This is an example of how you can use normal TEXcommands to format your mixed Chinese/English documents. You can tex such docuements as usual. Once you have a DVI file, you can preview it with xdvi or print it on a PostScript printer with dvips. (NOTE: Some other DVI previewers and print drivers are not 8-bit clean and therefore will not handle Chinese characters correctly.)

Below is the poem which slipped by the censors, containing a diagonal line "Li Peng step down to calm the people's wrath" starting at the upper right corner.

东风拂面催桃李,
鹞鹰舒翅展鹏程.
玉盘照海下热泪,
游子登台思故城.
休负平生报国志,
人民育我胜万金.
愤起急追报华夏,
且待神州遍地春.
