

authorization from the foreign government is to accept a notarized certification from a responsible company official in the United States that the product is not in conflict with the foreign country's laws. This certification must include a statement acknowledging that the responsible company official making the certification is subject to the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 1001. This statutory provision makes it a criminal offense to knowingly and willingly make a false or fraudulent statement, or make or use a false document, in any manner within the jurisdiction of a department or agency of the United States.

FDA uses the written authorization from the foreign country or the certification from a responsible company official in the United States to determine whether the foreign country has any objection to the importation of the device into their country.

The respondents to this collection of information are companies that seek to export medical devices.

FDA estimates the reporting burden of this collection of information as follows:

TABLE 1.—ESTIMATED ANNUAL REPORTING BURDEN¹

21 CFR Section	No. of Respondents	Annual Frequency per Response	Total Annual Responses	Hours per Response	Total Hours
801(e)(2)	20	1	20	2.5	50
Total					50

¹There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection of information.

These estimates are based on the experience of FDA's medical device program personnel, who estimate that completion of the requirements of this collection of information should take approximately 2.5 hours to complete.

Drug Manufacturing Inspections; Public Workshops

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Notice of public workshops.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is announcing a series of public workshops to discuss current good manufacturing practice (CGMP) issues, including quality subsystems, areas of change control, and quality management. There will also be a discussion of current compliance issues and trends and the status of the part 11 (21 CFR part 11) draft guidance. The first workshop will be held in June 2003, then repeated in July 2003 and August 2003 at different locations to enable as many people to attend as possible. Held in collaboration with the Consumer Healthcare Products Association (CHPA), the workshops are intended to update participants with respect to issues involving CGMP compliance. Participants will also hear from FDA and industry speakers on
