Substance [CAS No.]	Nominated by	Nomination rationale	Recommendations for toxicological studies
trans —Resveratrol [501–36–0]	National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences.	Widespread human exposure from natural dietary sources and use of dietary supplements; suspicion of toxicity based on estrogenic and genotoxic activity; insufficient data available to characterize safety.	—Toxicological characterization. —Carcinogenicity. —Reproductive toxicity.
Tetrabromobisphenol A [79–94–7]	National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences.	High production volume; widespread human exposure and suspicion of thyroid toxicity/tumorigenicity.	—Toxicological characterization. —Neurodevelopmental toxicity. —Carcinogenicity.
Tetrabromobisphenol A bis(2,3-dibromopropyl ether) [21850–44–2].	National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences.	High production volume; little toxicity data available; suspicion of carcinogenic potential due to 2,3-dibromo-1-propanol substructure.	—Toxicological characterization. — In vivo genotoxicity. —Metabolism. —Carcinogenicity.
Tungsten [7440–33–7]	National Center for Environmental Health.	Important industrial materials; insufficient data to assess human health implications of elevated urinary tungsten levels.	—Toxicological characterization. —Carcinogenicity. —Studies should focus on a representative soluble tungsten compound.

4-Phenylcyclohexene [4994–16–5].	Private Individuals	—Toxicological characterization including genotoxicity and neurotoxicity.	Present in indoor environments primarily from carpet emissions; concern that it has not been adequately tested for potential health effects.	Low suspicion of hazard based on available human exposure and toxicity information.

Extension of the Designation of El Salvador Under Temporary Protected Status Program; Automatic Extension of Employment Authorization Documentation for El SalvadorAGENCY: Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services, Homeland Security.ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The designation of El Salvador under the Temporary Protected Status (TPS) Program will expire on September 9, 2003. This notice extends the Secretary of Homeland Security's designation of El Salvador for 18 months until March 9, 2005, and sets forth procedures necessary for nationals of El Salvador (or aliens having no nationality who last habitually resided in El Salvador) with TPS to re-register and to apply for an extension of their employment authorization documentation for the additional 18-month period. Re-registration is limited to persons who registered under the initial designation (which ended on September 9, 2002) and also timely re-registered under the extensions of designation. Certain nationals of El Salvador (or aliens having no nationality who last habitually resided in El Salvador) who previously have not applied for TPS may be eligible to apply under the late initial registration provisions.

Given the large number of Salvadorans affected by this notice, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) recognizes that many re-registrants will not receive their new Employment Authorization Documents (EADs) until after their current EADs expire on September 9, 2003. Accordingly, this notice automatically extends, until March 9, 2004, the validity of EADs issued pursuant to the El Salvador TPS program, and explains how TPS beneficiaries or their employers may determine which EADs are automatically extended.

EFFECTIVE DATES: The extension of El Salvador's TPS designation is effective September 9, 2003, and will remain in effect until March 9, 2005. The 60-day re-registration period begins July 16, 2003 and will remain in effect until September 15, 2003.
