Information Sources: the Internet and Computer-Mediated Communication

John December (decemj@rpi.edu)

March 11, 1994

Release: 11 Mar 94; Release 3.30

PURPOSE: to list pointers to information describing the Internet, computer networks, and issues related to computer-mediated communication (CMC). Topics include the technical, social, cognitive, and psychological aspects.

AUDIENCE: those getting started in understanding the Internet and CMC; for those experienced, it compactly summarizes sources of information.

ASSUMPTION: you have access to and know how to use finger, ftp, telnet, email, or Usenet newsgroups.

NOTES:

1. Respect access privileges. (See Net Etiquette Guide, below.)
2. This information changes quite a bit; Additions/comments welcome.
3. Use Archie to find a file if it is not at the site given here.
4. Learn to use Gopher, Veronica, WAIS, WWW, to find more information.

1 HOW TO USE THIS DOCUMENT

This document is formatted for LaTeX(for conversion to Postscript.) See the readme file for information on different formats for this document.

The tables in this document present information about the Internet. Tables of network-accessible information are in the following form:

NETWORK ACCESSIBLE INFORMATION
ITEM_NAME	AM	PARAMETERS	PARAMETERS

Where

- ITEM_NAME = a short name describing the information or service.
- AM (ACCESS METHOD) = one of email, finger, ftp, gopher, http, phone, telnet, unix, Usenet news, wais.
- PARAMETERS = further access information depending on ACCESS_METHOD:

ACCESS_METHOD AND PARAMETERS
ACCESS_METHOD	PARAMETERS	PARAMETERS
email	address	"letter-body"
finger	address	port #
ftp	host	path-to-directory/file-name
gopher	host
http	host	path-to-directory/file-name
news	newsgroup-name
phone	phone #
telnet	host	port # 'login-name'
unix	command
wais	host	path

If any of the parameters are not on the line, they are not needed.

- All ftp access uses login-name 'anonymous' unless stated otherwise.

For information that is paper-based:

5 NEWSGROUPS

Newsgroups are sometimes a rich source of information about the Internet, networks, and CMC issues. This section lists newsgroups in which topics related to networks, the Internet, or CMC are discussed. Watch for (FAQ) = periodic posting of Frequently Asked Questions.

6 SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY

This section lists useful information sources. For the sake of compactness, the book list here is short. For longer lists, see the online or paper bibliographies available. I've prepared a list of many books and article readings in CMC and computer networking. That file is the CMC December bibliography, listed below.
