorism to ensure security in the areas including the Gaza Strip, which must be part of the Palestinian state.

A Hamas took control of the Gaza Strip with force in June this year, while the Fatah movement led by Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas controlled the West Bank, which weakens Palestinian negotiations with Israel, according to analysts. — MNA/Reuters
Announcement of national race delegates from Ayeyawady Division to National Convention

Date: 22 November 2007

As the Union of Myanmar is home to over 100 national races, we firmly believe that all the national races and people are always to uphold our three main national causes — non-disintegration of the Union, non-disintegration of national solidarity and perpetuation of sovereignty — for ensuring the perpetual existence of the State.

Our delegate group attended the National Convention from start to finish, upholding the six objectives: Non-disintegration of the Union; Non-disintegration of national solidarity; Perpetuation of sovereignty; Flourishing of a genuine multi-party democracy system; Further burgeoning of the noblest and worthiest of worldly values such as justice, liberty and equality; and The Tatmadaw to be able to participate in the national political leadership role of the future State. We believe that the fundamental principles and detailed basic principles formulated by the National Convention represent the wishes of all the national races. Furthermore, it was learnt that Mr Gambari authorized by Daw Aung San Suu Kyi issued a statement in Singapore on 8 November.

In the statement, she said: “I welcome the appointment on 8 October of Minister Aung Kyi as Minister for Relations.” We believe it does not reflect Myanmar customs. Nevertheless, we recognized that point is to be her constructive attitude. However, we would like to point out that the English version statement issued in a foreign country neglects the strength within the nation, and it commits an act to obtain political gain.

As such, we hereby announce that we only support and welcome the formation of the Commission for Drafting State Constitution by the government on 18-10-2007 after successfully concluding the National Convention and on-going efforts for realization of the third step of the seven-step Road Map.

Delegate Group of National Races

Northern Thandaung Special Region Peace Group in Kayin State returned to the legal fold after realizing the government’s benevolent attitude, and came to support the constructive efforts of the Tatmadaw government. The return to the legal fold helped raise political awareness and equip Union Spirit among the people of our national race.

We view the meetings between Minister for Relations U Aung Kyi and Daw Aung San Suu Kyi as a positive move to national reconsolidation. Now, the government is implementing the State’s seven-step Road Map. However, Mr Gambari released Daw Aung San Suu Kyi’s statement in English on her behalf in a foreign country. The points in the statement do not reflect the customs and traditions of the national races of Myanmar. And it implies that she places reliance on external elements, and she shows total disregard for the fundamental principles more than 1000 delegates of national races have adopted with a unanimous consent at the National Convention.

We unconditionally support the fundamental principles and detailed basic principles that have been adopted through thorough and frank discussions at the National Convention in accordance with the opinions of national races. We hereby announce that we do not accept any attempts designed to harm the fundamental principles and detailed basic principles the National Convention has adopted, and we will continue to work for emergence of a new enduring State constitution.

Wunthanu NLD (Union of Myanmar)

1. Always opposing outside interference in the affairs of Myanmar and sanctions, the Wunthanu NLD (Union of Myanmar) is moving forward on the national political path for the emergence of a modern developed country.
2. Ours is a group that is actively participating in the tasks for the emergence of the constitution and for the realization of the seven-step Road Map and also supporting these two points.
3. At a time when preparations are being made to meet Daw Aung San Suu Kyi in the drive for national reconsolidation, our group warmly welcomes and supports it as a positive move.
4. The world nations, ASEAN members and the special adviser to the United Nations said that they agreed to the seven-step Road Map and said cooperative efforts should be made. However, without consulting the organizations, Daw Aung San Suu Kyi released the statement by herself and that was an attempt to disrupt the seven-step Road Map.
5. Our group broke away from NLD because of its individualistic policy.
6. Our group hereby declares that we will not accept and categorically oppose any person or organization that is attempting to undermine the fundamental principles and detailed basic principles already laid down by the National Convention by misusing preparations and efforts of the State with far-sightedness.

Announcement of the Union of Myanmar League for National Politics

1. The Union of Myanmar League for National Politics held the first meeting to clarify matters related to opposing the economic sanction imposed on Myanmar and the emergence of the constitution at YMBA Hall in Yangon on 5 December, 2006, and similar meetings were held in Yangon, Mandalay, Sagaing, Magway, Ayeyawady, Bago (East) and Bago (West) divisions. The league has carried out the activities as a national movement.

2. The Union of Myanmar League for National Politics has constantly worked for the emergence of a national political role in which the people, political organs and the Tatmadaw Government can join hands. We believe that when the national political role has taken shape, national reconsolidation and transition to democracy will materialize.

3. We must acknowledge that the recent visit, the fourth, to Myanmar by Mr Gambari, Special Adviser to the Secretary-General of the United Nations, by Prof Pinheiro of the UN Human Rights Council, appointment of U Aung Kyi as Minister for Relations, the fundamental principles and detailed basic principles laid down at the National Convention, the first step of the seven-step Road Map, and the formation of Commission for Drafting the State Constitution are the tangible results of historic efforts being made by the Tatmadaw Government for democratization and national reconsolidation.

4. But, we were very disappointed to learn that Mr Gambari released the statement of Daw Aung San Suu Kyi on her behalf in Singapore on 8 September after completion of his trip to Myanmar. We were very disappointed that as it seemed Mr Gambari and Daw Aung San Suu Kyi have irresponsibly responded to the constructive attitude of the Tatmadaw Government towards the UN. We also strongly oppose the expression in the statement that “I wish to thank all those who have stood by my side all this time, both inside and outside my country.” Because, it is seen as a reference to the extension of the economic sanctions and other blockages placed on Myanmar by some big countries including the United States.

5. Besides, she released the statement in her personal interests and in the interests of the National League for Democracy and she pretends that she takes the desire and interests of all political parties, political forces and national races into considerations and she has a duty to give considerations to these issues. In the statement, she also invites political forces including the Tatmadaw Government to join her. According to her statement, it is a trickery that she represents all political forces and national races. We understand that in the statement she tries to cover up the objective conditions that she is not a legal person to represent the people and political forces and is not a representative of the national reconsolidation and democratization process. We are very disappointed with Daw Aung San Suu Kyi and the National League for Democracy as she has no wish to drop her demands for imposing economic sanction on the country but takes the stance to defy all orders and makes confrontation to cause utter devastation.

6. We strongly oppose the statement because attempts to tarnish the image of the Tatmadaw Government and to review the steps of the Road Map do not serve the interests of the country and the people and can harm the democratization process and human rights.

7. We believe that only implementing the seven-step Road Map can lead to the national reconsolidation and realizing the democratization process speedily. Hence, we are resolved to joining hands with the people, political forces, and the Tatmadaw Government in implementing the seven-step Road Map.

Nigeria offers $13m debt relief to Liberia

ABUJA, 22 Nov — Nigeria has proposed writing off 13 million US dollars out of 48 million US dollars it owes by Liberia as a contribution to consolidating peace there, President Umaru Yar’Adua said in a letter read out to the Senate on Tuesday.

He said Nigeria’s debt burden was an obstacle to economic recovery in the small West African country, which emerged from 14 years of civil war in 2003 desperately poor and saddled with 4.5 billion US dollars in foreign debts.

“T he Liberian Government has made several passionate plea s to Nigeria to write off the debts,” Yar’Adua said in his letter, seeking approval from the Senate for the write-off.

“There is a potential risk of Liberia sliding back into anarchy if progress is not made in achieving sustainable economic development, which will undermine our previous efforts,” he said.

Nigeria was the main contributor to ECOMOG, a West African peacekeeping force that was active in Liberia during the war. It also helped end the conflict by granting asylum to Liberian warlord Charles Taylor in 2003.—MNA/Reuters

Canada faces serious pilot shortage

OTTAWA, 22 Nov — Massive retirement, competition from Air Force and foreign airlines, and low salaries are contributing to a serious shortage of pilots in Canada.

Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC) reported Wednesday quoting experts.

The shortage of commercial pilots around the world is looming large in Canada, where flight classes have T he International Civil Aviation Organization predicts at least 15,000 new pilots will be needed every year in the next two decades around the world. Canada and the United States will need at least 60,000 new pilots by 2020, according to the CBC.

An airline in the United States last month had to cancel 4 per cent of its flights because no flight crews were available. Those problems may come to Canada soon, the report cited a flight school owner as saying.

The flight business has lost its appeal to the younger generation discouraged by low starting salaries and sky-high training costs, Stefan Corriuval of Algonquin Flight Centre in North Bay, Ontario said.

Syria sticks to Golan quest before Mideast talk

DAMASCUS, 22 Nov — Syria resisted international pressure and insisted on Tuesday it would only attend a US-hosted Middle East peace conference next week if the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights are on the agenda.

“The Golan must be on the schedule for Syria to participate. We are very interested in peace but the process should be comprehensive,” Syrian Deputy Foreign Minister Faysal Mekdad said after meeting his Russian counterpart Alexander Suvanto.

Syria has come under pressure by Russia and pro-US Arab governments to attend the conference in Annapolis, Maryland, even if the Golan is not explicitly on the agenda. Arab foreign ministers are due to meet in Cairo on Thursday to discuss a common strategy at the conference.

In Teheran, Syrian Foreign Minister Walid al-Moualem told his Iranian counterpart that the Golan was Syria’s condition to go to Annapolis, the same position announced by President Bashar al-Assad last month, Iran’s officials news agency IRNA reported.

Suvanto said Annapolis, which will focus on reviving talks on Palestinian statehood, was an “important step”, adding that Russia was working on convening another Middle East conference in Moscow to discuss the Golan more fully.—MNA/Reuters

More people die of dengue fever in Vietnam

HANOI, 22 Nov — Vietnam has detected 78 fatalities due to dengue fever since the beginning of this year, increasing over 55 per cent compared with the same period of last year, local newspaper Vietnam Agriculture reported on Wednesday.

In the period, the number of dengue fever cases stood at 90,749, a year-on-year rise of 50 per cent.

Most of the cases have been found in the southern Mekong Delta Region, whose weather conditions and local people’s habit of storing water in containers at their houses favour the breeding of mosquitoes, the disease’s transmitter.

The disease may break out in the flood-hit central region in the coming time, the Preventive Medicine Department under the Vietnamese Health Ministry said, noting that local agencies and people should take preventive measures, isolate outbreaks, and keep environmental hygiene.

In 2006, Vietnam reported over 77,800 cases of dengue fever infections, including 68 fatalities. Up to 84 per cent of the infections and 91 per cent of the deaths were found in the southern region.

UNSG warns against “confrontation” in Lebanon

UNITED NATIONS, 22 Nov — UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon warned on Wednesday there was a “real possibility of a confrontation” if Lebanon fails to elect a president by the end of this week.

Deeply divided Lebanese leaders have postponed the presidential election until Friday to allow more time to agree to a successor to the pro-Syrian incumbent, whose term expires that day.

The delay prolonged a political crisis that many fear could lead to rival administrations and violence in a country still rebuilding from its 1975-1990 civil war. The Army strengthened security on Tuesday and urged people to avoid internal strife.

Parliament had been due to convene on Wednesday to elect a successor to President Emile Lahoud, but Parliament Speaker Nabih Berri said in a statement the vote would be delayed until Friday, the fourth postponement since September.

Ban visited Lebanon last week to urge political leaders to come to an agreement on a candidate. “Should the parties fail to reach agreement by 24 November, there is a real possibility of a confrontation,” Ban told an informal meeting of the UN General Assembly on Wednesday.

VIENNA, 22 Nov — The UN nuclear watchdog chief is set to urge full backing for an Iran transparency plan at an agency governors meeting on Thursday after Western powers said Tehran must do more to allay fears about its atomic agenda.

Whether a new International Atomic Energy Agency report on Iran’s compliance with a pledge to clarify past secret nuclear work to the IAEA is cause for new hope or further scepticism will be debated by the agency’s 35-nation Board of Governors. It will be a matter of interpretation. Western board members will dwell on Iran’s defiant campaign to enrich uranium despite the transparency plan, diplomats said, while developing nations will highlight Iranian steps towards openness and warn against rising Western pressure they feel could undo the process.

The West fears Iran is covertly trying to build atom bombs. Iran says it wants only to produce electricity from uranium enrichment.

IAEA chief Mohamed ElBaradei, concerned by US-led criticism of the plan’s limitations and resolve to isolate Iran with harsher sanctions, is likely to stress the plan is on track and that some days have passed in Anbar that have been the heart of the Sunni Arab insurgency in the region.

US defends “AP” photographer’s detention in Iraq

BAGHDAD, 22 Nov — The US military on Wednesday defended its 19-month detention of an award-winning Associated Press photographer it has accused of working with insurgents in Iraq, saying he remained a “security threat”.

Bilal Hussein, who began working with the news agency in 2004, has been in US military custody in Iraq since he was detained in April 2006 in the city of Ramadi, 110 kilometres (68 miles) west of Baghdad, according to the AP website.

The AP has called for the immediate release of the photographer, who was part of an AP photo team that won a Pulitzer prize in 2005.

British father, son drown off Spanish beach

MADRID, 22 Nov — A British father drowned trying to save his five-year-old son from rough seas near Barcelona on Wednesday, having already rescued his older boy, aged 7.

The boys had probably jumped into the sea or been swept away by large waves on a beach at Tossa del Mar, north of Barcelona, in the morning, a Spanish emergency services spokeswoman said.

The bodies of the boy and the 32-year-old man, who were not named, were found by a coastguard boat about 20 metres (66 feet) from the coast. The older boy, suffering from hypothermia, was taken to a local hospital with his mother, who was suffering from shock.

New York subway construction gets $1.3b federal funding

NEW YORK, 21 Nov—The long-stalled construction of a subway along the Second Avenue in Manhattan, New York, finally got 1.3 billion US dollars in federal aid on Monday, NY1 news channel reported.

Mayor Michael Bloomberg and Governor Eliot Spitzer joined US Federal Transit Administrator James Simpson at Grand Central Terminal on Monday morning to celebrate the federal funding for the first phase of the project.

This phase would include stops at 92nd, 86th, 72nd and 63rd Streets. Preliminary work on the project began in April. Swiss firm Vitol pleads guilty in UN oil/food case

NEW YORK, 22 Nov—Swiss commodities trading company Vitol pleaded guilty to involving in a scheme to pay kickbacks to Iraq in connection with the UN oil-for-food programme, the Manhattan District Attorney said on Tuesday.

In pleading guilty to grand larceny, Vitol will pay restitution of 4.5 million US dollars to cover the cost of prosecution, prosecutor Robert Morgenthau said in a statement.

Vitol, one of the world's largest independent physical oil trading companies, paid 13 million US dollars in kickbacks to Iraqi officials under Saddam Hussein in connection with oil purchases and allowed false representations to be made to the United Nations that no kickbacks were paid, Morgenthau said.

The UN oil-for-food programme was established to help Saddam's Iraq sell oil to buy humanitarian supplies while it was otherwise under UN sanctions due to its 1990 invasion of Kuwait. It ran from 1996 to 2003.

A UN-commissioned inquiry headed by former US Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker found the programme was corrupted by former US Federal Reserve Governor Donald Kohn.

Vitol's admissions and plea of guilty were part of a deferred prosecution agreement negotiated with the US Department of Justice on April 26. Kohn also pleaded guilty to a similar charge.

The project, 74 per cent funded by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), includes a pretreatment system, a desalination plant, six pumping stations, and an advanced monitoring and control system.

The Zara-Maen plant is one of the country's water megaprojects intended to address water deficit, which is expected to rise to 350 million cubic metres by the year 2020.

London suicide bomb plotter given 33 years in jail

LONDON, 22 Nov — A Ghanian man was sentenced to 33 years in jail on Tuesday for helping plot botched al-Qaeda-inspired suicide attacks in London in July 2005.

Manfo Kwaku Asiedu was sentenced by a court in the British capital after earlier admitting a charge of conspiracy to cause explosions over the failed bombings.

The attacks were attempted two weeks after British Islamist suicide bombers killed 52 people on three underground trains and a bus in London in early July.

Four men linked to Asiedu — Mukhtah Said Ibrahim, Yassin Hassan Omar, Ramzi Mohammed and Hussein Osman — tried to detonate hydrogen peroxide-based bombs on July 21, but their homemade devices failed to explode and no one was killed.

They were jailed for at least seven years each but a jury failed to reach a verdict against Asiedu and another man, Adel Yahya. Yahya was found guilty of failing for nearly seven years earlier this month after pleading guilty to a lesser offence.

Asiedu had been due to face a re-trial but pleaded guilty at the Old Bailey, London’s main criminal court, on November 9.

He was supposed to be carrying a fifth bomb on the day but ended up dumping the rucksack with the device in a park in north London. He denied losing his nerve and said he just wanted to get rid of the bomb.

A few days after the failed attacks he handed himself in to police. He said in court he had then lied to detectives on an “epic scale”.

During the trial he turned on his co-conspirators, contradicting their defence that the plot was a hoax designed as a publicity stunt, meaning he had to be seated separately from the other accused in the dock.

Bird flu found in market near Saudi capital

RIYADH, 22 Nov — Bird flu has been found in birds at a poultry market on the outskirts of the Saudi capital Riyadh, newspapers reported on Tuesday.

Al-Watan newspaper carried photographs of an Agriculture Ministry team in masks and white coats in the Aziziya market south of Riyadh, saying bird flu cases had been found there. It was not clear what strain of bird flu had been detected.

The discovery comes just a few weeks before nearly two million faithful arrive for the annual Haj pilgrimage season in Mecca.

Arab News said birds had been culled in the area after four cases of bird flu were found during a random inspection.

Agriculture and Health Ministry officials were not available for comment.

Saudi authorities last week culled 50,000 birds at a poultry farm in al-Kharji, 150 kilometres (94 miles) south of Riyadh, after 1,500 birds died of unspecified causes.

Officials said this week 220,000 birds have been culled so far, as teams combed other areas near the capital which has a population of around four million.

Underground coal seam fire put out after 50 years in N-W China

URUMQI, 22 Nov — An underground coal fire that has consumed more than 12.43 million tons of coal in northwest China has been extinguished after more than 50 years.

The Coalfield Fire Fighting Project Office of Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region announced the fire in the Terek field was finally out, saving an estimated 651 million tons of coal from burning.

Officials would closely monitor the coal seam for several years and submit a final report in 2009 to regional and national authorities, said Cai Zhong-gyong, deputy head of the office.

The fire, covering 923,500 square metres, was fuelled by coal more than 100 metres underground.

It released more than 70,000 tons of toxic gas, including sulfur dioxide and carbon monoxide each year since it started in the early 1950s, Cai said.

The project office took more than three years to fight the fire at a cost of more than 89 million yuan.

“First, we drilled into the burning coal bed and then poured water and slurry into it to lower the temperature,” said Miao Pu, head of the fire fighting team.

EU urges Japan to stop whale hunt

BRUSSELS, 21 Nov — The European Commission urged Japan on Tuesday to stop a hunt it said could kill up to 1,000 minke, fin and humpback whales.

“There is no need to use lethal means to obtain scientific information about whales,” the European Union executive said in a statement, noting that fin and humpback whales were classified as endangered by the World Conservation Union.

“The European Commission urges Japan to reconsider its decision and stop the hunt,” it said.

A Japanese whaling fleet left on Sunday for an expedition that activists say will for the first time target humpbacks.

The United States has also urged Japan to “refrain” from the trip. Japan says whaling is a cherished cultural tradition and says the hunt is for research purposes.

South Korea is believed to have some 200,000 previously unexplored areas to be explored in the next decade.

South Korea is behind regional powers Japan and China in the space race.

China became only the third country to launch a man into space on its own rocket in 2003 and put its first lunar probe into orbit in early November.

Japan’s first lunar probe began orbiting the moon in October, four years behind schedule due to technical glitches.

Liverpool striker latest player to be burgled

LONDON, 21 Nov — Dutch striker Dirk Kuyt has become the latest Liverpool player to be burgled, police said on Tuesday.

Thieves broke into the 27-year-old’s home in the Liverpool suburb of Woolton last Thursday while he was on international duty.

Merseyside Police confirmed they were investigating a burglary in Woolton, but would not comment on what had been taken.

Earlier this year, the home of left-back Pepe Reina was burgled as he helped the club reach the Champions League final. The Spanish international, who saved two spot kicks in the semi-final shootout against Chelsea, had a number of items stolen from his home in Woolton.

The player’s Porsche Cayenne was taken and later found burnt out. Also taken was a Bang & Olufsen entertainment system, paperwork and jewellery.

Team mates Jerzy Dudek, Daniel Agger, Peter Crouch and Florent Sinama-Pongolle, as well as Everton’s Andy van der Meyde, were all burgled last year.

Portugal qualify for Euro 2008 after draw

PORTO (Portugal), 22 Nov — Portugal clinched a place at the Euro 2008 finals with a 0-0 draw against Finland on Wednesday.

Portugal, runners-up on home soil in 2004, needed a point to go through behind Poland in Group A. “We did not expect many difficulties (in qualifying) but we had many injuries during the campaign,” said Portugal coach Luiz Felipe Scolari, who returned to the bench after completing his three-match ban for an assault on Serbian player Ivica Olic.

Scolari, who returned to the bench after completing his three-match ban for an assault on Serbian player Ivica Olic, said: “This is a big set-back, not just for the players but the nation...We have to show the English way which is to fight back.”

Portugal coach Slaven Bilic said: “We are sim-ply a much better team, tonight we were the better team.”

The home crowd was stunned after eight minutes when Scott Carson, controversially chosen in goal after making his debut in a friendly only last week, allowed a speculative shot by Niko Kranjar to skid off him and into the net, and it looked all over when Ivica Olic doubled the lead six minutes later.

This was an increase from August last year when only 59 per cent of people thought that South Africa would be ready.

“There has been an increasingly positive trend over the past 21 months. In September 2005, only 40 per cent felt we would be ready,” said Higgs. The results were released on the eve of the FIFA’s 2010 World Cup Preliminary Draw in Durban on Sun-day, which will determine the pairings and groups for the football showcase for the first time in Africa. England Euro hopes ended in 3-2 loss to Croatia

LONDON, 22 Nov — England’s hopes of aplause in the Euro 2008 finals disappeared at Wembley on Wednesday when they lost 3-2 to Croatia after fighting back from con-ceeding two early goals to pull level at 2-2.

Instead of hanging on to the point that would have secured their place in Austria and Switzer-land, they conceded a third goal 13 minutes from time, allowing Russia to steal into second place in Group E and qualify with Croatia.

It will be the first time since 1984 that England miss out on the European Championship finals and the first time since the 1994 World Cup that they have failed to qualify for a major tournament — putting the future of coach Steve McClaren in doubt.

Former England cap-tain David Beckham, a second-half substitute, said: “This is a big set-back, not just for the players but the nation...We have to show the English way which is to fight back.”

Croatia coach Slaven Bilic said: “We are sim-ply a much better team, tonight we were the better team.”

Donadoni says Romi (Italy), 21 Nov — Italy coach Roberto Donadoni said on Tuesday that he has not perma-nently closed the door on Juventus striker Alessandro Del Piero.

Donadoni dropped Del Piero in the latter stages of the Euro 2008 qualifica-tion campaign and put his faith in Udinese’s Antonio Di Natale, who made a strong case at Sampdoria after failing to make an impression at Real Madrid.

“It depends on Cassano and Del Piero, on their heads first of all and then on their legs,” Donadoni told Rai radio.

“My bad luck, if you like, is that I have so many good players at my dis-pos-al.”

With Euro 2008 qualifi-cation in the bag, Donadoni is expected to rotate his squad for Wednesday’s Group B game at home to the Faroe Islands.

The Azzurri coach be-trayed some nerves about the group Italy will be handed in the draw for June’s finals in Austria and Switzerland.

“We could be very unlucky and get a really hard group,” he said. “With France (probably) in seedings pot four, you can see that luck will play a big role.”

Germany close out campaign with 0-0 draw against Wales

FRANKFURT, 22 Nov — Germany and Wales played out a tame goalless draw in their final Euro 2008 qualifier on Wednesday.

Germany, long since assured of qualifying for the finals along with Group D winners Czech Republic, created a hand-ful of good chances in the first half but the match petered out after the break.

Wales, with nothing riding on the game, com-peted well enough but rarely threatened Jens Lehmann’s goal. The closest they came was in the 35th minute when Carl Fletcher flashed a shot wide from outside the area.

Germany had already wasted the game’s best opportunities by that stage.
