Response: The rule reflects editorial revisions.

This is not a significant regulatory action and, therefore, was not subject to review under Section 6(b) of Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, dated September 30, 1993. This rule is not a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804.

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The changes may have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq., because the rule imposes a reporting, recordkeeping, or other compliance requirements. All small entities will be subject to the rule unless their contract, basic agreements, basic ordering agreement, or blanket purchase agreement falls within one of the six exceptions. A Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (FRFA) has been prepared and is as follows:

Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis—FAR Case 2002–018, Central Contractor Registration

This Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis has been prepared consistent with the criteria of 5 U.S.C. 604.

1. Description of the reasons why action by the agency is being considered.

In an effort to broaden use and reliance upon e-business applications, the Civilian Agency Acquisition Council and the Defense Acquisition Regulations Council are working with the Office of Federal Procurement Policy to eliminate the need to maintain paper-based sources of contractor information. The Central Contractor Registration (CCR) System is a centrally located, searchable database, accessible via the Internet to develop, maintain, and provide sources for future procurements. The CCR data is the most up to date and complete data available. As a single validated source of data on contractors doing business with the Government, the CCR database enables prospective contractors to update their information in one place via a web site (<http://www.CCR.gov>). The information is then available via the Internet. Contracting officers will now be able to access contractor data and industry information less expensively, and more efficiently identify sources for contracting opportunities. This rule will not create a total electronic commerce environment, but will help provide a basic framework or foundation that will allow migration to a total electronic commerce environment. There are other projects that are completed (FedBizOpps) or in the planning stages, which are complementary and will also become part of the total electronic commerce initiative.

2. Summary of the significant issues raised by the public comments in response to the initial regulatory flexibility analysis, a summary of the assessment of the agency of such issues, and a statement of any changes made in the proposed rule as a result of such comments.

No comments were received in response to the Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis for this rule.

3. Description of, and, where feasible, estimate of the number of small entities to which the proposed rule will apply.

To date, no supporting data has been collected; therefore, there is no available estimate of the number of small businesses that will be subject to the rule. However, some agencies (e.g., DoD) already require contractors to register in the CCR and there does not appear to be any adverse impact on small business. Based on Governmentwide data, approximately 42,675 small businesses were awarded contracts of $25,000 or more in fiscal year 2001. It is estimated that a majority of them will be subject to the rule. Many of these businesses are already among the over 200,000 registrants in CCR. Information is not available to identify the additional number of small businesses that were awarded contracts of less than $25,000, or were awarded basic agreements, basic ordering agreements, or blanket purchase agreements.

4. Description of projected reporting, recordkeeping, and other compliance requirements of the proposed rule, including an estimate of the classes of small entities that will be subject to the requirement and the type of professional skills necessary for preparation of the report or record.

This rule imposes a reporting, recordkeeping, or other compliance requirements. However, this requirement will be significantly reduced from that currently required. Existing regulations require contractors to submit duplicate information each time they enter into contracts and certain types of agreements with the Government. This rule eliminates this duplication so that information the Government needs to do business with a contractor will be collected once (with periodic update by the contractor) for use many times. All small entities will be subject to the rule unless their contract, basic agreements, basic ordering agreements, or blanket purchase agreements fall within one of the six exceptions. A contractor's administrative or financial personnel, who have general knowledge of the contractor's business, including the contractor's bank account and financial agent, may register by providing the pertinent information into the CCR database.

5. Description of the steps the agency has taken to minimize the significant economic impact on small entities consistent with the stated objectives of applicable statutes, including a statement of factual, policy, and legal reasons for selecting the alternative adopted in the final rule and why each one of the other significant alternatives to the rule considered by the agency which affect the impact on small entities was rejected.

There are no significant practical alternatives that will accomplish the objective of this rule. Continued reliance on a paper-based system would unnecessarily promote inefficiency associated with paper-based processes. The successful phase-out of the paper-based Commerce Business Daily in favor of reliance on FedBizOpps demonstrates that the Federal contracting community, including small businesses, is successfully transitioning to greater use of electronic tools and their associated efficiencies to conduct business.

The FAR Secretariat has submitted a copy of the FRFA to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration. Interested parties may obtain a copy from the FAR Secretariat. The Councils will consider comments from small entities concerning the affected FAR parts 1, 2, 4, 13, 32, and 52 in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 610.

Interested parties must submit such comments separately and should cite 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq. (FAC 2001–16, FAR case 2002–018), in correspondence.

C. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act (Pub. L. 104–13) applies because the final rule contains information collection requirements. The paperwork burden analysis takes into account the burden required for information current, complete and accurate and the burden required for new registrants to review instructions, search existing data sources, gather and maintain the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Accordingly, the FAR Secretariat has forwarded a request for approval of the increased information collection requirement, OMB Control Number 9000–0159, concerning FAR Case 2002–018, Central Contractor Registration, to the Office of Management and Budget. Public comments concerning this request will be invited through a subsequent Federal Register notice.
