

Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking ("Order"), In the Matter of Digital Broadcast Content Protection, MB Docket No. 02-230, FCC 03-273. The Order establishes a redistribution control content protection system for digital broadcast television in order to prevent the widespread indiscriminate redistribution of high value digital broadcast content and to assure the continued availability of such content to broadcast outlets. The Order adopts use of an ATSC flag, which can be imbedded in DTV content to signal to consumer electronics devices to protect such content from indiscriminate redistribution.

In order for this protection system to work, demodulators integrated within, or produced for use in, DTV reception devices, including PC and IT products, ("Covered Demodulator Products") must recognize and give effect to the ATSC flag pursuant to certain compliance and robustness rules. In particular, content that is marked with the ATSC flag must be handled in a protected fashion through the use of digital content protection and recording technologies. In order to ensure that digital content is being adequately protected, such technologies must be reviewed and approved for use. The Order establishes interim procedures by which proponents of digital content protection and recording technologies can certify to the Commission that such technologies are appropriate for use in Covered Demodulator Products, subject to public notice and comment.

To facilitate enforcement and compliance, the Order adopts a written commitment regime whereby manufacturers or importers of ATSC demodulators obtain from buyers of such products a written commitment that they will incorporate such demodulators into compliant and robust devices or sell or distribute to third parties that have also made such written commitment. The Order also adopts a written commitment regime to ensure that manufacturers or importers of Peripheral TSP Products (products where the demodulator and transport stream processor are physically separate) will abide by the Demodulator Products compliance and robustness rules.

The interim approval process for digital content protection and recording technologies and the written commitment regime are essential components of the Commission's redistribution control content protection system for digital broadcast television. These information collections ensure objectivity and transparency as a part of this process.
