

“all criminal history record information.”⁹

The proposed rule is also consistent with the laws of the State of New York, where ISE maintains its principal offices. In August 2002, New York State amended its general business law to require fingerprint-based background checks of employees of national securities exchanges who are regularly employed in New York State.¹⁰ The New York law also requires fingerprint-based background checks of non-employees who provide services to the exchange if those individuals have “access to records * * * or other material or secure buildings or secure property, which place the security of such organization at risk.” The proposed rule will facilitate the Exchange’s compliance with New York State law by facilitating the Exchange’s access to criminal history record information maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (“FBI”).

Moreover, fingerprint-based background checks will enhance the Exchange’s ability to adequately screen employees and non-employee service providers to better determine whether there are unacceptable risks associated with granting such persons access to the Exchange’s facilities, records, systems, data and other information. The proposed rule will permit the Exchange to receive arrest-based criminal history record information from the FBI, which includes conviction, sentencing, probation and parole information. Thus, the information obtained through fingerprint-based background checks will provide a more exhaustive and reliable profile of the criminal records of prospective employees and non-employee service providers, and thereby better facilitate risk assessment, than information provided directly by such persons.

As stated in the proposed rule change, the Exchange will comply with all applicable laws relating to the use and dissemination of criminal history record information obtained from the FBI.

2. Statutory Basis

The basis under the Act for this proposed rule change is the requirement under Section 6(b)(5)¹¹ that an exchange have rules that are designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in regulating, clearing, settling, processing information with respect to, and facilitating transactions in securities, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism for a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest.

The proposed rule change does not impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

The Exchange has not solicited, and does not anticipate soliciting, comments on this proposed rule change. The Exchange has not received any unsolicited written comments from members or other interested parties.

The Exchange has designated the foregoing rule change as effecting a change that: (1) Does not significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; (2) does not impose any significant burden on competition; and (3) by its terms does not become operative for 30 days from the date of filing. Accordingly, the proposed rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act¹² and Rule 19b-4(f)(6) thereunder.¹³ At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Exchange Act.
